WIN This Car! 1921 Model

HERE are four riddles for boys and girls with wise heads. We told the artist to draw the pictures to represent the riddles, but he guessed the right answers—and put them in too! So we barred him from the contest and told him to keep it a secret. Luckily, he got the answers all jumbled up, so you won't be any the wiser.

If you can unscramble the jumbled letters beneath each riddle picture and put them in their right order to spell the right words, you will have the right answers. It isn't an easy task. Good thinking, patience and perseverance may find you the answers. Try it.

If you think you have found the answers, write them carefully on a sheet of white paper. Put on nothing but your four answers and your name and address in the upper right-hand corner of the page. Handwriting, spelling, punctuation and general neatness will count if more than one answer is correct.

We will write and tell you immediately if you are correct and send you a handsome illustrated list of all the prizes that you can win.

Dozens of boys and girls have won these and are proud of them.

The Genuine Culver Racer is the nifiest auto for girls and boys ever built. It is a genuine motor car—not a toy. Has real steering wheel and gears with shifting lever, steel springs, powerful brake, pneumatic tires handsomely enamelled body and good upholstery. Runs up to 25 miles an hour and uses very little gasoline. You will be proud of it if you win it.

THE LUMBERMEN AND FOREST FIRES

Want the Protection System Strengthened—F. G. Beatteay The New President

Improved protection of the forests from fires was the principal subject discussed at the closing session of the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Lumbermen's Association at Fredericton last week.

The large fire losses of the past year were discussed and the feeling was generally expressed that everything possible should be done to further strengthen the protection system. There was some discussion over the proposal to establish an aerial patrol system, but no definite recommendation was made in that regard.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—F. C. Beatteay, St. John.

Vice President—J. W. Brankley, Chatham.

Secretary Treasurer—R. W. McLellan, Fredericton.

Executive—Donald Fraser, Plaster Rock; W. B. Snowball, Chatham; F. C. Beatteay, St. John; J. B. Brankley, Chatham; W. S. Richards, Campbellton; W. Garfield White, Sussex; Angus McLean, Bathurst; James Robinson, Millerton, and George H. King, M. L. A. Chipman.

In view of the possibility of amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, the following legislature committee was appointed: Fred. M. Anderson, Campbellton; R. W. McLellan, Donald Fraser, W. B. Snowball, J. W. Brankley and G. A. Schryer.

MRS. J. M. CRAIG, of Los Angeles, Calif., who says no one can feel more grateful for what Tanlac has done than she does. Has gained twelve pounds and health is better than in years.

"Of all the people who have taken Tanlac I don't believe there is anyone who feels any more grateful to it than I do," said Mrs. J. M. Craig, of 674½ E. 40th Street, Los. Angeles, Calif.

"I suffered from nervous prostration and was so weak that I could not even sweep the floor and during the day I would have to lie down four or five times. I tried to walk, but found out that half a block was all I could stand before I would give out. Nervous spells came on me often. Finally my husband urged me to try Tanlac and I am indeed glad he did, for it proved to be just what I needed.

"The first two bottles did not seem to help me. I guess it was because I was so bad off, but on the third bottle I could tell I was improving and that gave me more hope than ever of getting well. My improvement from then on was rapid and by the time I had taken five bottles I was better and stronger than I had been in years.

"It enables me to sleep soundly at night and I have gained twelve pounds. That was several months ago and from then until now I have been in as good healt as I ever was in my life. I have told all of my friends and relatives what a wonderful medicine Tanlac is.' Tanlac is sold in Campbellton, by THOMAS WRAN, Druggist; and in River Charlo, by THE CONTINENTAL LBR. CO., LTD.

We can see by the paper—our favorite medium of information—that Duluth is to have an evening of "wrestling and dance." A keen eye can probably tell the difference.

Wants to Call a Truce Between Capital Forces And the Leaders of Labor

SIR CHARLES WAKEFIELD, a former Lord Mayor of London, proposes a "five years' truce" in the industrial warfare of Great Britain.

He calls for "a great representative conference of employers and employed, an economic and industrial Parliament, which, given goodwill and with the whole facts of the national and international situation before them, would settle down to discuss a definite truce for a definite period."

The proposal, welcomed by some papers, is criticized by others as being impracticable.

"To us," says the London Observer, (Unionist), "the movement must be a cause of half-amused and half-melancholy reflection. Again and again, before the armistice and after, we urged the supreme necessity of an industrial conference between capital and labor for the period of transition after the war. In specific terms we urged this very idea of a five years' truce. But we pleaded alone and wrought in vain. Why? Because capital and labor, after the armistice were equally short-sighted and equally to blame. We warned capital that it would have to pay a very high price for industrial peace, though the gain would be worth it by comparison with the alternative of endless unsettlement. But the price of bringing labor into more fully effective partnership as regards counsel and profits alike was thought to be too high, and we all have to pay for the consequences, and shall have to go on paying, unless some new and great departure is attempted."

To call for a five years' truce, believes the Observer, would now be too ambitious, but even a twelve months' truce, renewable for an equal term by the parties to it, would be a priceless gain. Delegates of capital and labor would have to school themselves equally to listen with patience to the views they most disliked. Labor would require two things above all: participation in profits above a fixed return of capital after full remuneration of directing ability; and an absolute guarantee against increased unemployment as a result of increased production.

Those who are doubtful of all truce proposals feel that any arrangement would be difficult to guarantee. It would not be possible to bind all employers on the one hand, and, on the part of labor, more and more there is a tendency among the rank and file to demand power of decision, irrespective of their leaders' opinions. This movement is deplored by some authorities as leading to instability, and praised by others as being actually and effectively democratic.

Finger-prints For All.

The fact that nature supplies every babe at birth with its own identity title, which cannot be lost — save by mutilation — and never wears out, prompted the suggestion of the New York Police Department that the finger-prints should be filed with the birth certificate of every child. An English authority on the subject states that finger-prints are the most certain means of identification we have. They are, he says, unchangeable throughout life. Sir William Herschel, one of the earliest students of finger-prints, took the impressions of all his fingers in 1859. He took them again fifty years later, and there was no alteration in the slightest detail. No two persons, it is said, have the same finger-prints. Thus if the finger-prints of a person are sent to New Scotland Yard, and duplicates of those prints are found to be filed, both sets are of the same person, no matter how many years earlier the first set was taken. There are about 40,000 different sets of finger-prints at Scotland Yard.

The Origin of Cricket.

Cricket can be traced back under its present name to the seventeenth century, though our premier summer game as we know it was not played until the eighteenth century. In a rudimentary form, something like the game existed in the fourteenth century. There is a reference to cricket in a remarkable book written by a nephew of John Milton in 1685. The title of the book is remarkable, at least: "Mysteries of Love and Eloquence, or the Art of Wooing and Complimenting, the Treatments of Ladies at Balls, Sports, Drolls, the Witchcrafts of their Persuasive Languages, etc." But cricket is only mentioned in a casual way in the sentence, "Would my eyes had been beaten out of my head with a cricket-ball the day before I saw thee."

Natural Inquisitiveness.

Mr. Willerby was particularly tired one evening, so he was not as patient as usual with the questioning of his eight-year-old son. After he had answered a number of questions as well as he could, the boy asked, "Daddy, what do you do at the office all day long?"

It was at this point that daddy's patience became exhausted. "Oh, nothing much," said he, with a sigh. A few moment were spent by the son in pondering upon this answer. Then he cheerfully asked, "But how do you know when you have finished?"

Sheep In Highland Deer Forests.

Several Highland proprietors, notably one great landlord of the west of Scotland, awake to the necessities of these hard times, have re-introduced the sheep to their deer forests—to the great increase of the stock of mutton and wool, and without, as far as can be ascertained, any dertiment to sport.
