ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, OCT. 30, 1891.

THE CITY ENGINEER.

No action was taken yesterday in regard to the plans which have been prepared by the city engineer, for harbor improvements on the West side. It appears from the report of the board of works under whose authority the plans were prepared, that there is still something to be done in regard to the estimates of cost before any action can be taken on their report. In the meantime, however, they recommended the payment of $150, to the city engineer for his services in connection with preparing these plans. This section of the report produced a sharp debate in which the matter was pretty freely canvassed, and the result was that it has been referred back to the committee for further consideration, in order that they may decide how much money Mr. Peters is really entitled to, for preparing this plan. The salary of the city engineer is $1080 a year, which is smaller than that of any official of equal standing in the service of the city. The common clerk, whose work now is purely clerical, receives $1800 a year. The director of the board of works, whose duties are certainly not more important than that of a city engineer, receives $1800 a year. The director of public safety whose office is said to be almost superfluous, gets $1500 a year. The engineer of the water and sewerage department of the city government, receives a much larger salary than Mr. Peters. Yet the duties of the city engineer of St. John are in the highest degree important, and whether they are well or ill done makes a great deal of difference not only to the comfort of our citizens, but also to the well being of the city.

Some people have said that Mr. Peters is not competent, to attend to the duties of his office, but if so that is a reason for removing him, and appointing another man in his place. It is no reason for keeping the office of city engineer at so small a salary that no man of any ability or standing in his profession would take it. In regard to the merits of the matter in hand as to whether Mr. Peters is entitled to extra pay for preparing the plans for the West side it is perhaps unnecessary to enter. Mr. Peters asked $150 for making these plans which in addition to his salary of $90 would give him $240 for his month's work. If Mr. Peters is a first-class engineer, as the city engineer of St. John ought to be $240, would not be a large figure. If on the other hand Mr. Peters is not a competent engineer his plans are probably useless and his estimates incorrect, and they would be dear at any price.

THE KINGS ELECTION PETITION.

The eager politicians from Kings county who have been so active of late, and who have been whispering in the ears of their followers that Mr. Foster was sure to be unseated and that a new election in Kings county would take place immediately, have suddenly discovered that their craft has struck a snag. They were unable to serve their petition on Mr. Foster in the province of New Brunswick, and it had to be sent to Ottawa and served there. The point has been raised that this service is insufficient, because the service took place outside of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick. Judge Tuck considered this point so important that he very properly referred it to the full court for decision, at the same time stating that his view of the case was, that the point was well taken, and that if he had to decide immediately upon the matter he would decide that the service was not good. The Supreme Court does not meet until the first Tuesday in February, and therefore the hearing of the Kings county case has been postponed until the last Tuesday in February, by which time it is hoped that the Supreme Court will have decided in regard to the sufficiency of the service. In February next, no doubt parliament will be sitting, and therefore it will be impossible to go on with the Kings county case so that, even if the service is held to be good, another postponement will be necessary. It will be seen from this that Mr. Domville and his friends are a great deal further from the promised land than they expected to find themselves, and that the fine county of Kings is in no danger for some time at least, of ceasing to be represented by her ablest son the, Minister of Finance.

LITERARY LECTURES.

Last evening the Rev. J. M. deSoyres opened a course of lectures which is to be held this winter in connection with St. John's church, by a brilliant lecture on the great novelist William Makepeace Thackeray. In chosing a subject of this kind the rector of St. Marks showed good taste and judgment, and gave an example which we trust will be generally followed. St. John is not renowned as a literary centre. A critic who looked closely at the characteristics of our people might say with a great deal of truth that they are not conspicuously literary. Perhaps it is because the conditions of life are harder here than in other cities, that our men have to work so incessantly to make a living, or perhaps it is that too much devotion to toil in their youth, has given our people a distaste for literary pursuits. But certainly it cannot be denied that the majority of the people of St. John, would be improved in many ways by giving up more of their attention to those great masterpieces of English literature, which will stand out as landmarks for all time, of the intellectual progress of the century. No better theme could be chosen for the initial lecture of a literary course than Thackeray whose incisive style, whose familiarity with the weaknesses of mankind, and whose daring characterization and analysis of human nature make him beyond all comparison the ablest novelist of the age. There are in many parts of the world Browning clubs, composed of admirers of that poet, who find it profitable to meet together and study his works. Why should we not have in St. John a Thackeray club where the admirers of the great novelist may assemble at stated times and hear his works read and discussed intelligently, by men who are fitted to do that work? Thackeray's novels supply such a complete picture of human life in its various phases, that we believe that no more valuable and instructive intellectual exercise could be prescribed than that which the formation of such a club would give. If the other clergymen of the city who are interested in literary matters will take the lead in the movement for the promotion of good literature in St. John, we may have this winter a reawakening on that important feature of life.

CHILI AND THE UNITED STATES.

The attitude of the United States and Chili towards each other is for the moment one almost of hostility. The government of the United States has made a demand upon Chili which the latter country seems not disposed to concede. The trouble has arisen in consequence of what occurred in Valparaiso where some of the seamen of the United States cruiser Baltimore were attacked, and one of them killed by a mob. No doubt such an occurence is one which is likely to provoke warm feelings but the United States as a great power should have some consideration for a small republic which is just emerging from a bloody revolution. After the occurrence of the civil war the population of Valparaiso was hardly likely to be in that peaceful state which would be ordinarily the case, and some allowance must therefore be made for what the city had already passed through in considering the character of the quarrel of which the soldiers of the Baltimore were the victims. It will perhaps be well for the United States in this case to make no threat against Chili, which they are not in a position to execute. That country lying along the shores of the Pacific is not easily reached, and the Americans have no navy which would enable them to land a large force in Chili, and no army to compose such force if they possessed the navy to transport it. In the present state of the United States navy it would be madness for them to engage in a conflict even with so feeble a power as Chili.

POSTHUMOUS CHARITY.

The world is apt to extol the generosity of those men who, after accumulating millions by methods of questionable integrity, leave a portion of their estates to be distributed, after their deaths, in public charities, or in the endowment of religious or educational institutions. Such charities or endowments are gratefully accepted, and the name of the testator is at once heralded abroad as that of a great philantropist or public benefactor. But what is the sum of such charity or benefaction? The testator has availed of a provision in the law, to dispose of a certain amount of property, over which he no longer has any active control, which no longer can by any possibility afford him either profit or pleasure, in a manner which is contrary to his own instincts, for he never relinquished his grasp upon it until death compelled him to do so, and deprived his legal heirs of an inheritance which they had reason to expect and which according to the common instincts of humanity seems rightfully theirs. Those men who leave their charities for posthumous distribution show in so doing that their grasp upon the things of this world can only be relaxed by death; that if they were to live to the age of Methuselah they would still hold on to their possessions. Again, they show that they are willing to run the risk of their wills being thwarted, as is so often the case, rather than to see their charities made available a few years before their demise. The case of the late S. J. Tilden is one in point. He attempted to leave $5,000,000 for the establishment of a free library and reading rooms in New York. The will was broken by the heirs one of whom was Mrs. William Hazard, who took no part in the contest, and about $3,000,000 of this money willed to the city fell to her. Mrs. Hazard has years before her; she does not know but that in the future this money or a portion of it may be necessary to the upholding of her position, and even to her comfort, but she refuses to touch it though it is legally hers, and gives it to the city herself, as Mr. Tilden intended to do. Here is an act of philanthropy before which Mr. Tilden's sinks into insignificance and those of George Peabody and Stephen Girard grow pale. While living she deprives herself of the prestige of great wealth and the comforts which it is supposed to afford from principle, and is entitled to the world's honor. We see little to praise in posthumous charity; it bears little resemblance to the widow's mite that was so precious in the eyes of Christ, when he was walking in the world, and is just as precious in his eyes today. A crust of bread, a solitary penny given from a scanty store, we have no doubt in the eyes of heaven have often been regarded as more precious than the most magnificent posthumous gifts that have ever been bestowed.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The question of prohibition was brought up in the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance at its recent meeting, and that body seems to be unanimously in favor of it. There is no doubt that the question will shortly become a prominent feature in the politics of the dominion.

The unfortunate conflict between the Parnellites and the Anti-Parnellites at Cork yesterday will not tend to assist the cause of Ireland. It is to be presumed that both factions of the Irish party are devoted to the interests of their country, and they should learn that it is only by union that they can hope to obtain what they both profess to be seeking. Faction fights in the streets, will not assist them obtaining the favor of the English electors.

The attitude of Chili towards the United States appears to be one of defiance. This is to be regretted because the differences between the two countries are not of such a character that they cannot be adjusted in a peaceful manner. It would certainly be disgraceful if the United States and Chili should go to war over a street brawl, between sailors and a mob, and it would be extremely humiliating to the great republic if in such a contest she should get the worst of it.

It is unfortunate that there should be any differences between the police magistrate and the common council, in regard to making the returns of the receipts of the police court. The union act provides that all sums of money received by the police magistrate at the police office for fees, fines or costs, shall be paid over by him immediately after the first day of every month, to the chamberlain to be placed to the credit of the police fund. This is a very plain direction and it would be best that it should be strictly observed. Probably the present difficulty has arisen as a result of a misunderstanding, and if so it can be easily remedied, by a compliance with the law.

The Telegraph this morning publishes statistics for the purpose of showing that the free list of the United States is larger than that of Canada. The following quotation from the Telegraph covers the point raised:—

Their duties on dutiable goods are considerably higher than ours, but they have a much larger free list, as we shall prove. Here is a statement of the dutiable and free goods respectively imported and entered for home consumption in Canada, during the fiscal year ended 30th June, 1890:—

Dutiable goods	$77,106,286
Free goods	35,659,298
Total	$112,765,584

And here is a statement from the current number of Bradstreet's showing the imports, free and dutiable, into the United States for the first eight months of the year 1891:—

Dutiable goods	$279,484,076
Free goods	286,156,496
Total	$565,640,572

Here, it will be observed, that the greater half of the import trade of the United States for the past eight months has been free of duty, while more than two-thirds of the Canadian import trade is taxed.

This comparison is absurd and misleading. The Canadian imports for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1890, should be compared with the United States imports of the same year and not with the imports of this year. During the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1890, the United States imported as follows:

Dutiable goods	$523,641,780
Free goods	265,668,629
	$789,310,409

The percentage of dutiable goods was therefore 66.34, or about the same as the percentage of dutiable goods imported into Canada the same year. Since then the free list both of the United States and Canada has been enlarged by the abolition of the duties on raw sugar. The Telegraph should abandon such silly attempts to mislead its readers.

COMMON COUNCIL.

No Returns From Police and Civic Courts—The Carleton Improvements—The Douglas Avenue School Sewerage—Appeals from Taxes—The Census and Standard time.

The common council met yesterday. The treasury board after reporting payment of a number of bills, salaries of district commissioners, etc., further reported that it having again come to the notice of the board that the returns from the police and civil courts are not being made by the police magistrate as required by the 50th section of the union act, 52 Vic. c. 27, (no returns having been made since the month of July) they recommended that the common council memorialize the lieut. governor in council under the common seal setting forth that the law is not being carried out in that respect and praying that such action be taken in the premises as may be necessary to ensure strict compliance with the provisions of the said section. Adopted.

The recommendation of the Board of works that D. M. Ring be paid $70.20 for placing the street signs. Carried.

The board also recommended that the director be instructed to proceed at once with the work of levelling the ends of the Douglas road, also to pave the gutters and level the sidewalk on the Adelaide road; that the board of management be requested to have catch basins placed, one on the corner of Gilbert's lane, one on the corner of Clarence and Albion streets, one on the corner of Pagan place and Germain street, and one on the corner of Canterbury and St. James' streets; that the director notify the Shore Line railway company to put sufficient susbtructure to support and maintain their track on Union street (west), and that the city will hold them responsible for any damage that may arise in consequence of running their trains on the street; that the board be authorized to call for tenders for hay, oats and straw for the coming year; that in accordance with the instructions given to the board by the council in the matter of harbor improvements on the western side of the harbor on the 14th May last "to have plans, survey und borings made and select a site and report thereon to this council at as early a day as possible," they had attended to their duty and had selected a site and decided on the nature of improvements which they considered desirable; they had also had borings and estimates made and would be prepared to report thereon at an early date. In the meanwhile they recommended that Hurd Peters, C. E., who they employed to prepare the plans and estimates after hours, be allowed $150 for the work of making such plans and estimates in connection therewith to be paid from the general revenue.

The first section were adopted, but the one relating to the Carleton improvements and to the payment of $150 to the city engineer for making the plans were referred back to the board, the plans to be filed with the common clerk so that the aldermen could examine them.

The board of management submitted a report, plan and estimates for the drainage of the Douglas avenue school, as requested by the council, and recommended that the work be undertaken at a cost of $900 and a debenture issued for the amount; that in the matter of Wm. Parks & Son's water supply the company had paid $1,026,63 in full for supply of water by meter to 1st August, 1891. Adopted.

A number of recommendations of the lands committee were agreed to. The appeals committee recommended that on payment of poll tax Rev. Robert Wilson be relieved of balance of his assessment; that no reduction be made in Gershon S. Mayes' taxes; that W. L. Busby be relieved of tax on income or personal estate for 1891; that no reduction be made in the assessment of William H. Campbell; that upon payment of poll tax and costs Charles F. B. Rowe be relieved of his tax for 1890; that on payment of the tax for the present year, $6.41, and costs, Peter Cullinan be relieved of all arrears. Adopted.

The board of trade resolutions in the matter of the census were referred to the committee on census.

Another communication from the board of trade on the matter of standard time was referred to the general committee.

St. John city railway stated its intention of repairing the road before running electric cars. Repairs would be made during the next spring, and permission asked to use round cedar blocks. Referred to board of works with power to act.

E. Puddington asked permission to quarry rock on Victoria street under supervision of director of public works.—To board of works with power to act.

G. S. Fisher asked for about $4,000 due on paving Main street.—To board of works.

Brussels street Baptist church stated that the charge for use of bell as fire alarm would in future be $25 per year instead of $5.—To safety.

Ald. Barnes gave notice of motion for issue of $1,000 bonds for Douglas road sewer.

Ald. Kelly moved that the bill committee prepare a bill for the opening of Moore street to Millidge street.

Ald. Law moved that the board of management furnish estimates of the cost and plan of sewer on Spring street.—Adjourned.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

It was held that even if so, the man dealing the blow that felled his adversary was as much to blame as if the blow itself caused death. The jury recommends mercy, Sentence was deferred.

Great Proposition.

THE EVENING GAZETTE WITH THE

ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA

REVISED and AMENDED.

A Word to Ministers.

Our Ministers find it necessary to purchase many books, but only few of them feel that they can afford to pay from $150 to $200 for an expensive Encyclopedia. This is a progressive age. THE GAZETTE offers the "Encyclopedia Britannica, Revised and Amended," which is acknowledged to be the very best work ever published, in connection with a year's subscription to the paper for the small sum o 50 cents per week for one year. This great work is recommended by the leading clergymen in the Dominion. You cannot afford to do without it. Call at our office and see it, or write us and we will send you a descriptive circular.

A Word to Lawyers.

Now is the opportunity to make the valuable addition to your library that you have long been contemplating. The Encyclopedia Britannica, Revised and Amended is a necessity to every lawyer. Questions are coming up every day which make an Encyclopedia indispensable to you. Fifty cents per week for one year will purchase this mammoth publication and you get a yearly subscription to one of the best papers in the Dominion, in the bargain.

A Word to Medical Men

Doctor you may have your shelves filled with Medical books, but your library is incomplete without the Encyclopedia Britannica, Revised and Amended. Do not think because you have got along so far without an Encyclopedia that you can continue to do so, and can borrow of your neighbor or put off getting the information that you require until some future day. As you know, this great publication treats of every conceivable subject, and you should lose no time in getting possession of it. Fifty cents a week for one year will make you the owner of the work and give you a first-class newspaper for a year besides.

A Word to Teachers.

Ten years ago not one teacher in five hundred had an Encyclopedia. To-day there is hardly one in five hundred, but that either owns an Encyclopedia or has access to one. Free Libraries and Mechanics' Institutes have accomplished great things for the teachers and others in this Dominion of ours, but the time has now come when teachers require books for every day use. THE GAZETTE offers teachers a chance to get a library of their own in one great publication, viz., the Encyclopedia Britannica, Revised and Amended. The information contained in this colossal work represents the careful labor of over 1,000 of the ablest writers of the nineteenth century and is complete up to 1891. Fifty cents per week for one year makes you the happy possessor of this vast storehouse of knowledge.
