IMPROVE THE SENATE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Gives Parliament a Chance to Do So.

FULL TEXT OF THE MEASURE.

A Graceful Tribute to the Memory of Hon. Mr. Ives—Leaders of the House Join in It—The House in Committee of Supply—Day Labor or Contract Work Discussed.

Ottawa, July 18.—Yesterday afternoon the First Minister gave notice of motion of the long-expected Senate reform resolution, which he will move on Wednesday. It read as follows:

"That an humble address be presented to Her Majesty the Queen, setting forth that the provisions of the British North America Act, 1867, respecting the powers of the Senate of Canada in the making of laws are unsatisfactory and should be brought more into harmony with the principle of popular government, and praying that Her Majesty may be pleased to recommend to the Imperial Parliament a measure for the amendment of the said act in such terms as will effectually make provision as follows:

"If the House of Commons passes any bill which the Senate rejects or fails to pass, or amends in a way not accepted by the House of Commons at the next following session, again passes such bill, and the Senate again rejects or fails to pass or amends the same in a way not accepted by the Commons, the Governor-General may by proclamation convene one or more joint sittings of the members of the two Houses for the further consideration of such bill or amendments, and the question whether such bill or amendment shall pass shall be decided by a majority of the members of the two Houses present and voting, and the vote of any such joint sitting shall, as regards such bill or amendments, have the same force and effect as a vote of the Senate under the existing constitution."

Tribute to Mr. Ives.

The opening attendance yesterday was unusually slim, even for Monday, there being so many members attending the funeral of Hon. W. B. Ives, and others who were absent on account of the illness of Hon. C. A. Geoffrion. There was also an air of sadness pervading the House, and those present were reminded of the loss which the House had sustained on Saturday by the desk which Mr. Ives had occupied being covered with a small black velvet pall, on which rested a magnificent wreath composed of Japanese sacred lilies, sweet peas, maidenhair fern and long trailers of smilax. The wreath was one of the most beautiful ever seen in the House.

The Death of Mr. Ives.

On the orders of the day being called, Sir Charles Tupper said it was again his sad duty to call attention to the death of a member of the House. He need not say to the House, of which the late Mr. Ives has been so long a member, that no gentleman could be removed from this House whose absence would perhaps create a greater void. As an able lawyer, as a man of great business enterprise and capacity, as a man of the Legislature for many years, and as an administrator of an important public department, Mr. Ives has filled an honorable place in this country and has well and faithfully discharged the various duties devolving upon him. He spoke with great feeling of the loss which Mr. Ives would be to the House, to the Conservative party and to the country. Continuing, he said that the hand of death had been laid heavily on this Parliament. Not only had the House lost some of its members, but in the Senate there had also been several deaths, one of which, that of Senator Sanford, had been peculiarly shocking by its suddenness. In conclusion, Sir Charles said: "It only reminds us how frail, how slight is the tenure by which we hold our positions here. I am quite sure that every man of this House will join in tendering his heartfelt sympathy not only to the family of my late lamented colleague, Mr. Ives, but also to the family of the late Senator Sanford, who have been bereaved in both instances in such a remarkably sudden manner of the heads of those families."

Sir Wilfrid's Sympathy.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he joined most heartily in the expressions of regret which had fallen from the lips of the leader of the Opposition. "Mr. Ives," he said, "was one of the most influential, important and useful members of this House. Hon. gentlemen who came into this Parliament at the last election were unable to appreciate him fully, because, being much engaged in commercial and business pursuits, he had not of late taken the same active part he did in former years in the proceedings of this House, but those who have sat in the House with him for the last 20 year can testify that he always imparted much useful information to the discussion of every subject he chose to speak upon. On some questions, indeed, it is not too much to say that he was an authority. In everything that pertained to finance, business, commerce, agriculture, lumbering and mining, he had a vast amount of knowledge and a great deal of experience, which enabled him to speak on all these questions as a master, and his loss amongst us will be all the more felt when we have to deal with such questions as these." He referred to his personal association with Mr. Ives in early life, and, in conclusion, said that he thoroughly joined in the expression of sympathy for the family of Senator Sanford, the circumstances of whose death were peculiarly sad.

House in Supply.

The House then went into supply, taking up the Public Works votes. On the item of $354,000 for St. Lawrence ship channel a long discussion took place.

The Opposition vigorously criticized the Government for the employment of day labor in the construction of a dredge at the Sorel workshops. Good progress was, however, made on the Public Works estimates.

CASUALTIES.

Walter Currie, a farm hand working for James Dennis, near Weston fell off a load of hay and broke two ribs.

John Klein attemped to cross the Grand Trunk Railway tracks in the yard at Berlin on Friday morning between two cars that were being shunted, and was crushed to death.

Henry Weldon Duggan, the 7 year-old son of Cornelius Duggan, messenger in the postoffice, slipped off the rocks near the foot of Bank street, Ottawa, on Friday, and was drowned.

Thomas Burvill of Tilsonburg fell from the roof of an addition to the Tilson Company's grain warehouse at Vienna, a distance of 20 feet, to the ground, breaking two of his ribs.

While waiting for services to begin in the Mennonite Church at Weisport, Pa., on Thursday night Miss Florence Oswald, aged 15 years, was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

Notice of Motion.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier gives notice of the following resolution for Wednesday:

"That on Thursday next and for the remainder of the session the House shall meet at 11 o'clock in the morning; that, in addition to the usual intermission at 6 o'clock, there shall also be an intermission on each day from 1 to 2 o'clock p.m.; that the House shall also meet on Saturday at the same hour of 11, and Government orders shall have precedence at such sittings."

Will Act as Speaker.

Mr. Brodeur, Deputy Speaker, will act as Speaker during the remainder of the session, calling on some member of the House to take his place as chairman of committee.

M.P.'S WHO ARE SICK.

Sir James Edgar Ordered to Take a Complete Rest—Hon. C. A. Geoffrion Dying—Mr. Leduc Very Ill.

Ottawa, July 18.—Drs. Powell and Ruddick have advised Sir James Edgar, Speaker of the House of Commons, that it is necessary for him to take a rest, the arduous work of the session having produced splenetic anaemia. No serious results are anticipated, but it is considered advisable for his honor to rest for a couple of months. Sir James Edgar and Lady Edgar left for Toronto last night and during the week will go to Sir James' country house at Roach's Point, where the remainder of the summer will be passed.

Hon. C. A. Geoffrion Dying.

The Premier left here at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and proceeded to Vaudreuil. On arriving there he walked to the residence of Hon. C. A. Geoffrion, whose death is momentarily expected, the last rites of the church having been administered. Sir Wilfrid will return to Ottawa by a special train.

Mr. Leduc May Not Recover.

Word was received yesterday morning that Mr. Leduc, M.P. for Nicolet, was dangerously ill at his home at St. Leonard D'Aston, and that but little hopes are entertained of his recovery.

A BRAVE RAILWAY LABORER.

Watchman Swam a Stream Twice and Flagged Trains in Danger.

Vancouver, B.C., July 18.—Late Saturday night a spark from a freight train set fire to and completely destroyed the railway bridge 18 miles west of Kamloops, and just east of Cherry Creek. The bridge spanned the arm of Kamloops Lake and was a Howe truss structure 195 feet in length. The incident was attended by an exhibition of pluck on the part of a railway laborer that is much oftener seen in melodrama than in real life. But for him the west going express would probably have been precipitated into the water. This C.P.R. watchman discovered the fire just in time for him to flag the two trains that were east and west bound, respectively. It was late at night, and in order to make sure of stopping the eastbound train the watchman heroically swam across the stream at this junction with the lake and flagged the train. He made the trip back and flagged the westbound train. The passengers on both are warm in praise of his action.

ELEVEN PROSPECTORS LOST.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills of Vancouver Were Among Those Lost.

Chicago, July 18.—A special to The Tribune from Victoria, B.C., says: "The steamer Tees brings news of the death of a party of 11 prospectors by drowning near Windy Arm. Those known to have been lost are Mr. and Mrs. Mills of Vancouver, Mrs. Klune and daughter and a young man named Harry Howard.

Seven Americans Drowned.

Seattle, Wash., July 18.—The schooner General Siglin, from Cook's Inlet, Alaska, brings news of the drowning of seven Americans at Turnagain Arm early in June.

Burglars at Morrisburg.

Morrisburg, Ont., July 18.—About 2.30 yesterday morning burglars forced an entrance through a rear window into Chalmers' jewellery store, and made an attempt to blow open the safe. Two charges were set off, the last one being of terrific force. Parties living in the building were aroused, and succeeded in scaring off the robbers. The door was badly damaged, but the safe was not opened. Four men were distinctly seen by different persons making good their escape. They fired a number of shots at those who were giving the alarm. This is the second attempt to burglarize Chalmers' store within the last two weeks.

A Word to Anglers in Nepigon.

Toronto, July 18.—The order-in-council respecting fishing in Nepigon Lake provides that no person shall fish in those waters except by angling, and anglers must pay license as follows: For people outside of Canada, $10; Canadians, not resident in Algoma, $5; residents, $2.

License-holders are prohibited from cutting timber, and the limit of trout is ten fish or 15 pounds a day.

A TRAMP KILLED.

A Grim Ending of a Sunday Morning Theft in Quebec.

Bay St. Paul, Que., July 18.—Coroner Guillemate was asked yesterday morning to hold an inquest on the body of a tramp, killed at Petite Riviere, St. Francois, after a theft at the Presbytery during the holy mass on Sunday. The servant perceived the presence of a thief in the house. She gave the alarm, and four parishioners started after him, and they met him in the woods. One of the men shot and killed him. It is said he shot too hastily, but it is also reported he was self-defending, the thief having shown a revolver and poignard. Fifteen dollars and a watch stolen were found on the body.

Dr. Bertram, 77th, Scores a Possible in First Stage.

QUEEN'S PRIZE CONDITIONS.

Canadians Make Good Shooting in the 200-Yard Range of the Great Match—Much Enthusiasm Attends Their Success—All the Scores Made by Canadians in the First Stage.

Queen's Prize Conditions.

The Queen's prize, the blue ribbon of the active volunteer riflemen, consists of £250, the N.R.A. gold medal, and the N.R.A gold badge. In addition there are 59 prizes given, ranging from £60 for the second, to £1, the total value being £2,420. All of these prizes, with the exception of the first, are open to retired volunteers, but the Queen's prize itself can only be captured by a member of a volunteer regiment. The medals and badges given in addition to those mentioned are: For the highest aggregate scorer in the first and second stages, the N.R.A. silver medal and badge, and for the highest aggregate scorer in the first stage, the N.R.A. bronze medal and badge.

The first of the stages, which are all squadded competitions, consists of seven shots at each of the following distances: 200 yards, 500 yards and 600 yards. The 500 and 600 yards shooting will be made to-day. The 300 who make the highest aggregate score in the first stage will be entitled to compete in the second stage, which will be shot off on Thursday. The final stage will be decided on Saturday, when 100 who have made the best scores in the second stage will decide by their total aggregate who is entitled to the much coveted distinction.

TROOPS FOR THE CAPE.

Battalions of the Scots Guards and Grenadiers Said to Be Going.

London, July 18.—The Daily Graphic this morning publishes a rumor that a battalion of the Scots Guard and a battalion of the Grenadiers have been ordered to the Cape.

Shamrock and Britannia.

Cowes, July 18.—The Shamrock, with Sir Thomas Lipton and Mr. Fife, her designer, on board, took another spin yesterday afternoon. The challenger showed herself extremely quick in stays. The Britannia was also out, but the boats were cruising in different waters. The Prince of Wales will witness to-day's trial of the Shamrock from the Admiralty yacht Fire Queen.

Are the Boers Growing Afraid.

Pretoria, July 18.—The First and Second Raads sat in secret session all day yesterday. It is believed that the Volksraad will adopt a seven years' franchise, with retroactive force, and agree to other conditions and concessions in order to terminate the unsettled state of public affairs in the Transvaal.

Fearful Storms in Germany.

Berlin, July 17—A heavy thunderstorm prevailed throughout the country yesterday afternoon. The storm was accompanied by a fall of hailstones, some of which were as large as walnuts. Immense damage was done. Five horses were injured by lightning near Berlin and one was killed.

Triple Murder in Japan.

Yokohama, July 18.—A triple murder of an American named Ward and his two Japanese women, the supposed cause being jealousy, brings an American sailor named Miller under the Japanese law as the suspected murderer. This is the first case under the new treaties which came into force yesterday.

An Alpine Climber Killed.

Berne, Switzerland, July 18.—Eugene Staub of Baltimore, Md., in descending from the Royal Hut, near Pontresina, in the Engadine Valley, fell over a precipice and was killed.

Incendiary Indians.

Denver, Col., July 18.—A special from Price, Utah, says: "The second fire within a week occurred at Fort Duchesne Saturday night, when the quartermaster's stables and contents were entirely consumed. Nineteen mules were burned to death. The loss is placed at $20,000. An officer says both fires were incendiary and some believe they are the work of old Sowewic and his band of White River Utes, who are preparing to go back to Colorado and are trying to destroy the cavalry equipment of the soldiers so they cannot follow them.

Some Guns May Be Fired.

St. John's, Nfld., July 18.—The British squadron, under Rear-Admiral Sir Frederick George Denham Bedford, assembled here yesterday. The French fleet has not yet arrived. Admiral Bedford's conference with the Colonial Ministry will take place to-day. It is assumed that he will outline a plan for dealing with the French encroachments on the treaty coast.

CAR STRIKERS IN THREE CITIES.

London, Ont., Brooklyn and Cleveland Have Each Their Troubles—The Doings of the Day at Each

London, Ont., July 18.—The union labor organizations of the city held a monster street demonstration last night to show their sympathy with the striking Street Car Company's employes. The streets were blocked with people. As all were in very good humor, no attempt was made to molest the street cars which were running. A feature of the demonstration which created much laughter was the parodying of the militia route marches in connection with the recent declaration of martial law. Following a banner inscribed, "To Defend Our City," was a company of unionists, wearing red and green cockades, carrying wooden swords and trailing behind them a large cotton-built field gun. The authorities did not deem it necessary to make a display of force, or to take any extra precautions against trouble, nor were the street cars put under extra police protection.

Street Railway Strike in Cleveland.

Cleveland, July 18.—The conductors and motormen of the big consolidated street railway system, who went out on strike last month, went out again at 4.15 o'clock yesterday morning. Eight hundred men are affected. They claim the company has not lived up to the agreement which ended the former strike.

The Strike in Brooklyn.

New York, July 18.—The strike situation in Brooklyn remains unchanged. The striking employes are even more determined than they were yesterday, and the management of the Rapid Transit Line is obdurate and unflinching. Cars were run on most of the lines governed by the Traction Company from early morning until 7 o'clock last evening, but after sundown there was a considerable falling off in the service, and by 9 o'clock not a car was moving on any of the lines affected by the striking motormen and conductors. The roads comprising the Nassau system were more effectively crippled. None of the striking employes returned to work, and most of them were busy during the day influencing union and non-union men on the other lines to quit work. In this respect the strikers were partially successful.

Shut All Traction Co.'s Lines Down.

At 7 o'clock last evening President Rossiter issued instructions to shut down all the Traction Company's lines, and from that hour until long after midnight not a car was run, with the exception of a couple, which were placed at the service of the city authorities to transport policemen to the outlying districts.

Metropolitans Will Strike.

Chicago, July 18.—Sixteen hundred members of the Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders' Union struck here yesterday. TARTAR'S CREW STRUCK.

Demanded Double Pay When They Thought They Could Enforce It.

San Francisco, July 18.—Sixty-seven members of the Chinese crew of the transport Tartar have been on a strike for several days, having demanded double pay for the voyage from Manila. The vessel was acquired by the Government from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and the action of the men rendered them liable to six months' imprisonment when the vessel reached a British port. Through the intervention of the Chinese consul-general here and the British consul the matter has been adjusted. When the seriousness of their offence had been impressed upon the mutineers they gave in, rescinded their demands and in return they received assurances that they would not be prosecuted.

THE DEATH OF REDER.

Brought to Toronto by False Pretences by the T. Eaton Company, He Committed Suicide Through Despondency.

Toronto, July 18.—Last night Coroner Greig and a jury held an inquest touching the death of Alex. Reder, the man who committed suicide by jumping into the bay after filling his pockets with stones. After hearing the facts, as told in lengthy evidence, and deliberating for a few minutes, the jury returned the following verdict:

"That Alex. Reder did on July 14 deliberately commit suicide by jumping into Toronto Bay. The cause of this act was despondency, the result of being brought to Toronto under false pretences by S. Lubelski, acting for the T. Eaton Company."
