The Weekly Monitor.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30TH, 1884.

—The following is the manner in which immigration of English agriculturists to the Maritime Provinces is encouraged in the mother country, by those who profess to be authorities:

"The Earl of Carnarvon, lecturing in the school hall of Stepney Meeting House—one of the oldest Congregational churches in England—said that he desired to see emigration to the great Dominion for the sake of those who could not find work in England and for the sake of the colony itself, that it might increase in numbers and strength and in independence. * * *

In a former portion of his speech Lord Carnarvon expressed his opinion that it would be quite idle for anyone to think of emigrating to the Maritime provinces. There the climate was very rough, the soil poor, and the land more or less taken up. The old colony of Ontario presented most of the features of a civilized State, with its roads, railways, posts, telegraphs, and its large, flourishing and prosperous towns. Everything there had the look of old England without discontent, poverty and misery."

From the above extract it is very evident that information to be obtained by the English people in regard to the Maritime Provinces is of the most meagre discription. We should like the Earl of Carnarvon to pay a visit for instance to the Annapolis valley in this Province, go over our broad dyked marshes, and those of Grand Pre and Cumberland, up the River St. John, in New Brunswick, and take a run through the agricultural districts of P.E. I., during the summer season, and then hear his opinion in regard to the soil. True, our winters are long, but the cold is by no means intense, save on a very few exceptional days. From the middle of May until the last days of autumn our climate is as pleasant to live in as any in the world. Summer days are never too hot and evenings are always cool. The Maritime provinces enjoy one advantage that should by no means be overlooked, i. e. comparative immunity from very destructive wind storms, floods, and from pestilential diseases.

—We wonder if the remonstrances with America from England, in regard to dynamiters will assume a serious phase, if not given more attention than at present. A late despatch says:—

"The retorts of the American papers to English complaints of continuing tolerance of Irish dynamite plots in America fail to convince the English press that America is doing everything possible to prevent Irish crime. Monday's Times publishes a long extract from Sunday's Tribune and replies while in France the authorities actively strive to frustrate the dastardly schemes for which France now serves as the connecting link between America and England, the American authorities do little or nothing, and America still allows an open crusade to be preached, and funds to be collected for dynamite outrages. The Times insists that information is abundant and urges that if America refuses to act some other reason must be sought. Other journals say bluntly that this being the year of a presidential election, nothing likely to alienate the Irish vote will be done."

—Bridgetown is waking up in dead earnest, and next summer promises to be more than ordinarily stirring. The congregation of St. James' Episcopal Church intend to build a new and handsome church; Messrs. Cox and Ruffee are to erect a new rink building; the young men have organized a Brass Band (nothing sleepy about a brass band) and a Cricket Club. We have now two large, well-appointed hotels, the Grand Central, and the Revere House, and, no doubt, a goodly number of summer tourists will be induced to pay our healthy and attractive town a visit. The stock complaint that Bridgetown has no hotel accommodation worthy of the name, is now removed, and between our hotels and really good private boarding houses, any reasonable person will find no cause for grumbling. One thing should be done, however, in the matter of improvement, and that is to endeavor to induce the owner of the Oakes property to permit the tearing down of the house that stands on the corner of Water and Queen Sts. It is an unsightly wreck, filthy and forbidding to the last degree. Its appearance cannot but impress every stranger coming into the town, very unfavorably.

—Eighty-one new laws were made in our Provincial Parliament during its last session. The following refer directly to this county:—

To incorporate the Woodlawn cemetary of Annapolis.

To legalize the proceedings of school section No. 29, Annapolis east.

To amend the act to incorporate the Round Hill woodenware company limited.

To further amend the act relating to the Nova Scotia and Nictaux and Atlantic Central railway.

To enable the trustees of school section No. 19, in the district of Annapolis west to sell lands.

—A good number of our young people who departed from Nova Scotia for the United States, a short time ago, have returned home again, and a larger number are wishing themselves home. Times are reported to be considerably depressed in the States, and work is difficult to obtain. Many young people are travelling the streets of Boston, day after day, seeking employment in vain. The stay-at-homes provided they have fairly remunerative employment, have decided by the best of it this year le ast.

—The Cunard Steamship Company is reported to be in trouble. This conclusion appears to be drawn from the fact that no dividends have been declared this year. If this fine Steamship line should get into any serious difficulty, it would cause very general regret.

—A correspondent named "G" draws attention in last week's Spectator to the illegal practice followed by some parties of gathering and shipping blue duck's eggs. The shipment was made from the vicinity of the lakes in the rear of Annapolis—noted haunts of this fine wild fowl. The fine for this offence is $20, and "G" asks if there is no one to enforce the law. All true sportsmen will agree with "G" in condemning a practice that is both an infraction of a wise law, and one if continued in, will soon cause the extermination of the blue-winged duck in this region.

—Go to F. Johnson's Bookstore, Annapolis, for your Wall Papers. 4i.

Local and Other Matter.

—Mr. Oscar Parker of Granville, has sold his trotting horse Dandy, to Mr. W. J. Glencross of this town.

—Windsor and Annapolis railway debenture stock is quoted in London at 55½, a rise of 1½.

—Mr. A. S. Ruggles, of Annapolis, has assigned his real and personal property for the benefit of his creditors to Dr. A. B. Cunningham.

—Hon Charles Dickie, M. L. C., of Canning is dead. He was liberal in politics.

—The Montreal Witness says that four thousand immigrants are on their way from England to settle in Canada.

—A spark from a burning chimney ignited the roof of the tenement building owned by George Murdoch, Esq., opposite Dr. Dennison's residence, yesterday morning; but it was discovered immediately, and a few buckets of water put out the blaze.

—A sneak thief broke out a pane of glass in the window of Mrs. Reynold's store, on Friday night last. Fortunately he was heard in time to prevent his pilfering any amount. A few cocoanuts were the only articles taken.

—On Friday evening last, while some boys were having a bonfire, one little fellow, Charlie Wilkins, attempted to run through it, tripped and fell, and would have been badly burned if the boys had not quickly pulled him out. As it was he escaped with only his hands burned.

WANTED.—Hotels and summer boarding houses, to send in their names, terms, &c., for publication in our new folders. A prompt attention will much oblige T. S. WHITMAN, General Manager New England and Acadia S. S. Co. Annapolis, N. S. tf

—Mr. A. H. Riordan, the proprietor of that well-appointed hotel, the Dominion House, Annapolis, has a gang of men busily engaged in erecting a large building in the vicinity of the hotel to be used as a livery stable.

—John Lockett, Esq., of this town, has been painting the windows, doors and shutters of the buildings owned by him on Granville street which comprise three stores, an office and dwelling. A decided improvement has been made.

—The Rev. J. D. H. Browne, Editor of the Church Guardian, is about to become a resident of California. The Guardian has passed into the hands of Leo. H. Davidson, M. A., D. C. L., of Montreal, who will continue it on the same lines on which it has hitherto been conducted.

—The steamer Empress will be placed upon the route between St. John, Digby and Annapolis on the 5th of May, leaving St. John every Monday, Wednesday and Friday; and returning every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The Secret, it is stated, will be placed on the route between Yarmouth and Boston about the 10th of May.

—D. S. St. Clair will sell at auction to-morrow on his late premises at Paradise, his stock and farming utensils. For further particulars see handbills. The following was omitted from the list to be sold, "one two year old colt," sired by a Percheron-Norman horse. 1i

POLITICAL MEETING.—The annual meeting of the E. A. Liberal Association will be held in Middleton School House, on Tuesday, May 6th at 7 o'clock p. m. Dominion and local representatives are expected to be present. All are invited. O. M. Taylor, Secretary.

—The "Trade Reporter" is the name of a new monthly paper just started in St. John. The first number has come to hand. It is well filled with reading matter and advertisements and presents a good appearance. Its name denotes its object.

—The Annapolis Royal Boat Club advertise for the 5th inst., a promenade concert and dance, which promises to be one of the pleasantests affairs of the season. The names of the gentlemen who comprise the committee of management, are alone a sufficient guarantee that no pains will be spared to ensure an enjoyable evening. The Club are perfecting arrangements for a grand regatta to take place in the summer.

—In another column will be found an interesting notice of the first meeting of a new society just formed, called the Annapolis Valley Small Fruit Association. We are glad to be able to report that such a general interest has been awakened in this direction. Small fruit farming is both a pleasant and remunerative business. Mr. G. C. Miller, who entered this pursuit a year or two ago, states in a note to us that he is setting out ½ an acre of raspberries, ¾ of an acre of gooseberries, and 25,000 more strawberry plants. This will give him five acres in small fruits. He is also preparing for 4 acres of pickles.

—The Teacher's Association meets in the Court House, in this town to-morrow, May 1st., at 10 o'clock a. m. The Supt. of Education, Dr. Allison, will be in attendance. On the evening of the same day at half-past seven o'clock, Dr. Allison will deliver a public lecture in the Baptist Church, on a subject germaine to the objects of the Association. The official position of the lecturer, as Supt. of Education, his well-known scholastic attainments, and his reputation as a public speaker, should secure for him a large audience.

—The May Century, is one of the best numbers of this brilliant Magazine. Our limited space this issue will only permit naming a few of the articles viz:—"The Salem of Hawthorne," "The Metopes of the Parthenon;" "British Fertility;" "Recent Architecture in America;" "The Bay of Islands in calm and storm;" "Trade Unionism in England." Most of these articles are superbly illustrated. "An Average Man" and "Dr. Sevier" are the present serial stories running through this magazine, and their interest increases with each number. The other departments are as usual brimful of interest The Century Publishing Co., Union Square, New York.

—The entertainment in Victoria Hall on Wednesday evening last, in aid of the funds of St. James' Church, by several young ladies and gentlemen, amateurs, proved quite a success and was enjoyed by an appreciative audience.

The programme consisted of two highly amusing farces, named respectively "Dead Shot" and "Sarah's Young Man," and several solos and choruses. The principal characters in each farce were taken by Miss DeBlois, Miss Barnaby, and Mr. Jefferson, who sustained their parts in a highly creditable manner, and who, we think, as amateurs could hardly be excelled.

The other characters were taken by Miss Bessie Knight, Mr. Chas. Willis, Mr. Landon Cowling, Dr. F. Primrose and Mr. M. C. Hoyt, each of whom gave a satisfactory representation.

We must, however, admit that the performance was not quite equal to previous efforts by these clever amateurs, owing to a hurried preparation, and lack of sufficient time for rehearsals. A considerable disadvantage also occured in some defect in the management of the drop scene, but which we are told was not preventable.

The musical part of the entertainment was highly enjoyable. The solos, —character songs in costume—were given by Miss deBlois and Mr. Cowling. The latter, though laboring under the disadvantage of a severe cold, sang in such a manner as to elicit a hearty encore. Miss deBlois was in fine voice, and sang most charmingly, receiving also a well merited encore. The juvenile minstrel troupe "The Skids," so well received on a former occasion, and repeated by request, was very amusing and the solos and choruses were well rendered. After the singing of the national anthem at the close, the audience departed well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

PERSONAL.—Mr. J. B. Kinney, architect of Yarmouth, was in town last week.

—J. N. Rice would respectfully inform his friends and customers, that he will be at his old stand over the Monitor Office for a few weeks only. 1i

—Miss Annie Fowler, daughter of the Rev. Professor Fowler, late of this city, says the Fredericton Gleaner, has just graduated B. A., at Queen's College, Kingston Ont. She with another young lady from St. Catherines, are the first lady graduates in the Dominion.

—"Sealed unto Him" is finished. It did not come up to the representations made by the publishers to us, and we have reason to believe that a number of our readers have been disappointed. Still, if the tale is really founded on facts, it possessed some interest from the scenes and people with which it had connection.

CATTLE RAISING.—Mr. Wm. Buckley, of Amherst, lately sold forty-five steers and three bulls, weighing 72,000 lbs., at five cents a pound. It was pronounced the best lot of cattle ever fed in Cumberland county. They were shipped from Halifax for the English market by the buyers, Messrs. Pipes, Forrest & Coates.

—W. H. Miller of Middleton, has received and is now showing the largest and best lines of Tweeds and Coatings to be found in the country. Also Mantle Cloths, Cashmeres, Cambrics, Boots and Shoes in great variety. Prices low. 1i

—A boat containing two young men, named respectively, Existe Boudreau and Stephen Coterau was swamped at Tusket Wedge on the 21st inst. Boudreau clung to the boat and was saved, but his companion attempted to swim ashore and was drowned.

THE WASHINGTON TREATY.—The Washington Government will, it is said protest against the system the Dominion Government has introduced in regard to paying a bounty to Canadian fishermen, which has raised up a strong prejudice on the other side against a continuation of the treaty.

NOTICE EXTRAORDINARY.—For the next thirty days there will be music in the air, and J. E. Sancton is determined to help make it, so govern yourself accordingly. Everything in his line is marked down 20 per cent. so as to meet the hard times. Now is your time to buy. tf

—Mary Walker, of Lawrence, Mass., has begun a suit for the loss of her husband, who was a steerage passenger on "City of Columbus," claiming $50,000 damages. Joseph H. Clark has also begun a suit for the loss of Frederick L. Hale in the same disaster, claiming the same amount of damages.

—Late freshets have done considerable damage in this Province and in New Brunswick. Several washouts have occurred on the highways and railways and considerable damage has been done to saw mills, mill dams and bridges. The most serious loss was suffered by Messrs. Kelly Brothers on the River Herbert, Cumberland Co., in the loss of a fine new saw mill and a quantity of logs. They estimate the loss at $20,000. Reports from Shediac, N. B., say that the like has not been known for forty years. The washouts on the railways have interrupted travel to a considerable extent.

—The Kentville Chronicle announces the following sales of farm properties: Henry and Maynard Porter have sold the farm in Woodville, known as the "Clark place," to Wm. Arnold, of Woodville. Clark Illsley, of Weldford, has sold his farm to Mr. Morse, of Berwick, for $4,000. Mr. Ilsley, of Weldford, has purchased for $2,700 the farm of Chas. Skidner, Weston. Jas. Mac Millan, of Fairview, has purchased the farm of A. D. Foster, in Aylesford. Price $3,000.

—The Mayflower Tobacco Factory in Halifax was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday night last. Loss about $50,000, insurance about $10,000. Sixty-five hands are thrown out of employment. Cause of the fire unknown. The factory was first started in 1860. It manufactured the favorite brand of black tobacco called the "Mayflower" A good business was being done, and a quantity of new machinery was expected to arrive from England on Monday. Fortunately the flames from the burning building were prevented by the strenuous exertions of the firemen from causing any serious injury to surrounding buildings.

On the same night the Halifax Hotel narrowly escaped being burned to the ground. A fire was discovered in the cellar but with the help of a couple of Babcock fire extinguishers that had been in the house for eight years without ever being once used, the flames were finally controlled.

The N. S. N. & A. Railway Bonds.

The Canadian Gazette publishes particulars of an issue of first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds of the Nova Scotia Nictaux and Atlantic Central Railway Company. The company have obtained from the government of Nova Scotia the right to select immediately 150,000 acres of crown land. The government have further granted a cash subsidy of $412,000, equal to £85,000, of which £21,000 has already been paid in respect of works executed. The railway will be 74 miles in length. Commencing at Lunenburg, it is to pass via Mahone Bay and Bridgewater, through to Middleton. The company now invite applications for 2,400 six per cent. bonds of $500 each, at the fixed exchange of £104 3s. 4d., constituting a first charge on the entire railway and undertaking, and the whole real and personal property including the land grant referred to above. The price of issue is £95 per bond. The interest will be payable half-yearly on the 1st of April and October, by coupons of £3 2s. 6d. each, and the bonds will be redeemable by annual drawings, commencing the 1st of October 1888, by the action of a sinking fund and the proceeds of sale of the crown lands, and will be payable in London at the rate of £104 3s. 4d. per bond by the 1st of October, 1931. A guarantee fund up to the amount of the unearned cash subsidy is to be invested in Canadian government securities pro rata as the bonds are issued for securing, with the earnings of the railways, the due payment of the interest on the bonds. It is pointed out in the prospectus that this fund will fully cover the interest for upwards of four and a half years' while the line is to be completed by the middle of December next. The subscription lists are to be closed on Saturday, the 12th inst.
