THIRTEENTH YEAR. FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 15 1892 ONE CENT.

A SHOCK TO THE LIBERALS.

THE MIDLOTHIAN PHENOMENON STILL WIDELY DISCUSSED.

Comments of the London Press—Liberals Make More Gains and Gladstonian Spirits Revive—Rioting not Confined to Ireland—A Welsh Conservative Driven Out of Town.

Total members elected	580
Conservatives	248
Liberal-Unionists	39—287
Liberals	230
Anti-Parnellites	51
Parnellites	7
Labor	5—293
Net Liberal Gain to Date	51
Liberal Majority to Date	6

LONDON, July 14.—To-day's results have not quite realized Liberal expectations, but they are considered satisfactory as confirming the steady flow of gains. When the actual number of the Liberal members returned first overtopped the Conservatives the National club men indulged in prolonged jubilations. Henceforth Mr. Gladstone's total will be in the ascent. If to-day was a shade disappointing to-morrow's will make up for it, they claim.

Conservatives admit that rural voters are against them.

The feature of to-day's election was the fact that for the first time during the present elections more Opposition seats were at stake than Unionist seats. Out of 32 English counties polling 17 were Gladstonian and 15 Unionist. As far as is known at present the former remain Gladstonian.

The contest in two Scottish burghs secured Liberals in their seats and the pollings in eight Irish counties are reported as resulting in the return of McCarthyites. The Liberals thus calculate that to-day's results add 27 to the Gladstonian total.

Returns at midnight showed that the Conservatives had 248 members, the Liberals 230, the McCarthyites 51, the Liberal-Unionists 39, the Parnellites 7 and the Laborists 5. Ministerial total 287, Gladstonian total 293.

The aggregates of the polling up to the present time are as follows: Conservatives and Unionist 1,877,856, Gladstonian 2,030,577.

Where Gains Were Made.

The Liberals made gains to-day in Suffolk, Kyston division of Yorkshire, and in the middle division of Norfolk and in Woodbridge.

People We Know.

Professor Sheldon, the well-known friend of Canada, has been defeated in Ramsay.

Mr. Coningsby Disraeli, nephew of the late Lord Beaconsfield, was elected in Altrincheam, in Cheshire, the seat formerly occupied by Sir William Cunliffe Brooks.

In the north division of County Louth, Timothy Healy, who has already been elected to represent the north division of Wexford, was again successful. His majority is 699, the vote standing 2268 in his favor against 1569 for Callan, Parnellite.

Mr. Birkmyer of the Ayr borough, who was elected to-day on the Gladstonian ticket, is a pronounced laborist and will probably join the Burns faction.

The independent laborists consist of five men, Messrs. Burns, Hartley, Wilson, Pickard and Birkmyer.

The announcement of the victory of Timothy Healy, in North Wexford, over Colonel McGrath, the Liberal-Unionist candidate, was received with disgust by the Parnellites, who have all along been praying for his defeat. It is doubtful if among the anti-Parnellites there is a more hated man than Mr. Healy, and his election is looked upon by some of the Parnellites as a personal affront. They derive some satisfaction, however, from the defeat of the anti-Parnellite candidate in East Clare, where Mr. William Redmond was elected by a majority of 446 votes.

GLADSTONE'S SMALL MAJORITY.

Comments of the London Dailies on This Election Phenomenon.

LONDON, July 14.—The Standard says: "The reduction of Mr. Gladstone's majority speaks volumes for the status of his party in Scotland. His son Herbert suffered a similar rebuff. The sooner he digests the moral the better. The revolt in Midlothian is so far the most conspicuous event of the present election."

The Daily News says: "The Tories will, naturally and properly, make much of the reduction of Mr. Gladstone's majority. It is a striking phenomenon, account for it how we may. It was the disestablishment question that did the mischief. Col. Wauchope fought like a gentleman."

The Chronicle says: "The reduction of Mr. Gladstone's majority is almost eccentric. It is partially due to the unsparing and unceasing influence of the Kirk, to which must be added the power of landlordism. But allowing all possible reductions, we still arrive at the conclusion that mere Gladstonianism as a symbol of personal rather than political faith is waning both in England and in Scotland."

The Chronicle concludes with an invitation to Mr. Chamberlain to return to his allegiance to Mr. Gladstone and endeavor to arrive at a solution of the Irish problem.

It is idle to speculate upon the cause of the reduction of Mr Gladstone's majority. His thinly veiled hostility to the Kirk probably co-operated with the enigmatical Home Rule policy to produce an emphatic reduction, amounting to a defeat.

"The result illustrates again, as it did in Oxford, Lancashire and Greenwich, the great characteristic of Mr. Gladstone as a representative, that the more he is known the less he is liked.

"It is obviously only a question of time when the Great Peripatetic will seek the hospitality of Archbishop Walsh and be content to sit for rebel Cork."

Notes from Midlothian.

EDINBURGH, July 14.—It is stated that sermons were preached against Gladstone in almost every established church in Midlothian last Sunday. It cannot be doubted that the church question was the chief factor in the contest. The telegram giving the preliminary result of the poll, addressed to Mr. Gladstone at Dalmeny Park, and giving the majority as 673, was received by his supporters with the utmost unbelief. Only one paper in Edinburgh took the responsibility to publish these figures. The Liberals appeared incapable of realizing the true state of affairs, and the telegram to Mr. Gladstone was withheld until the figures were confirmed.

Mr. Gladstone is not disheartennd by the result of the polling in Midlothian. As an old parliamentary hand accustomed to reverses, he takes the reduction of the Liberal vote in that constituency with equanimity. Private telegrams from him to prominent Liberals in this city say he knew that Col. Wauchope was a strong opponent and had expected that the poll would show a heavily reduced Liberal majority. At the Conservative headquarters in London last night the managers of the party stated that they disapproved of a renewal of the contest in Midlothian until the next general election, and Col. Wauchope is fully in accord with them. It has been decided, however, to challenge John Morley's seat on his appointment as a Cabinet Minister.

Certain Liberals admit that another general election is close at hand, and regard it as inevitable during 1892, while some forecast dissolution on Home Rule as taking place in the spring.

Mr. Gladstone, in a communication to The Star, warns the Liberals to prepare for the next general election, as likely to come "like a thief in the night." Party agents on both sides have been instructed immediately the elections are over especially to watch the registration of votes, which concludes at the end of August. Local electoral organizations are to be maintained in full working order. As the reform of registration is certain to immensely strengthen the Liberals' vote the Gladstone Government is likely to introduce a "one man one vote measure," which the House of Lords could not venture to reject. The next session, according to ideas current at the National Liberal Club, will see the adoption of registration reform, but it will also see Home Rule thrown out of the House of Lords, followed by the dissolution of Parliament.

Mr. Gladstone Explains.

In an interview to-day with the President of the Aberdeen Liberal Association Mr. Gladstone said: "The falling off in Midlothian was not due to the Irish question. About 2000 out of 13,000 electors voted against me on the church question. They were influenced by the exertions of the clergy from the pulpit. But witness the effect of their labors. The churchmen make the elections turn on the disestablishment question. They have demonstrated that a majority of the electors are favorable to disestablishment."

Mr. Gladstone strongly dwelt upon the fact that in Edinburgh, Glasgow and Aberdeen Liberal victories had been won in the teeth of the opposition of a majority of the newspapers. He was confident that the final result would be in favor of Home Rule and he was greatly pleased that the counties were doing their duty.

A Cool Reception.

Thousands of people gathered about the railway station in Aberdeen this afternoon to witness the departure of Mr. Gladstone for Braemer, where he will remain for a week's rest after the fatigues of his Midlothian campaign. He was heartily cheered.

There was a large crowd awaiting Mr. Gladstone on his arrival at Braemer. He was given a rather cool reception.

Rumors are conflicting as to whether the Tories will make Mr. Gladstone fight for his seat when he comes up for re-election after accepting the Premiership, but it is generally believed that they will. In that case, of course, Col. Wauchope will again be his opponent.

It has been positively decided by the Conservatives to fight for Mr. Morley's seat at Newcastle when he comes up for re-election.

FIERCEST OF THE CAMPAIGN.

The Fighting in Ireland Assuming Serious Proportions—Police Defeated.

DUBLIN, July 14.—It is reported here that the rival political factions at Portadown, 10 miles northeast of Armagh on the Ulster Railway, engaged in a serious riot. The fight was waged with desperation by both sides, and when the police attempted to restore order found themselves powerless. They were forced to retire to the barracks, but in a short time they reappeared with arms and again tried to disperse the mob of infuriated and howling men. The mob comprised 2000 men, and they turned on the police and repulsed them. A number of shots were fired and it is stated that several men were seriously injured.

Further Rioting.

DUBLIN, July 14.—A savage election riot occurred yesterday at Festiniog, in Merionetshire, Wales. When the Conservative candidate for the first time attempted to address a meeting, a mob stormed the platform, overpowering and maltreating the police who were on guard. The police, with the Conservative candidate, at once took to their heels, and were pursued for four miles out of town. The candidate's carriage was smashed, the windows of the Bengren Hotel were shattered and many civilians were badly injured.

Owen Mackin, a veteran, who was assaulted by a Parnellite mob in Dundalk, died in the hospital last night of his injuries. His last words were: "I am for Healy to the backbone." During the polling there was much rowdyism. Healy was assaulted but not seriously hurt.

An election riot is reported at Port Adowa, in Ulster. A mob of 2000 men repulsed the police. Several men have been seriously injured.

Jack the Ripper Again.

LONDON, July 14.—Before the committal of Neill, alias Dr. Cream, for the murder of Matilda Clover yesterday Coroner Braxton Hicks read to the jury an anonymous letter, declaring that Neill was innocent. The writer of the letter said that, disguised to resemble Neill, he had poisoned the girls, his object being to put an end to their career of crime and misery. This letter was signed "Jack the Ripper."

'TWAS ALL FOR THAT WOMAN

NOBLE KENNEY OF TORONTO JUMPS INTO NIAGARA.

Here's a Case With Mystery Behind It—Who Was the Woman for Whom This Young Man Took His Life?—The Letter He Left Behind Addressed to His Father.

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 14.—A special from Niagara Falls this afternoon says: About 2 p.m. a young man supposed to be from Buffalo jumped into the raging torrent from Prospect Point and was at once carried over the American falls. He left a card, on which was written:

DEAR FATHER, MOTHER, BROTHER AND SISTER,—Pardon me for what I have done, but it was all done for that woman.

(Signed) NOBLE KENNEY.

The card on which this was written bore the address of Madame Percy, dressmaking parlors, No. 263 Marylandstreet, Buffalo, N.Y. Kenney was lately a resident of Buffalo, a waiter working for Capt. Burslem at the Cafe de Paris, in Washington-street. He left the restaurant this morning, saying to Mrs. Burslem that he was going out for a short time only. That was the last seen of him about the restaurant.

Details of the Suicide.

The suicide occurred at Prospect Point at 2 o'clock. Kenney walked quietly down to the point, where stood a number of ladies and children. He was seen to stop a moment and pull out a card and pencil and hastily write something on it. Carefully placing the pencil in his pocket he laid the card on the top of the stone guard wall along the river bank, then lifting his hat from his head he tossed it over into the water, and placing his hand on the iron rail on the top of the stone wall, he gave a leap and sprang into the rushing waters, striking the water at a point not 12 feet from the brink. In an instant he was seen to pass swiftly over the falls and disappear. The whole matter did not occupy a space of more than two minutes. His coolness of manner was such that he did not attract any particular attention, and not until he had made the final leap was any cry made. A number of women screamed and men shouted, and in an instant the point was packed by an immense throng of excited people all straining their necks and trying to get some trace of the body in the gorge.

When the facts of the case became known to the park authorities there was a hasty move for the bottom of the inclined railway. Here a boat was procured by two of the park police, who rowed out into the river in hope of recovering the remains. Somehow the officers missed them, though hundreds of people at the top of the bank saw the body plainly as it came up from the river and started to float down with the current. The remains were seen for some minutes floating along the surface and they sank out of sight.

From the Burslems it was learned this afternoon that Kenney came here from Toronto on July 1. His father followed on July 4 and both stopped at the Cafe de Paris, where the son secured a job as a waiter. Kenney was 21 years of age. He was a tall, fine-looking man and was neat in his dress.

The victim is well known in Toronto. He resided at Brampton for a number of years, where his father was employed in Haggert's foundry. He came to Toronto several years ago and has been employed in various restaurants in the city, including Scholes' in Yonge-street.

The Gas Ignited.

NEWARK, N.J., July 14.—An explosion occurred at noon to-day in the large produce house of Quinn Bros., at 22 Commerce-street, in this city, which seriously, if not fatally injured Joseph Schroat, aged 19 years; George Bebringer, aged 23, and Benjamin Morehouse, jr., all of whom were employed in the store. Schroat went into the cellar to get some butter from a storage room, and lit a match. The cellar was filled with gas from a leaky pipe and at once exploded.

Petitioners' Prayer Granted.

Mr. Justice Robertson delivered judgment in the matter of the trusts of an instrument executed in 1879 by the Hon Billa Flint. The application was made on behalf of creditors and others interested for the appointment of the Toronto General Trusts Co. as trustees under the instrument in the stead of the trustees named therein, who joined in the application. His Lordship grants the prayer of the petitioners and appoints the Trust Company trustees. The costs are to be paid out of the estate and all acts of the former trustees are confirmed.

A Lorne Park Accident.

While a large crowd of people were gathered in the Lorne Park Pavilion to shelter themselves from the intense heat of yesterday afternoon's sun a two-year-old son of Mrs. Peverearll, Avenue-road, fell from the top step leading from the gallery of the pavilion. The child was rendered unconscious for several hours from the blow, but on examination by Dr. Herbert Adams it was found to have sustained no serious injuries.

NO RETALIATORY LEGISLATION.

The United States Congress Will Not Back Up Harrison.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The judgment of Mr. Hitt, who is a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs as to the probability of retaliatory legislation, is as good as that of any one in Congress. He said to-night, referring to the message of President Harrison, that there is no prospect that there will be any hostile legislation towards Canada at this session or any attempt at it, notwithstanding the message of the President. Mr. Hitt's reasons are that should such legislation be proposed a long debate would inevitably follow, and at this stage of the session new legislation could not be started. Moreover, Mr. Hitt said that the Canadian Pacific lobby has been very largely successful, especially as certain senators from the Northwest and Mr. Hale and Mr. Reed of Maine are opposed to such legislation as that suggested. There does not now appear to be any probability that the President can be sustained in a hostile attitude towards Canada. It has probably not been forgotten in Canada that four years ago, at the beginning of the last Presidential campaign, President Cleveland in like manner started upon a belligerent course towards Canadian railroads and proposed retaliation, but Congress did not respond to the appeal. The conditions are now similar; the result is likely to be the same.

Mr. Higgins has introduced in the Senate a bill authorizing retaliation for alleged unjust discriminations by the Dominion of Canada against the United States and it was referred to the Finance Committee.

CANADIAN HORSES

Cannot be Taken Into the United States Free Without a Bond.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The Secretary of the Treasury has written Senator McMillan, declining to allow horses to be brought over from Canada to Detroit or Port Huron for racing or exposition purposes unless a bond is given that they shall be returned to Canada within six months, or the duty paid on them. For some time these horses have been brought over without a bond, and a treasury agent who investigated reported that the practice resulted in many irregularities, by which horses were brought over to Detroit and Port Huron ostensibly for show purposes and never returned. No bond was taken to compel their return. Now, however, Secretary Foster will insist upon the strict letter of the McKinley law, which requires a bond.

THEY WERE "DISTILLERS."

Serious Loss of Cattle En Route to England—Death From Heat.

MONTREAL, July 14.—The first big cattle loss of the season occurred on the steamship Virginian, which lost 37 cattle between here and Father Point. The cattle were all distillers, and are supposed to have died from the heat. The shippers of distillery cattle on the Virginian were Aikens & Flanagan, Toronto; S. J. Blacke, Waterloo, and M. Acer, Montreal. They were insured for $100 each. The Virginian had 731 cattle, the bulk of them distillers, and it is feared that more will perish before she reaches Liverpool.

THE ARCHITECT'S MANDATE

Says the New City Hall Contractors Must Comply With His Demands Or Go—What They Purpose Doing.

The struggle between Architect Lennox and the contractors of the new City Hall seems to be nearing a stage where it will be settled one way or the other for good and aye, and an impatient public will not be sorry.

Last week Mr. Lennox notified the Mayor that he had issued this edict to Contractor Neelon:

"You are not carrying on the work with proper expedition, materials and workmanship as required by the contract, and I therefore now notify you to supply the additional force and materials which I consider necessary, namely, a force of at least 100 stonecutters, 30 bricklayers and 60 laborers together with the quantity and quality of material as the contract requires, and I further notify you that unless such force and materials are supplied at or before the expiration of 10 days from the delivery of this letter to you I shall act under the authority given by this contract, dismiss your firm and employ other persons to finish the work."

The contractors on their part have, through their counsel, notified the chairman of the Property Committee on Wednesday that they will resist any action on the part of the architect or the city in the way of dismissing them.

At Osgoode Hall.

The ten days' grace expires to-day, and yesterday Messrs. Blake, Lash & Cassels, acting on behalf of the contractors, issued a writ against the city of Toronto and E. J. Lennox, on which the endorsement was as follows: The plaintiffs' claim is for an injunction restraining the said defendants, or either of them from dismissing the plaintiffs under the contract entered into between them and the defendants, the city of Toronto, dated the 27th of July, 1889, and employing other persons to finish the work, or from in any way interfering with the proper performance of the contract by the plaintiffs, and for an order restraining the said defendant Lennox from further acting as architect in pursuance of the terms of the contract, and to have it declared that the said Lennox has acted in such a fraudulent, improper and incompetent manner that he is disqualified from further acting under the terms of the said contract and for damages occasioned the plaintiffs by breaches on the part of the defendants, the City of Toronto, of the said contract and for injuries and delays occasioned to the said plaintiffs by reason of the improper action of the defendants in carrying out the said contract, and for compensation for extra work occasioned to the plaintiffs by reason of changes in the said contract directed by the said defendants, and for loss occasioned the said plaintiffs.

Mr. Walter Cassels, Q.C., has charge of the matter. Yesterday afternoon he was closeted with the plaintiffs and the shorthand staff of the office getting ready the material in support of the application for the injunction, which will in all probability be argued before Mr. Justice Robertson at Osgoode Hall this morning.

THE DELEGATES REPORT.

Toronto's Deputation to the Big C. E. Convention Relate Their Experience.

The Toronto Christian Endeavor Union held a meeting last night in Westminster Presbyterian Church to hear reports from delegates to the great international convention in New York. About 200 members of the society were present besides the delegates lately returned from New York.

A hearty welcome was given to the delegates by Rev. John Scott, pastor of St. John's Presbyterian Church.

Mr. H. W. Barker, vice-president of the union in Toronto, replied with a fervor and enthusiasm which showed, as he said, that he was "filled with the spirit." He was so pleased with the success of the convention that he could not refrain from giving a few incidents. He wore on his breast beside the star showing his office an orange and a blue badge. He disclaimed any connection with the Orange order and said the Orange badge was the one worn by the Maryland delegates at the convention.

Rev. E. R. Young, formerly a missionary in the Northwest, gave his general impressions. He said there were 30,000 delegates assembled in the Madison-square Gardens from every part of the civilized world. Such prominent men as Whitelaw Reid, Chauncey Depew and Postmaster-General Wanamaker presided over the meetings. He warmly eulogized the 700 Canadians for their loyalty, and described how they sang "God Save the Queen" on every occasion from their arrival at the Westminster Hotel to their visit to the Statue of Liberty on Bedloe's Island.

Mr. C. E. Miller, another delegate, described the reception of the Toronto contingent by the New Yorkers. He had nothing but the heartiest praise for the members of the Society of Christian Endeavor in New York.

Mr. E. J. Bagsley gave a detailed account of the first day's proceeding at the convention and Miss B. Johnson of Saturday's. Mr. W. H. Kestin was not present to describe the meetings held on Sunday, the last day of the convention, but Rev. J. Dunsmore of Kalamazoo ably filled the gap.

The Westminster Church choir gave several musical selections during the evening. It was announced that the International Convention next year will be held in Montreal.

How to Keep Cool.

Begin with the head.

Wear a lightweight hat,

A hat that is built to let out the heat that is constantly rising from the head.

A hat that is made of material which repels the scorching heat of the sunshine outside.

A hat that fits easy and feels good on the head and provided with the perfect hat band which keeps the head cool.

Other hat dealers also have good summer hats, but none have the variety of summer hat styles that is shown at W. & D. Dineen's cool hatterie, corner King and Yonge-streets.

You can prove this to-day.

A Riot Which Arose Over a Report That the Medical Men Were Burying Alive Cholera Patients—Annual Meeting of the Hudson Bay Company—The Mount Etna Volcanic Eruptions.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 14.—Owing to a report that the doctors were causing cholera patients to be buried alive the lower classes of the city of Sartoff revolted against the authorities and the doctors on the 10th inst. The excited populace wrecked and plundered the police station, Cholera hospital and the residence of the Chief of Police. The patients were dragged out of the hospital to save them, as the ignorant mob thought, from being buried alive. The medical assistants were attacked and two were killed.

The rioters threatened to take full possession of the city, and would have done so had it not been for the opportune arrival of troops.

The mob resisted the soldiers and the latter fired upon them. Three of the mob were killed and four wounded. The rioters then dispersed.

There are several cases of cholera in the quarantine station outside Batoum. The victims are persons who recently arrived from Astrakhan.

An official cholera report issued to-day shows that on July 8 and 9 there were 495 new cases of the disease and 139 deaths throughout all the Russian districts affected. The heaviest mortality at any single place was at Baku, where there were 62 deaths. While there were 191 new cases in Astrakhan there were only 32 deaths there.

A RIVER OF FIRE.

Mount Etna Threatens to Destroy Several Villages.

ROME, July 14.—The eruption of Mount Etna is rapidly increasing in violence. Immense streams of lava are pouring down the mountain side, and it appears certain that several villages and a number of dwellings in the path of the lava seem destined to be destroyed. All the craters are active. One is ejecting a stream of lava several yards deep and very wide. This stream presents the appearance of a river of fire and is very beautiful to look at, though it is bound to ruin much property. Another volcanic crater is spurting large incandescent rocks to an immense height, while the edges of the third crater appear to be crumbling.

Mount Etna has 18 openings, nine of which are active. The lava is flowing in the direction of Nicolosi at the rate of 50 yards an hour. It has already passed the lava deposits formed by the violent eruption of 1886. The flow of lava towards Pedara is less rapid.

The subterranean rumblings and the loud and startling explosions continue. The alarm among the inhabitants of the various villages in the vicinity of Mount Etna is increasing, and the people fear that phenomena of a more dangerous character than that which has already occurred is yet to be experienced.

ARRESTED FOR SWINDLING.

Poor Workmen Were Victimized and Robbed.

BERLIN, July 14.—Three brothers named Graudenz, together with Dr. Mantezewski and Prof. Gerhard, have been arrested in Berlin for swindling. They are accused of founding a bogus concern known as the Rixdorf Iron Works. They engaged hundreds of persons to work in the mills, exacting from each applicant a deposit, these sums amounting in the aggregate to a large figure. The concern was said to be operated by the "Graudenz Company (limited)." The promised work was not forthcoming, and it soon became apparent that the workmen who had paid advance moneys had been victimized. Their complaints led the authorities to prosecute the parties now under arrest.

It is commonly reported that Mr. Deacon will be released to-morrow, and that an order for his release has already been sent privately to Nice.

The Manitoba Schools.

LONDON, July 14.—The argument before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the appealed Manitoba school matter was concluded to-day. Her Majesty's Privy Councillors heard counsel on both sides with great attention and reserved their decision. The appeal, it will be remembered, was taken from the Supreme Court judgment, which upset the act of the legislature abolishing Separate Schools.
