CLOSE TO 1,100 MORE WARD 3 POPULATION, SAYS 1919 REPORT

Actual Compilation, However, Difficult Now.

ASSESSMENT JUMPING

The population of Ward 3 is 18,177, according to figures compiled by Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant is preparing his 1919 assessment report. This included the annex. The population of the ward proper increased 991, to 14,710, as compared with 1917 and the annex by 99 to 3,467.

In compiling his population statistics Mr. Grant points out that at present it is difficult to determine the actual population of the city. Conditions are upset, he says. "A number are away who are not calculated, and a number reckoned at the exhibition grounds who have gone overseas, while hundreds of other soldiers at present in the municipality and who do not belong here, are not counted, says the report.

The dog population of the ward is a fairly substantial one, there being in all 478 recorded.

The assessment figures give the total value of the land, buildings, business and buildings at $7,251,569. This is an increase of $232,787 over last year. The income assessment showed an increase of $36,930 over the 1917 assessment.

The present values are itemized as follows: Land, $2,941,890; buildings, $3,056,690; business, $497,364; income, $155,616.

The annexed district assessment shows an increase of $44,780 over the 1917 figures, the present assessed value being placed at $1,040,191. This is in accordance with the agreement made at the time of amalgamation.

The department figuresc for record and patriotic purposes show an increase of $180,689. The total value of land, buildings and business is placed at $1,696,494. The agreement assessment of $1,040,191 is used when charging the general taxes at 15 mills.

JAIL COSTS SHOW CONTINUED ADVANCE FOR PAST QUARTER

Daily Menus at Hotel Carter Mount to 14.9 Cents.

The quarterly report of Governor Carter of the county jail, shows a decided increase in the cost of feeding the inmates of that institution. The average cost per day of feeding each prisoner is 14.19 cents, and with medical attention the cost mounted to 14.9 cents perday. During the quarter there were 136 prisoners committed to the jail, and the total number of days served amounts to 2,709.

There were 3,408 pounds of bread, 930 pounds of oatmeal, 17 bushels of potatoes, 27 pounds of barley, 1,252 pounds of meat, and one-quarter barrel of salt consumed during the quarter. The above provisions, with the addition of pepper, onions, and syrup brought the local cost for food to $384.45.

In addition to this were tobacco, tea, butter, sugar and milk prescribed by the doctor for Higgins Hughes, a colored prisoner, suffering from tuberculosis. The men who work daily are allowed tea, and Governor Carter informed The Advertiser that there are no complaints regarding the food, which is good and wholesome. He stated that the Hotel Carter, although not widely advertised, is at present almost filled to its capacity with tourists, ranging from conscientious objectors to vagrants.

PERSONALITIES IN FIRE DEPT. PROBE CREEP INTO CASE

Question Will Be Aired at Council Tonight.

The city council will face a large grist of business tonight. This will inclued the application of the firemen for a conciliation board to deal with their grievances. It is possible that the discussion will be interesting.

In the meantime the controversy waxes warm. Personalities are beginning to creep in.

Engineer George Bolton has made the following reply to charges made in connection with his efforts in connection with the Johnston-Murray fire:

"The night of Beck's fire I was on station duty. I had one more man with me. When Johnson & Murray's alarm came in, the man with me took a hand chemical and went over to investigate. While he was gone, I got in touch with the chief at Beck's, notifying him where fire was. When my man came back, he told me we would have lay line of hose. We tried to get the spare wagon out, but as doors were blocked with dirt from a hole in preparation for a gas tank, it was necessary for us to take aerial truck out first. We did this, and then returned for wagon, which I drove myself, and laid a line from it, and immediately started working on fire. At this time men arrived from Beck's and as George Aitken was on the scene, he was dispatched to central for more hose. He did not drive wagon out in the first place; I did that. These statements can be verified by man with me. Had things been left as they should have been my mate and I could have handled the fire ourselves. As for George Aitken's and Tozer's challenge, I might merely say I go little on grandstand and hot air for efficiency of fire departments. I might also mention that George Aitken was the means of Capt. D. McDonald having his hand cut that night. Aitken was always considered a hindrance to the men at a fire, and on more than one occasion complained about.

LONDONERS WON IT

Wortley Road B. Y. B. U. Carried Off Championship at Woodstock.

About 100 members of the Baptist Young People's Unions of the city motored to Woodstock yesterday, where they were joined by 400 others from Stratford, Ingersoll, Norwich and Woodstock, and a picnic was held on the grounds of Woodstock College. During the evening Joseph Wearing of Peterboro gave an address appropriate for the occasion. A picture of a larger Canada after the war was presented to the audience. Songs were given by the different unions.

DID NOT REGISTER ON JUNE 22ND, SO APPEARS IN COURT

First Local Police Action Under National Registration.

Mike Christoff, a Bulgarian, arrested in Kitchener, appeared in police court today charged with failing to register with the police as an alien enemy. There being some doubts as to his nationality, the prisoner was remanded for one week. In the meantime, he stated to the court, he will obtain his passport from Kitchener to prove that he is not eligible under the Military service act.

Alphonse Pelletier also appeared in court charged with failing to register under the national registration order-in-council. It was stated that when arrested the prisoner said he would not register. He denied this in court, and stated that he was not in town until June 22, ad could not find time to register on that day. He was remanded for one week by Magistrate Graydon.

Reta Loree appeared, charged with having no lawful occupation and with being a vagrant acting in a disorderly manner. She stated in court that she was working in a local cafe, but the evidence introduced stated that she was not engaged in a lawful occupation when arrested. Magistrate Graydon was reluctant to send this girl to a reformatory, and remanded her for one week. In the meantime if she can go to her brother's home, she will likely be released on suspended sentence.

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL FOR ATTEMPTED THEFT, GIVEN ST. THOMAS MAN

Magistrate Declares Auto Thieving Must End.

Thomas G. Dalton of St. Thomas, who was last week found guilty of attempting to steal an automobile on King street, was today sentenced by Magistrate Graydon to serve six months in the common jail. Dalton appeared in police court last week charged with having liquor on premises other than a private dwelling, and on this charge was fined $200 and costs, or three months in jail. The sentence of six months on the charge of theft is to run concurrently with the three months' sentence imposed last week.

Dalton, in company with an unknown friend, pushed the auto down from the lawn of a King street residence on the evening of June 3, and was about to drive away with the car when captured by the owner. He was intoxicated at the time, and his companion escaped. Dalton stated that his friend had told him that he owned the car, but owing to the prisoner's previous criminal record, Magistrate Graydon gave his story little credence.

Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop stated to the court that Dalton had served a sentence in Kingston Penitentiary, and was now wanted on a charge of theft from freight cars in St. Thomas. In sentencing the prisoner, Magistrate Graydon said: "This thing must stop. The use of a motor car for business and pleasure will be hampered very much by such cases as this one. I am satisfied that this man knew he was stealing, and the sentence imposed is six months in the common jail to run concurrent with the previous sentence."

One drunk contributed $10 and costs for a Dominion Day celebration nipped in the bud by a local policeman.

TAX-PAYING RUSH ROLLING UP CITY'S BALANCE AT BANK

The rush on the tax collector's office closely resembles the famous Calgary rush to purchase oil stocks. People with bills and checks in their hands are lined up several deep before the various wickets.

Inside the wickets, there is a veritable flood of checks and money. There are boxes and boxes of checks ready to be hustled off to the bank when there is a breathing spell.

Today is the last day on which the first installment may be paid without the addition of interest. The first installment totals $482,000. Up to Friday night about $200,000 had been taken in. This morning City Treasurer James S. Bell sent $215,000 to the bank to be added to the city's roll. It was the result of Saturday's effort. Mr. Bell says that the payments are equal to any in his experience. The ratepayers are paying up remarkably well.

Though the estimate of the amount received would leave but $65,000 of the first installment to come in, the rush today is as heavy, if not more so, than on Saturday. This would indicate that when the total figures are compiled it will be found that a great many citizens have paid their three installments and taken advantage of the 3 per cent discount allowed.

DRIVER PINNED UNDER DERAILED LOCOMOTIVE

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Niagara Falls, July 2.—A Grand Trunk switch engine, while backing from Niagara Falls to Welland, was derailed three miles west of Stamford, this morning at 7:30 o'clock, and Engineer P. Warren of this city was probably fatally injured. The engine turned over on its side, pinning down Engineer Warren under the firebox.

The Hamilton and Niagara Falls auxiliaries are working on the wreck, and at noon today had not succeeded in extricating the engineer from beneath the locomotive. The fireman on the derailed engine jumped, and escaped with slight injuries. The cause of the accident is unknown.

WOMEN ENGINE WIPERS CLEANING LOCOMOTIVES IN C. P. R. ROUNDHOUSE

Pioneers in This Branch of Feminine Endeavor For London Already at Work.

The woman engine-wiper has arrived in London. Five pioneers in this new war-time occupation for women have started working at the C. P. R. roundhouse within the past few days, secured through the women's department of the Government Employment Bureau.

The local superintendent of the C. P. R., Andrew Williams, hasn't a doubt that the women will make good at this job in London. For one thing, women are the natural-born housecleaners and polishers of the universe, and fifteen or twenty of them have been giving the best of satisfaction in Toronto for the past year.

"What do the women wear to do the cleaning?" was asked of Mr. Williams today by The Advertiser.

"I don't know what they will wear here," he said, "but in Toronto they have been wearing overalls."

They have also been wearing overalls in England, and a uniform like that seems the only rational wear.

Engine-wiping isn't any lily-fingered task, such as dusting bric-a-brac. It's earning one's bread by the salt of one's brow, and getting one's aforementioned brow pretty well Ethiopianed up at that. It's taking a big bunch of lint and proceeding to cleanse the engine under consideration from soot and grime and oil until it can once more breathe freely through its pores. It means climbing as well to reach parts of the boiler not accessible from the ground or the running-board, and as everybody knows, skirts have their disadvantages for treading the rungs of a ladder. Overalls acquire about all they can carry away of dirt and oil from close association with an engine, but possess at that a vast advantage over skirts.

Engine-wiping, though a novelty for women here, does not constitute the debut of the fair sex into railroading in Ontario. Ever since the shortage of men became acute, owing to war conditions, women have been exclusively used by the C. P. R. in Toronto for car-cleaning, and glowing praise has been given for the efficiency of their service.

Prejudices which have existed up to the present time against women for mixed farming work are evidently being removed very quickly by the women themselves. The farmerettes are so far exceeding expectations that at present the women's department of the Government Employment Bureau is receiving a number of applications for "farmerettes" to work on farms in this district. A few within a short distance from the city have given an excellent account of themselves, having the advantage over a number of men volunteers for farm work that they can handle horses.

FIGHTING SPIRIT IS AROUSED STILL FURTHER BY BOMBING OF HOSPITALS, WRITES O. C.

Lieut.-Col. Reason Declares Raids Hit No. 3 Very Hard —Bishop Fallon at Victims' Funeral.

The manner in which the fighting men have been aroused by the deaths of the nursing sisters through the recent air raids on Canadian hospitals in France is told in a letter written on June 5 by Lieut.-Col. Clifford H. Reason, D.S.O., officer commanding No. 3 Stationary Hospital. Telling of the raids and their aftermath, he mentions the fact that Bishop Fallon took part in the funeral service for the victims. He says:

"The army is very bitter about the deaths of the nursing sisters here, as well as in other hospitals, and reprisals are in order. One Canadian battalion was very successful the other night, and all others are awaiting their opportunity. Everybody was extremely kind and we received many messages of sympathy, and a great many officials came and extended theirs in person.

"The raid hit us very hard, as the members of the unit had been friends of each other for so long a time. Calling the muster roll the next morning was indeed a task that was very unpleasant, as one was apprehensive of still further casualties.

At the time of writing, Sergt. Kellar is still with us. I am inclosing a letter from Sergt. Winters, which will tell you about the others. The funeral was very impressive and was well attended, not only by our unit, but by representatives from Canadian and British headquarters. Canadian headquarters were very kind, and not only sent representatives, but sent a bugle band to play last post for us. Bishop Fallon visited us the day of the funeral, and as one of the victims was a member of his diocese, I asked him to take part in the service.

"He spoke very well, and everybody was very pleased to have heard him.

"We are carrying on as usual, and have a new operating-room, X-ray-room and others, to take the place of those destroyed. I am in the very best of health myself. My operation has been successful, and I feel in better condition than I have at any time since coming to France."

A letter from Gen. Turner is inclosed, which evidences the fact that No. 3 Stationary Hospital honorably discharged its duty in the air raid and subsequently, to the satisfaction and admiration of high officials.

Praise From Gen. Turner.

Gen. Turner has written to Col. Reason as follows:

"It was with great satisfaction that I learnt of the splendid work carried out by you and your staff during the recent operations in France.

"The number of wounded cases evacuated by your hospital goes to show that you worked with unceasing energy and displayed a splendid efficiency and devotion to duty.

"I would like you to accept, and at the same time convey to your medical officers, chaplains and your nursing sisters, my appreciation of the work carried out by your hospital during last month, and I wish you all every success in the future. Believe me, yours sincerely,

"R. E. W. TURNER,
"Lieutenant-General."

The letter referred to by Col. Reason, written by Sergt. Winters, contains information which doubtless will be of interest to those who have friends on the staff of No. 3 Hospital. It says:

"No. 22 General Hospital is the present location of myself, Orr, Page, Smith and Ashenden. Osborne and Tozer did not get this far with us. Miller, Smith and Orr are pretty bad. Miller and Smith have severe head wounds, and Smith has had an operation, and I believe Miller is to have one in a day or so. Orr has apparently been severely shell shocked or was struck on his head. He seems to have difficulty in realizing what has occurred, and it keeps me busy telling him what became of the others. He is badly burned. Page has several cuts and bruises about the body. Ashenden is cut about the head and legs. I have only a bruised shoulder and ear. They keep me in bed all the time, in spite of requests to be allowed to get up. I hope to get out of hospital in a few days."

Letter to Sergeant's Father.

Lieut.-Col. Reason in writing to R. W. Ward, 279 Wortley road, father of the late Sergt.-Major Chas. Ward, says:

Dear Sir,—I trust that you received the cable which I dispatched informing you of the death of your son, Sergt.-Major Ward. He lost his life in company with his comrades as the result of an air raid on this hospital. In losing him you have lost a son of whom you have every right to be proud. We were fond of him, and at all times, as commanding officer, I found him most attention to his duties. Some time ago I forwarded a recommendation for recognition for some special work, and I trust that it will be forthcoming. You will be glad to know that his death was instantaneous, and that he did not suffer in any way.

He was buried with full military honors with his comrades, nursing sisters and officers who were victims of the air raid, and were buried on 31st May. The funeral was most impressive. The coffins were covered by the Union Jacks, with the exception of an American medical officer, whose coffin was covered with the Stars and Stripes. Bishop Fallon chanced to visit us on the day of the funeral, and very kindly took part in the service. I have asked him to call on you on his return to Canada and give you future details which I am not permitted to state in my letter. His grave will be properly marked and kept. I hope to have a photograph taken, and will send you one, although it may not be until after the war. In spite of it all we are carrying on the same as usual.

With renewed sympathies of myself and staff. Yours sincerely,

CLIFFORD H. REASON.

AGED CLERGYMAN BADLY SHAKEN UP WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Suffers From Injuries at First Considered Serious.

Rev. J. Edmonds, 237 Wortley road, was struck by an auto driven by Francis England of Brick street at noon today, and received a severe shaking up. The accident occurred on King street, opposite the Dominion Savings Building. Mr. Edmonds, who is 91 years of age, was crossing the road when struck by the car, which was proceeding west.

Fire Chief J. Aiken was passing at the time, and the injured man was conveyed to Victoria Hospital in the chief's auto. Upon examination there it was found that Mr. Edmonds was suffering from bruises on the head and back, and was severely shaken up. It was thought at first that owing to the advanced age of the victim, the injuries sustained were severe, if not fatal, but Mr. Edmonds was able to leave Victoria Hospital for his home this afternoon.

FAREWELL PRESENTATION

Askin Street Brotherhood Gives Purse to Retiring Pastor.

The board of education meets this afternoon. It is expected that the action of the Woman Teachers' Guild in reiterating its charges against the board of discrimination against woman teachers in favor of men, will be aired. There are members of the board who are viewing the tempest which is arising over this case with a certain amount of alarm. The impression is that there are a number of teachers dissatisfied with the action of the board. The board sought to clean up the case by demanding that the teachers' guild retract their statements to the National Council of Women. It is needless to say that the teachers' reiteration of the charges in reply to the board's demand came to many of the members as somewhat of a setback.

The board's demand for a retraction was couched in no uncertain terms. It not only demanded a retraction, but ordered that a committee of the board be first allowed to pass upon the retraction before it was presented to the National Council of Women. Now the teachers in reply have gone farther than they went before. They say that the minutes of the board of education will substantiate their charges.

If the board was bluffing the guild, its bluff has been quickly called. This afternoon's discussion should be interesting.

Rev. Dr. Dougall, who preached for the last time on Sunday as pastor of Askin Street Methodist Church, was invited to meet the Men's Brotherhood in the lecture room at 10 o'clock in the morning, the regular hour for the weekly gathering.

This opportunity was taken on the part of the Brotherhood to bid farewell to their pastor for the past three years and make him a presentation of a fine seal purse, filled with several bills of large denomination.

R. R. Smith, president of the Brotherhood, was in the chair. The address was read by F. C. Wanless, secretary, after which the president presented Dr. Dougall with the purse.

Deeply touched by the expression of affection and appreciation, Dr. Dougall found difficulty in mastering his voice to thank the men for their unbroken kindness and co-operation during the years of his pastorate. Leaving Wednesday afternoon for Hamilton, where he becomes pastor of Wesley Church, he bespoke for his successor in Askin Street Church, Rev. Mr. Morris, the same support and consideration that have been accorded him.

Notwithstanding the storm at the hour of service on Sunday evening, Askin Street Church was well filled for Dr. Dougall's farewell service, the congregation pressing round to say goodbye to him at the close.

ONE A. M. C. MEMBER OF DISTRICT KNOWN TO BE ON VESSEL

Drafts From Here Not On the Llandovery Castle.

LONDONERS USED BOAT

Last Party of Returned Men Crossed From England On the Ill-Fated Liner.

So far as can be learned at district headquarters here, there were no London medical officers or nursing sisters on the torpedoed hospital ship, Llandovery Castle.

Corp. W. Dawson, 467 Hamilton road, a former member of the 142nd, was an orderly on the boat. His relatives here are anxiously waiting news from the other side.

Corp. Dawson had made more than a score of trips on the boat.

The last draft of five medical officers left here on Monday, June 24, and they could not possibly have been aboard a ship off the Irish coast on June 27, when the tragedy took place.

The previous draft, which included Major H. A. Kingsmill and a number of nurses, has already landed safely. Cables to that effect have been received in this city, and this removes any possibility of their being on the ill-fated ship.

The personnel of the conducting staff on the hospital ship is not known here, and it is possible that some doctors or nurses from this district might have been engaged on the staff of the ship, though this will not be known for some time.

Gunner Gordon Munnoch of this city, who returned from England recently, having been gassed in France, was a patient on the Llandovery Castle, probably on her last trip from England to Canada. There were many Londoners in the same party which arrived in this city about two weeks ago.

Gunner Munnoch stated to The Advertiser today that he knew of no Londoners on the staff of this hospital ship.

The Llandovery Castle was beautifully equipped for hospital work, and apart from the outrage committed, the loss of this ship will prove a serious problem for those in charge of returning invalided soldiers to Canada.

ONTARIO HOUSE CAN EXTEND ITS TERM

Department Justice Decides It Is Not Unconstitutional.

Ottawa, July 2.—The extension by the Ontario Legislature of its own term has been under consideration by the department of justice and the view is expressed that the enactment was within the powers of the legislature. The point was raised in a communication to the minister of justice inquiring what steps should be taken to have the act disallowed.

AUTO ROLLED DOWN 35-FOOT BANK, BUT SOLDIERS ESCAPE

Four in Hospital, But Injuries Are Not Serious.

Four soldiers from Carling Heights, who spent the holiday at their homes near Exeter, had a close call from being killed in London Township at 8:30 last night, when an auto in which they were returning went over the side of the road, and after overturning three times came to rest a complete wreck at the bottom of a 35-foot bank.

The four men, members of the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R., were Ptes. Joseph Kernick, who is suffering from cuts in the face; Gordon Oke, contusion in the back; Harry Schwartz, contusion in the chest, and Stewart McFalls, contusion in the scalp.

They were reported to be progressing favorably at the military hospital, Carling Heights Camp, today.

The car was driven by Henry Maull of Ottaway avenue, and the accident, it is stated, was due to a washout in the road. A man was walking ahead of the auto, and when Mr. Maull turned out to avoid striking him the car struck the washout and went over the side of the bank. The man at once rushed to the assistance of those who were under the car.

An auto containing Lieut.-Col. Harry Milligan, Dr. Frank Bryant and John Cottam was passing and its occupants attended the soldiers. They were taken into the home of Miss Shaw-Wood close by and later brought to the city in Bluebonnet taxis and taken to the Wolseley Barracks Hospital. Today they were all reported as doing nicely and it is not believed they are seriously hurt.

A horse and buggy, driven by F. McMillan of Dorchester, was struck by an auto on the Hamilton road yesterday morning, and badly damaged. Miss Finch of Dorchester, who was also riding in the buggy, was severely shaken and was carried into a nearby house. She was later conveyed to her home. The parties driving the car which struck the buggy did not stop after the accident, but P. C. J. Oakley reported the license number on the auto as 866. The police are investigating.

Ellen Ingram, 97 Cavendish street, was yesterday afternoon struck by an automobile driven by George Mills of this city. The accident occurred on Dundas street in front of The Advertiser building. The victim of the accident was not seriously injured, and was conveyed to her home by the driver of the car, who reported the accident to the local police.

WOULD RECKON BREACH OF O. T. A. AS POLITICAL MISDEMEANOR ONLY

Irish "Barrister" Springs More New Ones, But Gets $200 Fine.

Robert Ovington of Stratford, described as an Irish barrister, appeared in police court today charged with a breach of the Ontario Temperance Act, and was fined $200 and costs, or three months in jail. Ovington obtained a prescription from a Stratford doctor, and after obtaining liquor here, and duly interning it, he was arrested by a local policeman. He has been remanded several times by Magistrate Graydon owing to his peculiar statements made in court.

In defence of his violation of the act, Ovington today delivered an oration in court. "I have been a prominent politician since I came to Canada from Ireland, and that is a big honor. As a Liberal I am opposed to the Conservative liquor laws, and break them at every opportunity. I do not wish to be tried under the act, as I should be charged with a political misdemeanor, and Irishmen always go free on this charge."

Strange to say, Magistrate Graydon did not fall in with Ovington's ideas, and imposed sentence. While being removed from the court the prisoner exclaimed, "As I was responsible for the election of President Wilson, I will take the option of joining the United States army." Ovington will be the guest of Governor Carter for three
