WHO MAY VOTE.

For the information of our readers, we publish below the qualifications of voters for members to serve in the new House of Assembly. Electors should see that they have in their possession, statute labor or commutation money receipts, so that they will be quite prepared to exhibit them on going to the polls.

The qualifications of voters for a Councillor to serve in the Legislative Assembly are in substance as follows:—

Every voter must be a male person of the age of twenty-one years, a British Subject not subject to any legal incapacity, and must own real estate of a freehold or leasehold tenure of the value of three hundred and twenty-five dollars or must own land partly freehold and partly leasehold, amounting together to the value of three hundred and twenty-five dollars, and must have owned or been in possession of the same for a period of at least six months previous to the teste of the writ of election.

A mortgagor or c'estui qui trust in actual possession by himself or his tenant is an owner within the above.

The qualifications of voters for an Assembly man to serve in the Legislative Assembly are in substance as follows:—

Every voter must be a male person of the age of twenty-one years, a British subject not subject to any legal incapacity, and must in addition be entitled to one or more of the following qualifications.

First, for a town and royalty (excepting Princetown and Royalty) must, six months previous to the teste of writ have owned a freehold estate consisting of one whole water, common, town or pasture lot of the clear yearly value of six dollars, or a freehold estate of the clear yearly value of six dollars, consisting of a dwelling house, warehouse, shop or other building, or of a farm or piece of land; or must be in the bona fide use and occupation or actual possession of any dwelling house, warehouse, shop or other building, or any farm or piece of land of the clear yearly value of six dollars, the qualification to be within the town, common or royalty, save and except as aforesaid; or who shall be an occupier of eight acres of the reserved land as regards a vote for Georgetown.

Second, for an electoral district must for six months previous to the teste of the writ have owned a freehold estate of the clear yearly value of six dollars, consisting of a warehouse, shop or other building, or any farm or piece of land; or must be in the bona fide use and occupation or actual possession of any such last mentioned premises.

Third, for either town or electoral district the performance of statute labor, or the payment of the commutation money for the last year, the same shall have become due next before the day of holding the said election together with the overseer's certificate, and a twelve months' residence in the electoral division, or holding situation exempting from statute labor by statue.

Fourth, for the City of Charlottetown and the Town of Summerside, who shall have paid Provincial poll tax to the amount of seventy-five cents, for the year preceding the teste of the writ of election, and a twelve months' residence in the electoral division.

Fifth, every mortgagor or c'estui qui trust in actual possession by himself or his tenant for six months previous to the teste of the writ, of real estate of the clear yearly value of six dollars, dower land set off, and reduced into possession and value of six dollars per year.

The clear yearly value as aforesaid to be estimated by the annual value of the buildings, or by the value of the agricultural and other produce yielded by the land.

Vote for the Liberal-Conservative candidates, the friends of good, honest and honorable government—men who do not believe in gagging over 500 intelligent electors, and mutilating the constituencies in order to retain power.

A Pertinent Question.

THAT was a very pertinent question addressed to Mr. Peters the other day during one of his campaign speeches, by an elector. The Premier was waxing eloquent over the good his government had done the country, and went on to ask "Who has given you your good roads, bridges etc?" "And who will have to pay for them?" interjected an intelligent but disgusted elector. Exactly so; who will have to foot the bills. Surely not Mr. Peters nor anyone of the candidates who asks to be returned as a supporter of his. It is the hardworking farmer who will have to ante up and look pleasant. And for whom and what? For the benefit of Mr. Peters and his candidates, in payment for the road and bridge contracts given by the government to shaky supporters in order to keep them from "ratting." This method of fixing voters has obtained all over the Province almost since the time the Peters government first secured their grip upon the purse strings. Electors, remember the extra heavy burden that has been placed upon your shoulders by the shady transactions and jobbery of the present regime, and cast your votes to consign the authors where they will be unable to increase the load.

Turn out the Land Office wreckers.

Their Days Numbered.

REPORTS from all over the Province protend the exit of Mr. Frederick Peters and his government on the 13th. The people have become fully alarmed over the scandalous acts and mismanagement of the government that have been disclosed even at this date in the campaign. The meetings everywhere are being attended as they have never been before during an election campaign, showing the deep interest the electors are taking in the fight. When such a strong desire to hear the questions of the hour discussed is evinced, some idea of the abnormal state of the people's mind may be formed. It clearly points out that the bone and sinew of the Province have become alive to their interests, and are determined that the recklessness of the past three years shall cease. They know that if Mr. Peters is again entrusted with the reins of power that the same old policy of squandering the assets of the Province, slaughtering the debentures in the money markets of the neighboring provinces, opening roads to sugar and other camps and constructing bridges altogether unnecessary for the public convenience and comfort, shall continue. No assurance has been given that it will not. The government candidates one and all have so far failed to denounce the system of recklessness. Some have the temerity to attempt its defence. We wonder not that they cannot define their position upon the question. In the past their actions have been controlled by the nod, beck and scowl of one man, and he has not yet made known that he will allow them to exercise their own free will.

In view of this condition of things the decision of the people to return the Peters candidates to their homes causes no surprise. That they will surely do so is apparent from the wide-spread discontent noticeable at the meetings. The hearty manner in which the Liberal-Conservative candidates have been received on their canvass tends to accentuate the belief. Indignation expressed in such a way cannot be an idle waste of energy. The bald truth of the matter is the people realize the necessity for a change of men and policy and such will be brought about on the 13th.

Young men remember the treatment you received from the grits.

Arrant Hypocrites.

THE hypocrisy of Mr. Peters is more fully exemplified—if further illustration were necessary—in the conduct of Mr. L. H. Davies, the representative of Queen's County in the Dominion House of Commons, going about the country delivering long-winded speeches in behalf of the "most brilliant lawyer" in Canada after himself. When the autocrat who at present controls the purse strings of the Province rose in his place in the House of Assembly last session to move the act intended to gag over five hundred British freemen, and take from them the right enjoyed by every intelligent man that walks God's green earth outside of the Czar's dominions, he distinctly stated that one of his greatest objects in wishing to silence them was to separate Provincial from Dominion politics. This "peer of the best" considered that the advancement of the Province was hampered by the undoubted right exercised by the officials of the Dominion government, and very wisely and magnanimously decided to reduce them to the condition of serfs. And this he and his servile supporters, his bare majority of one, did, and all for the alleged purpose of separating Provincial from Dominion politics!

But how is this rule enforced now when we are in the throes of an election contest? Is it still adhered to and carried into effect by this brilliant man of great legal acumen? By no means. As in all other matters the cloven hoof presented itself, and the great party led by Mr. Frederick Peters receded from the policy enunciated by him upon the floor of parliament, when he gave the first stroke towards knocking off the heads of men just as intelligent, just as capable and just as solicitous for the welfare of the Province as he or any one of the loyal-vote-it-through brigade that assisted in the decapitation act. The present trend of affairs and the duplicity and hypocrisy of the grit party occasioned us no surprise. We were fully aware that the legislative enactments, made under the pretence of curtailing expenditure, equalizing representation and widening the breach between the two governments, were for no other purpose than to secure by legislation the return of the Peters government.

Knowing then the utter want of principle of the chief exponents of Petersism we are not surprised to find the representative of Queen's in the Dominion House acting the jumping-jack and stumping the country in behalf of the "peer of the best." Mr. Davies has a perfect right to act as he is doing; but to carry out the solemnly expressed ideas of Mr. Peters he should employ different arguments from those used, as he imagines, with crushing effect against the Liberal-Conservative party. Instead of confining himself to local issues the Maritime Liberal leader exherts the people to return Mr. Peters and his party to power, as by so doing they will strengthen his hands for the next Dominion contest, show themselves in favor of tariff reform and greatly help towards securing freer trade relations with our neighbor to the south! What balderdash! The arguments are enough to make one devoid of the smallest particle of common, ordinary everyday horse sense collapse with laughter. But yet such clinchers are employed by the brilliant Mr. Davies with the vain idea that they will conduce to a prolongation of Petersism in this Province. Besides they but voice the idea of the man of huge forensic ability that Provincial should be entirely separated from Dominion politics! Could hypocrisy be more glaringly expressed.

Liberal-Conservatives are not at all perturbed that Mr. Davies should take the stump. Let him travel east or west and he will find the candidates of that party fully able to cope with him. True they may not all be so verbose, so dogmatic in their statements or so vehement in their asservations; but none of them fear to meet him upon the rostrum. Their strength lies in the justice of their cause. No one will assert that Mr. Davies or any other of the grit guns with a penchant for Dominion politics should rest easy during the contest. But this they do assert that by their professions when about to cut off the political heads of the Dominion officials and their subsequent conduct in the present campaign they have in this, as in other important questions of policy, stamped themselves as a pack of arrant hypocrites.

Laborers of Charlottetown remember the action of the Government in the spring of 1891, when they imported workmen from Souris to repair the Ferry Docks, although numbers of you were then idle, and quite willing to work for half the pay the others received.

China Point Notes.

Mr. James Morrissy threshed two hundred and nine stooks of wheat for Mr. Malcolm McLeod in two hours, on the 5th inst. The wheat was cut with a self binder.

Mr. Morrissy also cleaned one hundred and sixty-one bushels of oats in one hour on the following day. Mr. John A Dougherty was turner and time-keeper. These performances beat all former records.

The threshing machine, with which such rapid work was done was built by Mr. Walter Grant of Mill View. He builds the best threshing machines to be had on P. E. Island and any person in need of one will hit the mark every time by purchasing from him.

Results of Grit Management.

A Quebec despatch of the 5th says:—Hon. John S. Hall, provincial treasurer, delivered his budget in the Legislature today. The statement of the liabilities and assets of the province showed the former to be $33,981,446 and the latter $11,029,766, leaving a balance against the province of $22,951,680.

The funded debt is reported as being $25,104,226. The province has now outstanding $1,700,000 of temporary loans which in addition to railway bonuses yet to be earned etc., are the remainder of the liabilities; but a small percentage of the assets are realizable. Taken all in all the province is in a bad way financially.

Young men use the ONE VOTE that the grits grudgingly left you to put them in a position to be again unable to tamper with it.

OBITUARY.

It becomes our sad duty today to chronicle the death of Miss Lucy McMillan, which sad though not unexpected event took place at her home in Kensington, on Wednesday morning, November 29th.

Words are scarcely adequate to portray the character of this estimable young lady whose lamp of life was extinguished at the early age of 17 years.

She was on every hand noted for her intelligence, piety and virtue, and went to her home beyond the skies mourned by the whole community amongst whom she lived and ended her short though happy life.

She attended the high school at Kensington up to about ten months ago, when her scholastic work had to be abandoned to allow her time for recuperation; but despite the careful and loving attention of anxious friends, as well as the aid and advice of the first amongst the medical fraternity, poor Lucy gradually weakened till God's call relieved her of suffering.

She died surrounded by hosts of friends, and fortified by the rites of her Holy Religion.

It is to be regretted that the unfavorable weather on the funeral day marred to some extent the parade of school children who vied with each other to do honor to the memory of their favorite schoolmate and associate. The disappointment of the pupils can well be imagined.

To Mr. and Mrs. McMillan, who in one month have buried two dutiful daughters, to the other members of the family who have laid to rest two loving sisters and to the large circle of friends, we offer our heartfelt condolence.—COM.
