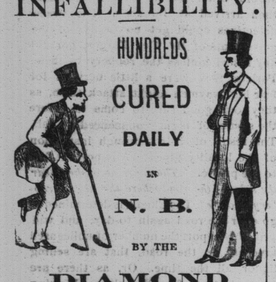
INFALLIBILITY.



DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE !

Effectually cured 150 of our St. John citizens from that terrible malady.

RHEUMATISM !

This statement is substantially a FACT based upon evidence in the possession of the agent, in the shape of numerous testimonials from past sufferers, in all the walks of life, particularly from some of our most respectable citizens and trustworthy families.

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE !!

In its history, this invaluable Medicine occupies the most honorable position possible for any remedy to attain. A few years since it was known only to the friends and neighbors and patients of the proprietors, and always sought for by them who never troubled with Rheumatism, and in this way came to the notice of physicians generally, and through their favorable expression, and its acknowledged value as a Rheumatic Remedy, the demand for it became so frequent and urgent as to oblige its proprietors to increase their facilities for its manufacture. Its reputation rapidly extended, and soon orders, in lieu of enquiry, letters of thanks, and certificates of praise were daily received from all sections of the United States and Canada; and in this way on a basis of its merits alone—unaided by "tricks of the trade" or special efforts—it has risen to its present enviable position. Wherever introduced it has received the most flattering preference in the treatment of all rheumatic complaints. In this we are really greatful and happy, not alone because our medicine finds ready sale, and is consequently profitable to us, do we say this, but because we open a new field in medical science, and cure at once what the medical practitioners have for ages found so difficult even to relieve. We fill a place heretofore unoccupied. We relieve the suffering and Minister to God's poor; we restore the laboring man to the use of his injured limbs, and save him scores of times its cost in doctor's bills; we carry contentment and gladness into the homes of the afflicted, and consequently are remembered by millions of grateful souls.

The proprietor of this medicine has walked the aisles of the hospitals in London, Eng., for the past twenty years, making Rheumatism a specialty, and the prescription from which this remedy is compounded is all he ever used in the treatment of this disease.

This medicine is for sale at all the druggists through Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock ask him to send for it to

NOW.

Arise! for the day is passing.
While you lie dreaming on;
Your brothers are eased in armor,
And forth to the fight are gone;
Your place in the ranks awaits you;
Each man has his part to play;
The past and future are nothing
In the face of the ster to-day.

Arise from your dreams of the future—
Of gaining a hard-fought field;
Of storming the airy fortress,
Of bidding the giant yield;
Your future has deeds of glory,
Of honor (God grant it may!)
But your arm wil never be stronger,
Or needed as now—to-day.

Arise! if the p st detain you,
Her sunshine and storms forget;
No chains so unworthy to hold you
As those of a vain regret:
Sad and bright, she is lifeless ever;
Cast her phantom arms away,
Nor look back, save to learn the lesson
Of a nobler strife to-day.

Arise! for the hour is passing:
The sound that you dimly hear,
Is your enemy marching to battle.
Rise! rise! for the foe is here!
Stay not to brighten your weapons,
Or the hour will strike at last;
And from dreams of a coming battle,
You will waken and find it past.

NOTES AND NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

Mr Pleasant Yell is running for the Texas Legislature. Howl he suit?

The Chicago Common Council is called "The Robber's Cave."

A Chicago sausage maker advertises his wares as "dog cheap."

A man in Cincinnati advertising for a situation, says: "Work is not so much an object as good wages."

Sylvanus Cobb wants to be Lieutenant Governor of New York State. His excuse is that he has written 500 novels.

It doesn't look well, to say the least, for a Kansas church member to have to draw out his revolver in order to get at his two cents for the contribution box.

"Uneasy is the head that wears a candidate's hat," says the Macon Telegraph. Don't agree with you. They can lie easier than any others we know of.

A Boston correspondent of the True South writes that Boston may be built on seven hills, but the streets are so mixed up that you can't tell which hill you are on.

A county treasurer in Alabama can't read or write, but he has put $7000 where no one but himself can find it. This shows that a collegiate education isn't essential to the acquirement of wealth.

A fellow who hid under a sofa at an informal Boston missionary meeting, says that the thirty-five ladies spoke twice of the down-trodden heathen and more than a hundred times of a new kind of hair dye.

Miss Morris, the actress, has known what it is to be glad of $10 a week. She has for a whole season done some of her best work for $45 a week and she now knows what it is to have every week count in her banker's books for $1000.

Mr. Spurgeon's twin sons were baptized at the great preacher's Tabernacle in London recently. The ceremony of dipping was performed by Mr. Spurgeon himself, and the weather being very warm, the performance was not unacceptable to the youths.

When a rebellious Texan was once asked what answer he should make if the Governor of the State should send his officers to demand his arms, he replied, "I would propose a compromise measure—keep the rifle and give them the contents."

A Philadelphia lawyer named Jared Ingersoll has been disbarred for attempting to impose "straw bail" on the court, and Lucus Hirst suspended three months for a similar offence. The North American says: "We learn from the Sheriff's office that the amount of this fraud has grown to appalling dimensions."

What did Noah's bees do while afloat? They kept the arc-hives.

Unpopular music—Thomas's concerts on the backyard fence.

This is the latest form of wedding invitations: "Come around and see me capture a mother-in-law at 8 o'clock sharp."

Somebody observes that when six young ladies sit down to talk about dress, a small boy with a tin horn is a refuge for the weary.

The Government of Brazil has published a decree which fully establishes State supremacy over ecclesiastical affairs. It is dated June 30, 1874.

William Cullen Bryant probably never put up a stove in his life. What do you suppose made him write "The Melancholy Days Have Come?"

It is reported in Ireland that an answer will be published, on the authority of the Roman Catholic priesthood, to the arguments of Tyndall and Huxley.

"October, coy and chill in the morning, warm and winning at noon, veiling her coat of many colors in a fleecy mist at evening, and lovely still in all her moods."

Mr. Parton says: "We admit the most ignorant, most benighted men to the right of suffrage, and we exclude women from it who are the most enlightened of human beings."

A San Francisco reporter blushed at some remarks of Victoria Woodhull, and was promptly discharged by his employers for "conduct unbecoming a journalist."

An editorial notice of a woman's grocery store read as follows: "Her tomatoes are as red as her own cheeks; her indigo is as blue as her own eyes, and her pepper as hot as her own temper."

The Catholic Total Abstinence Union, lately in session at Chicago, numbers 60,000 members; or, according to another authority, 100,000, and its rate of increase is said to be 2,000 a month.

The Japan Mail describes the city of Yeddo as a miracle of cleanliness. "Notwithstanding the thousands of feet which tread the streets they are as clean as the seldom visited parks of the aristocracy. No person throws paper, or any sort of refuse in the streets."

A St. John Alderman went out of the Academy of Music between the acts, and returned vigorously chewing a clove. His wife asked him where he had been, and he said, "To see a friend." She calmly replied that she thought his friend must be dead, as she could smell his bier.

The Duke of Edinburgh recently made a state visit to Liverpool, where he laid the foundation stone of a new art gallery which is to be erected at the expense of Mr. Walker, the Mayor of the city, and which will cost $100,000. He was entertained at a banquet in the evening.

Royalty stimulates industry in Great Britain. Queen Victoria has given a large order for Honiton lace. Of late, Belgian lace has been all the rage with the aristocracy, and the English manufacture has languished. The Queen's order is intended to give it new life.

Men adore clothes, says a fashion correspondent. In fact, men have some female weaknesses as well as the women. A small spirit of envy and uncharitableness occupies a man's breast as well as a woman's bosom, and holds out to the last years of life into the bargain!

Malden aunt (remonstrating with Dublin street arab): "Don't you know, sir, it's very dangerous to throw stones? That one very nearly hit me, sir! And suppose it had put my eye out, and blinded me, what would you have done then?" Street Boy: "Shure, I'd have married yer, av coorse."

"By the sad sea waves."—Landlady (who has just presented her weekly bill): "I 'ope, ma'am, as you find the bracing hair agree with you ma'am, and your good gentleman, ma'am!" Lady: "O, yes, our appetities are wonderfully improved! For instance, at home we only eat two loaves a day, and I find from your account that we can manage eight!" (Landlady feels uncomfortable.)—Punch

The British Secretary of State, the Earl of Derby, is now actively engaged with the Berlin Cabinet in perfecting negotiations which will lead to the permanent protection of Jewish rights and interests in Roumania. The joint labors of the American and British Boards and the zeal of Consul Beixotto are about being crowned with success, notwithstanding the latter's enemies at Bucharest and at Washington.

A strange sect, called the "Muckers," has caused much trouble in Brazil. These fanatics, who are mostly German immigrants, believe that Christ has re-appeared in a woman of their company. Her husband, one Maurer, is their prophet. Judas, who is considered an honorable person, inasmuch as he labored to fulfill prophecy, is also one of them. On account of their turbulence, and the murder of a number of seceders from the faith, the Government has sent a force of about 4,000 men to put them down.

Ex-President Thiers addressed the French residents of Florence last Monday. He declared his firm belief in the success of the Republic in France. He acknowledged that he formerly opposed Italian unity, but explained that he did so solely because of its consequences on general politics. Now that unity was an accomplished fact, his only object was to promote cordial friendship between France and Italy. The French people would never permit any government to disturb the existing relations between the two countries.

Mr. Gordon, the lecturer of the "Liberation Society," has started on his tour through England. He aims in his lectures to show the immediate necessity of disestablishment. His audiences are said to be large. Mr. Carvell Williams, the Secretary of the Society, has recently visited Scotland to consult with leading Free Churchmen upon the best methods of carrying on the work in that country. A Mr. Heath has been appointed agent for Scotland. The President of the "Church Defense Association," in a letter to the London Times, says that the Liberation Society numbers among its supporters from 80 to 100 members of Parliament.

The questions of a distinctive eucharistic dress and the eastward position of the officiating clergyman at the communion table are at present much discussed in the Church of England. A largely-signed address of the clergymen on one side, asking the Archbishops and Bishops to settle these matters in their favor at the coming convocations, has called forth a counter memorial. This latter has been signed by 1,000 clergymen. The Earl of Harrowby, who was a member of the late Royal Commission on Ritual, appeals in a public letter to the Public Worship bill as conclusive evidence of the uselessness of all attempts to change the present form of service.

Happy is he who expects little book-knowledge from the masses, because he won't be disappointed. The Medical Officer to the General Post Office at London mournfully concludes his report on the candidates for minor appointments in that department during the past year with a gasp of longing for compulsory education. These candidates were obliged to make written statements as to the medical histories of themselves and their families, and these are some of their sad but interesting expressions: "Father had a sunstroke, and I caught it of him;" "My little brother died of some funny name;" "A great white cat drawed my sister's breath and she died of it;" "Apperplexity;" "Parasles;" "Burralger in the head;" "Rummitantic pains;" "Shortness of breadth;" "Indigestion of the lungs;" "Toucertina in the throat;" "Pistoles on the back."

At present Hamilton, Ont., has her share of quacks and fanatics who day and night crowd the market square bawling their wares or preaching strange doctrines. One fellow, supposed to be a Cockney, and who was "run out" of Pittsburg, stands in a buggy, selling a bean that will cure all the ills that flesh is heir to. He is dressed as a western "brave," his face daubed with war-paint and thus arrayed begins business by telling his gullible auditors a stale joke or two, using language that to say the least is disgusting. Another individual marches round the city, bearing a poster, the large black letters of which inquire of the public if they are aware that they are going to hell and damnation. This same person stops ladies on the streets and asks them if they are saved, and then informs them that they are on the broad road that leads to destruction, but not in language so polite. For a week back as many as a dozen of these brawlers have been nightly posted round the City Hall, the police standing by with indifference, though there is a by-law for the punishment of such characters.

It is estimated that some 15,000 Mennonites have recently emigrated from Russia. These Russian Mennonites are the descendants of a colony of German Baptists, who settled along the Volga in the time of Catherine the Great. To the general doctrines of the Baptist Church they add a disbelief in oaths, wars, and capital punishment. Although the Emperor Paul guaranteed their freedom from military service forever, they were included in the recent order of a universal conscription. A decree of last May, ordering all emigrants of a military age to give long notice of their intended departure to the authorities, was expected to check the Mennonite exodus. The decree only increased their determination to leave. Such a vast number of notifications of emigration were served that the Russian Government in alarm has virtually made the required concessions. The Mennonites are in future to form part of the territorial reserve, which is only called out in time of invasion. Their military service will be confined to the hospitals.
