THE LEAFS LOSE GAME ON SUNDAY

Failed to Hot Barnhardt While Aided by Errors Stars Scored Three on Aichele.

Syracuse, June 2.—Pitching airtight ball thruout, Cy Barnhardt, Patsy Donovan's star underhand right-hand twirler, blanked Dan Howley's Toronto Leafs three to nothing this afternoon before 1800 persons. Barnhardt allowed but five safe blows, keeping them so well scattered that no two hits were made in any one frame. He was master of the situation at all times, not allowing a Toronto player to reach third base in the nine frames, and as a result of his grand twirling the Leafs were beaten in the first series, two games to one, and Dan Howley was not feeling as good as usual when his team left the ball field at Star Park this afternoon.

Fred Aichele, Howley's young right-hander, who had won his last four straights before today, pitched a good brand of ball and should not have been beaten by more than one to nothing, as an error on an easy roller by Joe Wagner in the third inning permitted two Syracusans to cross the plate. The one run that was earned by the Stars came as a result of a single, a sacrifice hit and another safe blow.

Dan Howley injected much interest in the game by his arguments with Umpire Westervelt, who has been bad in his decisions of strikes and balls during the series.

Howley again shifted his line-up today, placing young Anderson, former Inter-State Leaguer, who was picked up at Buffalo, at second base in spite of his bad leg. Howley was not satisfied with "Tub" Bowman's playing on Saturday, and this was the reason for the change. Anderson did not have much to do at the keystone station and he did not get any hits in three times up.

The Leafs had their best chance to score in the sixth inning when with one down, Warhop singled and stole second, and then Onslow was given free transportation to the initial sack, but Whitehouse hit to Raymond, forcing Warhop at third and Wagner filed to Eckstein. In the last three innings Aichele was the only Leaf to set his foot on first base, the pitcher getting there in the eighth on his single to right centre with one down.

The game abounded in fast fielding by both teams. Joe Cobb, sent to the Stars by Detroit, and a second Schalk, caught Barnhardt in faultless style, making one sweet play on Purtell's fine bunt in the seventh inning. Eckstein made a fine running catch of Anderson's foul in the seventh and Raymond pulled down Whitehouse's foul fly near the Syracuse players' bench in the ninth after a long run.

Manager Howley had a narrow escape from injury while in his room at the Hotel Jefferson here this morning, it was learned today.

While lying in bed and about to get up a big portion of the plaster on the ceiling fell and just missed hitting the manager. The plaster weighed many pounds, and if it had hit him it would have caused him harm. Dan was tonight telling the players that he was always lucky as he was born under a lucky star.

On Saturday Toronto took the second game of the series from Syracuse. The visitors found Walker for two singles and a triple by Whitehouse in the eighth for two runs.

Lied was sent back to Toronto. McCaffery sent him on to Howley, who answered not wanted, so Lied was sent on with Thormahlen to Newark.

To Run Ontario Cup Competition

A meeting of the Ontario Football Association was held on Saturday evening. The transfer system came in for considerable discussion, and it was decided that a fee of 50 cents must accompany all applications to the O.F.A. secretary for transfer of a player from one league to another.

It is the intention of the association to enquire from the secretary of the club the player is leaving that everything is in order before the transfer goes thru, so as to avoid any trouble and disputes as has been the case with a number of transfers that have been put thru.

It was practically decided to run the Ontario Football Cup competition, as a number of clubs have sent forward their entries, but as some clubs who intended entering have failed to notify the secretary, it was decided to extend the date of closing for another week. Club secretaries are asked to keep this in mind, as the draw will take place next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Toronto Scottish have a vacant date Saturday, June 8, and would like to arrange a game with some club in or out of the city. Any club wishing to play communicate with the secretary, D. Lumsden, 12 Marshall street.

SOLDIERS PLAY REAL BASEBALL

Ida Says Military League Looks Like a Winner and There is no Alibi-ing.

By Ida L. Webster.

Baseball as it is supposed to be played might be a most fitting option for the summer pastime in the Military League, and, incidentally, it would be the highest compliment which we could pay; for, indeed, is it not a wonderful game when men play it for the pleasure that there is in it, rather than as a favor to the community, like a few of the Leafs whom we might mention? But, then, the Military League and the International are as far removed as the heavens and earth, with probably the edge going to the soldiers. There is an absolute lack of alibiing in this wonderful new amateur league which is positively refreshing after the worldly-wise professional stuff.

First of all, Captain Lou Scholes deserves the greatest credit in the world for his energetic efforts to make the Military League a success, and, after watching the games Saturday on the three different diamonds, there can be no doubt whatever but what it is a huge success. It is too bad that the people of the city do not patronize this sort of games better, because these soldier ballplayers need encouragement just as well as the professionals, but if the Toronto fans do not take some interest in them, why, naturally, the boys will begin to think that the public is passing them the "buck," and all kinds of complications may arise. One other thing was most noticeable, and that was the lack of officers amongst the fans. This also is a most unnecessary slight to the boys, and one which should be rectified by the next game. If the officers do not take an interest in the Military League, who else should?

Hardman Good.

The game between the Veterans and the Special Service was a very one-sided affair, with S. S. getting away to a good start and gradually gaining, until the Veterans were hopelessly outclassed. Freeman, Pennock, Lamond and Hardman stood out for Special Service. The latter did the pitching, and at no time could it be said that he lost the whip-hand, nor his smile; in fact, his "grin" is almost equal to that of Lieut. Neal, who graced the bench in baseball uniform, but who did not break into the game. However, we have every reason to believe that the young officer will be in today's game at the island; in fact, we would like to take this opportunity of making it a special request, because the boy knows how to play the game, and all reliable men are needed. Pennock caught Hardman, and held him down nicely, altho there was not a hint of him "blowing" at any time; but, then, this battery should prove most dangerous during the season, because both men work with a smoothness which is most finished, and also they can both hit.

Lamond looked and acted like a regular professional and there are a couple of first basemen in the International who have nothing on him, in fact he would be a splendid asset to the Jersey City Club. Freeman also is a heady player, but he nearly as finished as Red. However, he got away with some very daring tries, which would have been fatal had the Veterans had a better catcher on the job, but McKenzie had a wild day, and he threw the ball all over the lot, which was most disconcerting to young Black, who was on the mound for the Vets. Outside of McKenzie's wildness the rest of the field was very poor, and it would have been impossible for any pitcher to win with the support he was given. Certainly the Veterans are sadly in need of practice, and unless they intend to be tailenders they had better arrange to get out three games per night and get the necessary speed. There is a lot of good material on the line-up, but it will have to be developed farther before it will be able to stack up against the Special Service aggregation.

Lieut. Jones, who is manager of the S. S. gang, kept a pitcher warming up during the game, altho it showed excellent judgment on his part, still it was an unnecessary precaution, because Hardman had everything his own way from the bell, and he looked as if he might be able to battle thru another nine innings without a slip, but just the same Jones is not dead on the job, and from the rail he appears to have a live bunch of Swedes working for him who will be found right up in the front row when the curtain falls.

Captain Jerry Laflamme naturally felt it his duty to ramble around, and give the Vets and Special Service the once over. You see Jerry is manager of the Denis, and they won a game early in the afternoon, so that he had every right to feel like a John McGraw, but all the same he had better keep his pets away from Neal, and those other Special Service wild men, because unless they are very careful how they step they will be wiped right out of the league. Believe us those Special Service babies are in form, and they could give almost any club a battle.

Today will be a big day at the island stadium, and anyone who wants to see some real baseball had better drift over, because there is going to be some mighty big doings, and these soldier boys of ours are worth your attention. Personally we are stacking the Special Service against the field, but then do not permit us to change your opinion, but also do not fail to be on the job, so that you may see for yourself just what a fine league it is, and how worthy they are of your patronage.

Royal Air Force Make Their Cricket Debut

The Royal Air Force were defeated in their game with the Albions at Trinity on Saturday, but to them there is no discredit, as they have had no practice as yet. CRICKETERS BUSY IN C. & M. LEAGUE

After Poor Start Yorkshire Won Easily From Old Country Club.

Yorkshire Society Cricket Club went to High Park on Saturday to play Old Country C.C. in a C. & M. League fixture. Yorkshire made a very poor start, losing Tucker and Nutter for 0 and 2 respectively. Greenwood was very unlucky in being run out, after making a useful 12. Things began to look brighter when W. Marsden went to the wickets, getting 16 runs, which were very useful. When Priestley (captain) and Percy Bland got together a different outlook was given to the game. They put on over 50 runs in the partnership before Priestley was bowled by Foley, after making a faultless 39, including four fours. It is not the first time Priestley has made a good score at High Park. Bland continued to play beautifully, being eventually bowled by Green after making 23 without giving a chance. E. S. Buckingham just arrived in time to take his turn at the wicket, being not out 9 when the innings closed for 120. McKinnon 4 for 43 and Green 4 for 42 did most of the bowling.

RIDLEY CRICKETERS WON.

St. Catharines, June 1.—Owing to press of other duties the duke was unable to witness the cricket match between the school eleven and Col. Belson's battalion, but found time to receive informally the members of the staff and local directors, who were presented by Dr. Miller, principal of Ridley College since its founding in 1889. The cricket match was won by the school eleven after Col. Belson suggested extending the time to allow a decision to be reached. During the afternoon the band of the 1st Battalion, 2nd C.O.R., entertained the spectators, thanks to the kindness of Col. Belson, and the afternoon proved so enjoyable that another game has been arranged for Wednesday, June 5, when the soldiers hope to have their revenge. The score: 1st Battalion, 67; Ridley, 93.
