SUB-CONTRACT FOR CONSTRUCTION OF BREAKWATER LET

McDonald and Doheny, of Alexandria, Ont., and C. L. Hervey, of Montreal, to Do the Work, and Also Remove Large Hill Sloping from the Municipal Home—Offices to Be Opened at Once and Work to Be Rushed.

Thursday, May 16.

There will be something doing at Courtenay Bay in a very few days now, as the long expected announcement of the awarding of the sub-contract by the Norton Griffiths Co., Ltd., for the breakwater construction, rock excavation and removing of the hill near the Municipal Home at a cost of some millions, was made last evening, the successful contractors being McDonald and Doheny, with whom are associated C. L. Hervey, of Montreal.

D. R. MacDonald, of Alexandria (Ont.), head of the firm, was in the city yesterday and confirmed the report last evening that he and his partners had secured the contract. In fact, Mr. MacDonald said, the work would commence as soon as possible. He will be here several days making the necessary arrangements and gave orders last night for a 6 o'clock breakfast so that he might make a thorough inspection of the scene of the work today. Mr. Hervey, who was here some days ago submitting the tender of the firm, also arrived in the city yesterday. A. A. MacDonald, head bookkeeper for the firm, will arrive here on Saturday and will open offices which will be occupied for several years.

Mr. MacDonald said last evening that although the contract would be pushed along as vigorously as possible, it meant three years work in building the mile of breakwater besides removing the large hill sloping from the Municipal Home to the point in Courtenay Bay. The staff would be organized as quickly as possible, and the preliminary work commenced at once, although he could say little as to the details as the plans were not altogether matured. It would be more than a month before the heavy steam shovels could be brought here and got into action, but the plant would be assembled as quickly as possible.

Mr. MacDonald's firm has a high reputation and has successfully carried out many important railway contracts. Members of the firm will be in St. John a great deal in connection with the contract. Mr. Hervey is well known in the province, having been connected with the Grand Trunk Pacific some years ago, while his wife formerly belonged to Fredericton.

TEMPERANCE MEN GIVE LOCAL MEMBERS UNHAPPY HOUR

Members of New Brunswick Federation Renew Battle to Secure Appointment of Officials Endorsed by Them—May Have Ticket of Their Own.

Thursday, May 16.

Members of the New Brunswick Temperance Federation renewed the battle to secure the adoption of their nominees for the positions of liquor license inspector and chairman of the license commissioners respectively in a conference with Messrs. Maxwell, Wilson and Hatheway, three of the local members, last evening, but if the feeling of the temperance people may be judged by the expression of several of the delegation afterwards they were given but very little encouragement. Unless a favorable reply is received before the next meeting of the federation on the evening of Tuesday, May 28, it is understood that the temperance people will consider the advisability of pledging candidates in the provincial election and failing to secure assurances of support from a full ticket, to place men of their own in the field.

After the conference last evening as one of the temperance men himself said, they were "not a bit wiser than before." Mr. Wilson told them candidly that he had made up his mind what to do but would give no intimation of what the decision was until all the members agreed that it was the time to speak. Hon. Mr. Maxwell said that Dr. J. P. McInerney, who is ill in the hospital, had to be consulted and the decision submitted to the premier before they would make any announcement whether or not Rev. W. R. Robinson would be the next chairman of the commissioners and whether or not George F. Menzies would be the next inspector.

The meeting was rather lively at times, although the members of the legislature adopted a conciliatory tone throughout and took credit for bringing out many temperance reforms. The meeting was held in the government rooms, Church street, and the room was crowded with the large delegation. The speakers on behalf of the temperance forces were Rev. H. R. Boyer, the president, C. F. McTavish, Rev. W. R. Robinson, Rev. B. H. Nobles, R. J. Anderson, Rev. R. P. McKim, Rev. H. E. Thomas and J. Willard Smith.

In his reply, Hon. Mr. Maxwell said that the government had acceded to the wishes of the temperance people by appointing Mr. Eagles as chairman of the commission and also Mr. Baskin as one of the members, although the latter was a resident of the west side, having no dealings at all with the liquor question.

Rev. Mr. Robinson—"When you say that it shows all you know about it."

Hon. Mr. Maxwell—"At least is it not true that there is not supposed to be any liquor sold in Carleton?"

Rev. Mr. Robinson—"And there is not supposed to be an enclosed bar at the Royal Hotel, and still there is."

Continuing, Hon. Mr. Maxwell said that along with the petition of the temperance federation for the appointment of Rev. Mr. Robinson as chairman, he had received another petition largely signed and with the names of several clergymen in the room subscribed asking for the appointment of W. J. Forbes.

All the clergymen in the room indignantly denied signing any such petition and J. W. Smith offered the explanation that Mr. Forbes had been the nominee of the temperance party some years ago and that the petition in question might be now three years old. Rev. Mr. Robinson protested that if his name was signed to the petition as Mr. Maxwell had said it must be a forgery.

Mr. Maxwell spoke of his services in the temperance cause and said that he himself had been a member of the federation, although he did not know if his dues were paid.

Mr. Riley—"They are not paid."

On being pressed for an answer the local members asked for time but could not promise any decision for the meeting of the federation fixed for Tuesday, May 21, so it was decided that the meeting should be delayed for one week in order to give Messrs. Maxwell, Wilson and Hatheway time to make up their minds.

CANNOT UNDERSTAND WHY SO MANY IMMIGRANTS GO WEST

Sir Henry Pellatt Declares it is Not to Be Compared to the Maritime Provinces, at Least So Far as Climate is Concerned—Mr. Browne Hears Conservative Naval Policy is to Be Extensive—The Sydney Proposition.

Tuesday, May 14.

Bringing news of a warm welcome at Sydney (N. S.), where the people will be asked to vote on June 3 on the question of bonusing the British Canadian Shipbuilding & Dock Company, Sir Henry Pellatt and party, including Grant Hugh Browne, of New York, and R. L. Johnston, of this city, passed through here last evening on their return to Toronto. Mr. Browne was in charge of the negotiations on behalf of the dock company, in which Sir Henry is greatly interested, and while in Sydney he secured from the city fathers the decision to submit the matter of a $1,000,000 bonus to a plebiscite of the people.

Mr. Browne said last evening that the British-Canadian company meant business and were preparing for the building of a Canadian navy on a much larger scale than that laid down even by the Laurier government, as he believed that the Borden government would soon commit itself to a progressive naval policy.

"We have the assurance of Premier McBride in London to this effect," he said, "and I have heard the same thing said, only more strongly put by members of the present authority in Ottawa."

Should Sydney decide in favor of granting the subsidy it will be an inspiring example of civic spirit and faith in the city's future as it will mean four payments of $250,000 each, one on the construction of the work and the others at intervals of five years, the last to be in 1930, when the Dominion Iron & Steel Company will pay its first assessment on property. The shipbuilding company will pay taxes on a minimum assessment of $500,000 for twenty years, after which it will pay on a full assessment.

The company would undertake to spend $6,000,000 on the shipbuilding, guarantee the poll tax on 2,000 workmen and all water rates, as well as to pay for the water and sewerage extension to the district surrounding its works, all in the city limits, up to $500,000.

Sir Henry was not inclined to talk business but he expressed a great admiration for the maritime provinces and the climate, affording a striking contrast to the remarks of the minister of railways on the occasion of his recent visit here.

"To me," said Sir Henry, "it is a living wonder that so many immigrants go west to brave the rigors of the uncertain climate when they find here in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia a delightful climate quite as good as we have in Ontario and that is saying a great deal. However, with so much public money being spent in St. John and New Brunswick on important works, the immigration problem of the east is likely to solve itself. The immigrants will come to where there is the most going on and it seems to be the turn of the east just at present."

On Thursday Sir Henry attended the convocation proceedings at King's College, Windsor, and had the degree of D. C. L. conferred on him. Others in the party on board the private car Constitution were Major and Mrs. H. E. Bond, of Toronto; Rev. Canon Starr, of Kingston Cathedral; Provost Macklem, of Trinity College, and Vice Provost Lloyd.

Twenty-one new settlers have arrived at Mr. Wilmot's office since Saturday of whom fourteen were in two families and were sent to St. Stephen to work in Ganong Bros.' candy factory there. Five young men who arrived yesterday had to come by way of Quebec landing there on the Ascania.

George Cochrane.

Thursday, May 16.

In apparent good health, George Cochrane, of Marysville, left here Tuesday evening after having been heartily greeted about the city by many friends, and it came as a severe shock to learn of his sudden death at his home at an early hour yesterday. A telephone message to his son George, in Macaulay Bros. & Co.'s store in King street, yesterday morning, told of his father having passed away. The news seemed incredible for it was only yesterday that Mr. Cochrane had been with him, apparently in the best of health.

Mr. Cochrane awakened in the morning with a pain in his left side and his wife had left the room but a few moments to procure some medicine when, on returning, she found him about breathing his last. It was only a few minutes before he passed away.

Mr. Cochrane was formerly a well known resident of St. John. For some years he was with Oak Hall in King street, and also conducted a clothing store on his own account in Union street. He was also in Sydney (C. B.) for a time. Mr. Cochrane was well acquainted not only in this city but in other parts of the province. His wife was formerly Miss Mary Aiton, of this city. They left here about eight years ago and made their home in Marysville.

Mrs. Thomas F. White and Miss Margaret Cochrane, of this city, are sisters. The funeral will be conducted here on Friday, and the burial will be with Masonic rites, as he was a member of Hibernia lodge, F. & A. M. Masonic fraternity.

A Fredericton despatch says that Mr. Cochrane died of heart trouble, that he had been in St. John Tuesday consulting a specialist. He returned home on the evening train and complained of feeling ill. At 5 o'clock yesterday morning he had a bad attack and expired before medical aid reached him. He was aged fifty-six years.

Backward weather, probably, was responsible for a decline in the building permits issued in St. John during April from the amount in the value of the buildings for which permits were issued in April, 1911. In none of the cities of Canada as shown by the statistics published in the May issue of the Financial Post was there any large percentage increase, while Toronto as well as St. John showed a decrease. The St. John permits last month amounted to $39,800 and the year before to $78,900.

An influential delegation, representing the Fish Forest and Game Association, had a conference yesterday with Hon. J. D. Hazen relative to the establishment in New Brunswick of a small hatchery for trout. They urged the importance of such a hatchery, and pointed out that it could be erected and maintained at an annual outlay of about $1,000, and would prove of great benefit. Mr. Hazen promised careful consideration of the request, pointing out at the same time that the provincial authorities derive all the revenue from the control of sporting fish and should therefore assume some of the cost of propagation.

That the coal freights to this port from New York are not fair to vessel owners, being entirely too low, and that they should be raised by the shipping men, is the view expressed in a circular letter, unsigned, received at the local shipping offices yesterday. The opinion is expressed that there will be a demand for vessels on the adjustment of the trouble in the American anthracite regions, and that then will be the opportunity to fix the rates. He calls upon owners here to make the rate from New York $1.50 or even $2. "This," he concludes, "is a fair freight and harms nobody," and he adds: "Will we get it? It's up to you."
