"German Syrup"

Martinsville, N.J., Methodist Parsonage. "My acquaintance with your remedy, Boschee's German Syrup, was made about fourteen years ago, when I contracted a Cold which resulted in a Hoarseness and a Cough which disabled me from filling my pulpit for a number of Sabbaths. After trying a Physician, without obtaining relief—I cannot say now what remedy he prescribed—I saw the advertisement of your remedy and obtained a bottle. I received such quick and permanent help from it that whenever we have had Throat or Bronchial troubles since in our family, Boschee's German Syrup has been our favorite remedy and always with favorable results. I have never hesitated to report my experience of its use to others when I have found them troubled in like manner." Rev. W. H. HAGGARTY, of the Newark, New Jersey, M.E. Conference, April 25, '90.

GENERAL NEWS

—Four men were killed by the explosion of a locomotive at Red Oak, I. T.

—Mrs. Mackinzie, wife of the late veteral liberal, died at her home, Sarnia, Ont., last week.

—The ladies of Toronto are agitating a short dress reform. The dress does not reach below the knee.

—Spring this year in England is said to be unusually bright and beautiful. After the long hard winter which has been prevalent there as well as here this must be a great relief.

—Rev. Ellen Runkle, said to be the first woman in Ohio to perform the marriage ceremony, was herself married recently, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mattie Mummaw. Both belong to the United Brethren Church.

—Mr. Laurier has issued a call for a convention of liberals to be held at Ottawa on June 20th next. Each electoral district is to be represented by the liberal member, or the liberal candidate at the last election and five other delegates. An invitation is also issued to the liberal press.

—After forty years of effort the Mormons have finished a magnificent Temple in Salt Lake City. It is one of the largest buildings upon the continent, is made of granite rock, and almost all of the work was done by the Saints themselves in payment of tithe. It cost $5,000,000.

—A French army officer has invented a kind of military microphone, by means of which the approach or the movements of the troops as well as their probable numbers, may be gauged. The apparatus is described as simple as it is ingenious, and consists of a transmitting and a receiving machine, which are connected together by a metallic wire.

—The Ottawa Free Press gives currency to a report that Narcisse Larocque, who was hanged at L'Original on June 4, 1891, for murdering two little McGonigle girls at Cumberland, was innocent. It states that Larocque's relatives are about to take steps to remove the stain cast upon the family by Larocque's execution. Two residents of the village are alleged to be the perpetrators of the vile deed.

—Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule bill received it second reading in the British Commons last week. The grand old man spoke for over three hours in a clear and forcible tone and took up each section of the bill in detail. The opposition to the bill is too the increase, and in Ireland the Anti Home Rulers are reported to be ready to resist with force of arms. At present it looks as if history were about to repeat itself and the bloody scenes of Londonderry will be reenacted.

MILBURN'S COD LIVER OIL EMULSION with Wild Cherry and Hypophosphites cures all throat and lung troubles.

Care of the Ears.

BY J. R. M'LEAN, M. D.

Every person has more hearing power than is required for ordinary purposes. This superfluous amount of hearing is often lost before one realizes that the ear has become diseased. A continual ringing or singing in the ear or ears indicates that disease has already commenced. A feeling as if the ears were stuffed with something, or a feeling of warmth, of slight pain, is not consistant with their healthy condition. There is no deafness from old age, it only comes from disease. Catarrh is the cause of deafness in a vast majority of cases. The most persistent form of catarrhal deafness especially when accompanied with discharge, comes as an after effect from scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria or grippe.

A catarrhal throat is often a cause of ear disease, in fact they are commonly associated. Frequently the immediate cause is due to exposure and cold. You may freeze your ears and not have an ear-ache; on the other hand you may take a bath in the sea or river on a summer's day which may be followed by an ear-ache; it is chilling the general surface of the body, that produces the liability to ear trouble; hence the necessity to those having a tendency to ear trouble to keep the general surface of the body and feet warm.

Deafness from catarrhal disease is more easily checked in its course than for the hearing to be restored again; in other words you can save what you have, more easily than you can restore. Evidently then the sooner you consult a specialist the better. A discharging ear is a source of danger, not only the hearing, but too often to life itself; the old idea that a child 'will grow out of it' more frequently means grow into it; a running ear is far more easily managed at first than later on and should be healed as quickly as possible.

Persons becoming suddenly hard of hearing without pain or any throat trouble may be quite confident it is due to an accumulation of wax, and by consulting his physician can easily have this form of deafness relieved.

In an ordinary attack of ear-ache, pour from a table spoonful to a tea cup full of warm water, as warm as the patient can bear it, right into the ear, and you will nearly always give immediate and permanent relief. If this simple and generally efficient remedy does no relieve, after several applications, you should consult your physician at once. Persons with a liability to ear affections should abstain from summer bathing in salt or fresh water, only using a warm bath for cleanliness. The head should never be in a draught when sleeping. Those suffering from a catarrhal disease of the head should not treat themselves to a nasal douche except when under the care of a physician. Under every circumstance keep the skin warm if you would check the tendency of deafness.

Without protecting the ears too greatly, I would advise a little more care in protecting the neck and throat from exposure, from a cold atmosphere, or high wind, while the feet should always be warm and dry.

When persons feel any benefit from a plug of cotton wool in the ears, a sufficient quantity to make a small light, loose piece, tucked quite out of sight, will accomplish everything to be gained without a person presenting an unsightly appearance wherever they go.

It is quite true, specialists are doing some wonderful things of late in restoring the hearing to those who had given up hope, yet by far the better plan is to attend to the first hint of any form of ear trouble, and thus endeavor to keep the hearing perfect.

Drunkenness—Liquor Habit—In all the World there is but one cure, Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of tea or coffee, without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been cured who have taken the Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge and to-day believe they quit drinking by their own free will. No harmful effects results from its administration. Cures guaranteed. Send for circular and full particulars. Address in confidence GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race Street Cincinnati, Ohio.

At a 'church hugging bee' in Alabama, the other evening, a man, while blind-folded, hugged his own wife for several minutes, and when he learned the fact he got mad and demanded his money back. This made his wife mad, and she demanded double rates for her part in the transaction.

A Kingston Orangeman.

Kingston, April 17th.—Mr. James Blair, of Napanee, whose case has been creating so much interest in that locality, is well known in the Limestone city. He was a resident of Kingston for fourteen years, and it was while he was engaged as cutter for Mr. Livingstone of this place that he contracted Bright's disease of the kidneys. His Orange friends are delighted to know that he is cured of this terrible disease, by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and several marvellous cures are already reported. Mr Blair joined the Orange order in 1854, and is the oldest Orangeman in Napanee. He has been a delegate to the Orange grand lodge, and has held several important offices in the order. His friends considered his case as incurable, and are of course amazed at his wonderful recovery.

WOMEN'S COLUMN.

Conducted by the Ladies of the Sackville W. C. T. U.

The Church and Temperance.

In the pages of the February number of the Homiletic Review (New York), The Rev. James C. Fernald, writing under the above caption, sharply but kindly criticises the Church and its ministry for their neglect of plain and pressing duty in the matter of fighting the growing power of the saloon, and extending a helping hand to its victims. He says:

'The one great, fronting sin of our time is intemperance, destroying more lives and souls and homes than all others combined. Gambling and prostitution are its allies. It paves the way for them both, and nourishes them from first to last. This great, fronting sin ought to be met by the Church and the ministry with an attack equal to its own tremendous sness....

'One eminent minister, when asked if he preached on temperance, replied, 'Not specifically; I preach against all sin.' But it is the specific that is wanted. The sin is specific, the temptation is specific, and glided saloon is specific, and the drunkard's grave is specific....

'The preaching that declines to go into particulars of actual, concrete, human temptation and human sin, may be broad, may be lofty, may be eloquent, may be fashionable, but it is not scriptural....

'Some honored brethren say, 'Oh, they all know where we stand.' What has that do do with it?.... Why preach at all, then? What is the use standing up twice a Sunday to talk on religion when they all know where you stand? Because a Christian minister is not a signpost or a flag, but a herald. His great business is not to tell men where he stands, but to persuade them to come and stand where he does. This is just as true in regard to temperance.'

After quoting a number of texts as solid foundations for temperance sermons, and calling attention to the fact that Christ, and Paul and all the great preachers that followed after him did not hesitate to preach against specific sins, he says, speaking especially of the beautiful 'rescue text':

'Preach them in temperance mass meetings. There is here a neglected power and a wonderful power. You gather your elegant congregation—not one manifestly exposed to this temptation and shame—and the poor young man who was drunk last night, though bitterly sorry, yet cannot crowd in among all those nice people; or, if he does slip into a back seat, feels that the hopes of pardon held out to them are too good, too high for him. 'It does not mean me' is the spoken or unspoken feeling. But he goes to a temperance mass meeting. Hundreds like him go. The leaders of the Christian host appeal to him and such as he—'to you is the Word of this salvation sent. This is the Gospel translated anew for him; even for him their is hope; he comes and sets to the pledge his trembling hand; strong, good men, pure, tender-hearted women grasp his hand and look into his eyes with joy and hope, and he starts on to a new life

Mr. Fernald argues that temperance work must be done by the Church not by organization outside of it.

'There is no such power on earth as the Christian Church. There is no such force in our civilization as the banded Christian pastorate. Let our ministry but do their utmost specifically and directly for the abolition of intemperance, and this century will not close without seeing the work far advanced. With the Church and the ministry leading instead of following, with their hand on all the springs of power their consecrated Christian spirit pervading all, we can have such a temperance work as this country has never seen.'

Whom it Benefits.

Prohibition benefits the butcher, because he will sell more steaks, and fewer five-cent soup bones.

The baker, because his bread will go into homes where the black bottle and growler held sway.

The clothier, because the overworn garments will be cast aside, and not be made over a dozen times.

The shoemaker, because many who now go barefooted, even in bad weather will become wearers of shoes.

The publishers, because men and women, having more desire for advancement, will naturally take to reading; the old greasy, fifty times-read newspaper of the grog-shop having lost its powers, the whole family will read.

The landlords, because they can then collect their rents and get better prices.

The farmers, because more will be consumed of better quality, and at better prices.

The preachers, because more men would join the churches and improve their opportunity to do good.

The buggy-maker, because more men could afford to ride.

The iron merchant, because the increased use for useful material would demand his services.

Merchants, mechanics, and manufacturers of all kinds, because the one billion five hundred million dollars now spent for liquor in this country would go into legitimate circulation for healthful and useful pursuits.

The foregoing are some of the financial reasons why all classes will be benefited by the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages. The moral reasons are too numerous to mention, and the political reasons are myriad.

Are You Responsible?

What fills our prisons, our poor-houses, our lunatic asylums, our hospitals?

What supplies the gallows with victims?

What blights the the happiness of home and brings a direful curse upon it?

What sends many a poor wife to her pillow in tears, praying that she may never see the morning light?

What brutalizes men and degrades women?

This deadly crime of liquor selling. Who but voters are responsible for this appalling record of misery.—Democrat.

LITERARY NOTES.

It seems that the English papers made a mistake in the title of Rudyard Kipling's forthcoming book, which should be "Many Inventions."

Harper & Brothers announce that they will publish, about the middle of April, the following books: The Philosophy of Singing, by Mrs. Clara K. Rogers; Personal Recollections of Nathaniel Hawthorne, by his friend of many years, the late Horatio Bridge, with portraits; Slavery and the Slave Trade in Africa, by Henry M. Stanley, illustrated by Frederick Remington; The Earl of Aberdeen, by his son Sir Arthur Gordon (in "The Queen's Prime Ministers" series); The Dictator, a new novel by Justin McCarthy; and a new, revised edition of William Black's Shandon Bells.

HERBERT SPENCER will continue his argument as to THE INADEQUACY OF NATURAL SELECTION in The Popular Science Monthly for May.

Reginald de Koven's new waltz, which one hears played on so many pianos nowadays, has proved so popular with young women that a second edition of the April Ladies' Home Journal, containing the music, has been found necessary, the first edition of the magazine consisting of 700,000 copies.

HIGHLY SPOKEN OF.—Dear Sirs,—I have used Hagyard's Yellow Oil for sprains, bruises, scalds, burns, rheumatism and croup, and find it an unequalled remedy. My neighbors also speak highly of it. Mrs. Hight, Montreal, Que.

Ten thousand Chinese actors and actresses have started from the Celestial empire for the World's Fair in Chicago.

Corns, Corns.

Tender corns, painful corns, soft corns, bleeding corns, hard corns, corns of all kinds and of all sizes, are alike removed in a few days by the use of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Never fails to cure, never causes pain, never leaves deep spots that are more annoying than the original discomfort. Give Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor a trial. Beware of substitutes. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Polson & Co., Kingston, proprietors.

A runaway darkey, before the war, was on his way to Canada, and was met by a countryman, who questioned him as to the treatment he had received at the hands of his master. 'Didn't you have enough to eat?' the countryman asked. 'Yes.' 'And enough to wear?' 'Yes.' 'And a warm place to sleep in?' 'Yes.' Then what did you run away for?' 'Say, boss,' the darkey replied, 'if you think you'd like the place, it's open to ye.'

THE BEST REMEDY.—Dear Sirs,—I was greatly troubled with weakness, loss of appetite, restlessness and sleeplessness, and found B. B. B. the most strengthening and beneficial medicine I have taken. Miss Heaslip, 34 Hunter St., Toronto, Ont.

Miss Lettie Huntley,

Is the sister of Mr. Wm S. Huntley, of Cortland, N. Y., a well known carpenter and builder. Her frank statement below gives only the absolute truth concerning her illness and marvelous recovery by the aid of Hood's Sarsaparilla. She says:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs: Twelve years ago I began to have hemorrhages and four years ago became so low that the physicians told me

There Was No Hope

and I should soon die. I could not be moved from my bed. Under my face were napkins continually reddened with blood from my mouth. I could eat nothing, and had no action of the bowels for a week. The doctor said the cause was ulcers in the stomach. At this time my mother said she wished to make one more trial, and asked if I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I told her it would do

A Waste of Money

but finding it would comfort her, I began taking it. In a few days the bleeding began to subside, I seemed to feel a little stronger, but thought it only fancy. I took no more. I could only take ten drops of Sarsaparilla at first. In two weeks I was able to sit up a few minutes every day. In a month I could walk across the room. One day I asked what they were to have for dinner, and said I wanted something hearty. My mother was so happy she cried. It was the

First Time I had Felt Hungry for Two Years

I kept on with Hood's Sarsaparilla and in six months was as well as ever in my life. It is now four years since I recovered, and I have not had a day's sickness since, nor any hemorrhage. If ever a human being thanked the good Lord on bended knees it was I. I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, and that alone, unquestionably saved my life."

Messrs. Sawyer & Jennings, the well known druggists of Cortland, say that Miss Huntley is a highly respected lady; her statement of what

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has done for her is worthy the highest confidence.
