PRESIDENT W. J. TREGILLUS' STATEMENT WITH REGARD TO PLANS OF LOCAL DIRECTORY CO.

Solicitors representing an outside Directory Company, are asserting that the Tregillus-Thompson Directory Company will not publish a Directory, and that there is no printing office in Calgary with sufficient equipment to print a Directory.

The assertions are untrue. The Tregillus-Thompson Company will publish their Directory at the time stated, and are now preparing for that publication.

The Directory will be printed in Calgary.

One of the chief reasons for the establishment of this firm was to keep our own industries in the city employed as much as possible on their own work, thereby preventing outside firms from taking the orders and the work to other cities.

There are several establishments in Calgary well able and anxious to print a Calgary city Directory.

By publishing a city Directory in Calgary, business men who are purchasers of the Directory will be benefited by the disbursement of the money paid for its printing, which has heretofore benefited the Merchants of Winnipeg. The Directory of the Tregillus-Thompson Company will be superior to any city Directory ever circulated in Calgary, and sufficient contracts have been already made to insure profitable publication of this book.

We therefore ask our friends not to be led astray by misrepresentations. This is a local industry, and we are determined to give our patrons the best possible service, and make it a credit to Calgary.

We are, Faithfully yours,

WILLIAM J. TREGILLUS
President, Tregillus-Thompson, Ltd.

NOTED WOMAN PUBLISHER WHO WILL BE WOMAN'S PRESS CLUB GUEST

Alice Harriman, Woman Whose Publishing Business Rivals the Largest Houses in New York, Passes Through Calgary En Route to Edmonton.

ALICE HARRIMAN of the Alice Harriman Publishing Company of New York, was in the city yesterday en route to Edmonton, where she will be a guest at the triennial convention of the Canadian Woman's Press club. She accompanied Mr. Bennett, a press woman of Regina, whose guest she has been for the past week, and was the guest yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Pohl of Calgary.

Mrs. Harriman is the only successful woman publisher in the world and is now the commercial rival of Scribners, Harpers, and other large American companies in the publication of "best sellers" and high-class literature.

Is An Author Too

In addition to her commercial enterprise, she is an author of international reputation herself, among her latest books being "A Man of Two Countries," the story of the growth and evolution of an Englishman from a young private in the Northwest Mounted Police at Macleod, Alta., to a United States senator from Montana; a splendidly, virile story well told and ranking very high among the dramatic literature of western America. Mrs. Harriman is also a poetess of high reputation.

She is in Canada on behalf of the C.P.R. and has already written a story of the Mounted Police which has not yet been published, but which will likely create a literary sensation when it comes out in the fall. The illustrations are being prepared during this trip.

Belong to Old Family

Mrs. Harriman belongs to the famous family of Harrimans of which J. Borden Harriman, whose wife is one of the most noted suffragists of the New York "four hundred," the branch of the family having come to America in 1620, several generations before the ancestors of J. Borden Harriman.

Mrs. Harriman will be in Calgary on Friday when the Press club visits the city and will be one of the guests to be entertained by the Local Council of women. Others will be "Janey Canuck" (Mrs. Arthur Murphy of Edmonton), "Marion Keith" of Toronto, Mabel Burkholder, the young Hamilton novelist, Mrs. Isabel Ecclestone McKay of Vancouver, Nellie McClung of Manitoba, (author of "Sowing Seeds in Danney.")

NEW POLICE AND FIRE STATION TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

Chiefs Cuddy and Smart Confer on Furnishings; Croker and Taylor In Charge

Chief of Police Cuddy and Chief Smart of the fire department held a conference last night at fire headquarters regarding the furnishing and opening of the new Station No. 2, at 18th avenue and Second street east. It was decided to start furnishing the new station house, which will be used jointly by the fire and police department, today, and it is expected that the opening of the new headquarters will be held a week today. After the successful campaign to christen the chief's new red auto, it is believed that appropriate ceremonies should mark the opening of the new station.

The firemen will be ready to officially occupy the building as soon as the new city service truck arrives from Allentown, Pa. This piece of apparatus left Allantown on the 29th of May, and is expected to arrive here not later than Thursday of this week. The truck will be equipped with ladders and hose and will be motor driven, similar in design to the other apparatus which are at fire headquarters.

Captain Crocker and a detail of firemen will occupy the new building, while Sergeant Taylor, with ten or twelve patrolmen, will be in command of the police detail. The building will be divided into two sections, and each branch of the service will have a section to itself.

Charged With Archibald's Murder.

Vancouver, B.C., June 8.—H. F. Clarke, Frank Davis, Joseph Seymour and possibly James Hamilton will be charged with the murder of Police Constable James Archibald, was the statement of Chief of Police Mulhern today. The chief intimated that he had obtained sufficient evidence to go ahead with the case. It is stated that Hamilton is in possession of facts concerning the murder including a conversation heard between the men revealing a burglary that was interrupted by the murdered officer. Hamilton may turn Kink's evidence.

MAN WAS REFUSED JOB BECAUSE OF VOTE, SAYS WITNESS

Sam Aellio Swears at Inquiry, That Foreman Wilson Took Revenge On Brother

Magistrate Sanders will again take up on Wednesday the investigation into the charges that three city foremen, in hiring men to do city laboring work, were attempting to build up a Conservative political machine. Two sessions of the inquiry have already been held, without developing any testimony to contradict the allegation.

The last session, held Friday afternoon, was marked principally by a debate on the law of evidence between City Solicitor Ford, representing the city in making the enquiry, and Solicitor T. M. Tweedie, representing the three foremen. The debate hinged on the question of admitting as evidence the reasons for the laborers who signed the affidavits for signing the documents, Mr. Ford contending that such reasons were unnecessary and were dragging the inquiry into the nature of a political feud. Magistrate Sanders declared that what he wanted to get at was the truth or the falsity of the charges. Mr. Ford finally threatened to withdraw the city's case unless the inquiry was brought down to a pure case of facts in the matter.

The principal witness was Sam Aellio, who runs a pool room in Calgary, and who wanted to get his three brothers work in the city laboring gangs. He testified to the fact that Foreman James Wilson instructed him to vote for Hillocks in the recent election, and that Wilson had finally refused to get his brother, Jim Aellio, a job "because Jim had voted the Liberal ticket." Sam Aellio created a ripple of laughter when he told of attending a few Conservative meetings in order to pull the wool over Wilson's eyes and make the latter believe that he had changed his political faith.

Poultry Association to Meet.

The Calgary Poultry and Pet Stock association will meet in the Exhibition offices tomorrow evening to arrange for the summer show, which will take place from June 30 to July 5

DEAN BRAITHWAITE IS BACK FROM EAST; NEW TALENT

Went Away to Look up New Professors For the University

Dean E. E. Braithwaite, of the University of Calgary, who was compelled to be absent from the closing exercises of the university on account of going East to secure some new professors for next year, has returned to the city.

He has the names of several strong men from whom a selection will be made at an early meeting of the board of governors. With this contemplated addition to the faculty the university will be in a better position than ever to carry on its work during the coming year. From enquiries that are already being made there is also every prospect of a considerable increase in the number of students for next year, especially of regular full course students proceeding towards a degree.

CLEVER DETECTIVE WORK

Clever detective work on the part of Detective Schoeppe in all probability saved the money of a number of foreigners yesterday. It also landed Pete Bibuck and Tony Milloski in Central station, where they were held until friends bailed them out for $100 cash bail each.

Schoeppe, who speaks six different languages, was attracted by a conversation in a foreign tongue Saturday evening. He stopped and listened. One man was telling his friends how two alleged gamblers were about to start a game for the benefit of their unsuspecting countrymen, and have a regular gambling house. Schoeppe learned the names and the addresses of the men, and then swore out warrants on his information.

Later in the evening he located Bibuck and Milloski as the men wanted, and arrested them as vagrants. Bibuck had $66 when taken into custody and Milloski $100. They will be taken before Magistrate Sanders this morning.

SHIP OWNERS ARE NOT LIABLE FOR LOSS BY ACCIDENT

Where Negligence of Owners or Agent is Not Apparent Damages Not Collectable

Vancouver, B.C., June 8.—A test case brought to ascertain the liability of the owners of the steamer Cheslakee for damages for los sof freight when that vessel capsized off Van Anda wharf on the night of January 6, losing six lives, was won yesterday by the Union S. S. company. Judge McInnes, who heard the case, decided that under the Canadian Shipping Act passed by the Dominion parliament, the Cheslakee cannot be held liable, failing proof that the loss of the vessel was due to the negligence of the Union S. S. company or their agents. The act is an invasion of the common law principle that common carriers are also insurers of goods under their control in transit.

A feature of the case was that the findings of the Marine Court of Enquiry were ruled out by his Honor.

Baptist Sunday in Moose Jaw.

Moose Jaw, June 8.—Suggestive of entire denominational harmony, the Baptist ministers now in convention here occupied all the city pulpits today at each service, with the exception of those of the Anglican and Roman Catholic churches.

ARRANGING FOR THE TERMINAL OF C. N. AT VANCOUVER

Gerald Ruel, Solicitor of Railroad in Vancouver to Arrange With Provin'l Gov't.

Vancouver, B.C., June 8.—Gerald Ruel, of Toronto, solicitor of the Canadian Northern Railway, is in town after spending a week at Victoria. His principal mission to the coast is to arrange for the execution of an agreement between the railway company and the provincial government, based on a measure passed at the last session of the provincial legislature, authorizing the government to guarantee a $10,000,000 bond issue, bearing interest at 4 1-2 per cent. for terminal improvements at Port Mann, False Creek, in Vancouver and Victoria.

Sir William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern, is reported to have made arrangements during his recent visit to London to dispose of the entire issue as soon as the agreement between his company and the government can be executed and forwarded to England. The proceeds of the sale of the bonds will probably be available within six weeks when the various terminals are to be under way in a large way.

HUSBAND OBJECTS TO WIFE DANCING WITH YOUNG MAN

Turkey Trotting Wedding Ends With Case of Assault and Battery

George Abraines and his wife attended an Austrian wedding Saturday night, and yesterday Abraines ended the festivities by a trip to the station house.

Detective Turner was at the telephone in Central station when a frantic cry came from the vicinity of 221? Sixteenth street east, to the effect that Abraines was attacking his wife wit' an axe, hatchet and abusive languag' Turner hurried to the house and l cated the language and Abraines.

"I am getting too old, and my wi wants a handsomer man," bemoane the husband. "Last night at that wed ding she was turkey trotting with tw young men, and doing the Tango tag and those other dances. So I took her to task today and just gave her a little punishment."

Turner called Policeman Davidson, and this morning Abraines will answer to a charge of assault.

EARTHQUAKE AT LACHUTE DID VERY LITTLE HARM

Lachute, Que., June 8.—A severe earthquake shock was experienced here at 1:30 a.m. today. The shock lasted about two minutes, and buildings throughout the town rocked and swayed. Practically all the residents were awakened, and the event is the chief topic of discussion today. No serious damage is reported to buildings, but residents report numerous small breakages of household utensils and ornaments which were thrown from shelves and mantelpieces. The shock was felt throughout the whole district for miles around, and from reports received was especially severe in the neighborhood of Brown's Head.

The quake seemed to come in two distinct waves. Many citizens left their homes and took their children some distance away from all buildings, fearing a recurrence of the shock.

ITALIAN GUNMEN GET OFF WITH SENTENCE OF ONE WEEK

Judge Beck Lenient With Men Convicted of Attempted Murder; Lays Blame on System of Espionage Used to Secure Evidence of Infractions.

EXHORTS MEN TO FOLLOW THE FAITH

Judge Says No Informer Should Share in Fine for Spying as in This Case; Too Much Hypocritical Talk About Elevating the Foreign Born.

ONE week with hard labor for attempted murder. Such was the sentence meted out by Judge Beck on Saturday to the two Italians who were found guilty of attempted murder, the week before, by a jury at the criminal assizes. Two others who were found guilty of assembling for the same purpose were allowed to go. The fortnate men were Jim Marketto and Guy Martrullo, while the two who went free were Store Coronna and Sam Serena.

In explanation of his mitigated sentence his Lordship said that the men had already suffered by being in prison for four months. Apparently, he said, there was something worse behind the facts than the men themselves, and he took occasion to score with some vigor the espionage methods of some officials of the provincial liquor license department. Then, asking if they were followers of the Roman Catholic faith, his Lordship exhorted his fellow-religionists to leave the way of wrongdoing and become good and honest citizens.

Employed a Spy.

The following were the remarks which were made by the learned judge in giving his sentence:

"Here are two Italians convicted of riotous assembly, and two of them of grievous bodily harm to another Italian. The source of the trouble is a system which, in my opinion, ought to be condemned in the strongest terms. These Italians and a large number of others were fellow workmen meeting together almost daily in friendly intercourse. Then some one, under the apparent authority of the liquor license department, employed one of them to act as a spy and informer on his friends, and, having permitted himself to accept this degrading employment, he goes, as might be expected the further step of trying to provoke breaches of the law.

"He becomes known or suspected of being a spy, and naturally is treated as such. I do not believe that the higher officials of the department approve and knowingly tolerate this system. At all events, I take the liberty on this occasion to state that, in my opinion, it ought to be entirely eradicated. This is not the case of the employment of a plain clothes man as a detective who is not a fellow workman but solely a government employe. That may be under the circumstances justifiable, in the case of certain serious offences against morals and the criminal law, but what was done here was quite different.

"There is much hypocritical talk about elevating the foreigner from his supposedly low level of manhood to our own supposedly much higher level; the introduction of such a despicable system of espionage among them is to my mind an unrighteous method of attempting to bring this about. I would go to the extent of allowing an informer no share of any fine for breach of any such law as this. I have made enquiries about these men, and the information I have obtained is to the effect that there was nothing to complain of with regard to their conduct until the introduction of this system among them.

"They have already been in custody four months, Two of them, Corona and Serena, will be discharged, while the other two, Marketto and Martrullo, will remain in the barracks for one week more at hard labor.

"And now I say to the prisoners: You have no doubt been brought up as Catholics. Get back to the regular practice of your religion, and thus become good and useful and exemplary citizens."

RETAIL CLERKS TO MEET TO FORM ORGANIZATION

Mayor Sinnott to Open Meeting Tomorrow at Paget Hall Well Known Speakers

Store clerks and assistants employed in Calgary's retail stores will hold a mass meeting at Paget Hall tomorrow evening at 8.30, o'clock for the purpose of organizing a protective association of retail store clerks.

The meeting will be opened by Mayor H. A. Sinnott, and the principal speakers will be Dr. T. H. Blow, M.P.P.; Mr. T. M. Tweedie, M.P.P.; Mr. S. B. Hillocks, M.P.P., and several other well known local men. All clerks of both sexes are invited to attend.

WHITE PASS AND YUKON LOOKS FOR SUBSIDY

Vancouver, B.C., June 8.—O. L. Dickeson, president of the White Pass and Yukon route, announced today that if a fair-sized subsidy were given by the Canadian and U. S. A. governments his line would extend from White Horse down the Yukon river to Dawson and Fairbanks, Alaska. He said a two per cent. grade could be obtained. W. B. Close, a London financier, and a party of friends will visit Canada in July, and go as far as Dawson. Mr. Dickeson insists that San Francisco is fast losing the Yukon trade, and conditions now have a great opportunity to entrench themselves in the north.

DEATH OF DAVISON WOMAN IS HAILED AS MARTYRDOM

had finished, and repeating the tactics of last Sunday, the members of the Women's Social and Political union raised their flags at several points, but the crowd rushed in and pushed the speakers together.

Message from Christabel.

At one point the women were pushed off their feet, and the police had to escort them from the park. Several arrests were made. The Daily Sketch has received a message from Christabel Pankhurst, who is now in Paris, in which she said:

"Miss Davison died for women. She did this to call attention to their wrongs and win for them the vote. The government's refusal to grant the vote drove her to make her protest.

"The argument has not convinced Mr. Asquith of the seriousness of his position, but perhaps the woman's death will.

"Miss Davison's memory will live in women's hearts and history for all time. There will be a public funeral in honor of this soldier who has fallen in the war for freedom."

COMMISSIONER TELLS OF ARMY'S BIG WORK THROUGHOUT WORLD

General's Visit to Canada.

The Commissioner will return to Canada in October, as he will be back from the Antipodes by the beginning of that month. On that occasion he will bring with him the new general, but they will come no farther west than Winnipeg, and Calgary will not see the new general till the year following, when it is hoped he will make a trip to the far west. In October the plans will be laid for the next year. It is only then when the harvest is over that the position can be thoroughly studied and the number of people who can be taken the next year fully understood.

In the old country the army still continues to prosper. The death of the old general has brought a new interest among the public in the work of the army. New blood in the councils of the great body has brought new enthusiasm within and the work is going ahead with a vigor that was not known for some years previously. At that time the policy was conservation and wisely so, as any emergency might have made a great change but now the thing has become so securely established that there is no fear as to the future.

The great mass of the property of the army held in so many different forms under so many different systems of tenure has been transferred and, according to the commissioner, not a $5.00 piece is missed or wanting. This has been a great undertaking and has caused much anxiety and care at the head of the body but now that it has been carried through with success, there is no doubt as to the rapid progress that is ahead.

Abroad the army goes wonderfully. This month it has sent out the largest number of missionaries that ever went from a country at one time. One hundred and one left London, mostly for India, but some for Korea and Africa. In China, which the commissioner visited last year, a branch of the army will be started at an early date. There is a native organization there known as the Eastern Salvation Army and it is expected that some of the officers will be prepared by the army and then the organization will become part of the parent body.

Comparing Canada with Australia the commissioner said that for the present the great opportunity was with Canada. It had a more even advance than had the southern colonies and there were few of the ups and downs that were experienced in Australia here in Canada. For the thousands that they brought to Canada the army did not take hundreds to Australia. That might be changed later but it was the situation now. Canada had a good start.

Commissioner Lamb left shortly after midnight for Vancouver and he was accompanied by Major Turner of Toronto and Captain Tudge of Winnipeg.

BARTENDERS' PICNIC LISTENS TO APPEAL FOR TEMPERANCE

ing their troth. It was not a dry party—far be it from such a catastrophe. If your favorite bartender slips some gin into your morning Martini this a.m. you will have the evidence yourself.

Three sports were made the central features of the day. In their order they came as football, baseball and high-ball, with the latter winning the popularity prize. The picnic was held at the Bowness park, and admission was by invitation and ticket only. It was a closed corporation, outsiders and water being barred.

The affair was not without its serious features. James McElhordy of Grand Central fame was the speaker of the day, and he gave the members of the union a practical talk on their duty to the community and the proper handing of those who were not responsible and not fit to be served at a bar. His address was along the line of law and order, and an appeal for temperance. He defined the difference between temperance and prohibition, and declared that every man in the liquor business was an advocate of temperance.

CALGARY UNIVERSITY WILL RECEIVE GRANT OF $150,000 ANNUALLY

University of Alberta at Edmonton, might well enough be left to carry on the more regular courses of the university, while in Calgary there would be ample room for the carrying on of the more scientific and technical side of the instruction of men entering on the various professions.

With the large railway shops in Calgary, there would be ample scope for a school of engineering and the advantages of such a school would be mutual to the railway and the university. In the same way the great mining industry of Alberta, which has not yet been really tapped on the surface, is within reasonable reach of Calgary and the founding of a school of mining would be of the greatest importance. With many other industries in prospect to settle here, a technical school in its various branches would be of the greatest importance.

Industrial Training Needed

There would be no place of course for such courses as shipbuilding here, but the training of men to go forth in the great textile industries, in railroading, in mining, in lumbering would be of the greatest importance to all concerned. Alberta is peculiarly rich in natural resources and with a dearth of men to use these aright and to the best advantage, the country is always bound to lose. Training her own men here on the spot and having them familiar with local conditions, the province would be richer in every way. With courses of training in the various industries and in engineering, there would be an enormous increase in the industries and the manufactures of the province, which would make Alberta an industrial as well as an agricultural province.

All this is of course conditional on the granting of the sum stipulated by the commission by the federal authorities, but there is no one who for a moment doubts but that something substantial will be done by the authorities along the lines indicated and that the university will come in for a fair slice of the grant, while a great school of technical instruction will be situated in this city.

UNION TALK CROWDS OUT OTHER CHURCH BUSINESS AFFAIRS

sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed in the same church the Moderator presiding and many leading elders of the denomination assisting.

Reception by City

On Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock a reception was tendered to the commissioners and delegates by the city council on the university lawn the mayor delivering a brief adress of welcome to which the Moderator replied. The weather was almost too cool for the comfort and pleasure of the participants. A reception by the Lieut. Governor of the province was given earlier in the week.

Business Suffers for Union

Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant, superintendent of home missions, made a vigorous protest on Saturday at the closing meeting, stating that practically all time of meetings was being given up to the consideration of church union and that no progress was being made with the routine business or the discussion of other interests of the church. He secured an order that the report of the new finance board, which was a forward movement, should be received on Monday afternoon at the opening of the session, the consideration of church union to follow. As the consideration of the finance board's report may take considerable time it is possible that there will be no further debate on church union until Tuesday.

The final addresses on the union question on Saturday were made by Rev. Dr. Duval, of Winipeg, and the Rev. Dr. W. L. Clay, of Victoria. Rev. A. L. MacBeth, of Paris, Ont., in the course of his speech on this subject, made the statement that there was in the Dominion an organized body of Presbyterian ministers and elders who had entered into an argument to maintain a Presbyterian church in Canada in case the majority decided to effect union with the Methodists and Congregationalists. Dr. Clay, while opposing the union, wished publicly to dissassociate himself with a threat of this nature. He submitted a new motion distinct from both the majority and the minority reports of the union committee, his motion differing, however, very slightly from that of the minority. Rev. Dr. Duval spoke for union with his utmost devotion and vigor, replying to first statements made by Dr. Scott, of Montreal, and Rev R. G. Macbeth, of Paris.

Arrangements were made for a number of open-air evangelical services to be conducted by commissioners. These are now in progress in various portions of the city, mostly in the neighborhood of the established churches and missions. Many delegates are assisting in the song services at these gatherings.

A. G. Killam Dead

Vancouver, B.C., June 8.—Arthur Gilbert Killam, aged 38, formerly of Winnipeg, died on Saturday.
