LONDON'S WATERLOO.

Special to The Advertiser.

A drenching rain storm, accompanied by hailstones as big as pigeons' eggs, brought the London-Leaf game to an abrupt termination in the middle of the seventh inning, but not before the champions had seriously damaged Col. Kershaw's record as a pitcher by smashing out about seventeen hits for a total of 15 runs.

It must be said, Willie pitched a steady game, but the Leafs had their peepers on the ball, and London's chief role was the engrossing task of chasing the leather all over the diamond.

On the other hand, George Bradford, London's Jonah, was pitching the game of his life. The first inning he had no steam, but after that he plugged up all the vents, and the ball shot over the rubber like a bullet.

When the game was called on account of the rain the locals had but one run, and that was due to Dark, on first, dropping a hot ball from third that would otherwise have put the man out. It was a very close call for a whitewash, as the next two men flied out, but Kershaw made a hit, which was quite due, as on the previous occasion he had fanned.

Roberts distinguished himself with a pretty home run, but the Leafs all assisted with fireworks. Neither side kicked at the umpire's decisions. Score:

PETROLEA SHUT OUT.

Strathroy, Ont., July 14.—A good game of baseball was played here yesterday afternoon between Petrolea and Strathroy, when the visitors were completely shut out. The following is the score:

Strathroy	1 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 *—3

Batteries — Depew and Bandimore; Barron and Gunn. Umpires—W. R. Noble, Petrolea, and J. Noble, Strathroy. Time, 1:40.

RANK UMPIRING ADMITTED.

Baseball as played in the Canadian League will soon become unpopular if there is not less wrangling in future. In the game between the Hams and London at Dundurn Park Monday afternoon, there was entirely too much kicking, and had the umpire exercised his authority he would have ruled several players out of the game. Incompetent umpiring had much to do with adding unpleasant features to the game. Young Mr. Patton was off in several decisions, but as all umpires are liable to make mistakes, that is not where he erred. It was quite proper for the captains of the respective teams to protest, but every other player outside of them who made himself obnoxious by kicking should either have been fined or ruled out of the game, but the umpire allowed the players to say what they pleased to him, hence the trouble. The Londons became most unruly towards the close of the game, claiming that the umpire gave them the worst of it, and robbed them of a victory. While some of the umpire's decisions were questionable, it is not believed that the Londons' claim is based on fact. Even if Patton did favor the Hamiltons, and most people consider that he did not, what did the Londons accomplish by kicking?—Hamilton Spectator.

RIGHT YOU ARE.

It is about time that President Cal. Davis of the Canadian League secured the services of one or more competent umpires. There has been altogether too much experimenting in this important department of the business since the opening of the season, and the general public is getting heartily tired of it. The incessant kicking which has marked so many of the league games, particularly during the last two weeks, is due almost entirely to the incompetency of the field official, and it is that which is injuring the game in all three league cities. It should not be a difficult task to secure a competent umpire and one who has the backbone necessary to subdue the obnoxious players as well as render all decisions fairly and satisfactorily. With such an official, we would have more ball playing and less rowdyism, and such a condition would certainly bring about better support from the public.—Hamilton Herald.

JOLLYING THE LONDONS.

Hamilton Herald: The London outfield lays head and shoulders over ours. * * * The last two games on the home grounds have been won by the pitchers. * * * London should stop talking about the Hams' kicking propensities. They're not so slow themselves. * * * Mr. Edward Pierpont Ward was very much on his good behavior. Wonder what's going to happen? * * * There must have been a splendid assortment up in London last night, when that score was posted up. * * * Nearly every member of the Hamilton team has good grounds for libel against the London newspapers. * * * Keenan is bracing up. His guardianship of the third corner is getting to be a feature of the Londons' playing. * * * London and Hamilton have played fourteen games together, each winning seven. Pretty evenly matched those two teams. * * * London plays snappy ball and always puts up a hot argument, but it's out of luck, and there is a great deal of luck in baseball.

FLYS.

The failure of the Cleveland team to get a run against the Giants in 18 successive innings is something which has not occurred to any other club in the National League for years. Rusie shut out the Chicagos in 1895 twice in one series, but a game intervened between the two runless games.

During a thunder shower in New York Friday the flagpole on the club house at the polo grounds was struck by lightning. "Bill" Clark, first baseman for New York, was sitting by a radiator and was slightly burned on the thigh, while "Ducky" Holmes got a shock on one of his feet.

According to a correspondent who traveled with the Washington team, "there is more gambling on baseball in Cleveland and Pittsburg than in any other cities in the major league circuit. In Cleveland the old combination system of picking the winners is popular."

Manager Manning, of Kansas City, says: "The draft system is killing the Western League, and it is only a question of time until it will break up minor leagues all over the country." The Western League magnates are moving to secure a modification of the rule.

Superiority in the pitching department is, after all, the surest element of strength in the game. Any club whose pitchers can, day after day, hold opponents down to from two to five hits, needs not much of a batting team to manufacture the other part of the victory.

Joe Corbett is doing as good work as any pitcher in the league, and that, too, without any fuss or feathers.

Harry Stevens, who has the Milwaukee score card privilege, gets out a German edition, and will issue a Polish edition if the patrons of the game demand it.

Tim Hurst claims that an umpire's lot grows more miserable every year. Some umpires make trouble for themselves.—Sporting Life. Yes, and misery for the spectators.

Buck Ewing now thinks his Cincinnatis will beat both Boston and Baltimore. What on? Buck is entitled to another think.

Boston has always been a hard nut for Rusie, and he has won few, if any, games when Nichols was in the box for Boston.

Pitcher Powell is the best thing the Clevelands have picked up since Cy Young, the rail splitter, was in his prime.

Up to July 4 Milwaukee has won 11 straight games, while up to July 1 the champion Minneapolis team had lost 15 straight.

There are three men on the Pawtucket team who have only three fingers on one of their hands. They are called freaks.

Pitcher Dowd has notified the Newport club that he will not play with it this season, with threat of suspension, notwithstanding.

Odwell, the Wilkesbarre man who plays in right field, and takes a turn at pitching, is a thoroughly good ball player, strong and fast.

Voorhees, the pitcher who signed with Wilkesbarre at Syracuse and refused to play, is now pitching for Atlantic City.

Buck Ewing has become to all intents a bench manager. He never speaks of getting into the game now, and seldom dons a uniform.

Jack Doyle has been out of the game at least one-third of the time on account of accidents ever since he entered the big league.

There will be much less money made in baseball this season than last. Bad weather is principally responsible for this state of affairs.

Pitcher Magee, of the Louisvilles, acted as a "ringer" in an amateur game at Owensboro, Ky., one day last week. He struck out 22 men.

Chicago's brilliant shortstop, Dahlen, is in bad shape, and may not be able to come on the diamond again this season. An abscess has formed on his leg beside an old cut, and the verdict of the physicians is that an operation must be performed. Dahlen is, however, still possessed of the use of the limb.

A striking evidence of Hanlon's policy in the matter of pitchers is found in the fact that among the pitchers of the Baltimore team of today not one remains of the champion team of three years ago. The Baltimore pitchers for that season were McMahon, Gleason, Hemming, Esper, Inks, Brown and Clarkson.

Sporting Life: When players get to that stage when they think the umpires are against them, and it is very easy for a manager to educate them to such a stage, they cannot play good ball. They are so busy watching for the villainous umpire to take advantage of any opportunity that they overlook points in the play. Dean, of Hamilton should consider this paragraph, cut it out and paste it in the mirror of his dresser, where he might gaze upon it every day, and take a good look at it before he comes to London.

Wm. A. Brady and Manager Musgrove, of the Australian baseball team, have arranged a big game of ball to be played at the polo grounds in New York tomorrow. The former is to organize a team of professionals, of which James J. Corbett is to be the first baseman and captain.

There are now four Bill Clarks in the National League. New York has two, and Baltimore and Louisville one each.

Fred Clarke, the Louisville outfielder, is betrothed to a sister of Pitcher Frazer of the same team. It will take place next fall.

Louisville is in a bad way for players. Manager Clarke is picking 16-year-old boys out of the street and playing them in National League games.

The Bostons drew wonderful crowds to their at home series. The three Baltimore games are said to have yielded $22,000, of which Baltimore got $8,400 as its share. The triumvirate will have money to barrel if Capt. Duffy's men can hold their high position in the race.

John B. Day goes on record as saying that one umpire can satisfactorily do the work. This was to be expected, as the administration clique is opposed to the double-umpire system.

New York World: And now comes a whisper from the ball player that a certain Pittsburg pitcher's work is influenced by the big betting that goes on daily in the Smoky City grand stand. It wouldn't be the first time that betting on a ball game had its influence in Pittsburg.

Clifton's work was not faultless, but it was quite as good as that of any other man might have been. The home umpire system is bad, and the sooner a competent outsider is secured the better.—Hamilton Times.

CRICKET.

PHILADELPHIA VS. NOTTINGHAM.

Nottingham, July 14.—The cricket match between the gentlemen of Philadelphia and an eleven representing Nottingham, which was begun Monday, was continued yesterday, and the Americans finished their first inning with a total score of 421 runs. The Nottingham eleven in their first inning made 244 runs. At the close of play the Nottingham eleven had scored 25 runs for two wickets in the second inning.

ATHLETICS.

O'NEIL THE CHAMPION.

Ridgetown, Ont., July 14.—The wrestling match on Monday night drew a large crowd. Robert Harrison, of Toronto, champion of Canada, and Mike O'Neil, of Ridgetown, stepped into the ring at 8:10 for the championship of Canada. It was to go to the best three out of five. It took O'Neil just 25 minutes to win the purse and championship. Harrison's side gave way, and he laid down in front of his opponent and said O'Neil had won.

Detroit has given Bob Allen a three-day notice of his release.

Catcher Snyder made two triples and two singles in six times at bat at Toronto Monday.

Ned Hanlon declares that he is serious in his offer of $3,000 for "Dad" Clarke. Joyce says he has no players for sale.

The Sparta baseball team played a return match with the Dominions at St. Thomas on Saturday. Score, 23 to 17 in favor of St. Thomas.

Catcher Baker has caught on with Rochester.

A real good outside umpire can get a good job in the Canadian League.

Springfield has refused to play any more games with Gaffney as umpire.

Rettger's feat of allowing the Indianapolis team only one run in 18 innings is the record of the season in the Western League. Rettger is a Cleveland boy.

THE TRIGGER.

CANADIANS DOING WELL AT BISLEY.

London, July 14.—The shooting contest at Bisley began yesterday. In the Wilmot competition at 500 yards, open to all comers, the Canadian riflemen did some excellent shooting. Blair, Drysdale and Ross scored 34, Broadhurst 31, and Kerr and Simpson 32, all out of a possible 35. In the Pixley competition at 400 yards, open to all comers, Blair, Windat and Langstroth made 32, all out of a possible 35. The aggregate value of the prizes in these competitions is $50 each.

The most important change is the throwing open of the imperial prize to volunteers as well as the regular forces. The association has decided, in connection with the imperial prize, to give to the colonial marksman making the highest score a gold medal, to the second highest a silver medal, and to the third a bronze medal. Major Mason sent twelve of the team over the ranges, with a view to picking his eight for the Kolapore cup competition, which is to be shot on Friday. Although the new quarters are in an unfinished condition, the men are apparently well satisfied. The messing is first-rate, and the health of the team generally is good.

Nine teams, including the mother country, Canada, the Channel Islands, New Zealand, Cape Colony, Natal, India, Victoria and Queensland, have entered for the Kolapore cup. The Canadian team is in high spirts, and has been photographed for the Graphic. Major Perley, who superintended the erection of the new Bisley building, is in very bad health.

THE TURF.

DIRTY WORK AT FORT ERIE.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 14.—There was jobbery at the Fort Erie track yesterday of the most barefaced kind. It was in the steeplechase. Lady Lightfoot, the favorite on form, and the others entered were neglected in the books, while Do Do was played for several thousands. Lady Lightfoot opened at 3 to 5, and went to 2 to 1. Do Do opened at 4 and went to 4 to 5, and in many instances was held out after a while altogether. At the far jump Naughton, Lady Lightfoot's jockey, slid off his horse. Higgins pulled Morvena at every jump so hard that he fairly refused, and Flynn let Tripoli bolt out of the course. Do Do walked in alone, a winner by a mile. Patrol judges saw the work, and Naughton was ruled off. All bets were also declared off. A further investigation is being held, and several other rullings off are likely. Summaries:

First race, selling, ¾ mile—Harrington won by four lengths, Walkover 2, Test 3. Time, 1:16¼. Little Matt, Taglona, Essie II., Lena Linden and Forum also ran.

Second race, 1 mile and 70 yards—Nimrod won by half a length, Goose Liver 2, Anger 3. Time, 1:47¾. Harry Lee, Sweet Avon and Wheelman also ran.

Third race, 4½ furlongs, 2-year-olds—Alice Farley won by a length, Lady Disdain 2, Coralis 3. Time, :56¼. Warrenton, Watercrest, Wilfrid Laurier, Sister Mamie, and Nikola Teska also ran.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 mile—Our Johnny won by two lengths, Campania 2 by a length, Sue Kitty 3. Time, 1:48¾. Old Saugus, Song and Dance, Sidkel and The Planter also ran.

Fifth race, selling, ¾ mile—The Elector won by five lengths, Barometer 2, Fratello 3. Time, 1:16½. Croesus, Temple Bar, Major Flood and Vitascope also ran.

Sixth race, steeplechase, short course — Do Do finished first, Lady Lightfoot 2, Morvena 3. Time, 3:51½. Tripoli bolted and did not finish.

Canada Advertised,

And the Dignity and Independence of the People Vindicated.

An Independent Canadian Journal on the Premier's Mission.

Ottawa Journal.

The premier's visit to the other side will undoubtedly do Canada a large amount of good. Already his speeches have advertised this country more widely and certainly more effectively than would dozens of immigration agents and tons of immigration literature in several years. His addresses and his references to Canada have secured in the big London, Edinburgh and Liverpool papers a prominence that regular immigration advertisements could never hope for—or get.

Mr. Laurier's speeches have been more than an advertisement of Canada as a field for desirable immigrants. His speeches have proved to the motherland, not only the loyalty of Canada to the interests of the empire, and the willingness of Canada to take its share of responsibility, should the empire ever be in danger, but have given a hint of the spirit that controls and molds Canadian sentiment in this regard. The premier has never lost an opportunity to show that Canadian loyalty to Britain is not what papers like the New York Sun term "base slavish adulation."

In several recent addresses he has drawn attention to the pride of Canadians in their absolute freedom. Because Canadians are free, they are loyal, he said. In an address Wednesday night, Mr. Laurier took exception to the term colony as applied to the portions of the empire, that are not known as "Great Britain." It is time, he claimed, a new word be formed to designate such portions of the empire as Canada, Australia and the Cape lands. Colony will not do, he urged, as colony implies inferiority. The so-called colonies wish to be regarded as equal in every way to the motherland. The recognition of such equality and close family relations, he said, is the surest bonds with which to join the empire together.

Mr. Laurier's tone is but a reflex of the manly independence of the Canadian people. Canadians are sturdily loyal, but intelligently loyal. We are loyal principally because we feel we are as much part of Britain as the people of the British Isles, and just as free. It is to be hoped that the seed being sown by the premier will bear fruit and that before long the people of the British Islands will not, as has unfortunately been the fact in the past, refer to Canadians and Australians as colonists. We are more. We are builders of part of the nation. We are not a British possession like Gibraltar. We are Britain's an integral part of the empire. We are a nation within a nation. We must be recognized as such. If the premier stays a couple of months longer on the other side Canada will receive a new status in the British mind.

GALLEY'S FAMOUS REMEDIES

The Great Homoeopathist Comes in the Nick of Time, When Multitudes Are Suffering the Agonies of Rheumatism and Kindred Diseases—The Scene at His Free Distribution Beyond Description—Rich and Poor Mingle Together—The Most Intense Excitement Created.

Galley's free distribution of medicine in this city on Tuesday created the most intense excitement. It is safe to say that London has never experienced a greater amount of interest for the remedies of any one man at any other time in its entire history. No doubt Galley's open and frank method of dealing with the public, in Toronto and other places, had a great deal to do with the reason of so successful a termination of his distribution here.

The scene during the hours of distribution was indeed one long to be remembered by those who were present. From 9 o'clock in the morning until nearly 6 in the evening it was one long continued stream of men, women and children. They seemed to come from every part of the city, besides large numbers from Strathroy, Komoka, St. Thomas, Hyde Park and adjacent places. Galley's ability to cure disease has been so fully realized that people in general entertain the greatest confidence in the wonderful healing powers of his little pellets. People have been humbugged so much and their ills made the playthings of the vicious and unprincipled, that it is not surprising that so many hold themselves aloof from any association with one-half the men who claim to do so much.

There is no comparison in this respect, however, with regard to the Galley remedies. Galley's humane methods of treating disease have evoked the highest praise from all classes of suffering humanity. It is not a patent medicine Galley has to sell to the public (guaranteed to cure every ill of man or beast). No! Galley's remedies consist of some FORTY-SEVEN SEPARATE CURES—a cure for each disease. They are compounded upon the most recent scientific principles of research and study, the result of years of experimenting and labor in the laboratories of medicine and science. Galley does not claim to cure everybody who comes to him. HE DOES CLAIM, HOWEVER, AND PROVES, THAT IN NINETY PER CENT of cases his remedies cure or benefit the sufferer. Multitudes of people have voluntarily given testimony to these facts, and in the city of Toronto, where his remedies have been constantly used, the highest encomiums have been passed, both by the people themselves and leading members of the medical profession.

Is your case so bad that the best physicians have lost hope, and you have become insensible to your own condition? Rejoice, then, for Galley's specialists are here, and at your service free. Come and see them. Talk with them, and hear what they have to say. You will not be asked to pay a cent for the advice of eminent specialists. Remember, Galley's remedies seldom fail.
