GIFFORD REFUSES TO ALLOW PROTEST OF LONDON CLUB

President of Southern Ontario Baseball League Gives Decision.

EVIDENCE LACKING

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Aug. 9.—Announcement was made by W. G. Gifford, president of the Southern Ontario Baseball League, this afternoon that the protest of the London club filed against Stratford on their game of August 6 is allowed owing to the lack of any specific evidence that the game was lost to London on umpires' decisions.

Edmunds of the Stratford club was asked about the game by the president and he admitted that the umpire behind the plate was inefficient, but he claimed that no deliberate unfairness had been shown in his decisions, merely a matter of judgment. Several other spectators were interviewed by Mr. Gifford. The president called a meeting in this city Wednesday night, but the London officials failed to put in an appearance to support their claim, and the conference was called off. Mr. Gifford took definite action today.

Woodstock Withdraws.

The president stated that he had received definite word of the withdrawal of Woodstock from the league, on the grounds that it was impossible for them to put a team in the field. The president has forfeited all the remaining unplayed Woodstock games to their opponents. The official standing of B section of the second series was announced as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
St. Thomas	5	1
London	3	2
Stratford	2	3
Woodstock	1	5

May Play in Brantford.

The president further announced that London and St. Thomas were tied for A section of the second series and declared that if the two teams failed to decide a date and battling ground by Friday he would be forced to set a date and diamond for the playing off game. Brantford has been suggested in this city as a probable place for staging the play-off. There is great interest here, and it is likely that a special train would be chartered.

MORAN EARNS DRAW WITH JACK BERNSTEIN

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Aug. 9.—Pat Moran of New Orleans and Jack Bernstein of New York, junior lightweight champion, fought ten rounds to a draw in the New York Veldrome tonight. The judges' decision of a draw met with the approval of a majority of the fans. Moran, having failed to make 134 pounds, the weight stipulated in his agreement with Bernstein, was forced to give the champion $500 forfeit money. Moran weighed 135½ pounds and Bernstein 130.

AUSSIES AND JAPS DIVIDE SINGLES

Anderson Wins But Hawkes Is Beaten By Shimizu.

Associated Press Despatch.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Australia and Japan divided honors in the final round of the American zone Davis Cup tennis play today, when James C. Anderson, captain of the Australian team, defeated Musanosuke Fukuda, while Zenzo Shimizu, pilot of the Nipponese team, triumphed over John B. Hawkes, the Australian.

Shimizu, playing excellent tennis and displaying clever court generalship, defeated Hawkes 6—4, 3—6, 2—6, 6—1, 6—4.

Hawkes started strong by winning the first four games, but got no further, as Shimizu braced and began hitting the stride that won for him international fame. Hawkes' service, a fast, twisting overhead stroke, was responsible for his early victories, and had the Nipponese leader completely bewildered. The Shimizu displayed the best tennis of his career in winning the last two sets which were necessary, as Hawkes was pressing him to the limit.

Anderson made quick work in disposing of Fukuda, winning by scores of 6—1, 4—6, 6—2, 6—1. The tall Australian was master of the play at every stage except the second set, when Fukuda struck a winning streak.

Anderson hammered Fukuda's service and drove his own into corners, taking the first five games by sheer speed. The Australian's service was hard and bewildering, and paved the way for frequent rushes to the net, where he scored in clever stop volleys.

Alerts-Orients Play Saturday

Second Game of Play-Off Series At Sunshine.

Alerts and Orients play the second game of their play-off series at Sunshine Park Saturday afternoon. The Alerts won the first game by 5 to 4, after ten innings of hard battling, and Orients are naturally out to reverse this decision tomorrow afternoon.

The teams have been playing a fast brand of ball, and whichever one is declared a winner in the series will give the rest of the teams in the intermediate series of the O. B. A. A. hard going once they start in the provincial play-offs.

The biggest crowd yet to witness an Inter-Club game this season is expected to make for the northern diamond. Ernie Dinsmore will handle the game, which starts at 3 o'clock.

PACK CREDITED WITH TWO WINS

Win Ninth Frame of Protested Game of 25th and Fixture.

Special to The Advertiser.

Hamilton, Aug. 9.—Bay City took the first of the series from Hamilton today by an 8 to 4 count, and after the regular game finished the game of June 25, which was called by Umpire Agar in the first half of the ninth, after Bay City had scored a run and had a man on second with one out. The Wolves protested, saying that the umpire did not wait the usual 30 minutes to decide whether the weather was suitable for the game to continue, and the protest was allowed. The teams lined up today just as they did when the game was called. Connelly was on second, and he scored on Ashley's single after Prysock had filed out. The Hams failed to tally in their half, so the Wolves won by a score of 9 to 8, the decision putting them ahead of Saginaw. Lefty Good pitched the regular game today, and was inclined to be wild in the early stages. The Hams touched him up for four straight singles in the eighth, but he was seldom in danger outside of that frame.

Giants' Brilliant Defence Discovered As Big Factor

Have Played 38 Errorless Games, Experts Discover All At Once —Fielding Must Be There As Well As Loud Swats.

By JOHN B. FOSTER.
(Copyright.)

New York, Aug. 9.—The world's champion New York Giants have played 38 errorless ball games in the season of 1923, including the first game of the St. Louis series. Everybody seems to have overlooked this important factor in their success, including the writer, until the editor of one of the papers which print these despatches called attention to the fact that the Giants were playing a lot of errorless games.

All the experts have been giving credit to the Giants' sluggers for the team's success, in spite of a pitching staff none too strong, passing over entirely the remarkable fielding of the club.

Fielders always have said that they never received the praise to which they were entitled because four or five burly home-run hitters usually absorbed the cheers of the populace.

If it wasn't for a good defence many a ball team would not have won a championship, because it was their good defence that made their pitchers good.

If you don't think so, consider the case of Walter Johnson. He has been a star pitcher for years, but he has not been able to pitch his team to a championship because he has not been getting the fielding.

The Giants' achievement of playing 38 errorless games to date is one glorious fourth of July record. It is doubtful whether any team has ever done anything like it in the past.

They have played nine errorless games against Pittsburg this year. They have played seven errorless games against Cincinnati. These have been their most dangerous opponents. No wonder the Giants' pitchers do not curl up and kick impotently in the air with their tootsies with backing like that.

Twice the champions have run off four errorless games in succession, and once they hung up three of them in a row. Twice in one day they have played errorless baseball. They did it on the fourth of July against Philadelphia, and they did it in the doubleheader against Cincinnati. They have played no favorites, but they have played at least one errorless game against each team in the league.

They have helped to keep the Phillies down by playing seven errorless games against them. Luck against Brooklyn and Boston has been poorest of all, only two errorless games against each. Hitch all the credit to the Giants' attack that you will, but this marvelous development of fielding has as much to do with the ability of the team to keep in front as the batting.

The Giants as a team are hitting about .300. That is neither better nor worse than many a team has done and not won a championship. In fielding they have played nearly one-quarter of their games without a mistake. That's wonderful.

Little Lessons In Golf

BY CHESTER G. HORTON,
Nationally Known Golf Instructor.

When you have taken your clubhead back with your left arm straight you can come to rest at the top of the back swing and have a look for yourself at the arm and wrist. Do that, so that you will understand how it works.

If your left arm is nearly straight—just slightly curved—and the left wrist is in line between the shaft and your forearm and the ball, you have the "eight o'clock position." That position is correct. It may be something of a surprise to you to learn that, from that position, you can hit the ball about as accurately as if the club had been taken back straight from the ball and your swing made regularly.
