Baseball Toronto 6 Buffalo 2 ✦ Athletics Fast Time At Winnipeg ✦ Bowling Berlin Wins The Final

Note and Comment

Entries for the annual C.A.A.O. regatta at Port Dalhousie, July 30 and 31, closed yesterday with Capt. R. K. Barker, who states that the list is the best in the history of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen. Ottawa and the Argonauts have the most, including senior eighths, and they will be at our Henley from Halifax to Vancouver. The Lachines of Montreal are back again. The regatta committee meets next Monday afternoon to pass on the entries. A return fare of $1 by boat has been secured for the two days.

Following the Canadian Henley, the oarsmen and scullers go to Detroit for Uncle Sam's annual national rowing regatta on August 6 and 7 and already the oarsmen of the States are turning their attention to winning one of the much-coveted medals. There will be a small entry list from around Boston, but the New York, Philadelphia, Western and our own clubs will make up for it, and, like the C.A.A.O., the outs look for a big entry is encouraging.

No matter who is taken back by the Canadian Racing Associations, around Dufferin Park the impression gains ground that there will be no more outlaw racing and they'll all be glad to get back in the fold.

They are having their ups and downs in regard to winter racing in Mexico. Yielding to urgent requests of citizens of Lower California the Mexican Government may rescind the concession recently made to promoters to make Tia Juana a winter racing resort, while concessions to wager on horse races in Metamoras, Mexico, across the line from Brownsville, Texas, have been made to Dr. M. Baragan, the Mexican Consul for the City of Brownsville and a company. It is proposed to hold race meeting in winter.

Sam Langford failed to knock out the Chicago negro Klondyke in a six round bout at Pittsburg on Tuesday night. Klondyke weighed forty pounds more than Langford, who tried to land a knockout at all stages of the proceedings. He put the Chicago fighter down for the count of nine six times and administered a terrific beating. But Klondyke's head was so hard that he refused to go to sleep. Pittsburg critics who saw Ketchel knock Hugh McGann down fifteen times in a recent bout in that city now declare that Langford does not class with the Michigan Lion either as a puncher or a ring general. Langford is receiving some scorching criticism incidentally because of his refusal to take a chance with Ketchel in Nevada on Labor Day.

There is a fine field for cricket touring in the northwest and a Toronto team might make the trip with pleasure for themselves and benefit for the new clubs. Recently a Winnipeg team had a pleasurable jaunt when only one match was lost—to Binscarth—while victories were registered at Saltcoats, Yorkton, Birtle and Minnedosa. The touring cricketers were all pleased with their jaunt and western hospitality.

Philadelphia Record roasts the Quakers' bowling in the first match against Zingari: With the advent of Fleury another change was made in the bowling. Valentine giving way to Lynford Biddle, who after bowling overhand for a couple of overs, sent down some of the weirdest looking stuff ever seen on the cricket field. It would be hard to classify it, and if it was expected to take wickets it didn't succeed. Biddle was finally taken off and the changes were rung on the bowling frequently, and Saunders offered a chance of a catch and a run out to Biddle from the same ball, neither of which was accepted.

The mistakes proved costly, as Saunders continued to bat in fine style and 250 was signaled and the batsmen were still together. More changes were made in the bowling, but a separation was not effected until the total had reached 283. Six wickets were down when Beatty joined Saunders and another good stand was made. Both batsmen hit vigorously and the third century was hoisted. Saunders, meanwhile, was getting within measurable distance of his century, but with his total at 96 he had the misfortune to play a ball from M. Harris hard into his wicket. The batsmen continued to find the Philadelphia bowling easy picking.

L. J. Siebert showed his class in the 440 yards final that was decided first day of the C.A.A.U. championships at Winnipeg by winning from a fast field in 49 1-5 seconds, which is just the fraction behind the Canadian record. The times were generally good in the preliminaries, which points to unusually interesting finals on Saturday.

Here's a new one to get the opposing pitchers' nerves. At New York on Wednesday, when Schiel was passed on purpose in the second innings McGraw sent Meyers, one of the National League's few .300 hitters, out to sling bats as if he was going to hit. The stall failed to work, as Schiel walked and then Pitcher Ames stayed in the line-up and made a bit.

Joe Kelley In Slugging Mood His Three Hits Help Win Game

McGinley in Fine Form in Final Game at Buffalo—Montreal Shuts Out Rochester.

BUFFALO, July 15.—(Special.)—McGinley saved yesterday's game and won today's, making an even split between Toronto and Buffalo on the series. McGinley was hit hard in the third when Buffalo scored twice. Outside this period he had the Bisons tied with their noses close to the ground, one hit being their allowance in all but the first, third and sixth. The Buffalos are credited with more hits, also more errors and more bases on balls. Levi Knapp, who was loaned to Wilkes-Barre early in the season, was recalled owing to the wrecked pitching staff. Somebody made the big blunder of sending in a green catcher to uphold Knapp. The backstop's wild heaves to bases made the victory of Toronto much easier than the score would indicate. Manager Kelley evidently did not think much of Swartmiez, the local player, for he was not here to-day, and Joseph looked after right garden himself. He was in hitting mood, and his three whacks figured most prominently as runmakers. The Maple Leafs are going strong now and there is no reason why lost ground should not be recovered in short order. McGinley displayed rare form, having six strikeouts to his credit and walked but two. He was ably backed up by Vandy, who kept runners from becoming too frisky on base lines.

After Grim's out in the second Mahling drew from Knapp a ticket to first. Kelley hit the ball so hard to right that Flanagan fumbled long enough to let Mahling down to third. On Frick's hit to Knapp the latter tried for Mahling at the plate, but missed the runner. A wild pitch advanced both Kelley and Frick. Vandy's grounder was captured by Nattress and he chased Kelley toward the plate, the latter pulling up and beong retired. With Frick on third and Vandy on first, the double steal was tried and worked to perfection, Nattress' return of the ball striking the ground in front of the plate, Frick scoring. McGinley's fly ended the inning. Buffalo made two on four hits in the third. Toronto again took the lead in the fourth on another pass handed Mahling, Kelley's drive to centre and Williams' overthrow in an attempt to catch Mahling at third. Buffalo came to the front with a run in her half on Nattress' second two-bagger, followed by the sacrifices of Woods and Williams. That was the last for the home team.

Toronto clinched matters in the eighth. Weidy was off with a pass. When Houser hit a hard one at Brain the latter threw to second to get Weidy, but somebody neglected to cover the cushion, Weidy taking the oversight to reach third. Grimshaw could not get the boys home, also he advanced Houser. Mahling's out at first scored Weidy and Kelley's two-bagger was enough for Houser. The last stanza started with Vandy walking to first. Knapp fell all over himself trying for McGinley's bunt. A sacrifice hit by Fallon followed by Weidy's sacrifice fly carried Vandy around the diamond to the home plate with the sixth and last run. The Maple Leafs displayed a grand improvement in the last two games. Score:

P. G. McLean's annual excursion takes place on Saturday to Prospect Park, Niagara Falls, and the principal item on the sport program is a baseball game between the Hasbeens and the Up-to-dates. This game will be full of interest as keen rivalry exists between the opposing teams. The following is the line-up: Hasbeens: Dodds c, Woods p, Foster 1b, Sinclair 2b, Eduard 3b, Gallagher ss, Beckley lf, Kelly cf, Maguire rf. Up-to-dates—Evans c, Blackstone p, Dunn 1b, Palmer 2b, Burke ss, Clack 3b, Flint rf, Bennes cf, Powers lf. An effort is being made to secure Ed. Barnes of the Don Valley League to umpire.

EULER OF BUFFALO WINS O.B.A. TROPHY

Defeats Turnbull of Brantford by 24 to 16—Tourney Narrowing Down.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, July 15.—(Special.)—The premier honors of the O.B.A. tournament go to Euler and his fighting Dutchmen from Berlin, they defeating Turnbull of Brantford to-day in the finals for the trophy, in a game where Euler deserved to win, as he outbowled Turnbull all the way. The score was a tie at the fourteenth end, but Euler drew away in the next four ends and won by 24 to 16. Both scored an even number of ends, or nine, but Euler got his in bunches, having a six, a four and two threes to his credit, making as many on four ends as Turnbull did in nine, while Euler's other five were velvet.

Notwithstanding the importance of the game, the finals did not attract as large a gallery as in former years, two other games proving a better drawing card and let it be said, these other two were the best exhibitions of bowls seen at the tournament.

The first was in the sixth round of the consolation between Walker of Hamilton Thistles and Dr. Hamill of Alexandra, the playing all thru being of the highest, especially that of Marks, the lead for Dr. Hamill, whom his friends have labeled "The best bowler in the world." This game required an extra end, Walker, whose playing all thru had been perfect, drawing two close to the kitty on the line, after Hamill's third rink had run the kitty thru and lay shot.

The other game was between Begg of Canadas and Ecclestone of St. Kitts, the playing here seeing almost impossible shots being made, the players being able to put the bowls where they were wanted, Begg winning out by one shot after a measurement in the last end, thus leaving Begg and Greenwood of the Canadas in the finals for the association, Greenwood defeating Ecclestone 15 to 1.

The finals in the association and consociation will be played to-morrow, while doubles and singles will narrow down to the semi-finals.

One shot is worth a lot to a rink some times and this Tremble of Carr-Howell has found out, he losing in all three competitions by one shot, putting him out of everything. Scores:
