TWO MORE NEW BRUNSWICK MEN ON ROLL

USE ALL POSSIBLE PRESSURE TO CRIPPLE GERMAN TRADE

suade Germany of the fruitlessness of continuing the struggle."

Must Permanently Cripple German Trade

"We can stand the strain longer than Germany," continued Mr. Runciman, "and if we husband our resources the disaster that will fall upon her will be almost irreparable. We must make it clear, however, that when peace comes we will not permit the outbreak of the economic war which Germany would wage against ourselves and our allies."

Discussing the suggestion of free trade within the British Empire Mr. Runciman remarked that the Dominions of Great Britain were not likely to alter their methods or their attitude toward the mother country. The colonies were determined to raise their revenue and to foster their industries in their own way, and he was afraid the idea of free trade within the Empire must be dismissed.

"I feel the same way of the proposed Zollverein to include all the Allies, but if such an arrangement prove essential to end the war successfully, we shall have it, for there is no arrangement that the Allies are not prepared to make to that end."

A New Market in South America

He declared that the British Empire would recuperate after the war faster than any other country. "Then it will be our duty," he added, "to aid, as far as we can, France, Russia, Italy and our other allies. I would even add Germany at the bottom of the list, for no man would wish to see a period of prolonged poverty in Germany.

"But we have the right to demand that in the recuperation of Germany nothing be done which will make Italy, France, Russia, or Great Britain suffer.

"Moreover, I am not prepared to wait for the end of the war to take steps to deal with this matter. It has been all along the policy of the British Board of Trade to capture German trade while the war is still on. In the case of South America, we have since the war began developed a trade which I hope will continue long after the cessation of hostilities.

"British traders, despite the handicap of the war, have worked wonders in trade development. We have completely broken down the German monopolies in optical glass, dyes, electrical apparatus and certain chemicals, and these monopolies will not again be regained. The policy of the Board of Trade is that there shall be no essential article either for the arts of peace or war that we cannot produce within either Great Britain or the Empire.

"I fully appreciate that one of the first necessities is the improvement of our research methods and the technical education of the rising generation. There is also need for putting through of patents and copyrights on a different basis.

"The Board of Trade is looking ahead. We must ask the co-operation of our dominions; we must see that control of the metals of the Empire passes entirely from German hands; we must keep control of the world's coal; we must secure control of the supply of oil.

"As regards shipping, we must see that foreign subsidized shipping shall not have free run of our ports to the disadvantage of our ships. While the war is on we must do everything in our power to destroy German finance, credit and trade.

"The motion which the House of Commons is discussing today has ploughed fruitful soil. It will show the enemy that we are not yet at the end of our ingenuity in winning the war. The work of the Board of Trade shall be to see that after the war Germany does not have the opportunity of re-organizing her commercial system before our trade has begun to flow in ever-increasing volume, to see that Germany has not a chance to reconstruct her war machinery."

Militia Statistics of Ireland.

London, Jan. 10 (5.40 p. m.)—The exclusion of Ireland from compulsory service led to a request for the numbers of men available for military service, and of those actually recruited in that country. This information was communicated in the House of Commons today.

The men between 19 and 41 available for military service in the four provinces of Ireland on August 15 last, were approximately as follows: Leinster, 174,597; Ulster, 169,489; Munster, 136,637; Connaught, 81,392. Up to December 15, the returns show enlistments approximately as follows: Leinster, 27,458; Ulster, 49,760; Munster, 14,190; Connaught, 4,589.

18 POUNDS OF BLOOD

is the average quantity in a healthy adult, but it is the quality of the blood that determines our strength to resist sickness. With weak blood we find cold hands and chilly feet; in children an aversion to study, and in adults rheumatic tendencies.

In changing seasons get abundant fresh air and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals, because Scott's Emulsion is a rich blood-food that will increase both quantity and quality of the blood while it warms the body and helps carry off the impurities.

When multitudes of people are today taking Scott's Emulsion to avert winter sickness, and are giving it to their children, it is careless to neglect its benefits. Look out for substitutes.

Gallipoli Withdrawal Without a Parallel In Naval History

London, Jan. 10.—The British retirement from the Dardanelles was referred to by Premier Asquith in addressing the House of Commons this afternoon.

"The House will learn with extreme gratification of the retirement of the forces at Cape Helles (at the tip of the Gallipoli peninsula) without the loss of a single life," the premier said. "Of 11 guns left behind, 10 were worn out fifteen-pounders which were rendered unfit for further service before they were abandoned. All stores of reserve ammunition which could not be removed were set afire before the retirement.

"The whole retirement was conducted with minimum loss. These operations, taken in conjunction with the earlier ones from Suvla and Anzac are, I believe, without parallel in naval history. That they should have been carried out without any loss, considering the vast amount of personnel and material involved, is an achievement whereof all concerned—the commanding officers, officers and men of both services—may well be proud. It deserves, and I am sure will receive, the profound gratitude of King and country and take an imperishable place in our national history. His Majesty will be advised that Monroe, Robeck, Wemyss, Birdwood, David and other officers should receive special recognition."

POLICE MOBBED BY STRIKERS

Several battered heads as result of clash between authorities and dissatisfied employes of American Aluminum Co.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Jan. 10—Rioting followed a strike of a thousand employees of the American Aluminum Company here today. The strikers stormed the plant, in an effort to bring out the men whose shifts ended during the day, and attacked the police on guard with stones. The police fired three shots in the air and attacked the crowd with night sticks. Several policemen were slightly injured, and four Poles were taken to the hospital with battered heads.

The men were getting from $2.15 to $2.30 a day and asked for an increase of thirty cents. The company offered ten cents, which was refused.

PRINCE MAY BE REGENT IN GREECE

PRINCE GEORGE OF GREECE.

News received from Athens states that the condition of King Constantine has rapidly become so grave that Prince George, the King's eldest son and heir to the throne, will soon be made regent. Prince George is twenty-five years old and has been educated for both the army and navy.

RADIO STATIONS HELPED SAVE MANY LIVES

Efficiency of Service Being Maintained by Naval Service Department Demonstrated on Many Occasions During Past Year.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—Mr. G. J. Desbarats, Deputy Minister of the Naval Service Department, states in his annual report that "The value of an efficient radio-telegraph service was demonstrated on many occasions throughout the year, assistance rendered to disabled ships by means of this service having resulted in the saving of many lives and ships."

Ten cases of assistance are cited in the report. The ships in distress were on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and on the Great Lakes. There are now 247 wireless stations in the Dominion including those installed on ships. The government stations number 41. There are ten government stations on the Pacific coast. They form a chain from Victoria to Prince Rupert and are used not only for communicating with ships but are used to a great extent also for commercial correspondence. There were 98,386 messages sent on the Pacific coast as against 75,631 on the Great Lakes and Atlantic coast. The total messages handled by the coast stations as compared with the previous year show a decrease of 30,000 messages. This decrease is directly attributable to the war and to the placing of coast stations on a war basis.

New Stations to be Built This Year.

A new wireless station will be built this year on Mansel Island in Hudson Straits. It will communicate with the station at Port Nelson and with vessels passing in and out. A site has been purchased for a new station in Cote Saint Michel at Montreal and construction will start this year. There are 81 employes in the radio-telegraph branch of the naval service department under Mr. F. P. Edwards, general superintendent. Mr. G. J. Desbarats, Deputy Minister of Naval Service, reports that "Considerable inconvenience has been experienced in the different branches by the enlistment of employes, particularly those entrusted with technical work."

Berlin, Jan. 9, by wireless to Sayville—The war office announced today that near Hirzstein, south of Hartmans-Weilerkopf, the Germans yesterday completed their conquest of trenches which on December 21st fell into the hands of the French. Twenty officers, 1,083 chasseurs and fifteen machine guns were captured.

TRADE BALANCE SOON IN FAVOR OF THE DOMINION

Imports from United States continue to show big decrease while value of Exports has increased proportionately.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Jan. 9.—A remarkable change has come over the trade situation between Canada and the United States. Four years ago Canada imported from the United States goods to the value of $412,657,022 and exported $145,721,650, leaving an adverse balance against Canada of nearly 267 million dollars; but with the year 1912 a change began to be shown and during the twelve months ended October last, Canada imported from the United States goods valued at $346,569,924, and exported $314,118,774. The trade balance against Canada has dropped to 32 and a half million dollars. It is fully expected in Ottawa that during the next twelve months the trade balance for the first time in history will be against the United States.

During the last few years the development of Canadian resources and manufacturers has been remarkable and the Dominion seems to be on the crest of a wave of unprecedented commercial prosperity.

The trade situation regarding Great Britain is peculiar. In 1912 Canada imported from the United Kingdom $130,368,304 and exported $167,758,351. And in 1915 our imports from the United Kingdom had dropped to $72,229,977 while Britain's purchases from Canada amounted to $277,526,960.

Five-Chapter Features vs. Shorter Features

This is probably the most debated subject in motion picture circles everywhere. For many months we have been offering four or five chapter feature pictures, and our patrons have expressed their approval in an emphatic and tangible manner. But by way of contrast, for the first three days of this week we shall depart from our regular policy and present Three separate and distinct short features. We are confident of the pleasure to be derived from this splendid assortment, and shall note with some degree curiosity the the comparative interest in the two classes of pictures.

SCHOOL BOARD ES SLIGHTLY L

Several matters of interest Board meeting last eve suggested for care of tru and Penny Savings Ban

The monthly meeting of the Board of School Trustees was held last night, R. B. Emerson presiding, the others present being Trustees Ingraham, Dr. Manning, Day, Coll, Nagle, Russell and Green with the superintendent, Dr. Bridges, the secretary and truant officer.

Applications were read from Miss L. A. Burchill, of Chatham, and Miss Greta M. Parlee, of St. John, for positions on the teaching staff and were referred to the teachers' committee. A communication was read from Miss May V. Alward, late teacher in the Winter street school, asking to be allowed to resign her position as she had accepted a better position in Moncton. Her resignation was accepted. An application from W. Fitzgerald, of Westmorland road, for the janitorship of the Aberdeen school was ordered to be filed.

Dr. Carter, chief superintendent of education, having enquired as to whether it might be possible to create greater interest in the mechanical drawing and manual training department in the Centennial schools it was pointed out that F. Peacock, director of manual training for the province, had recently visited the schools and had reported to Dr. Carter that the enrolment appeared to be unduly slim. Dr. Bridges stated that good work was being done by the two teachers in the manual training depart-
