GREAT STORM IN BRITAIN

ENORMOUS DAMAGE TO SHIPPING IN ENGLAND AND WALES.

Many Vessels Believed to Have Been Wrecked and Scores of Persons Injured—The Porte Will Make an Attempt to Disarm the Roumanians—Decoration Selling by a Berlin Official.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Owing to a severe storm prevailing in England the telegraph wires in many places are prostrated and communication with the coast and between the larger cities is difficult.

The great storm to-day flooded the low lands of North Wales, causing great damage. The wind was peculiarly savage at and about Tamworth. It overturned a number of tents on the race track at Faxeley, a mile or so from Tamworth, while the races were in progress. Many persons who had sought shelter in the tents were severely injured.

The storm was specially severe along the English Channel. At Hastings heavy seas swept over the promenade and the damage there and at the other watering places along the Kent coast will be enormous.

A French brig has been stranded near Falmouth, where the force of the wind shattered her to pieces. No further details of her can be obtained. A Norwegian vessel loaded with coal is a total wreck off Kenney, county Down, Ireland.

Several collisions have occurred in the Thames and many vessels were driven ashore.

A Circus Demolished.

The gale demolished Batty's circus, which was giving an exhibition at Bray in Ireland. The tent was crowded with the village school children. When the wind struck it a wild panic ensued. Many persons, mostly children, were injured by the falling poles. The grown up people cut a way through the fallen walls and rescued the little ones.

FOR SELLING TITLES.

A German Official Who Used His Office for Personal Gain

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—A case on something of a parallel with the late French decoration scandal has just been concluded in this city. Herr Manche, the ex-chief of the civil cabinet of Emperor William I., was charged with accepting bribes for his services in return for procuring titles. A manufacturer named Thomas deposed before the court to his paying Aron Meyer, an associate of Manche, 3000 marks to obtain for him the title of Commercerath (councillor of commerce). Afterwards he personally confided to Herr Manche 30,000 marks to distribute in various charities. Other witnesses gave similar testimony and Manche was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment, and his accomplice, Meyer, to four months' incarceration.

It's a Way They Have in Japan.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 13.—Japanese exchanges received per Empress of India to-day relate that the bark Archus of New Chwang, laden with beans, was totally wrecked during a typhoon at the entrance of Nagaski harbor and all aboard perished. The crew were Chinese, but the captain and officers Europeans.

At Vladivostock about Sept. 14 16 Russian convicts working on a new railway attempted to escape. Two were shot down, but 14 escaped. These killed three inmates of a farm house to obtain their clothes. A French officer was killed for the same reason, and a Russian bandmaster returning from the funeral of the officer was also killed and the body stripped.

This Beats Mustard Poultices.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.—The Russian warders of Siberian prisons have discovered that the eating of herrings can be turned into a new means of punishment. When a prisoner refuses to betray his accomplices—or has none to betray—he is fed solely on salt herrings and is locked in a small heated cell with nothing to drink. This punishment causes violent inflamination of the mucous membrane of the throat and stomach, the tongue protrudes like a bit of tanned leather, the bloodshot eyes start from their sockets and the skin bursts into agonizing boils.

To Disarm the Albanians.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 14.—The Porte with a view of preventing the bloody feuds and outbreaks of lawlessness which have occurred lately has ordered the Governor of Scutari to disarm the Albanians. The Governor declares that the scheme is well nigh impossible, that it is certain to lead to serious disturbances and probably end in revolution. The Albanians as well armed.

Prof. Rudolph Virchow, th famous Berlin pathologist, yesterday received the congratulations of thousands upon the occasion of his 70th birthday.

M. Brisson, ex-President of the French Chamber of Deputies, intends to introduce a bill granting amnesty to political offenders, including the exiled prince and M. Rochefort.

The steamer Critic, arrived at Lith from New York, reports having encountered fearful weather during the passage. Two of her firemen were swept overboard and drowned.

The North German Gazette to-day denies that an understanding has been arrived at between Germany and the United States by which American cereals are to be admitted to Germany free of duty.

Lord Salisbury's reply to the Porte note sent to the powers regarding the Dardanelles incident politely informs the Porte that if vessels of the Russian volunteer fleet are allowed to pass the Dardanelles Great Britain claims the same right for her "volunteer" vessels.

M. De Giers, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Marquis Di Rudinì, the Italian Premier, had a long conference at Milan yesterday. The conference is understood, has no special motive other than that attributed to the Czar's desire to show plainly that he is determined to maintain the peace of Europe if it is possible to do so.

Two apprentices of a tailor named Callen at Eschwege, Germany, who had been thrashed for some infraction of rules, scraped the phosphorus from the tops of a lot of matches and put the poison in the beer, which their master drank. Herr Callen died soon afterwards, having suffered great agony from the poison.

An unknown man, supposed to be a German-American, has just committed suicide at a hotel in Soest, Prussia. The sum of 50,000 marks was found in his pockets. The stranger spoke both English and German fluently, but no one with whom he had conversed had gained any clue as to his identity or the place from which he hailed.

THE STURDY SCOTCHMEN.

They Will Not Throw the Kilted Laddies on the Cold Charity of Strangers.

The Caledonian Society held its regular monthly meeting in Room 2, Y.M.C.A. building, Yonge street, last evening. The City Council's grant of $3000 towards the equipment of the kilted regiment was warmly discussed, and regarding the matter the following resolution was unanimously carried:

Moved by Mr. Walker and seconded by Mr. Gibbs, That the Caledonian Society is prepared to make a grant towards the equipment of a Highland regiment and recommend that the necessary funds be raised by voluntary subscription; and while the society feels grateful to the City Council for the courteous manner in which the council acted upon the application of the regimental committee, they cannot agree with the principle of granting money raised by taxation for such purposes.

Messrs Robert Jaffray, Dr. Clark, Dr. Bryce, Inspector Stephen and others spoke warmly in favor of the resolution. Mr Walker, in urging his motion, expressed the conviction that it was not yet necessary for Scotchmen to go to strangers with the hat when they wished to do anything of this kind.

THE LATE ARCHBISHOP LYNCH.

Dedication of a Chapel to the Memory of His Grace.

In the bright sunshine and crisp air early yesterday morning an interesting ceremony was performed inside and outside of the beautiful little addition to St. Michael's Cathedral.

For months past skilled workmen have been giving the finishing touches to the sanctuary, which will henceforth be known as the Chapel of St. John the Divine. It is situate at the northeast corner of the Cathedral and access for the public is by way of Church-street. There is accommodation for 200 worshippers. The chapel is for daily services and will always be open for devotions. The windows are of stained glass, the furnishings of the most approved description. There is a very handsome altar of gothic design, manufactured by Bennet of London, Eng.

The dedication service took place at 7.30 o'clock, and early as was the hour the chapel was thronged. His Grace Archbishop Walsh performed the solemn ceremony, assisted by Vicar-General McCann and Father Williams. The archiepiscopal procession, His Grace being attired in cope and mitre and attended by clergy, cross-bearers and acolytes, passed round the chapel sprinkling holy water and burning incense. The same function was then performed outside, and the novel sight attracted the attention of many outside spectators. After the blessing of the edifice, the recitation of special prayers, the Archbishop celebrated mass.

There will be an 8 o'clock morning service every week day in the chapel. St. Michael's Cathedral will be specially for Sunday and high-day celebrations in the Catholic calendar. Those who were present yesterday spoke in terms of praise of the new place where prayer will be daily made.

GOD'S ACRE.

A Visit to Prospect Cemetery—Its Lovely Situation and Picturesque Grounds.

The new Prospect Cemetery, situated in St. Clair avenue, about a quarter of a mile west of Dufferin-street and north of Davenport-road, was visited Saturday afternoon by Messrs. Warring Kennedy, Dr. H. E. Buchan, D. E. Thomson, Q.C., W. B. McMurrich, Q.C., John Harvie and John C. Copp, gentlemen of the General Burying Ground Trust.

The cemetery is well designated "The Prospect," as before it spreads the most picturesque portion of the city and suburbs. The clear blue waters of Lake Ontario can be seen for miles, and to the westward the valley of the Humber with its wooded hills and scattered farm-houses extends as far as the eye can reach.

Mr. Joseph Earnshaw of Cincinnati, one of the best landscape gardeners on the continent, who fully maintained his reputation in the artistic manner of laying out the grounds. Of course the real beauty of the designs cannot be attained till the trees grow to maturity, but it is evident that Prospect Cemetery will be a favorite burying ground. Some 30 acres of the 100 acres are devoted to a fine park and drive. Just back of this on the rising ground stands a handsome mortuary for the reception of bodies during the winter months designed and erected by Mr. W. G. Storm. It is built of red brick, with stone ornaments, and harmonizes well with the surroundings. The drives and avenues have been drained at great cost, according to the latest modes, making the carriage ways the finest of any cemetery in the city.

Just back of the mortuary stands a pretty little grey marble monument, under which lie the remains of the unfortunate Sophie Hancock. Near by is a division set apart for single graves. Already quite a number of little green mounds, some with handfuls of wilted flowers placed there by the loving hands of sorrowing playmates, mark the burial places of the children. Up to date there have been 100 interments. Several persons have moved the remains of their friends from other grounds to this most desirable spot.

A never-failing trout stream flows through the cemetery, and in the near future this will be utilized to form an artificial lake, with bridges and arbors. The level and the undulating, the wooded hillside and the low bottom lands, all necessary for the perfect cemetery—are to be found here. Indeed nature has done all she will could to make this a beautiful God's Acre, and it needs only man's ingenuity to make this as far ahead of Mount Pleasant as the latter excels the Necropolis. The premises are being put in order by Mr. John W. Pinder. The grounds contain 105 acres, are 1½ miles long and were purchased for the sum of $20,000.

Householders don't know what they are missing in the way of home comforts if they have not tried what the C. F. Adams Company can do. No matter what is needed in furniture, it can be had in their establishment at 177 to 179 Yonge-street through to 6 Queen-street east at as low a price as in cash houses, and 20 to 40 per cent. less than in other so-called instalment establishments. Their enormous output of furniture amply proves that the C. F. Adams Company have the popular goods at popular prices. Have you been there? 136

Presbyterian Home Missions.

The Executive of the Presbyterian Home Mission Committee with the Committee on Augmentation met yesterday in St. Andrew's Church lecture room at 9 a.m. and continued in session during the day and evening. Rev Dr Cochrane the convener, occupied the chair and Rev Dr Warden of Montreal, acted as clerk. There were present also Dr Robertson of Winnipeg, Dr Campbell of Renfrew, Dr Laing of Dundas, Rev P W Farries of Ottawa, Rev D J Macdonnell and Rev A Gilray of Toronto, Rev Mr Somerville of Owen Sound, Rev A Tolmie of Southampton and Rev Robert Moodie of Stayner. The reports showed that $3,350 had been distributed in the last six months in augmentation claims and the sum of $24,000 for missions work.

The Belt Line.

Coming events cast their shadows before, and to-day will witness the precursor of a long-looked-for event, the opening of the Belt Line of railway throughout its entire course. The section to be opened to-day is that between the Union Station and Merton-street, at the rear of the new Upper Canada College, Deer Park. For the accommodation of visitors to the annual prize distribution a special train will leave the Union Station at 1 p.m. to-day. This will be the first trip over a section of the new line.

Died While Reading a Son's Loving Message.

WHO WILL LEAD THE HOUSE?

SIR MICHAEL HICKS-BEACH DOES NOT SEEK THE OFFICE.

The McCarthyites Will Not Issue a Counter Manifesto to the Parnellites—Parnell's Brother to Contest the Cork Constituency Recently Represented by the "Uncrowned King."

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, speaking this evening at the union of the Conservative Associations in regard to the vacant leadership in the House of Commons, declared that he accepted the office most reluctantly in 1885 and insisted upon resigning in 1886 against the wishes of the Marquis of Salisbury and the remonstrances of Lord Randolph Churchill. He thought then and he thought now that another person would be better qualified for the post; therefore he neither expected nor desired to have it conferred upon him.

The meeting then passed a resolution to urge the Government to introduce a measure to reduce the Irish representation in Parliament to an equitable ratio to that of the English and Scotch.

Unending Strife for Ireland.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13.—The Freeman's Journal, commenting on the manifesto issued by the Parnellites, bitterly deplores their manifest intention to nurture the spirit of faction. "Unending strife," says The Journal, "is the prospect they place before the country. The program thus offered is the greatest act of cruel, senseless treachery ever perpetrated upon the Irish nation."

The National Press, speaking on the same subject, says of the Parnellites: "It is well known that they are now but the mere puppets of the secret societies."

Justin McCarthy in an interview today said that he did not intend to issue a manifesto or reply to the manifesto issued by the Parnellites last night. He also said his colleagues had hoped that over the grave of Mr. Parnell all differences would have been forgotten.

It is generally believed John Howard Parnell will contest for the seat in Parliament (Cork city) left vacant by the death of C. S. Parnell.

Mrs. Dickenson, the married sister of the late Mr. Parnell, has written a letter in which she says that much as her brother desired to see unity in the Irish Parliamentary party, she is certain he would never have sanctioned a union between those whom he regarded as the champions of Ireland's national honor and those whom he looked upon as its betrayers.

The Freeman's Journal says the manifesto of the Parnellites renders an honorable reconciliation impossible and that it is now under solemn obligations to advise the Irish people to drive from public life every man continuing in the minority party.

Chapleau Said to Have Been Promised the Railways and Canals Portfolio.

[Associated Press Report.]

OTTAWA, Oct, 13.—A prominent (Con.) M.P. whose name has been mentioned in connection with a Cabinet portfolio is authority for the statement that the Minister of Railways and Canals has been selected. Hon. J. A. Chapleau gets the vacant position and Hon. J. A. Ouimet, late Speaker of the House of Commons, succeeds him as Secretary of State. Hon. Mr. Angers, Lieut.-Governor of Quebec, is further stated, enters the Cabinet at the close of his term in October next year and Sir Adolphe Caron succeeds him at Spencerwood. Also that in the event of the ministry deciding to give effect to the law creating the portfolios of Commerce and Solicitor-General, the latter will be given to Mr. D. Girouxe, Q.C., M.P.

THE TALE OF A TAILOR.

Which So Impressed a Jury That They Gave Him $25.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 13.—At the Assizes today S. P. Fraser, tailor, sued Donald Fraser, banker, for assault. One Sunday morning in March the banker went to the tailor's hotel to get money, because he had heard Fraser was leaving for California. The banker admitted trying to secure the money by force. He told the tailor he was sorry for what had occurred and apologized. The banker said he had lost $618 and the cost of a lawsuit through his relations with Tailor Fraser. The jury gave a verdict of $25 for the tailor.

WHERE THE SICK GROW WELL.

An Institution That Cannot Hide Its Head, Strive as it May

Hillcrest Convalescent Home deservedly ranks high amongst Toronto's many philanthropic institutions. It has a special mission, and it performs this very well. Although the Home is set on a hill—Wells' Hill, at the head of Bathurst-street—the good work done is for the most part hidden from the public gaze. Hence the importance of the records submitted at the annual meeting of the friends of the Home.

This took place yesterday afternoon in the parlor of the Y.M.C.A. building, Yonge-street. Ladies formed the large majority of those present. Ex-Mayor Howland, whose appearances of late in similar capacities have been as rare as angels' visits, was in his element as chairman. Rev. John Pearson of Holy Trinity led the devotions. Then, with rollicking and academy the chairman sketched the successful career and truly Christian character of the Home. "It has," said he, "accomplished wonders and that in the most unpretentious way. It is a very lovable work. That is the only word which really expresses its nature." Then Mr. Howland spoke of the benefits of the quiet rest and good foods, and how the patients free from disease but still weak, "pick up wonderfully" at Hillcrest. He gave unstinted praise to the ladies who have the entire management of the home.

An Interesting Survey.

Mr. John I. Davidson, President of the Board of Trade, who takes a deep interest in the Convalescent Home, read the fourth annual report, which stated the year had been one of great progress. Improvements had been made which afford double the accommodation and increase the efficiency of the institution. A new roadway and approach to the home had been made at a cost of $770; an efficient water supply had been provided, costing $320, and a new cottage had been erected owing to the large increase of patients. The addition is fitted up on the best sanitary principles, with baths and other conveniences, and has facilitated the classification of patients and brings up the accommodation to 53. There had been spent on the new wing $6170, leaving $2170 still to be raised, and upon furnishings. During the year 322 patients had been admitted, an increase of 80 over last year. Of the total number 171 were women and 14 children.

Mr. Davidson gave point and piquancy to the most salient features of the report and concluded by moving the adoption of the report.

Rev. Professor Wrong seconded the motion, which was adopted.

Mr. J. W. Hoyles, Q.C., read the treasurer's report. This showed that during the year there had been received from the Ontario Government $2667 grant, $3000 for patients, $2000 from patients and friends, $213; subscriptions and donations, $2677. These sums, with the big balance in hand at the beginning of last year, brought the total receipts up to $7924. The improvements and management all this had been spent save $9.

Mr. Davidson moved the adoption of the treasurer's account. Mr. Hoyles pleaded for $3000, which would place the institution clear of liability.

Mr. Henry O'Brien seconded the motion. Carried.

What the Doctors Say.

Dr. Spencer read the medical report. This was of a fairly satisfactory nature. Of the 322 patients none had died in the Home; 209 came from the General Hospital 5 from the Hospital for Sick Children, 3 from the Hospital of St. John the Divine. Typhoid fever was the chief cause of the disease for which 19 had to be nursed. Some suffered; rheumatism ranked next, then bronchitis and phthisis.

Dr. Wishart complained that the medical men of the city did not sufficiently recommend and make use of the Convalescent Home. He spoke in the highest terms of all appertaining to Hillcrest.

On the motion of Rev. Dr. Parsons, seconded by Mr. A. C. Gibson, the following ladies were appointed managers of the Home for the year ensuing:

President—Mrs. Gibson.
Vice-Presidents—Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Hodgins.
Treasurer—Miss M. B. Greig.
Secretary—Miss S. Muckle.
Committee—Miss Aikens, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Bryne, Mrs. Cockshutt, Mrs. J. I. Davidson, Mrs. Gunther, Lady Gzowski, Mrs. Hocking, Mrs. Jarvis, Mrs. A. B. Lee, Miss Lay, Miss W. Macdonald, Miss Morris, Miss O'Brien, Miss Parsons, Mrs. Paterson, Miss Sewell, Mrs. Shortiss, Mrs. Vandervoursieen, Mrs. Wakefield.

Votes of thanks to the chairman and the lady managers concluded a highly successful meeting.

The new wing of the Convalescent Home will be opened on the 22nd inst.

Not a Cent of Debt.

Arrangements have been made for the consecration of St. Luke's Church by the bishop of the diocese on Sunday, Oct. 18 (the festival of St. Luke), at 3.30 p.m. Services will be as follows: Holy Communion at 8 a.m. with a sermon by Archdeacon Boddy; consecration service at 3.30 p.m. by Rev Lord, Bishop of Diocese; choral evensong at 7, sermon by Rev. Canon DuMoulin. On Monday, 19th inst., an "All Home" will be given in the school house at 8 p.m. and on Tuesday evening the younger members of the church and Sunday school are invited to the present. St. Luke's may now be added to painfully brief list of churches which have no debt, the last dollar having been recently paid off.

THE COFFINS AND BONES SAVED

But the Building and Horses Totally Destroyed.

DRUMMONDVILLE, Oct. 13.—The undertaking establishment of M. Morse was destroyed by fire last night. Two horses were burned to death, but the hearse and most of the coffins were saved. The loss is $4000. The bones of the British soldiers taken from the trench in the sand pit a month ago were in the building, but were saved and will be buried by the military at the breaking of the camp at Niagara.

A Newmarket Fire.

NEWMARKET, Oct. 13.—About 5.30 this morning a small tool shop in Botsford-street, occupied by Travis & Hunter, and a stable belonging to John Eves were burned. Travis & Hunter's loss is about $200, no insurance. John Eves' loss is about $300, fully insured in the Western. The cause of the fire is supposed to be incendiary.

SUNOL LOWERS HER RECORD.

Bonner's Mare Trots in 2.10 Against a Heavy Wind.

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 13.—In the face of a strong wind yesterday Robert Bonner's mare Sunol trotted a mile over the new kite-shaped track in 2.10, lowering her record half a second.

Senator Sanford's stallion Palo Alto trotted a mile against his own record of 2.12¼, but failed to equal it owing to the strong wind. He made the mile in 2.12¾.

BIG LESSON IN PATRIOTISM

FOURTEEN HUNDRED YOUNG CANADIANS SHOW THEIR METTLE.

The Battle of Queenston Heights Commemorated By the School Boys—They Shoulder Their Guns and Show How Fields Are Won—Col. Denison Tells Them Who the Sneaks Are.

The school children of the city learned a historical episode yesterday so well that it is not likely that it will ever fade from their memories. They may forget the exact date of Nero's memorable violin obligato, with Roman fire-bell accompaniment; they may forget just when Columbus discovered America, or even when Wellington licked Boney, but after yesterday they will be sound in the chronology of the Battle of Queenston Heights.

Fourteen hundred or more of them turned out to parade. Each bore a gun, or at least the semblance of one, and all performed many military evolutions, forming into line, forming columns to the right and left, wheeling in quarters and marching past in columns and quarter columns.

This exhibition was given on the Bloor-street Cricket Grounds. The scene was indeed a beautiful one. The day was clear. The bright sun tempered the chilly breeze. The trees that fringed the open space were tinted by the frost in many shades of gold and crimson.

The little brothers and sisters, the fathers and mothers of the exultant boys who joined in the memory of war, were there in great numbers. And as the company to which their Johnnie belonged marched by their faces lit up with pride.

The boys themselves had something of a martial bearing. Their movements were more orderly than those of many military regiments.

After the review exercises the boys were drawn up in hollow square and Colonel Denison arrayed in his Body Guard uniform and mounted on his war horse delivered a short but stirring address. He complimented the boys on their fine appearance their soldierly marching and expressed his conviction that they would be ready at any time to defend their country.
