ROYALTY AT ASCOT RACES

Duke of Portland's William the Third Won Gold Cup, Feature Event of the Day.

ST. JAMES' STAKES FOR SCEPTRE

Auto Outside the Money at Sheepshead Bay, Where Hatasoo Won Swift Stakes.

London, June 19.—Gold Cup Day, the most important from a social view point of the whole Ascot week, attracted an immense concourse of spectators to the Heath to-day. The royal procession arrived on the grounds about 1 o'clock. Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and other members of the royal family and the Windsor Castle guests occupied royal carriages, which were greeted on all sides with cheers from the brilliant gathering of people. The club tents and royal and other enclosures were filled with ladies in dainty summer costumes. Oriental princes in vari-colored raiment and distinguished visitors from all parts of the world.

After the lunch interval the people flocked to the paddock to inspect the Gold Cup runners. The field numbered eleven horses, the largest in many years, and was of a quite international character, the United States, Great Britain and France being well represented. There were no less than six Americans out of the eleven jockeys. The open character of the race was evidenced in the heavy betting, the representatives of each country having plenty of friends.

The Gold Cup (value 1000 sovereigns, with 3000 sovereigns in specie in addition, about 2 miles), was won by the Duke of Portland's William the Third. Osbach was second and Santoi third.

William C. Whitney's Volodyovski, with J. H. Martin in the saddle, and Foxhall Keene's Cap and Bells, ridden by Spencer, represented the United States, but they were not placed, and Maher, the rider of Osbach, was the sole American jockey to secure a place.

The race proved to be a hollow affair. Cap and Bells II. and the Duke of Portland's Mannlicher led to the Swinley course, when Mannlicher assumed command. At the brick kilns William the Third took up the running and won in a canter by five lengths. Three lengths separated the second and third horses.

The betting was 2 to 1 against William the Third, 9 to 2 against Osbach and 8 to 1 against Santoi.

The All-Aged Stakes (of 5 sovereigns each, with 300 sovereigns added, for 2-year-olds and upwards, 6 furlongs), was won by a French horse, Reine Des Fleurs, ridden by J. Reiff.

Mr. S. Sheyer's bay filly Sceptre won the St. James' Palace Stakes (of 100 sovereigns each, with 200 sovereigns added, for 3-year-olds), Flying Lemur was second and Rising Glass came in third.

Ethel Wheat Slowed Up.

Chicago, June 19.—While two lengths in the lead, 100 yards from the wire, in the Austin Stakes, at Harlem to-day, Jockey Heigerson, apparently believing that victory was his, eased up his mount, Ethel Wheat, and lost a $3000 purse. The weather was clear, and the track fairly fast. Summaries:

First race, 5½ furlongs—Horatius, 108 (Donnelly), 15 to 1, 1; Gallant Smith, 103 (Crone), 10 to 1, 2; John C. King, 103 (Dean), 9 to 5, 3. Time 1.08 2-5.

Jockey Feud in Paris.

Paris, June 19.—As a result of the riding of the American jockeys for the Prix Rueuen Court, at the Bois de Boulogne meeting, to-day, which was won by W. K. Vanderbilt's Bright, ridden by MacGinn, with Astronome (Milton Henry), second, and Gay (Rigby), third, the stewards of the Jockey Club have opened an inquiry into their conduct. The only other runner was Keepsake, ridden by Stern, an English jockey. Protests were raised at the conclusion of the racing on the ground that Stern was obstructed. The talk of racing circles recently has been the feud between the American jockeys and their English rivals. The latter greatly resented the American invasion of the French turf, which they regarded as their preserve, and they were further excited by the styles of American successes. At the same time, there is considerable dissatisfaction among racing men at the methods adopted by the American jockeys on several occasions. The French press has taken the side of the Englishmen, especially in the case of Stern, who has held his own against his American competitors, and who is said to have been picked out by the latter for obstructive treatment. The feud first took a serious character at the Bois de Boulogne meeting of June 10, when jostling occurred between the Americans and Stern in the race for the Prix Chaveau, during the course of which Stern slashed one of the Americans across the face with his whip. Stern, who was then riding the favorite, was only able to finish fourth, Americans taking first and second places. Stern complained to the stewards that the Americans corralled him and prevented him from winning. The stewards, however, decided to only give the Americans warning, because Stern had put himself in the wrong by using his whip. Several similar incidents happened at the Bois de Boulogne meeting on the following Thursday. In one race, an Englishman, Harrison, complained of the behavior of J. Reiff, and in another race, there was renewed jostling, and an American, McIntyre, gave Stern a blow with his whip, for which the stewards suspended McIntyre for the next meeting. In the following race, there was more trouble, Stern, who won, was disqualified, and suspended for the next meeting for pushing Thorpe, an American, against the fence. After the weighing-in, Thorpe struck Stern twice with his fist. There was no further trouble until to-day.

No Matter How Long

It takes England to defeat the Boers, it is now an acknowledged fact that the famous "Collegian" cigar, which The Collegian Cigar Store retails at 5 cents straight, is superior to any so-called 10-cent brands.

G. GAUDAUR WANTS TO ROW

Ex-Champion Jake Out of the Game and His Brother Would Meet Durnan, Plaistead, Etc.

HIS RECORD AS A SINGLE SCULLER

Defeated Many Good Men Both in Amateur and Professional Races.

It is the intention of Charlie Gaudaur, brother of Ex-Champion Jake, to engage actively in sculling this summer, and, with that end in view, is offering to meet Plaistead, Durnan, Wise or any of the men now before the public. Charlie is the youngest of the Gaudaur family, and is now residing in Barrie. Jake has completely recovered from his accident on the ice last winter, but, having reached the age of 48 years, everyone will excuse him from getting into the game again. Charlie Gaudaur has pretentious records on the water, both as an amateur and as a professional, as the following will show:

1885—Rowed in amateur regatta at Orillia in lapstreak race, winning second place in a field of six. In fall, rowed matched race for silver cup with Peter Jamieson, winning by three lengths.

1886—Rowed in Canadian Regatta at Beaverton against White, Thomson and Murphy, winning easily. In September, rowed matched race at Orillia for trophy and championship of Northern District against G. S. Whiten of Orillia, but was beaten, after a hotly-contested race and a close finish.

1887—Rowed matched race at Orillia in July with Whiten, this time proving too speedy for the veteran.

From 1887 to 1890, was in the Northwest with government survey.

1890—Rowed first professional race against Annis at Orillia, 2 miles, with turn, for $250 a side, winning handily. Rowed again at regatta at Collingwood against Humphrey, Foley, Annis and Graham, winning first money. Rowed same day in the doubles with Annis against Humphrey and Foley, again winning first place. Same year, was beaten by Conlin, Enright at Port Huron for purse of $200.

1891—Went to Buffalo under the management of Gilbert & Hough of that city, rowing his first race this year against Ware on the harbor for $250 stake, distance 3 miles, with turn, winning by a length. Later, rowed James Griffin, but was beaten. The same year, rowed in regatta at Cedar Lake against Roth, Ware, Griffin and Turnbull. Griffin won first money, and Gaudaur second. Rowed again at Erie the same year in ordinary skiffs against O'Donnel of Erie, but was beaten. Rowed Corbett at Chicago, 3 miles, $500 a side and won.

1892—This was Gaudaur's best year, losing but one race out of six during the whole season, besides being pitted against some very speedy scullers. Early in the spring, rowed against Griffin of Buffalo at Cedar Lake, 3 miles, with turn, this time easily defeating his old-time opponent; stake $500 a side. His second race was at Erie against O'Donnel, who, also was beaten. Rowed Rutledge at Baron Lake, Michigan, 3 miles, with turn, for $300 a side and a purse of $200, winning easily. At Keokuk, Iowa, rowed John Kennedy 3 miles for $500; won. At Orillia, against Hugh Wise of Scarboro, 2 miles straightaway, for $1000 a side. Wise won after a hard race. At Rochester in regatta, against Ware, Roth, Gallagher and Modoc, won first prize, $400.

1893—Rowed against Clifford, at Pullman, 2 miles straightaway, $400 a side, winning easily. Again at Erie, in regatta, for purse of $1000, against Lee, Hosmer, Kennedy, Hamm, J. Hanlan, Monagher, Gallagher, McKay and Ward won by Lee following in 20th, not out and R. Reade (15) secured doubles. For St. Andrew's Swan batted nicely for 8, when he was unfortunately run out. Beddoe and Noble (pro.) did the bowling for the visitors. A. T. Hargrave and Reade (6 for 14) upheld the Colts.

FITZ TRAINING FOR FIGHT WITH JEFF

Heavyweight Championship Battle in 'Frisco on July 25.

Skaggs Springs, Cal., June 19.—Robert Fitzsimmons is now comfortably located here and is more than pleased with his surroundings and the fitness of the place as a training camp for the hard battle he is preparing for. The air is grand and the country beautiful. His gymnasium, he declares, is one of the best he ever worked in, and he also has a splendid outdoor gymnasium, which in former days played the part of croquet grounds.

These springs are located four and a half hours' train ride from San Francisco, and Fitz is therefore not subjected to as much scrutiny at the hands of his inquisitive admirers as he might have been had he located nearer some Golden Gate. The waters are noted for their medicinal value and the fighter has tub and hot water mineral baths at his disposal. Fresh water permits all the boating and swimming he can wish for, and Fitz is located, virtually in a forest of wilderness, for it is nine miles to the nearest railroad station by stage.

Ruby Robert is training in much the same fashion as he always does, pummeling his sparring partners around until they call quit. He drives a four-in-hand stage with an expert hand, goes haying and even indulges in croquet.

His many friends will be most interested in the fact that he is again collecting animals and is getting another zoo. He has a fawn, which he caught himself last week, and the animal is getting as tame as a lamb as much as that species of animal can. He caused a flurry here one day when he came to the hotel with a handful of snakes. It did not take him long to assure every one that they were harmless.

"I would not be fooling with them if they weren't," declared Fitz. "I have had troubles of my own with wild animals."

This week, he declares, he is going out bear hunting and he wants to bet he will return with a young cub.

Wilson, the Fort Hamilton ex-soldier, is making himself very useful as a sparring partner. He is beginning to show the strain a little, and Fitzsimmons has arranged to have George Dawson, the well-known trainer, help him for the last month.

An attempt was made by the San Francisco Athletic Club to postpone the fight in order to draw some of the Elks, who have a trip to San Francisco a few days later than the date now settled upon.

Fitz, however, refused to listen to any such proposition, and he says he will claim the forfeit money if Jeff is not ready to fight on July 25.

Fitz is sure that a big mob will be on hand to see the fight, and has assured every one that he is as confident of winning the scrap as any fight he ever entered into. He declares that the local climate has taken off ten years judging from the way he feels.

American College Boxers in London.

London, June 19.—Fred A. Wenck, Yale's middleweight; C. Gerrod Dodge, Harvard's heavyweight; R. W. Coates, the Kansas University lightweight, who are to take part in the coronation boxing competitions, and Walter DeVan, trainer of New York Athletic Club, arrived in London this afternoon from Southampton, where they landed from the St. Louis. They went direct to the National Sporting Club, where they were cordially received in spite of the fact that the American college authorities had notified the club that these athletes had in no way represented the American universities mentioned. The National Sporting Club authorities immediately decided that the Americans were in all ways fitted to participate in the coronation contests.

"While we understand you are not officially appearing from the American colleges," said Secretary Bettison, "all we wanted to know was that you were gentlemen, and if so, we wish you all success in the coming contests."

All the Americans are in the best form, are delighted with their reception and are eager to meet their English opponents.

Games to-day: Newark at Toronto, Jersey City at Montreal, Worcester at Rochester, Providence at Buffalo.

Toronto 8, Newark 1.

Toronto won the first game of the series against Newark yesterday at the Ball Grounds by 8 runs to 1. The game was a good exhibition of ball, and, but for the first innings, when the locals tallied seven runs, the game was a pitchers' battle, and closely contested. Frank Scott was on the slab for the home team, and pitched superbly thruout the game, as he kept the hits well scattered. The Newarks were never allowed more than one hit an innings, except in the third, when three successive singles were made off his delivery. Thielman, the ex-Toronto man, pitched a fine game, and, but for the first inning, had the locals guessing, striking out seven men during the game. For Toronto, the fielding of Miller and Downey was brilliant, while Hargrove, Miller, Downey and White batted in form.

Barrow's men bunched their hits in the first innings, when they made eight hits off Thielman's delivery, and, assisted by a wild pitch and stolen base, succeeded in scoring seven runs. Miller, the first man up, beat out a bunt hit, going to third on Bannon's single past short, and scored on a wild pitch. White singled neatly to right, and Massey fanned, but Bannon executed a fast base-running act, when he scored on Bruce's short bunt to Thielman. Downey drove a hard liner over third, scoring White, while Hargrove awatted the sphere for two sacks. Then Toft followed with a double, forcing in two runs and then purloined third, scoring another run on a single by Scott. After the latter came home on Miller's hit for two bags, Bannon fanned the atmosphere, and the side was at last retired.

Another run was added in the second, when, after White had fouled out and Massey fanned, Bruce singled past third, stole a base and scored on Downey's corking hit over second. After this innings, Thielman settled down, and, for the rest of the game, the locals were unable to do much with his delivery. In the fifth, with a wild pitch, two bases on balls, an error and stolen base, the locals came near scoring, but Thielman struck out Scott and Hargrove, while, in the sixth, a fast double play spoiled chances of scoring.

Newark scored their first and last run in the third innings, when they made three successive hits off Scott. Culver beat out a neat bunt hit, and was advanced a base on Thielman's hit over first base, the latter being caught napping by a neat throw of Toft's to Massey. Then Schrall forced in Culver on a fine drive over short, but Hayward and Griffin were easily retired at first on easy grounders to Bannon and Downey. The Newark batsmen were unable to do anything from this time on with Scott's delivery, making only five more scattered hits for the rest of the game.
