THE TWO LOVERS.

BY GEORGE ELIOT.

Two lovers by a moss-grown spring:
They leaned soft cheeks together there,
Mingled the dark and sunny hair,
And heard the wooing thrushes sing,
O budding time!
O love's blest prime!

Two wedded from the portal stept:
The bells made happy carollings,
The air was soft as fanning wings,
While petals on the pathway slept.
O pure-eyed bride!
O tender pride!

Two faces o'er a cradle bent:
Two hands above the head were locked;
These pressed each other while they rocked,
Those watched a life that love had sent.
O solemn hour!
O hidden power!

Two parents by the evening fire:
The red light fell about their knees
On heads that rose by slow degrees
Like buds upon the lily spire.
O patient life!
O tender strife!

The two still sat together there,
The red light shone about their knees;
But all the heads by slow degrees,
Had gone and left that lonely pair.
O voyage fast!
O vanished past!

The red light shone upon the floor,
And made the space between them wide;
They drew their chairs up side by side,
Their pale cheeks joined, and said, "Once more!"
O memories!
O past that is!

NOTES AND NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

Another triumph of the female sex. A man has made his escape from a Georgia jail by the aid of a hair-pin.

A Duluth sailor says the growing demand for three-masted schooners is because no man can serve two masters.

A Woodson County (Kan.) Granger has bought a plough through the State Grange for $17.11 that he could have bought at home for $13.50, but he don't care for $3.61 when a monopoly is to be broken down.

Pittsfield men and women, it seems, keep coffin-plates on their mantel-pieces for ornaments. They will like cremation of course; urns will look much prettier than coffin-plates.

A San Franciscan came home from business, and, finding his wife housecleaning, added to her labors by cutting his throat on the clean kitchen floor. Some men have no feeling for their wives.

It is said that a good base-ball player can make $2000 a year. And yet there are hundreds of young men in this city who are fooling away their time in selling dry goods, clerking in banks, practising law and medicine, and journalism! —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Just think of it. A Maine clergyman says that if the bones of all the victims of intemperance could be gathered together and made into a pyramid, no plain could be found large enough for its base to rest upon, and the planets would have to be swept aside to make room for its apex.

The Mayor of New Orleans writes that unless the resources of relief be increased in some way to $1,000,000 many thousands in Louisiana must perish by famine. Even that sum will not more than suffice to save the lives of the inundated until the flood subsides and the over-flooded lands are again tillable.

Some scoundrelly lawyer has been using postal cards to announce himself as a professional divorcist. He offers to divorce the recipient from his wife; but, if no incompatibility exists calling for his services, he asks to have his card passed along to some less happy husband. Now, this is outrageous.

In New York city a large number of persons on the rolls of the Board of Education drawing salaries aggregating $100,000 per annum, were discovered by a committee, and they are to be discharged or put to work in the schools where there are less than the regular number of inspectors.

There has been a disastrous conflagration in Central City, Colorado. The fire broke out in a Chinese wash-house, and owing to a scarcity of water and high wind it spread with great rapidity. A fire engine was sent from Golden City on a special train. A portion of the Denver fire department also left for Central City. One hundred and fifty houses, principally business places, were destroyed. The loss is roughly estimated at $500,000.

There is a precocious youth living at Bay City, Mich. He was only three years old, and he put on his hat and delivered a short oration to the effect that he was going to the depot. And, sure enough, he went to the depot, and took a train for Detroit. Luckily, the conductor obstructed his journey and put him in charge of somebody at a way station, who started him homeward. At this rate, the Great American Traveller is likely to be eclipsed.

A horrible murder was committed at Summit Hill, Pa., Tuesday night. Kate Linbach, a beautiful girl of sixteen, was enticed from home and killed in some low brush just outside the town. The only wounds were on the head and were evidently made with a stone. It is believed that the murder was committed by a man, who had deceived the girl, in order to hide his guilt. The people are greatly excited, and threats of lynching the murderer, if caught, are openly made.

At Cincinnati, Tuesday night, a three story brick house occupied by J. J. Murphy, his wife and two children, and a servant girl, fell, burying the five persons in the ruins. Mr. Whittaker, an old gentleman 78 years of age, passing along the street at the time, was fatally injured by the falling debris. A cellar had been dug next the building, which, however, has been considered unsafe for years. Murphy received only slight bruises. Mrs. Murphy sustained cuts and bruises about the head and breast, a daughter aged five died about fifteen minutes after removal, an elder daughter was badly cut about the head and bruised about the body, and the baby was uninjured. The servant was rescued next morning. She had been held down on the cellar floor by the stove, which fell upon her. Her injuries are not dangerous.

GENERAL.

The Detroit Free Press says that the ex-Queen Isabella is as bald as a soup-tureen, and about as handsome.

Ten persons have been arrested at Cork on suspicion of being concerned in the mysterious disappearance of a number of arms from the barracks.

The village of Elora has at present three newspapers; but as its last census shows an increase in the population of four people, it is seriously contemplated to start another paper.

Ah! the naturalists die hard on the dodo" question, and deny that the bird recently brought from Samao is the original Jacobs. They won't accept a little affair only as big as a partridge in lieu of that wonderful old waddler which weighed fifty pounds, and was too gawky to fly,

Tough luck. A German professor, who has been engaged for four years preparing a new book, recently, in starting for a short walk, left the manuscript lying on his desk. On his return he found the manuscript in flames, and before he could put out the fire it was burnt to ashes.

We didn't suppose for a moment that anybody was fool enough to institute a libel suit against the Guelph Herald, but now that the journal in question has endorsed the rumor, we accept it in good faith. A half starved individual by the name of Murphy—familiarly known as Muck Murphy—wants $5,000 worth of character, which he says the Herald blighted and blasted some short time ago.

The Montreal Gazette severely criticizes the recent Customs appointments, apropos of Henry Lareoix, who published a pamphlet against Delisle, with the acknowledgment that he had with such a threat attempted to levy black-mail. The Gazette remarks—"We venture to say that a man who could thus shamelessly avow his commerce on personal character, his trade in black-mail, is by that fact utterly unfitted to be entrusted with the office of Landing Waiter in H. M. Customs." "The second name on the list," it continues, "is the name of a gentleman whose only claim on Government is that he is a connection of the Minister of Justice."

Confidence Men.

From the N. Y. Tribune.

All the teachings of experience and all the daily clamor of the press seem to be unavailing to convince a certain class of visitors from the interior, that if they make sudden friendships in the city they will regret it. There is hardly a day in which the police are not made the recipients of a tale of woe founded upon spontaneous intimacy and misplaced confidence. Sometimes a gentle stranger accosts the rural visitor as Mr. Huggins of Utica. He replies, "You are mistaken; my name is "Muggins, and I live in Skaneateles." The stranger apologizes and disappears, and just around the corner a confederate comes up, calls Mr. Muggins by his own name, and is voluable about matters and things in Skaneateles. This is a plan by which even municipal dignitaries from the interior are sometimes beguiled. It was practiced a few days ago in Boston upon a New England Deacon, who owns a stocking-mill in Massachusetts. He came to the city, sold his wares, and met a man who accosted him as an old acquaintance, and in the flush of the renewed intimacy, got all his money.

But a commoner and coarser method of the predatory class is to approach the victim with frank and honest sincerity, saying "I don't know you, but I like your looks." This seems universally effective. A day or two ago, a singularly striking instance of the efficacy of this plan of plunder was seen in New York. An Indian trader from the Far West, one of those men whose lives are a continual struggle for existence by means of the exercise of the sharpest and strongest faculties of observation and judgment, a man who had gained a fortune by sagacious trade on the border, risked his life and lost his property by means of this idiotic confidence. A total stranger met him on the cars and entered into conversation with him. He opened his heart to him instantly, and on arriving in this city they had already become "pardners." Instead of spending his money at hotels, he went to the house of the ostensible "Sister,' of his new Pylades. As a matter of course, he was found the next morning wandering half-naked in the streets, drugged almost to unconsciousness. His trunk and his money are in the keeping of his friend and his friend's sister, wherever they may be.

It is hard to be compelled to preach a sermon of cynicism. But unless every stranger learns the lesson of wholesome distrust, he would do well to stay away from large cities. A man who forces himself upon your acquaintance with offers of friendship and service, intends to rob or swindle you. No one will fall in love with you at first sight, and if he tells you so, he is after your pocket book. But this may be said and repeated to the end of time, without putting men and women on their guard against swindlers. Vanity is stronger than common sense or experience. No one is safe from the confidence man, unless he is convinced of his own ugliness. To say to the average mortal, "I like your looks," in the phrase and manner suited to his degree of cultivation, is the surest way to convince him of your taste and candor. There are few men living who are not more pleased, in their heart of hearts, at a personal compliment than at any eulogy upon their goodness or their righteous fame. The confidence man's whole stock in trade is this reliance upon human vanity. His only chance of a livelihood is making people believe that their prepossessing appearance has attracted him. And every day shows how easy a task it is. A man of ordinary ignorance may hold the severest views of flattery in the abstract, but he hears nothing but truth and discretion in the voice of the concrete flatterer. There would seem to be no remedy for the confidence game, except to adopt the English religion which has been so much laughed at, and never grant your acquaintance except upon a proper introduction; and if any man or woman tells you he likes your looks, the best way is to call the police.

Election Cards.

To the Electors of King's County.

GENTLEMEN;

The General Assembly having been dissolved you will shortly be called to elect representatives to serve you for another term in the Legislature.

The Convention which was lately held in this County to elect a Ticket favorable to the maintenance of a system of Free-non-sectarian Education, have chosen me as one of the Candidates. I have accepted the nomination and confidently rely upon the Ticket so selected, receiving your hearty approval.

Should I have the honor of being re-elected, I shall again, as I have constantly done in the past, strive to perform satisfactorily the duties devolving upon your Representative.

Respectfully soliciting your support,
I remaim,
Yours very truly,
J. H. CRAWFORD.

Hampton, King's County, May 20th, 1874.
(may 22 dtf w t elec)

To the Electors and Citizens of the City of Saint John:

GENTLEMEN,—

Confirming my Circular recently issued and published in the Press of Saint John, I beg to assure you that, if elected, I will not fail to do what I can for the interests of this City and Province.

I have always favored a Free School system, but sincerely regret that a measure which should have been such as to have been received with almost universal satisfaction and approval has deeply disturbed the country, created much ill feeling, and now threatens to embroil the Government of the Province with the Dominion Parliament. This is a very serious condition of things and it is evident that something will have to be done to remedy it. I think certain improvements and modifications might be made in the Bill which, while doing no wrong to Protestants, would lead Catholics to accept it without further opposition. BUT THE SCHOOL BILL IN ITS PRESENT SHAPE IS TOO EXPENSIVE. All that we can afford to give children, all that is required under the circumstances is what is commonly called a plain English education, such as will fit them for the ordinary avocations of life. THIS SHOULD BE HAD FOR ABOUT TWO THIRDS OF WHAT WE ARE NOW PAYING, and at the same time maintain the principle of Free Schools.

Soliciting your vote as one of the two Candidates of your choice for the representation of this City,

I have the honor to remain
Your obedient Servant,
ROBERT MARSHALL.
may21—till June 5

To the Electors of the City and County of Saint John.

GENTLEMEN:—

AT the Election to be held on the fourth of June next, I shall seek a renewal of your confidence, as one of the four Representatives for the City and County, in the General Assembly of this Province.

The Executive Government of this Province have not managed the public business in such manner as to command my support, although I have assisted all good measures, from whatever quarter. In the performance of my Legislative duties, I never hoped or attempted to please everybody; but I confidently state such duties were performed, to my judgment, in the best interests of the Country, and at all times disinterestedly and fearlessly. As it will be out of my power to see all the Electors personally, I respectfully solicit your support, as one who does not seek politics for his own benefit, but from a common interest in a wise and economical administration of public affairs.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant.
M. W. MAHER.
