THE FRENCH MINISTRY RESIGN.

PRIME MINISTER ROUVIER'S CABINET DEFEATED IN THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Soon after the Chamber of Deputies met to-day the Extreme Left moved an interpellation of the Government on the question of its domestic policy. A motion was made by the ministry to postpone the debate. Its motion was rejected by 328 to 242. Prime Minister Rouvier immediately announced the resignation of the Cabinet. The motion for an interpellation of Government was made by M. Clemenceau. Premier Rouvier demanded that the debate on the subject be adjourned until the 24th instant in the interest of the measure for conversion of the public debt. M. Clemenceau said it was a singular method of reassuring the holders of public funds to tell them that they could live in peace until the 24th, and to promise that there would then be a crisis such as had never before occurred. The public, he declared, had too long awaited an explanation. There was practically no Government. The ministry was not in condition to guide a republican policy. Parliament was abandoned to the direction of the Right. The law officers of the state and the police were in conflict and the administrative disorder was complete. The division on the Government's proposal to adjourn the debate was taken at the conclusion of M. Clemenceau's speech. Upon the announcement of the result of the vote the Chamber adjourned until Monday, amid great excitement. The ministers held a conference, after which they proceeded to the palace of the Elysee and placed their resignations in the hands of President Grevy, and he accepted them. M. Rouvier, upon leaving the Chamber, accosted M. Clemenceau and said, "You have relieved me of a troublesome burden. I have now to advise President Grevy to send for you to form a ministry." M. Goblet declared in the lobby of the Chamber that he would not undertake to form a Cabinet. Among those who voted with the majority on the motion to adjourn the debate were 169 Republicans and 148 Conservatives. The minority included 221 Republicans and 7 Conservatives.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—M. Goblet was summoned to the Elysee palace this evening and requested to form a cabinet. He asked for time to study the situation.

Midnight—President Grevy has summoned M. Clemenceau to a conference at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Are you sad, despondent, gloomy
Are you sore distressed?
Listen to the welcome bidding—
"Be at rest."
Have you aches and pains unnumbered,
Poisoning life's Golden Cup?
Think not there's no balm in Gilead, and
"Give it up."
A Golden Remedy awaits you—
Golden not alone in name—
Reach, oh, suffering one, and grasp it,
Health reclaim.

There is but one "Golden" Remedy—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It stands alone as the great "blood-purifier," "strength-renewer" and "health-restorer," of the age! The Liver, it regulates, removing all impurities. The Lungs it strengthens, cleansing and nourishing them. The whole system it builds up, supplying that above all other things most needed—pure rich Blood.

A BLAZING CIRCUS.

BARNUM'S "GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH" NEARLY TOTALLY DESTROYED BY FIRE.

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—A special to the Globe from Bridgeport, Conn, says that the main building of Barnum & Bailey's "greatest show on earth" was entirely destroyed by fire this morning. About 10.30 o'clock an alarm was sounded, quickly followed by a general alarm, and thousands of persons were attracted to the spot. In less than thirty minutes the big building, which was 600 x 200 feet, and two storeys in height, was entirely consumed. The first intimation of the fire was given by the roaring of the lions and tigers, which seemed to realize the impending danger. Next the elephants struggled in their chains, but in an incredibly short time the flames swept from one end of the huge structure to the other. There were six watchmen employed on the premises, but they were helpless to check the flames. One of the men was in the horse building when his lantern exploded, igniting the hay and straw. Five of the watchmen have reported, but the sixth is missing, and it is believed he was cremated. The upper portion of the building was filled with hay and all the paraphernalia of the great show. Before the first alarm ceased sounding the whole building was enveloped in fire, and none dared to approach the building, being fearful of the caged animals. Three elephants were burned up and thirty broke from their fastenings and dashed through the sides of the burning buildings. Their roars and trumpetings and sounds of torment were terrific. Six elephants and a large African hippopotamus rushed about the streets presenting a sickening appearance. Their sides were burned and great pieces of flesh, a foot square, fell off. Thirty elephants and one large lion made their escape and have started off across country towards Fairfield and Easton. Great alarm has seized many residents in the west end and they have taken refuge in their houses. In the horse room were all the ring animals, trained stallions, ponies, etc. These were all burned. In the upper rooms were the tents, poles, etc., for the entire show, and these were destroyed. In the east room were the birds, monkeys, three rhinoceroses, hyenas, tigers, lions and all the menagerie, which fell leap across the main building that the firemen made no attempt to save it, but turned their streams upon the chariot building and car shed, which they succeeded in saving. The total loss is estimated at $700,000, upon which there was but $100,000 insurance.

WRITTEN IN BLOOD.

DUBLIN, Nov 21.—Mr. Clancy told the meeting at Stepaside yesterday that he had seen a letter which had been smuggled from Tullamore jail written in O'Brien's blood. Mr. Davitt condemned the "hide and seek" tactics of Mr. Gyne, the Nationalist member of Parliament, who has shut himself up in his castle in Waterford.

LANDLORDS COMING DOWN.

DUBLIN, Nov. 21.—At a meeting of Limerick landlords yesterday, a resolution was adopted favoring dual ownership of land. It is proposed that the State advance money at a low rate of interest to enable landlords to grant insolvent tenants three years' rent as compensation on eviction; the principal and interest to be repayable to the Government in 35 years. The resolution will be submitted to a large meeting of landlords in this city on Wednesday.

BLOOD FOR BLOOD.

DUBLIN, Nov. 21.—All the suppressed League branches in West Clare held their usual meetings yesterday. Prayers were offered in many chapels in behalf of Mr. O'Brien. Mr. T. M. Healy, at a League meeting at Edgeworth town, contrasted the prison treatment of Mr. O'Brien with that of Ellis French and Colonel Baker, and solemnly warned the Government that if O'Brien died there would be blood for blood and life for life. He denounced Judge O'Hagan as an enemy of the Irish nation,

O'BRIEN'S JAILERS OUTWITTED.

THE PLUCKY EDITOR SECURES A SUIT OF TWEED AND WEARS IT.

DUBLIN, Nov. 19.—Dr. Romayne, of Cork, visited Wm. O'Brien in Tullamore jail on Thursday. He states that if the present harsh treatment of the prisoner is continued it will cause his death. The governor of the Tullamore jail heard to-day that clothing for the use of Mr. O'Brien had been smuggled into the prison. He at once proceeded to Mr. O'Brien's cell and found the prisoner up and wearing a suit of tweed. John Dillon spoke at a large meeting at Galashields, Scotland, to-day. He said that a few hours before leaving Ireland he was secretly informed that a warrant had been signed for his arrest. Having promised to speak at meetings in Scotland, he had come to fulfil that promise. He would return to Ireland within a few days. Resolutions expressing indignation at the treatment of Wm. O'Brien were passed, and a testimonial was presented to Dillon.

HOW THE TWELVE DIED.

St. Mathew is supposed to have suffered martyrdom, or was slain with the sword at the City of Ethiopia, in Egypt.

St. Luke was hanged upon an olive tree, in Greece.

St. John was put into a cauldron of boiling oil at Rome and escaped death. He afterward died a natural death at Ephesus, in Asia.

St. James the Great was beheaded at Jerusalem.

St. James the Less was thrown from a pinnacle or wing of the Temple, and then beaten to death with a fuller's club.

St. Philip was hanged up against a pillar at Hierapolis, a city of Phyrgia.

St. Bartholomew was flayed alive by the command of a barbarous king.

St. Andrew was bound to a cross, whence he preached unto the people until he expired.

St. Thomas was run through the body with a lance, at Coromandel, in the East Indies.

St. John was shot to death with arrows.

St. Simeon Zealot was crucified in Persia.

St. Matthias was first stoned and then beheaded.

St. Barnabas was stoned to death by the Jews at Salanis.

St. Paul was beheaded at Rome by the tyrant Nero.—The Evangelist.

A DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

ORANGEVILLE, Ont., Nov. 15.—At half past eight o'clock this evening the house of Scott Act Inspector Anderson, on Second avenue, was again blown up by dynamite. The charge was placed on the verandah at the front of the house, and the two front rooms were badly shattered. The verandah is a complete wreck. Mrs. Anderson, who was alone in the house, was sitting beside the stove in the dining room and was badly shocked. Her screams could be heard several blocks away. The inspector had just left the house and was only about ten yards away when the explosion occurred. He was stunned by the concussion. A note was found tacked to the fence warning him to desist from his efforts in favor of the Scott Act, and stating that he might congratulate himself that he had not been blown to "kingdom come" before this. Several Orangeville hotelkeepers have been fined for violating the Scott Act during the past week, and it is a notable coincidence that dynamite explosions always occur after the liquor men have been fined for breaking the law. The evening is very dark and intense excitement prevails in the town. This is the sixth dynamite explosion that has occurred in Orangeville in two years. The perpetrators are unknown.

HONORING POPE LEO.

VIENNA, Nov. 18.—The Hungarian pilgrims to Rome to attend the Pope's Jubilee will start for the Holy City on Monday, headed by Cardinal Limor. The Hungarian Aristocratic Ladies Committee yesterday handed Monseigneur Galimberti £24,000 for the Pope. Other valuable presents have been sent to the Pope.

ANARCHIST ENGEL'S FAREWELL.

WHAT THE PAPERS LEFT BEHIND HIM CONTAINED.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—"From the papers of our murdered companion, George Engell," is the heading of an article printed in the Arbeiter Zeitung to-day. The letter is addressed to the citizens of the United States and is in substance as follows:—"I am destined by the intelligent jury to die as a criminal. I protest against the verdict brought about by the citizens association, those greatest of carnivorous beasts of the 19th century. I appeal to all those who knew me for many years to say if I have ever done anything contrary to the honor of a man. Six months previous to my arrest I delivered a lecture at 58 Clybourn avenue, on the question of what the proletarian should do in case of an outbreak of revolution. I described to my hearers how the monopolists all over the world are providing themselves with the best and newest weapons, and from fear of the spread of Socialism among the proletarians are clamoring for more soldiers and police. I advocated that the workingmen should also think of providing themselves with the materials of warfare invented by science. At that time I certainly did not think of May 4th. My speech made on the 2nd of May related only to the coming—in a remote future—of the social revolution. On the evening of May 3rd I, through a mere accident, visited 54 West Lake street, and attended a meeting at that place. About midnight on May 4, Mr. Waller came to my house and told me what had happened at the Haymarket. He asked me what to do, and I advised him for to go home. That nobody attached any importance to my being implicated in the Haymarket affair or even suspected me of it is easily seen from the fact that the police discharged me after having me locked up for several days and re-arrested me twelve days later. The tin box found in my possession by the police was transformed by the capitalistic press into a machine for the manufacture of dynamite. It was then that the police discovered my speeches were a crime punishable with death and they determined to destroy me if I refused to become a traitor against my fellow-men. I leave it with the people to decide whether I have not been murdered for making use of the freedom of speech guaranteed to men by the constitution of this country of which I am a citizen. A Government must be in a deplorable condition if it cannot stand criticism by its citizens, and I still maintain that such a Government is not worthy of existence, and hope that the hour may not be far off when it shall perish for the good of all citizens of the country.

With social revolutionary greetings,
(Signed) GEORE ENGEL.

A SHIFTING STANDARD.—The importance of first impressions upon the minds of young people and of early training and association has been the theme of teachers and moralists from the beginning. Train a child in the way he should go and he will not depart from it. There is no doubt our way in the world is very largely shaped by the circumstances that hedge us around; but there is a curious inconsequence and irrationality about things that are sometimes done from force of habit that we seldom take into account in judging of the moral or physical results accomplished. For example, when one dips his mucilage brush into his inkstand, how far is he accountable for a disaster he did not intend to bring on? Yet people with full-grown and robust habits are forever dipping mucilage brushes into ink bottles—forever unconsciously thrusting into unaccustomed places incongruous thoughts and unconsidered actions. If the wrong doer must be judged by the quality of the thing done, and not by the incitement or the moral purpose of his action, how is it with the Nicodemuses who have always lived up to the letter of the law? If habitual wickedness be no palliation for offence, does not habitual righteousness lessen the praiseworthiness of good deeds? If constant blood-letting make it easier for a butcher to kill a man, does not constant benevolence make it less commendable for a giver to give?

The good editor of the Portland (Oregon) Sentinel says that kindness has converted more sinners than either zeal, eloquence or learning. We do not know him personally, but he is quite right.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Tuesday, Nov. 22, 1887.

The markets to-day were well filled with the fat of the land, and all departments showed marked activity. There were a large number of loads of grain, especially of oats, which sold at 32 to 33c per bushel, yet the demand did not seem to be active. There was a good call for potatoes, which sold readily at our quotations. Cabbages were in abundance, and did not seem to meet with as ready a sale as heretofore. Apples, especially fine winter, were eagerly looked after, and found ready sale. There seemed to be about the usual supply of game, and the call was liberal, although the stock offered is far from first class. Turkeys sell at 9c to 10c; chickens, 6c to 7c; ducks, 9c to 10c; geese, 6c to 7c. Partridge at 40c to 50c a brace. Venison, 10c per lb. for saddles, 7c to 8c for carcases; in fact the quality offered can not be classed as choice, and the low prices materially affect the sales of choice meats, of which there seems to be a good supply. The demand for pease seems far from active, and what sales are made are at 73 to 74 cents.

Eggs.

There is but little to be said on the egg question, only that fresh, homemade are in demand and meet with ready sale. The markets are loaded with ancient fruit, and the demand seems to be only for something fresh. Parties who have a left over stock of this commodity should either "drop" on prices or wait for a "freeze up," as buyers only call for something new. Old eggs are not wanted, but our quotations are good for the best.

Milch Cows.

There seems to be a good demand for good milch cows, but those offered during the week cannot be classed as standards, far from it. A good milch cow will readily sell for $50 to $60, but the "crumpled horn" mortal, that reminds you of best dried on the tons, is passed by with sympathy. Good milkers are wanted and find ready sale; worthless, dying mortals, are not wanted for any purpose.

Beeves.

The yards at Point St. Charles were well filled this morning, and the stock offered was, on the whole, superior, although the demand was not equal to the supply; butchers wanted the best, and that at bottom figures. We noticed a lot of Ontario cattle for which the owner wanted 4c, but buyers would offer only 3½c. The fact that our markets have been flooded with poor stock for so long encourages butchers to dictate terms for good, which offers poor encouragement for friends of good beef.

Butter.

The butter market here has undergone no change of late and its demand for shipment seems to have gone by. For the past few days ordinary lots have found a more ready sale, while a first-class article has been held firm with less callers. It would seem that all the people had at last come to the rescue, and were ready to help clear the market of the poor trash, and while we cannot change our quotations on ordinary butter we must say that it is receiving some little encouragement, and, we trust, may soon be numbered with the things that were.

Veals.

Good veals seems to be mostly out of date, and there is very little enquiry for the stock offered, as it is in no way acceptable. Now and then a good veal may put in an appearance; yet, as a rule, they seem "too young and tender" to be highly relished. A healthy, stall-fed veal sells readily at from 6c to 8½c. Just here we would say that farmers having stock they intend for market in this line will find it for their interest to see that it is first-class, and then a first-class price can be be counted on.

Fish

All of the markets were well filled, and early in the day business was active. No one seemed to be in style unless they were carrying home some kind of a fish. The stock of fresh cod and halibut was just immense. A little fresh salmon could be found, but the prices were beyond reason for anything in the fish line.

Poultry and Game.

The country people were on hand early, and the chicken coops were thick and well filled, so much so that the supply was fully up to the demand, and prices were a little slow, and some old chicks sold low, which materially interfered with the regular meat business. Game is principally confined to partridge and hare; but few wild duck are offered, and they sell quickly at quotations. Among the game offered we noticed some Arctic owls at $5 a pair.

Cheese.

This commodity, that has had a black eye for some time, seems to be convalescent, and there seems a little better feeling among buyers. Some sales have been made at 11¼c to 11½c, although some sales are reported as high as 12c, but those were "private." It is thought the exports for the week will reach fully 50,000 boxes. The latest from Utica, N.Y., the great head centre of the cheese market, reports a far better demand for choice lots, and at Ogdensburg several hundred boxes were sold yesterday at 11¼c to 11½c, while a large quantity was held at higher figures.

Hops.

The call for hops seems to be daily on the decline, the breweries are well stocked, especially large ones, and the smaller ones are not over anxious to stock up heavily, 12 to 15 cents seems to be the ruling price. It is evident there is quite a stock ready for the market, and holders are watching closely any opening for remunerative prices. Reports from Central New York show a large quantity on hand with little foreign demand save for choice lots.

Potatoes.

Just now there seems to be more active demand for potatoes, and, we understand, several orders for shipment to the States have been received and are being filled at about our quotations. The St. Johns, N.B., Chronicle of the 16th says: "Fifty-eight freight cars left St. John on Monday over the New Brunswick railway, 22 of which were loaded with potatoes. About 176,000 bushels were shipped west from points on the I.C. and N.B. railways during October, being about 20,000 bushels more than was exported during October last year."

A State exchange says: "The comparatively high prices at which potatoes have been selling of late have led to liberal importations of the foreign grown article. For some time past potatoes from Scotland have been offered in the Eastern seaboard markets, where, after paying freight, 6c per bushel, and duty, 15c per bushel, they can still be sold at a profit to the importer," which would imply that there was a demand for potatoes in the States still.

At Halifax yesterday there were thirty schooners loading with turnips. Price asked 75c a barrel.

At London, Ont., there is a large quantity of barley being held, waiting buyers at late prices, but no sales reported.

At Toronto oats are selling at 39 cents per 32 lbs., and hay brings from $15 to $17 a ton. Barley sells at 80 cents.

At Milwaukee wheat was stronger, and moved up ¼c, closing at 73½c cash, 73½c December, 86⅝c May.

At St. Albans, says the Messenger, during Tuesday and Wednesday of last week 12,700 lbs of poultry were shipped for Boston.

At Chicago Tuesday there were received 70,846 bushels of wheat, 173,219 of corn, and 118,721 of oats. The number of hogs were 36,000.

The Ogdensburgh, N. Y., Journal says:—"There are about 360 tons of unsold cheese, on the Canton Board of Trade, remaining to be shipped when sold, besides about forty-five tons of creamery butter."

The Halifax, N.S., Chronicle of Saturday says:—"There are thirty schooners in the Market Slip to-day. Several are from St. Andrews, and are loaded with turnips. The price asked for turnips per barrel is 75 cents."

At Quebec potatoes are selling at 50 cents a bushel, and the Telegram says householders will do well to buy in their winter supply without delay, as owing to the demand in the United States potatoes are being bought up by the car load in that city and a further rise is early predicted.

"Saturday," says the Lindsay, Ont., Post, "was one of the biggest days in grain this season, the deliveries, chiefly barley, being immense, and teams coming in from far and wide attracted by the good prices and honest dealing of Lindsay market. Prices for barley are somewhat lower, in sympathy with a general decline of a few cents.

Yesterday's St. John, N. B., Globe says "The market to-day was fairly well supplied. Fresh pork is plentiful and so is the supply of chickens and turkeys. The stock, however, is not very choice." A Liverpool cable of yesterday says: "There is a good demand for finest September cheese at 58s to 60s, fine qualities sell briskly with prices tending up, secondary firm but not active." There is no change in this market, which remains quiet. Exports to date were 1,067,900 baxos, against 891,965 in 1886, 1,076,601 in 1886, 1,076,601 in 1885 and 1,108,447 in 1884.
