CHICAGO, July 22.—Risberg's fielding, batting and base-running and Russell's good pitching enabled Chicago to shut out Boston today 2 to 0. Risberg doubled in the second inning and went to third when Schalk singled. Russell fouled to Gardner and Risberg dashed for home after the catch. The ball beat him, but he slid viciously to the plate and upset Agnew, who dropped the ball. In the sixth inning he sent Gandil home from second on a long single. His fielding saved Russell several times. Russell allowed the Red Sox but four scattered hits and only two men reached second base. Score:

FINE GAME AT TECUMSEH PARK

London Blue Labels Win Five Straight by Defeating Windsor Wanderers 6 to 1.

The fans who missed the ball game at Tecumseh Park Saturday afternoon lost out on the best game of the season. London added another win to its long string of home victories, and sent the Windsor Wanderers wandering back home trimmed 6—1.

The Blue Labels looked good, extremely good at all stages of the game. Manager Dinsmore made a wise move when he moved Armstrong to first base replacing him with Jack Danford. John caught a great game, while Armstrong looked like a team in himself on the initial sack. The infield's work was snappy all the way through, and the outfield fielded faultlessly. Ernie Dinsmore made two beautiful running catches that were ticketed as hits. The work of Stickner on third base was remarkable. This youth has a whip that might well be envied by International League third-sackers. His pegging to first was worth going a long way to see. He had hard luck with the stick, but against a right-hand hurler might have shown up better.

They Weren't Present.

Rube Deneau and Cy Reidy did not show up. It was stated that Rube was taken ill, but personally we don't believe that Rube ever belonged to the Windsor gang. Up until the seventh inning neither team made an error. Then Murray and Kaister came through with bobbles, much to the disgust of Frenchy Campeau, who used to pitch here several years ago with Guelph in the Canadian League. Frenchy was touched up for seven hits during the excitement, but contributed toward the visitors' defeat by handing out passes at the right time to the London team.

Yankee Flint pitched great ball, and the chances are he would have had a shutout to his credit had not Danford whipped the pill to Gadsby with a man on third. The return throw was just a trifle late to catch Lynch, who had been sacrificed round to third base.

Only Missed Two.

The first and the eighth inning were the only two spasms in which the locals failed to cross the pan. In the second Armstrong walked, stole second and scored on Smith's single. The next inning was opened with a sizzling two-bagger by Toots Doherty, who is one of the most dependable men on the team. Dinsmore beat out a nice bunt, Toots did a nice bit of hiking when he scored on Gregory's grounder with the infield playing in close.

Windsor managed to get a man on occasionally, but they persisted in trying to steal on Jack Danford, and it was all off. Rankin got an idea that he could pilfer third, but he and another of his friends were caught so far off the bag that they looked foolish. You've got to hand it to that London team.

In the fifth Dinsmore walked, and came home while the fielders hunted in the tall uncut for Danford's swipe to middle left. The Labels score two in the next inning, when Gadsby and Smith both came home. Gad walked, and got to second by a narrow margin, while Smith reposed on first on a fielder's choice. Gad stole third while Smith ambled down the line. Doherty lined the ball to Murray, who juggled it long enough for Gad to score. He then tried to get Doherty on first, and Smith came right on home while the first baseman had his back turned. It was a pretty bit of base running. Danford added another run in the lucky seventh, while Smith made the circuit for the last London score in the eighth.

There was a crowd of about 350 fans present. The teams:

R. B. RICE, TORONTO, WINS BOMMER TROPHY FROM GUELH RINK

GUELPH, July 21.—Once again has the now famous Bommer trophy changed hands, this time going back to Toronto, from which place the Fergus club took it. R. B. Rice and a crack rink from the Queen City club came up here Saturday afternoon, and succeeded in lifting the trophy from a rink skipped by J. B. Hoover, one of the veterans of the Geulph club. The score was 20 to 13.

The game was easily one of the most brilliant ever played here. The visitors deserved their victory. The green was in perfect condition, and Skip Rice and his players were compelled to put up a phenomenal exhibition in order to carry off the cup. The veteran Toronto skip changed end after end from two and three shots against him to as many in his favor. The Guelph club immediately put in another challenge for the cup, but it is understood there are one or two ahead of Guelph.

The rinks were:

M. B. Dulmage		W. Sykes
T. W. Fox		W. Philip
J. B. Hoover, Skip	13	R. B. Rice, Skip	20

LEAF AVERAGES

TORONTO, July 21.—The Leafs played seven games during the week and the players just about held their own with the club. Manager Lajoie continues to lead the team and added a point in the seven games. George Whiteman fell back a trifle and it is likely due to the shaking-up he got when he took a bad tumble early in the week. We look to see him spurt again this week.

Joe Schultz collected one or more hits in each game and picked up 23 points. He made the biggest gain during the week. Jacobson keeps up the good work and is steadily improving. His lift last week was for two points.

Most of the other regulars dropped a few points. Frank Truesdale turned in a mark of .333 for his first two games.

George Whiteman continues to lead the scorers. He has crossed the plate 66 times. Jacobson is ten runs behind him.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Hans Wagner, of the Pirates, hasn't a scratch to show today for his narrow escape when his taxicab was crushed by a street car. "Honus" was carrying a bouquet of flowers to his wife. He serenely emerged from the wreckage, holding the flowers with not a petal bruised.

BEARS AND ROYALS BREAK EVEN ON 2 DOUBLE PASTIMES

Toronto Breaks Even With Richmond Saturday Afternoon.

MONTREAL, July 22.—Ground rules prevented Montreal from taking both games here today, when Bill Holden slammed the ball over the right field wall in the ninth inning of the second game with a man on base. The ground rules called that the hit should be only for two bags, and both men were left stranded on the bases, the final score being 3 to 2 for Newark.

The Royals won the first game 6 to 0, Gerner whitewashing the league leaders in easy style. Scores:

REAL SPORT

The following account of a baseball game is taken from a weekly paper published in a small Minnesota village:

"The visiting team looked like conquering heroes in their short pants, but our boys sailed right in, long pants, paper collars and all, and finished them to a frazzle. Ye scribe had a good seat, where he could see the slaughter, also could view the fair sex, of which our lovely village has more than its share of. The visitors had a smart Aleck city fellow for a pitcher, but his arm was as stiff as his biled shirt before our boys got through with him, and they hit the ball so hard they busted the seams. They had a big fellow for catcher, but the ball didn't get past our boys' bats not so you could notice it. Verryfew was hurt in the game, but ye scribe got hit by a foul ball in the eye and didn't see the last two innings, which was played in the rain, which made the diamond and the game kind of mussy. The game was umpired by Coroner Crane, of here, who was fair in his work, according to the visiting players, who didn't have much to say after they got laced. Our boys done good team work, and Rance Haines, the popular bookkeeper, of here, kept a straight score, which was 18 to 2, and could of been more if the ball had lasted. After the game refreshments was served by the ladies of the church, and plenty to eat was had by all."

SARNIA GOLF

Ross Hayes Winner of Handicap Event.

SARNIA, July 21.—In an 18-hole sealed handicap golf match, which was concluded on Friday evening at the local links, Ross Hayes, carrying a handicap of 14, was the successful winner of the three golf balls offered as a prize, with a net score of 78. F. Hobiltzel and F. L. Riggan were tied for second position, and will play off the knot in the near future. Twenty contestants participated in the event.

FINE WEATHER FOR W. O. B. A.

Forty-Two Rinks Will Start Play This Afternoon.

Real old W.O.B.A. weather will greet the 42 rinks assembled here today for the big Western Ontario tournament. The weatherman has been taken in hand confidentially by the executive, and has promised his best brand of the hot stuff, which will mean that the boys will be able to leave off their sweater-coats and any other garments that they may deem necessary.

Twenty rinks are entered from local clubs, while sixteen out-of-town rinks are after the trophies as well.

All the out-of-town rinks arrived this morning, and had some regular old-time fanning bees. The grounds were nicely decorated with flags and bunting, and presented a festive appearance.

The first round of games started at 2 o'clock, while the second bunch to take over the eleven greens put into excellent shape by Dick Sparrowhawk began at 5 o'clock. President R. B. Rice of Toronto opened the tourney with a short address.

From the draw that has been made, it looks as if the games this afternoon will be as hot as the weather with a little more warmth tacked on. Snelgrove and Shannon of the Rowing Club are expected to put up a sizzling match.

BLUE RIBBON WEEK FULL OF PROMISE

Five Days of Good Racing Carded for Detroit.

DETROIT, July 21.—"Blue Ribbon Week," the official designation of grand circuit racing in Detroit, and which for a third of a century has been an institution in Michigan social, sporting and business circles, holds more promise this year than ever. So many conditions have combined to make the meeting, which opens here tomorrow, of unusual importance that with a fair break in the weather it cannot fail to be the best entertainment the present Detroit Driving Club has been able to offer its patrons. With a fast track, there is every reason to believe that the sport will be of the superlative order, the contests keen and the time fast.

All appointments at the state fair grounds out Woodward avenue have been put in shape, to harmonize with the excellent card of racing, and indications are that if any prestige has been lost by the Blue Ribbon trots in recent years it will be restored. Detroit never has relinquished first place among cities giving five days of racing. This week it will set a pace that is apt to make some of its rivals leg weary.

Of greatest interest on the grand circuit racing bill here are the old standbys, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' stake for trotters and the Board of Commerce stake for pacers. These have been the leading fixtures of the turf since the creation interest in them never has waned, and this year it is far more general than in many reasons.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' looks like the toughest proposition that ever has been offered. Every horse that has been mentioned as a likely winner or contender has been during the first four days at Cleveland, Lucile Spier, Wilkes Brewer, Busy's, Lassie, Chilcoot, and others were in the dust of the winners.

So the racing of the "M. and M." dawns with the public at sea as to which is best of the dozen or so that will accept the issue in this $10,000 affair.

Track conditions were such that Ridgemark, winner of the Ohio stake last week, did not go fast, but it is believed that there will be record miles in the "M. and M." if the footing is right.

Less has been said about the Board of Commerce stake, but the beating of Peter Look, conceded to have the best chance, has put that event in the same class with the trot.

From a racing standpoint there is about as much interest in the late closing purse events as in the stakes. The reason of this is the presence in these of the pick of the Michigan and Ohio half-mile track circuits. Generally the horses from the small tracks have been regarded as fillers in, but this time they are more than that, in fact they have given the grand circuit steeds a good trimming in their encounters thus far.

While the big line stables have been working on the smooth mile tracks, with everything in their favor, the half-milers have been battling on ovals at times little better than bull rings. They are hard as nails and when they do strike good footing they are hard to catch.

Detroit this year has more half-milers in its purse events than any track where the sport is confined to a week. In fact, the percentage is as great as that at Columbus, where the fall round-up assembles all of the half-mile track talent. In addition to the winners at North Randall, there will be a herd of victors from the "shortship" circuit that will show some drivers they are not the whole works.

TIGERS VS. MUELLERS AT SARNIA TONIGHT

SARNIA, July 21.—The league-leading Tigers will engage the tail-end Mueller nine in a six-inning contest on Monday evening, and it promises to be a lively fracas. Rumors have been current since the Tigers battled their way to the league lead that the Muellers are after their scalps, and it is stated that they will go into Monday night's contest "loaded for bear." Harrington and Duncan will perform for the Brassmakers, and Morris and Paige for the Tigers.

KINGS OF RING IN TITLE SCRAP

Kilbane and Leonard Clash for Lightweight Honors at Philadelphia.

DETROIT, July 22.—Fur will fly tomorrow night when Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight king, stakes his ring career at Philadelphia against the lightweight title held by Benny Leonard.

Probably not in the history of the American ring have two lightweights ever been matched against each other who possessed the class of Johnny Kilbane and Benny Leonard.

As there will be scarcely four pounds difference in their weight on the night of the contest, they will virtually start equal, as Kilbane enjoys an advantage of one inch in height, with a corresponding advantage in reach. This, coupled with his ring experience and hitting powers, may be considered almost sufficient to balance the difference in weight.

Leonard was born April 7, 1896, and in consequence is 21 years old, while Kilbane is also an April progeny, arriving on the eighteenth day of that month in 1889, so he must confess to 28 years. The former is 5 feet 5 inches in height and the latter one inch taller.

Both Have Admirers.

The moment the match was consummated and all the details arranged the sportsmen of America began to take sides. Each boxer has a legion of admirers. Each has won his distinction in a fair and square manner, outclassing each opponent in his respective class. Each can hit a knockout blow. Each has many decisive victories to his credit. So it is no wonder that when this match was made the tongues of ring followers began to wag.

When the writer suggests that not within the knowledge have two men with the peculiar assets of Kilbane and Leonard ever faced each other in the lightweight class, he fears no contradiction. You can go back to McAuliffe and ransack the pages of ring history and you will not find two men who possessed the same attributes as the duo who are to clash at Shibe Park.

Leonard is an aggressive boxer. In fact, he is a combination of the boxer and fighter, relentless when he gets an opponent going, and he never has been known to "back up" under fire. He is what is termed a good two-handed boxer, can hit a knockout blow with either hand and is a splendid blocker, timing his parries and counters to a nicety. Just what he can do on the defence when facing a skilled opponent will be discovered tomorrow.

Kilbane Greatest.

In Kilbane, America has a featherweight whose equal has not lived in the present generation of boxers. He has outclassed them all. Matchmakers and promoters have been unable to dig up any more opponents in the featherweight division who could be rated as having a chance with the 122-pound king. So, in order to be kept busy and show the proper interest on the $1,000,000 investment, as Manager Jimmy Dunn estimates Kilbane, the latter has been obliged to go out of his class. He threw his hat into the lightweight ring.

Had he always been careful to limit his opponents to 133 pounds, which he has done in the case of Leonard, his career would have been naught but conquest. He, however, took on Ritchie Mitchell and Rocky Kansas, two boxers nearer welterweights than lightweights, and both "roughed" the champion up.

GOES TO TORONTO.

BROOKLYN, July 22.—The Brooklyn National League club yesterday sold Catcher John Snyder to the Toronto club of the International league. Snyder was drafted from the Macon club.
