A Talk on Bread

Most people in buying bread want the largest loaf in the store. You make a mistake, for it does not weigh any more than the medium sized loaf.

When a loaf of bread raises so high, it is over-proof. The life of the wheat has gone.

Buy the medium sized loaf and get full strength of the wheat. One slice is worth more than a whole loaf of over-proof.

John J. Ryan Honored by Hampton Friends Last Night—Going to Augusta

A dance was given last evening at the Wayside Inn, Hampton, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Ryan, Jr., as they are leaving for Augusta Me., where Mr. Ryan has accepted a position with the Central Maine Power Company of Augusta. The dance was largely attended and a programme was arranged consisting of seventeen dances and a number of extras. Dainty refreshments of ice cream, cake and cookies were served and the party broke up soon after one.

The large circle of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ryan regret very much losing this young couple from their midst. Mr. Ryan is a son of Dr. J. J. Ryan, who is now overseas, but who formerly had a summer home at Lakeside, near Hampton. He is a returned soldier, having enlisted with the 55th New Brunswick Battalion, and after some months of training at Camp Sussex and Valcartier, went overseas. He was training in England only a short time, when he was drafted to the "Fighting 26th," and went to France with that unit. He spent several months in France when he was wounded and spent a long time in a hospital in England; after being discharged from the hospital he was in the pay office in London until the signing of the armistice, when he was sent to the Canadian concentration camp, prior to being drafted for Canada. He arrived home unexpectedly about two weeks ago, spent a few days in Hampton, when he went to visit his mother in Augusta. It was on this visit that he accepted the position. He married a Hampton girl, Miss Laura McCready, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Myles McCready.

Miss McCready was a teacher on the Hampton Consolidated School staff. After their marriage, Mr. Ryan went overseas with his unit, and in a fey months Mrs. Ryan went to England to visit her husband. She returned to Canada and has been in Hampton awaiting the conclusion of the war and the happy homecoming of her husband.

A large circle of friends in Hampton, St. John and different parts of the province will regret very much to hear of their departure, but they wish them much success and happiness in their new home. It is hoped, however, that during the coming summer months they may spend some time in Hampton.

With their little daughter, Mary, they are to leave Friday evening on the Boston train for Augusta.

THE GROCERY MARKET

Coffee markets continue their tendency towards higher levels, and it looks now as though a general revision upward in prices to the trade must soon be necessary. Stocks in hand in Canada are becoming pretty well depleted, and new arrivals just about due have been bought at figures which will mean a probable advance of about four cents per pound.

Tea seems to be holding its own, and whereas freight rates which have been quite a factor in the cost are lower, the markets at primary points have advanced, more than offsetting the decline in transportation rates. It is understood there have been some fairly substantial parcels exported from Canada, and it would not require much of this business to place the tea trade in excellent shape as regards supplies.

Montreal—Among the declines of the week is one of one cent per pound for ground sulphur. Shelled peanuts also are lower, and salted too. Pearl barley and oatmeal are quoted less, while gluten feed is less by $2 to $3 per ton. Crated tomatoes are also lower to the extent of $2 per crate. Spices are easier in New York, but unchanged here and firm at primary points.

Among the advances noted is one for glucose of 35c. per 100 pounds. Raisins are also up one cent at growing points. Oats and barley are marked up again this week also, and walnuts registered an advance in one quarter.

Canned fruits are steady, enquiries coming from Europe for supplies, but these surplus stocks seem to be short. Coffees and teas are steadily firm, and sugar is steady and unchanged.

There is, if anything, a better spirit in trade circles, and a gradual bettering of trading is being brought about.

Toronto—The cereal situation seems to be slightly improved, the markets on grain, though fluctuating a great deal, tending gradually upward. This has not affected rolled oats so much, on which there is a wide range of prices, but corn cereals seem in a much steadier position.

A decline of seven cents per pound in one line of tobacco and three cents in another has been made this week. Peanut butter is lower. Steel wool is being quoted, and higher prices have been named on washboards.

Lima beans have sagged substantially, and general outlook on beans show little of interest. Rice shows up somewhat firmer, and some grades Japan rices are becoming scarce.

Winnipeg—Bean markets are decidedly weak, and further reductions seem due at an early date. Rice is holding firm, with Siam reported scarce.

The tea trade is ruling with a firmer undertone, the possibility of export trade with high prices asked at primary points being factors to stabilize the markets materially.

Oranges have advancel in price, and grapefruit are ruling quite high, with arrivals of both lines good and consuming demand splendid. Apples are high in price and none too plentiful.
