Brantford, Ont.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the District. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (but not Sub Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Six months' residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions.

A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $300.

The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions.

Art Collectors Object.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Feb. 11.—A Reuter despatch from Amsterdam says that the announcement by The Vossische Zeitung (Berlin) that the German Government will probably decide to impose a heavy tax on privately owned art treasures has raised a storm of protest from leading art collectors. The government, however, it is asserted, has virtually determined to levy the tax from which according to the report of the commission appointed by the Imperial chancellor, a large revenue is expected.

SECRETARY OF WAR IN U.S. CABINET HAS RESIGNED HIS POST

The Assistant Secretary Goes With Him—Reason is Continental Army Feature of National Preparedness Scheme Was Not Endorsed by the President.

Washington, Feb. 11—Lindley M. Garrison, Secretary of War, and Henry Breckinridge, Assistant Secretary, yesterday tendered their resignations to President Wilson, who immediately accepted them.

Mr. Garrison's resignation was brought about by the failure of President Wilson to support the continental army feature of the "national preparedness" scheme, and because the Secretary of War is not in sympathy with the Clarke amendment to the Philippine bill providing for the relinquishment of American control of the islands.

MANY LETTERS PUBLISHED

The announcement of the resignations of Secretary Garrison and Assistant Secretary Breckinridge was made at the White House last night by Secretary Tumulty, who at the same time made public extensive correspondence between Mr. Wilson and the Secretary of War.

This correspondence embodied not only the letters of resignation and the President's acceptance to take effect immediately, but other exchanges, which show that the President and his Secretary of War have been wholly at odds over army legislation and the Philippine bill.

Secretary of War Garrison's continental army plan, the prospective failure of which has been given as his reason for resigning from the Cabinet, provided for the raising of a citizen army of 400,000 men to supplement the regular army. It was to be recruited in increments of 133,000 men a year. Its recruits were to be obligated to devote a specified time for training for a period of three years and then to be on furlough without obligation excepting to return to the colors in the event of war or threatened war.

He proposed to recruit the continental army territorially, according to population, and to have it subjected to two months' intensive training each year for three years. Officers were to be obtained largely from the National Guard, from the regular army lists and from the various military schools and were to be paid on the basis of regular army officers.

NEW PLANS CONFLICT.

The continental army plan immediately came into conflict with the National Guard system, and met with violent opposition on the part of the supporters of the latter in Congress.

Representative James Hay of Virginia, Chairman of the House Committee on Military Affairs, has favored the enlargement of the militia under Federal pay. While the President originally approved of Mr. Garrison's plan for a continental army, lately he has shown more and more sympathy with Mr. Hay's idea.

The resignations of Mr. Garrison and Mr. Breckenridge leave Major-General Hugh L. Scott, Chief of Staff, the head of the War Department until a new Secretary is appointed.

SECOND CABINET CHANGE.

This is the second member of President Wilson's Cabinet to resign. The first was Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan, who resigned in June of last year.

Speculation last night was rife over the possible successor to Secretary Garrison. Among those mentioned are:

Col. E. M. House, the President's closest adviser, now on a confidential mission to European capitals.

Representative James Hay, Chairman of the House Military Affairs committee.

H. M. Pindall, Peoria editor, once picked for Ambassador to Russia.

Major General John O'Ryan of the New York militia.

Not Buying Munitions.

London, Feb. 11.—A despatch to The Morning Post from Madrid says that in order to improve the financial situation, the Spanish Government has decided not to proceed with the purchase of $6,00,000 worth of war material in the United States.

MORE REVELATIONS IN SWITZERLAND

Federal Insurance Funds Transferred to German Bonds.

Paris, Feb. 11.—A Geneva despatch to The Journal says that public opinion in Switzerland is deeply moved by the revelation that responsible officials of the Federal insurance directorate transferred all the federal insurance funds with the exception of 600,000 francs, into German bonds and stocks since the war began. This discovery, the despatch says, was made by the Board of auditors of the federal council during the periodical examination of the insurance records. The Swiss federal council in 1911 passed the federal insurance law, for the purposes of which several million francs were appropriated.

The Swiss law alluded to was in two parts, the first providing for insurance against illness and the second for insurance against accident, which involved the establishment of an annual fund of about 8,000,000 francs. Opposition was made to the second part of the measure, on the ground that so large an appropriation would endanger the national treasury and that it was a doubtful adventure for the state to undertake a form of business which had previously been regarded as the proper domain of private companies. Both parts of the law were finally adopted by 250,000 against 220,000 on the referendum vote by the Swiss people.

CAN'T FIND DANDRUFF.

Every bit of dandruff disappears after one or two applications of Danderine rubbed well into the scalp with the finger tips. Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store and save your hair. After a few applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.

Carding the Resources.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Feb. 11.—A despatch to The Times from Petrograd says the members of the duma are discussing the necessity of making an inventory of and requisitioning all foodstuffs in the empire and establishing a card system in order to afford a better distribution of food stuffs.
