SOAKING RAIN IN CORN BELT

Chicago Sentiment Veers Suddenly to Bear Side—Wheat Also Lower.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Good rains today eased corn. Closing prices were ⅝ to ½ net lower. Improved weather conditions in the Canadaian northwest lowered wheat ¼ to ⅜c. Oats finished a shade to ⅛c off and provisions were down 2½ to 7½c.

The weather map today showed precitation over the entire southwest, and in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, and bearish sentiment quickly made itself felt in the corn. The bulk of the grain business was in corn and the market for the session was nervous and active. Several of the leading houses, which have lately been on the buying side, became sellers. The downward trend of values was aggravated by an easing in cash corn which was ½c lower. A little check was given to the sagging market toward the close by renewed talk of crop shortage, some traders holding that the rains have come too late to prevent a serious curtailment in output.

Better Outlook in Canada.

Improved weather conditions in the Canadian northwest, France and Germany, served to depress wheat tho the easing of prices was partly due to the dip in corn. An increase of 15,000,000 in the estimate of the wheat crop in the spring belt was another feature that helped the bears, as did also a falling off in export business. Exporters asserted there had been no export business for two weeks except to fill previously engaged ocean freight room and that this had been done at a loss.

The oats market was without special feature. Prices weakened with corn. Primary receipts were heavy.

Provisions ruled dull and weak all day. The market eased off early on selling of lard and did not recover to any extent.

LIVERPOOL PRICES

Wheat futures at Liverpool closed unchanged from yesterday, and corn was ⅛d to ¼d higher.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Receipts of farm produce were light, owing to the rain, and prices were unchanged from those given in table.

CORONER'S REPLY TO HIS CRITICS

Dr. Pickering Says Remarks on Licensed Vice Were Misinterpreted—Objects to Meddling.

Coroner Pickering writes The World as follows:

"At the inquest held before me at the Toronto City Morgue, on Aug. 13, 1913, upon the body of a newly-born unknown female infant, the fact of a beautiful girl baby having been foully murdered caused me to express my feelings in the address I made to the jury, and I am deeply sorry that my remarks have been sadly misinterpreted.

"I did not intend to infer that there should be segregation. I did not intend to infer that there should be a red light district in the City of Toronto; likewise, I did not intend to infer that the police or any other person should violate the criminal code, or any other law of the land, as has been suggested by Mr. Raney, as I strongly advocate that every person should be a good and law-abiding citizen. If the criminal code or any other law is defective, it should be amended, and God forbid that I should by word or deed suggest the licensing of prostitution, thereby legalizing and adding an air of respectability to so damnable a business.

Objects to Interference.

"What I really did mean and intend to infer was that the provincial police and the Toronto City police as a whole are an efficient body of men, and the heads of several of the police departments and the police commissioners of the City of Toronto intellectually are far above the average, and would be better able to fulfil their duties more satisfactorily to themselves and the public, without any interference from the so-called moral reformers, and, in fact, without interference from any irresponsible body. I am bitterly opposed to oppression and coercion of the unfortunates, and intended to infer that instead of the deliberations at the meetings of the so-called moral reformers being published in the press, thereby causing persecution of the underworld, they, the so-called moral reformers, should follow their Master's example and go into the highways and byways, winning back the fallen and leading them into the straight path. They would then be giving an equivalent for the salaries they receive.

"I did not intentionally seek this notoriety, which is very objectionable to me, consequently as far as I am personally concerned, this letter of explanation is final, and I sincerely trust it will end that which has been (to me) a very unpleasant controversy."

FEAR INFLUX OF TRAMPS TO CITY

Ald. Rowland Against Conversion of General Hospital Into Lodging House.

"The building of the old general hospital will not be used for lodging the immigrants who are expected in great numbers from the Balkans, with the close of the war," Ald Rowland said. "Did the city offer a lodging house for immigrants there might be any number of undesirables now living in the country, flocking to Toronto for the winter.

"But we will have to utilize one of the buildings at the old general hospital to accommodate the numerous cases of measles," Ald. Rowland said. "This is compulsory, in order to stamp out the epidemic. Commissioner Chisholm is trying to find a building suitable for a lodging house for immigrants. The policy is to fix the price of rents in that house to meet all expenses."

$3.50 RECIPE FREE FOR WEAK MEN

Send Name and Address To-day—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, taking memory, and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own home—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow men to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man, anywhere, who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3933 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary envelope, free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely consultation. I send it entirely free. 6-tf.

GREATER THAN EVER THIS YEAR'S FAIR

Visitors Can Easily Be Excused if They are Wonder Struck.

ART AND INDUSTRIES

Educational Value of Display is Even More Prominent Than Usual.

Many expressions of appreciation of the exhibits in the government, art and industrial buildings at the Canadian National Exhibition will be heard during and after the fair. It is in these buildings that the exhibits will stamp the Exhibition as a world's fair.

The government building fairly riots in a demonstration of the wealth of resources in the Canadian provinces and the British possessions in the western waters of the Atlantic. Manitoba has a particularly dressy display of grains in the straw. The display is sufficiently striking to hold visitors to the understanding that Canada is the granary of the world.

Nearby is the wide-flung presentation of the tropical products of the West Indies. On one wall are a dozen or so of mounted turtles that will cause thousands of visitors to pause. Across the aisle is a bamboo house, palm leaf thatched, and in the rear is a bamboo pagoda, from which will be distributed a ton of arrowroot, declared to be better than corn starch for custards and puddings. Jamaica has a large exhibit of ginger, rum and other articles for which that island is famous.

Fine Fish Exhibit.

All the provinces have combined in an exhibit of fish that will make Friday appear the only day in the week for a square meal. The federal government has assisted considerably in the formation of this fish exhibit. A large refrigerator contains samples of all the sea food in Canadian waters.

Lovers of paintings will go back again and again to the art gallery to study some of the pictures there. Canadian, British, American and German artists have their work grouped in each of four departments. In the Canadian department is a study of a mother and child before the firelight, by Miss Florence Carlyle. All that is attractive in so beautiful a study is brought out. In the British department are the greatest number of interesting studies.

Originality is much in evidence in the United States department. One picture of a young woman, standing beside the bust of possibly a Puritan ancestor, is the gem of the collection. The studies in the German department will hold considerable attention.

Austrian Exhibit.

In the industrial building there is an exhibit by the Austrian Government that will cause much interest. It shows samples of the products of 100 factories, in which are 100,000 workmen. The exhibit is in charge of Dr. Erich Pistor, secretary of the Vienna chamber of commerce.

"Your C.P.R. selected our port of Trieste as the terminal of its steamship line between Canada and Europe," said the doctor, "and has also put its cars filled with the products of Canada, upon our railway lines. The exhibits in those cars made us understand that Canada is a place for us to go after business. We import much asbestos and nickel from Canada, and we are exhibiting many of the manufactures from that raw material. We want to build up a trade in Canada for our manufactures that do not compete with Canadian manufactures and we want Canadians to build up a trade in Austria in grain, fruit, cheese and machinery. We will study the demand in Canada for our goods, and it is very likely that results will cause us to become a regular exhibitor at your great fair here."

Notwithstanding the heavy rain yesterday the workmen were at it for all they were worth inside and outside of the buildings. The paved midway looks inviting for immense and happy crowds. The new live stock arena has an imposing appearance. This year the Exhibition will certainly look bigger and better than ever.

REPLY TO NEWSIES BY EDITOR ROGERS

R. Rogers, the managing editor of "Jack Canuck," the weekly publication which the newsboys of this city have refused to sell on account of the wholesale price having been raised from 2½ to 3 cents a copy, gave The World his side of the story last night. He declared that the increasing of the price of the paper to the newsboys will merely place it on a level with that obtained from the newsdealers.

Mr. Rogers stated that it would be unfair to newsdealers for him to continue selling to the newsies at a lower rate than the former pay. Complaints had been received from newsdealers that they had high expenses to keep up their business, and they considered it to be an injustice that they should have to pay a half a cent a copy more than the newsboys do. It was to place all the buyers on an equal footing that the raise was made.

The three cent rate was the same as that which the boys paid for other weekly publications, and the managing editor did not see what grounds the boys had to make complaint.

A TRIAL SHIPMENT GAVE $38.10 PER TON IN GOLD

Development on this property has proven what I told you months ago, and large mining companies are coming into the Painkiller Lake district. It takes time to develop gold properties. Don't expect to buy today and double your money tomorrow. Get into a property that is being developed on business principles.

Write for prospectus at once.

Only a few shares are offered for sale at 75c, and I reserve the right to withdraw the offer without notice.
