FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN

Let's Talk It Over

Dreams.

What would you like to do most in all the world? If we could have a true answer to this question what an insight it would give us into the characters of our friends! Perhaps some of our nearest and dearest would give us the greatest surprises, for if "the heart knoweth its own bitterness" it also knows its own unsatisfied longing, and that is something which is not usually confided to the world at large or to one's own special friends in particular.

"I've always wanted to do this," said a girl to her chum one day, after securing a position in the business world. "Why you never told me that before," answered the friend, who was also a cousin, "and you know how much chum cousins tell one another. "No, for it was the thing I wanted above all, to be independent, and you don't usually talk about the things you care most about."

I think I have mentioned before, the girl whose pet ambition was to pat a lion, but there is another I know who wants, with all her might, to bang a big brass drum. She thinks if she could do that just once, she could get over the life-long desire. It really seems when so much happiness is denied her that this one little favor might be granted—by fate, but so far she never has had that soul satisfying terrific stroke.

People who are clever wish they were pretty, and people who are blessed with good looks say they are envious of those whose intelligence is the least noticeable. The shy man wishes he were a social butterfly and the man about town, well, perhaps he would say he longs for a time when simpler pleasures did not pall.

After all it's a funny world, and it makes on wonder just what we would each do with our heart's desire could a fairy godmother but grant it to us? "Whatever is best," is the philosophical reasoning to turn to, but after all it would be very dull never to even have the hope of banging that big brass drum some day, or looking forward to the passing circus when a tame lion might stand still to be petted. It is the expectation that makes life interesting. Perhaps, around the corner, on the next turning of the road, dreams may come true, and meanwhile it is good at times to dream.

MARGUERITE.

RUMMAGE SALE.

A very successful rummage sale was held on Saturday at 321 Brussels street, by members of the Epworth League of the Queen Square Methodist Church. Mrs. E. Le Roy King was in charge, and assisting her were Miss Welsford, president of the League; Mrs. Killem, Mrs. Emery, Mrs. A. Robertson, Mrs. F. R. Blair and Miss R. Easson. The proceeds, which amounted to $50, are for the funds of the League.

DEMENTED MAN CAPTURED.

Detective Biddiscombe, in company with another officer, succeeded yester day in capturing a demented man, who eluded the keepers of the provincial hospital some two weeks ago. The police were notified and were constantly on vigil for a person answering the descriptions of the escaped patient. Yesterday he was noticed on the Marsh Road, and the police were at once communicated with. Procuring the patrol wagon, Detective Biddiscombe, with another officer, overtook the man at the three mile house. He was conveyed back to the institution, where he is now confined in safety.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY.

The men of the "Holy Name Society" of the Cathedral parish, Waterloo St., attended Holy Mass yesterday morning in a body, each and every man advancing to the communion rail. The Holy Name Society is rapidly growing in membership, and already the majority of the men of the cathedral parish are recognized in this society. The society is for the social betterment of men, in restraining them from profanity.

LIQUOR IN HIS POSSESSION.

Inspector McAinsh, under the liquor prohibition act, succeeded in running in a defaulter last evening, with the aid of a C.P.R. policeman. The defaulter, when arrested, gave his name as David Clarke. He was not intoxicated, but had a bottle of the ardent fluid in his possession when encountered on the West Side docks.

TO PROVINCIAL HOSPITAL.

A resident of the central portion of the city was conveyed to the provincial hospital yesterday afternoon by the police patrol. The unfortunate man, having become deranged a short time ago, attempted violence yesterday, which prompted the lady of the house to notify the police for his immediate removal to a place of safety.

COUGHED, COUGHED ALL NIGHT LONG

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep. Sometimes it is a constant cough, cough that will not be quieted.

Sometimes it is a choked-up, stuffed-up feeling that makes breathing difficult, and sleep impossible.

Whatever kind of a cold or cough you have, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the remedy you need to cure it, for the simple reason that this valuable preparation combines all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree with which is combined wild cherry bark, and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and barks.

Miss Margaret Landly, Bristol, P. E. I., writes:—"I am writing to tell you the benefit I have received from Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

"Last fall I took a severe cough and cold in my head. I was unable to do anything. At night I could not sleep but cough, cough, all night long. A friend advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before the second bottle was used, I was entirely cured, and I have found this the best cough medicine I can buy."

Do not accept any other "pine" preparations when you ask for "Dr. Wood's." This remedy has been on the market for a quarter of a century. It is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss FLO KELLY, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

THE HEART OF HUMANITY IS A FINE PICTURE

Large Audience at Imperial Theatre Last Evening Saw an Appealing Romance of Canada, the Red Cross and the Great War.

"Scarce noticed amidst the war-like throng,
Yet side by side there marched along,
Needless of honor, of glory, of purse
Our Woman Soldier, the Red Cross Nurse,
For suffering humanity."

These words, taken from the poem with which the picture opens, sound the keynote of "The Heart of Humanity," a private showing of which was given at the Imperial Theatre last evening before a large and representative audience.

In the left hand box were Lieut. Governor Pugsley, Mrs. Pugsley and party, with Mrs. G. A. Margetts. Invitations had been issued by The Canadian Universal Film Company, of which G. A. Margetts is local manager, to presidents and secretaries of many societies, including the various Red Cross Circles, and others interested in the work of women "for suffering humanity."

After a very beautiful selection rendered by the Imperial Orchestra, the curtain was raised to reveal Miss Amelia Green, who, in the costume of a Red Cross Nurse recited most sympathetically the prologue.

With scenes of Canadian loveliness, trees, lakes and hills, the story opens showing the tranquil life of a French-Canadian village. The principal characters are Nanette the loved niece of the village priest, who is betrothed to John the eldest son of the widow Patricia. John has four brothers and the life of this family with their typical brotherly affection and the jokes played on one another is a charming part of the story. John has been away from the village and he returns with a friend one Oscar Strang. After the wedding of John and Nanette, war breaks out, and John with his three brothers is among the first to enlist. When Nanette has a little son of her own, she hears from overseas the cry of the little children, whose homes have been wasted and whose lives have been almost shattered by Hun brutality and she, too, goes to France, where as a Red Cross nurse she brings comfort to both soldiers and the little orphans. Against a vivid background of war the story of human interest is told, a story of love, bravery and faithfulness triumphing over hate and cruelty. When the victory of the Allies comes, John and Nanette are united in their loved Canada, to which they have also brought some of war's victims, who seem sent to fill vacant places in mothers' hearts.

This brief outline does not in any way do justice to the picture. There are harrowing scenes of war, but then war was waged in that way and it serves to point out the great glory of the sacrifice made by the men who volunteered for love of country to fight for country. The realism of Hun cruelty is something we should never be allowed to forget, and if efforts for Red Cross work or reconstruction should slacken this picture brings a message of "Lest we forget, carry on."

Through the scenes are many exceedingly funny incidents, and the children who take part are delightful. The babies always brought an exclamation from the audience.

"Certainly a wonderful picture" seemed to be the general verdict on "The Heart of Humanity."

Miss Phillips as Nanette gives a very fine rendering of the stellar role. As the widow Patricia, Margaret Mann is satisfying in every way. "John" is played by William Stowell, and Eric Von Stoheim whom many may remember in "The Little American" and "The Hearts of the World," certainly makes the Hun officer as detestable as could be wished. The second son of the widow furnishes many amusing situations.

The musical setting, as rendered by the Imperial Orchestra, was greatly enjoyed.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

There is no duty we so much underrate as the duty of being happy
—R. L. Stevenson.

SERMON PREACHED IN STONE CHURCH

Rev. G. A. Kuhring Heard in Able Discourse Yesterday —Preacher Makes Strong Appeal for Indian and Esquiman Missionary Funds.

In the sermon preached in the Stone church yesterday the Rev. G. A. Kuhring took for his text John 11, 28-29.

"The Master is come and calleth hee."

"As soon as she heard that she arose quickly, and come to Him."

The preacher said that, with the rest of his brethren, the clergy in the Diocese, were endeavoring to make every woman, and every grl, hear the Master's call. "Will you pray that I may be just a 'Voice' and that through that voice you may hear your Master's call? The Master has come and calleth for thee."

It is one of the glories of the Christian religion that it offers to women a larger place in the ministry. It could not be otherwise, for Jesus Christ Himself accepted that ministry and His calls were heard and obeyed.

What a record of loving service there is to the credit of women as mother, wife, sister, friend, in the home, the hospital, the mission field, civic betterment and in the church life. It cannot be estimated. Wherever Christ is known there the circle of women's influence is constantly enlarging. Women are hearing that the Master is come and is calling for her.

In answering His call, a woman is finding her vocation her satisfastion, her liberty; and where she turns a deaf ear to His call, her vocation is gone. Steeped in worldiness and selfishness, she relapses into a more bitter bondage, dissatisfied and unhonorable. "She liveth in pleasure, is dead while she liveth."

Today is the opportunity of the women of the day to band themselves together and hear the call of the Master, and if heard and answered it meant readjustment of your time, interests, wealth and talents that they may be made ready to yield to His commands.

The reverend speaker then alluded to different ones in the ages ago, who had answered the call; and drew reference to Martha who had given her house to Him; Mary, her devotion; Dorcas, who had plied her needle in clothing Him; Anna, the prophetess who, at the age of one hundred and three, prayed in the temple; and lastly the widow who had given her mite.

Referrng to his discourse, he alluded to the wil power, which in triumphing over the weakness of the flesh, and laughing at all impossibilities lent aid to the answering of the call to the church.

Then, alluding to the mission work in the Church in England he mentioned the amount of $60,000, which had been raised for the Canadian church mission among the Indians and Esquimaux. Canada saw to it fairly in assuming the raising of an endowment of $250,000. The Canadian children had secured their allotment of $50,000, and over. Now the call was to the women of Canada, for their share in the raising of the monies to aid in the Indian and Esquimaux missionary work, $25,000 was the share of the Canadian women and the local allotment aimed at was $1,654.

In conclusion the speaker said that "Many years ago Jesus sent Martha to Mary. . . . The Master is come and calleth thee; and today He sends us to tell you that He is come and calleth to you to take care of His Esquimaux and infant children."

No doubt the appeal will meet with generous response in the city by the women of the Stone church, who have in the past subscribed nobly to all worthy purposes.

GAGETOWN

Gagetown, Feb. 9.—John R. Dunn, chairman of the Salvation Army committee for this side of Queens County reports excellent success in all parts of the districts canvassed; and it is expected that over $500 will be contributed by this part of the county. In the Petersville section, Mrs. H. W. Woods, reports a subscription list of $230; in Gagetown, about $135 has been collected by Miss Frances Cass-well, Miss Gladys Dickie, Miss Molly Otty and Miss L. M. Peters; Upper Gagetown contributed $35 through Mrs. Willard McMulkin, and Lower Gagetown, $34, through Mrs. Charles E. Gaunce. Byron Clark and Rev. Mr. Machum are the collectors in Hampstead and Hibernia, and Miss Charlotte Scovil, in Queenstown. When the returns are all in it is confidently expected that Queens will exceed the $1500 allotted to it.

Sergt. Harry Turney, who has lately returned from overseas, came down from Fredericton on Satuday night, and will spend some time at Lower Gagetown with Frank L. Fox. Sergt. Turney, who went over in the earliest part of the war, and served with the Canadian Army in many of the most notable battles of the war, formerly resided near Brussels, Belgium, and is a brother of the horticulturist, A. G. Turney of Fredericton.

Mr. and Mrs. David Moore learned in a recent letter from overseas, that their son, Fred A. Moore, now with a district headquarters company, had been promoted to the rank of sergeant which will be interesting news for his friends here and elsewhere.

Last week Miss Annie Graham, went to St. John, and returned to Lewfield on Thursday, accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. J. Graham, wife of Sergt. Graham of No. 2 Forestry Corps, who had just come over from her former home in London, England. Many friends of Sergt. Graham, who has served so long overseas, and won much commendation from his officers, will look forward with interest and pleasure to meeting his English bride. It is expected that before long, Sergt. Graham will be home again.

Corpl. Abner B. Belyea went up last week to Fredericton, where he has accepted a position. That he may have the best of luck in his future work is the wish of all his friends here.

On Wednesday evening, the first meeting of the Womens Auxiliary for the year was held at the home of the vice-president, Mrs. N. H. Otty. The meeting was a devotional one, the prayers being read by Rev. H. T. Buckland, who also gave a helpful address on Prayer. The late president of the auxiliary, who for over ten years, filled that office with such devotion, was very much in the minds of all the members present. A letter from Miss Ruby Peters, the first missionary to a foreign field from Gagetown, who has been in China for a year and a half, was read by her sister, Miss Pearl Peters, and was listened to with keenest interest, as well as admiration for the brave spirit of the writer. Miss Peters is spending the winter in a Chinese house, at Kweitch, with Dr. Catherine Travis, of Hampton, whose medical work in the Serbian campaign is well known, and has mastered enough of the language to assist in the work of religious teaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Peters of Elmhurst, Kings County, was guests of Mr. and Mrs. George MacAlpine for a short visit last week.

Miss Louise M. Scovil and Miss Polly Scovil, after spending six weeks at their home in Queenstown, returned on Tuesday to a Hartford, Conn., where they have accepted positions in the Hartford Hospital, from which they graduated so successfully last June.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel DeVeber returned on Saturday from spending a week in St. John.

Mrs. Frederick Beaugrande, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. R. T. Babbit, has returned to her home in Montreal.

Mrs. R. H. Weston is able to be out again after her recent illness of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Allingham have been visiting relatives and friends in Hopewell Hill.

Mrs. Robert Douglas and party of friends drove from St. John last week to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brooks.

A fine revival of the winter sport of horse racing on the ice was held here on Saturday afternoon. Up to a few years ago, no New Years Day was complete without the horse race; but the race planned for this year had to be postponed on account of the very heavy snowfall. For Saturdays' race several horses were expected from outside points, including Fredericton, Hampton and Hampstead; but the threateninng weather of the previous day discouraged them from coming and the entries were all local. A large crowd gathered on the ice in the vicinity of the finishing posts, and followed the progress of the race with the keenest interest. The "three minute race" stirred up a good deal of enthusiasm, while the uncertainty of the "green race," for horses never raced before, appealed to many.

The track had to be plowed clear of the morning snowfall, and the line-up for the race was not made until half past two, with the following entries:

Three minute race—Sparkle, owned and driven by F. T. Dingee; Lou, owned by Frank Hayden and driven by J. W. Hamilton; Teddy R., owned by E. S. Brodie and driven by T. H. DeVeber. The four heats in this race resulted as follows: 1st, Sparkle, 1, 3, 1, 1; 2nd, Lou, 2, 2, 2, 2; 3nd, Teddy R., 3, 1, 3, 3.

In the Green Race there were five entries—Belle, entered and driven by H. B. Bridges, Dolly Wilkes, entered and driven by H. H. Gilbert; Prince of Wales, entered and driven by J. I. DeVeber; Lady, by Wm. C. Belyea and Bess, by George McKay. The three heats showed an unusually even result, 1st, Belle, 1, 1, 1; Dolly, 2, 2, 2; Prince of Wales, 3 3, 3. The judge was F. C. Ebbett. A purse of $110 was divided among the winners by the financial manager, F. L.Corey.
