"THE SMITHFIELD

CHRISTMAS FAT STOCK SHOW.

Smith won the Bell Trophy, Freid the Holliday Cup.

LARGER AND BETTER THAN EVER

Interesting to Both Farmers and Citizens.

"He who by farmin' would get rich,
Must plow and sow, and reap and stitch.
Work hard all day, sleep hard all night,
Save every cent, and don't get tight."
—Josh Billings.

The eighteenth annual "Smithfield of Canada" show was opened to the public at Victoria rink, Wednesday afternoon, at two o'clock, with the more than realized anticipation of the directors that it would be the best held under the auspices of the Guelph Fat Stock Club and Poultry Association. The Guelph show is run on the same principle as the Smithfield, of England and, consequently, is purely a fat stock show, breeding cattle being excluded.

The object of making this exclusion is to encourage the beefing interests to test what can be done in the way of bringing to perfection stock ready for the block.

Considerable dissatisfaction having been expressed as to the quality of cattle which Canada has been sending to the British markets, object lessons such as are taught at this show, must have a tendency to impress among farmers a higher ideal of what can be done by proper feeding, which must in the end bring larger profits to the farmer and enable Canada to take her proper place in the markets of the world. Canada has now to compete with the leading stock countries of the world in the British market, and must, in order to hold her place successfully there, send forward only the best cattle.

The increasing success of the show from year to year has been due to the efforts put forth by the able directorate. For the past two years the responsibility of the show has fallen on a capable man, in the person of Mr. James Millar, the president and one of the originators of the show. Mr. John McCorkindale is the enterprising secretary and has filled that office most acceptably for the past eight or nine years.

Superintendent Crosby had everything comfortably and conveniently arranged at the rink for the accommodation of the exhibitors and visitors, and the building was nicely decorated with evergreens, flags, etc. At one end hung the motto "The Smithfield of Canada," and at the other a streamer bearing the words, "Second to None." The show was in keeping with both mottoes.

The announcement that the big trophies would be competed for at the Victoria Rink, on Thursday night, brought out an unusually large crowd, every available corner in the spacious building being filled to overflowing. Shortly after seven o'clock the crowd began to gather and it was not until after ten o'clock that the last visitor left the building. For an hour or more after the opening the visitors strayed about through the passages and pens admiring the fine stock and poultry on exhibition there. The sportsman band discoursed sweet music in their stand upstairs. The scene was brilliant and one which will long be remembered by every person present.

Judging for the big prizes commenced at eight o'clock. The Bell trophy awarded by the Bell Organ and Piano Co., for best pair of fat animals, any age or breed, to be bred and fed by exhibitor, was first competed for. The exhibitors were J. Freid & Sons, Roseville, R. Young, Pomonby, Stone Estate, Guelph, I. Groff, Alma. It was a difficult task for the judges, and it required half an hour before the red ribbon was suspended over the shoulders of one of the fine fat heifers belonging to J. Freid & Sons.

The Holliday Cup was next placed in the balance, but it did not take the judges long to place the ribbon over the snow white steer, owned by H. Smith, of Hay. The other exhibitors were J. Freid & Sons, D. McCrae, Guelph, Stone Estate.

The last class, namely, the sweepstakes for the best fat animal on the ground, brought out a large class, including the white steer, which captured the Holliday Cup. This animal again succeeded in winning the "National Cream Separator," awarded by the Raymond Manufacturing Co.

Mr. George J. Thorp, the enterprising sportsman and grain dealer, had a large exhibit of poultry and stock foods. His exhibit was situated conspicuously in the centre of the poultry department. It attracted much attention. Everyone admired the tasteful arrangement of the display, which was the handiwork of Mr. James McKwan. The exhibit included samples of Pratt's poultry food, J. S. Pearce & Co.'s stock tonic, calf meals, oyster and other grits, Worthington's stock tonic and food in profusion. Several bone mills were also on exhibition.

THE CATLE.

The chief exhibitors in cattle were Jas. Oakes & Son of Alvinston, Messrs. Freid, Shakespeare, Lask, Bowman, Guelph Township, The Stone Estate, David McCrea, Richardson, Fergus, Clayton, Fergus, Smith, Exeter, Groff, Alma; Young, Nichol, Amos, Moffat, Jno. McCorkindale, Guelph Township, and many others from various parts of the province.

Another fine animal was a three-year old heifer, shown by Messrs. Freid of Shakespeare. It is considered by many to be the fattest animal on the ground. Her weight is 2,100 lbs. This heifer was winner of the large sweepstake cup at Woodstock, last year, and was entered here for the sweepstakes. She was purchased by Tyson Bros. for their Christmas trade.

The cattle are already almost all sold at prices higher than they have been for years. Many of the best cattle will not reach the Provincial Show, as, if they were sent there, the purchasers would not be able to get them to their markets in time for the Christmas trade.

Mr. Freid, of Shakespeare, was offered his price for the last animal he had to dispose of, but was compelled to refuse, as the animal was entered with his string for the London show and the bidder wished to have it delivered from here, in order to reach St. John's, N.B., in time for Christmas marketing. The directors are more convinced than ever that the Guelph show is held at the proper time for all concerned.

SHEEP.

Principal exhibitors in sheep were: Orr & Lillico, Galt; Geo. Allan, Oriel; A. J. Watson, Castleberg; Whitelaw Bros., Guelph; L. Parkinson, Eramosa; T. C. Douglas, Galt; W. H. Beattie, Wiltongrove; Jno. Brown, Galt; S. Evans, Goderich; Jas. Scott, Aberfoyle; D. Stewart, Everton; Thos. Lush, Oustic; P. Stewart, Eramosa; T. Wilson & Sons, Knatchbull; Scanlan Bros., Ennotville.

SWINE.

Entries in swine were exceptional and the quality superior to those exhibited here in previous years. Among the exhibitors were: H. Dedals, Cossuth; A. Elliott & Sons, Galt; G. B. Hood, Guelph; Wm. McCrae, Guelph; Geo. North, Marden; Geo. Kitching, Cowching; Thos. Lush, Oustic; R. Agnew, Acton; A. Bolton, Armstrong's Mills; Scantlu Bros., Ennotville; L. Parkinson, Eramosa, and Geo. Barker, Guelph.

POULTRY.

The show was undoubtedly the best ever held under the auspices of the Guelph Poultry and Pet Stock Association. The directors have worked hard to bring it up to this standard. In all, there were over twelve hundred birds exhibited, from the largest Brahmas down to the smallest Bantams. There was a large exhibit of pigeons and every variety was well represented. Four beautiful swans were loaned to the association for exhibition, by Mr. James Godlie. There attracted much attention. Mr. Godlie also put on exhibition at this show four handsome English silver pheasants. The pet stock was well represented inevery respect, including rabbits, hares, etc.
