MRS. LANGTRY TO RE-MARRY.

She Will Become Lady Peel on Consummation of Her Divorce.

New York, Oct. 7.—It has been frequently said of late that Mrs. Langtry's object in suing for a divorce was to enable her to contract a marriage with Sir Robert Peel, whose attentions to her were not only the talk of Monaco, where it is understood the couple first met, but also of half of Europe. Mrs. Langtry and Sir Robert also spent much of the summer together at Baden-Baden.

In reference to the rumor that Mrs. Langtry was to marry Sir Robert Peel her counsel, A. H. Hummel, said yesterday: "I have no knowledge that Mrs. Langtry intends any such thing, but it would not surprise me in the least if, when her present marriage bonds are shattered, she should marry again, and possibly a scion of the British nobility.

"Under the laws of California, Mrs. Langtry is entitled to a divorce on the ground of non-support. She has been a resident and citizen of that state for seven years, and owns a ranch there. The summons and complaint in her action are in the hands of our London correspondents for service upon the defendant, but until issue is joined no steps can be taken in court. The suit will not be tried in San Francisco, but in Lake County, where her interests are located."

Luxuries in Labrador.

In spite of latitude and Arctic current, Labrador is the home of much that is delicious in the berry world. Even the outlying islands furnish the curlewberry and bakeapple in profusion; and upon the mainland, in the proper month, September, a veritable feast awaits one. Three varieties of blueberries, huckleberries, red currants, with a pungent aromatic flavor unequalled by the cultivated varieties; marshberries, raspberries, tiny white capillaire teaberries, with a flavor like some rare perfume and having just a faint suggestion of wintergreen; squashberries, pearberries and curlewberries, the latter not so grateful as the others, but a prime favorite with the Esquimaux; and lastly, the typical Labrador fruit which, excepting a few scattering plants in Canada and Newfoundland, is found, I believe, nowhere outside of the peninsula—the gorgeous bakeapple.

These cover the entire coast from the St. Lawrence to Ungava. Their beautiful geranium-like leaves struggle with the reindeer moss upon the islands, carpet alike the low valleys and the highest hilltops, and even peep from banks of everlasting snow. Only one berry grows upon each plant, but this one makes a most delicious mouthful. It is the size and form of a large dewberry, but the color is a bright crimson when half ripe and a golden yellow at maturity. Its taste is sweetly acid, it is exceedingly juicy, and so delicate that it might be thought impossible to preserve it. Yet the natives do preserve it with all its freshness and original flavor throughout the entire winter, merely by covering it with fresh water and heading it up tightly in casks or barrels.—Outing.

A Third Revolution for the Earth.

It is a popular belief that his old earth of ours has only two revolutions, i.e., one round the sun, and the other a daily one on its own axis. This belief, however, Isaac, I am afraid, to be buried with the other false notions that at different times have been held by scientists and their following; for the earth will have to be accredited with another turning "round" that will revolutionize the theory of geology and explain, with a far greater degree of logic and reason, many things that under the old theory were inexplicable. Perhaps many are aware that there have been slight deviations in the latitude of places, amounting to as much as two minutes in 100 years, according to our first astronomers. Up to the present, the motion of the earth was thought to be oscilatory; but it is now proved beyond doubt that such is not the case, and that the movement is constantly in the same direction. The poles of this third revolution, if I am not mistaken, are thought to be somewhat about the 35th deg. E. long. and 145th deg. W. long. but until further search and careful observation these positions cannot positively be stated.

Thus, if this movement of two minutes per 10 0years be the average, then an entire revolution would be completed in about two millions of years. This revolution would cause the countries and seas that would be equatorial to these new poles to pass a little to the east or west of the present poles just as the case may be; while others would pass directly under the Polar Star, and would for thousands and thousands of years have the rigor of a polar winter to bear. Now this would account for the different glacial epochs that are met with in the historical geology of England, and would fully explain the reason of submarine deposits on mountain tops, as these mountains in their course would undergo the same process as seas and flat countries would in their voyage via the North Pole. Thus, mountains that were miles above the level of the sea at the North Pole would be miles below on the equator and thus would receive the building up that has been a puzzle to many people.

So with England in the carboniferous ages. For thousands of years it enjoyed a series of tropical summers; and then for long ages it was submerged in the sea, which carried and deposited sediment that has ultimately been enough to raise its head again above the waters. This, being repeatedly accomplished, has left a complete geogical account of the past history of our little island, and no link is wanting in the chain of evidence which will ultimately prove that this is the sole cause of the changes in our geologic history. Now, in my opinion, this theory of a latitudinal rotation will go far to prove in a more feasible and sensible manner both the ages of the world and the manner in which these ages have been passed. Instead of elevation and depression of continents and seas explaining the different epochs, we now have the natural theory of revolution, with a very well-known natural law at its back to put it through its examination.

They Never Fail.—Mr. S. M. Boughner, Langton, writes: "For about two years I was troubled with Inward Piles, but by using Parmelee's Pills I was completely cured, and although four years have elapsed since then, they have not returned." Parmelee's Pills are anti-bilious and a specific for the cure of Liver and Kidney Complaints, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Headache, Piles, etc., and will regulate the secretions and remove all bilious matter.

Henry A. King & Co. received the following despatch from Chicago to-day:

Wheat opened at 59¼c to 59c this morning for Dec., about ⅝c below Saturday's close. Public cables were all quiet, with poor demand. Closing Liverpool private cables halfpenny down. Northwest receipts 2007, against 1076 last year. Primary receipts 1,910,000 bush, against 965,000 bush last year. These receipts this year are for two days, and do not represent so large an increase as they look. Quantity on passage decreased 400,000 bush. Clearances moderate. Receipts here are increasing—275 cars to-day, and 235 estimated to-morrow. There is no noticeable improvement in outside business. Russ an shipments were again large. All these influences brought about an easier feeling, Dec. selling down to 58⅝c and closing at 59c.

Corn—On free offerings sold off ¼c, Dec. selling at 27¼c.

Provisions were without feature. There was a small advance in Jan. pork on limited buying by shorts.

McIntyre & Wardwell (John J. Dixon) received the following despatch to-day from Schwartz, Dupee & Co., Chicago:

The news of wheat to-day was almost all bearish, and the market declined ½c from Saturday. Local traders sold freely at the decline, but were inclined to cover on report of the visible suppply, which was only a little over 1,000,000 bush, instead of from 1,500,000 bush to 2,000,000, as expected. Northwestern receipts were over 2000 cars, against 1076 last year. The world's wheat shipments last week were nearly 8,000,000 bush, an increase of over 1,000,000 bush on the previous week. Receipts at primary markets were 1,900,000 bush, which was double what they were last year. Cables were lower. The English visible increased 200,000 bush, and the amount on passage decreased 400,000 bush. Seaboard clearances were about 350,000 bush. Receipts here are increasing, being about 275 cars to-day and 235 estimated for to-morrow; 500,000 bush went into private elevators here last week, but was not counted in the visible, and a large amount went out of sight that will probably show up again next week. Northwestern mills still report a demand for flour equal to their capacity. Sales at the seaboard for export were 15 loads.

Corn easier particularly on the near future. Lake freights were reported ⅛c higher. Cables easier. Seaboard clearances, 294,000 bush. There were 20 loads taken at New York for export. The stock in store here increased 200,000 bush last week. We look to see corn sell still lower.

Provisions were much more active. There was considerable covering of shorts because of the hog cholera talk, but leading packers sold freely, and the closing was but little higher than Saturday. Our information leads us to the belief that the sickness among hogs is decreasing, and that it will not be a factor in determining values of Jan. deliveries of product.
