The World the F. and D.

From the St. Thomas Journal.

There are three morning papers in Toronto, which might be known as the World, the Flesh, and the Devil, only that they are not on the good terms generally supposed to exist between the three evils that tempt mandkind from being spiritually minded. When the W. the F. and the D. leave politics out of their editorials, they are as destitute of spirit as a dead bed-bug and show that the editors are well-informed on no other subject. The World of the three is the most readable and spicy. It deals with matters briefly, and apparently does not buy its editorials by the yard. It is national in its aspirations and if it more frequently forgot to berate its local contemporaries it would be quite as readable as it is now. The time approaches when the mop and slop-bucket style of argument will become less popular, and as the World makes its good manners still more manifest it will find a high place in the estimation of the people.

U. S. Immigration Returns.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Eighty-five thousand immigrants arrived in this country in June, and 789,000 during the fiscal year, being a much larger number than during any previous year, exceeding the year before by 119,000.

Fall of a Freight House.

ALBANY, Aug. 3.—The Central railroad freight house, Water and Columbia street, size 200 by 400 feet fell with a crash today and totally wrecked 15,000 barrels of flour, and a large amount of other goods were damaged considerably. Eighteen men escaped unhurt; twelve freight cars were damaged.

READABLE PARAGRAPHS.

—Dr E C West's Nerve and Brain Treatment is a never failing cure for Nervous Neuralgia, Nervous Headache, Overworked Brain, &c.

Ungallant.

A paper heads a personal column, "Men and Things," which certainly is not a very gallant or gentlemanly way of referring to the other sex.

—TO ALL STRIKERS.—Strikers would do well to consider Guinane's liberal offer before going elsewhere. They are in sympathy with the present movement, and to show that they are they agree to supply from their splendid assortment—the largest in the city—of boots and shoes, trunks and valices, any goods strikers need at actual wholesale prices, which they will guarantee is 25 per cent below the retail price. Need we say Guinane's immense boot and shoe emporium is at 215 Yonge street, three doors south of Albert. 246

He Had a Good Time.

From the Detroit Free Press.

"Well, I've had a good time, and I expect to pay for it," remarked a young farmer as he was brought before the bar of the Central station yesterday morning.

He was at once tacked by a reporter to find out what he considered a good time, and here it is: He walked eight miles Saturday evening to reach the city. He drank five glasses of beer, saw two fights had a little scrimmage himself, played three games of cards, drank two whiskies, played pool for half an hour, lost fifty cents on a bet that he could jump eight feet, was rolled in the mud, lost a $2 bill, and when the police found him he was sleeping off his drunk on a mass of garbage in an alley.

"Do you call that a good time?" queried the reporter after the prisoner had paid his fine of $5.

"You bet! Why, I never had so much fun in my life! The only drawback was in forgetting to bring along my fighting dog and revolver."

A Hard Task

To find a better remedy for dyspepsia, ingestion, and impurities of the blood, than Burdock Blood Bitters. Price $1.00, trial bottles 10 cents.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry

Cures all forms of bowel complaints in infants or adults. The most safe, pleasant and perfect remedy known. Purely vegetable and free from opiates or poisonous drugs.

Fat and Lean.

In this very sweltering and distressing weather, there is great doubt in the minds of many people as to the comfort of fat and lean people. Some believe that those whose ribs are covered with a thick coating of adipose tissue, perspire profusely and suffer terribly from the caloric and dense atmosphere. On the other hand, lean people imagine that fat folks are cooler than themselves. The truth of the whole matter is, that nerves have much to do with perspiration and all discomforts of that character as tissue and fat. You will observe that the men and women not affected with nervousness contrive to keep cool even when the mercury is above ninety. All the others, whether fat or lean, suffer according to their mental condition and the quantity of anxiety they yield to. Therefore, get fat if you can; lean people have no advantages except in the price of clothes.

What Every One Says Must be True.

All unite in praise of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry who have tried its efficacy in curing Cholera Morbus, Cramps, Dysentery, Nausia, and Stomach and Bowel Complaints generally in children or adults. Every person should keep a supply on hand.

Soothing Syrups Superceded.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best remedy for infants teething, it is safe, pleasant and reliable, and cures promptly all forms of Bowel Complaints. For Canadian Cholera or Cholic and Dysentery of either children and adults there is no better remedy.

Other People's Husbands.

It is a very singular fact that married ladies always find fault with their husbands when they feel gallant and cavalier like toward other men's wives. They think it is eminently, however, proper for other people's husbands to do the agreeable to themselves. This is only human nature, especially womanly human nature. Man has no rights that his spouse feels absolutely and undeniably bound to respect. Therefore he must never be too agreeable to a married lady when he is another person's husband. There is danger of discovery and an unexpected and unpleasant explosion.

A Wretched Score.

A score of years is a long time to look upon, but when attended with continual suffering, it seems almost a century; and all this pain could have been avoided if, when your liver commenced to trouble you, if you had taken Burdock Blood Bitters. Price $1.00, trial size 10 cents.

Would Not be Without It.

One who has fairly tested Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, though prejudiced against proprietory medicines in general, writes: "I would not rest over night without this reliable remedy for sudden attacks of Cholic, Cramps and Cholera Morbus so prevalent in the summer season I keep a bottle ready at hand."

MEDICAL.

THE GREAT SOURCE OF Mortality of Infants.

CHOLERA INFANTUM

Its Causes, Symptoms and Treatment.

Valuable Hints to Mothers and Nurses.

Cholera infantum is a very common and often fatal disease in this country, and one which the medical profession have found very difficult to treat successfully.

During the period of dentition or teething the system of the infant is peculiarly irritable and susceptible to disease, a peculiar change is then taking place when the draught is made upon the system for the bony matter for the formation of the teeth.

Often the tardy or non appearance of the teeth is ascribed to a toughness of the gums, and the little sufferer is tortured by lancets and bone rings and other irritations, when the truth is the supply of phosphates and other bony elements are deficient in the system, which is weakened and impoverished and needs building up to assist nature in her work. It is well known that the mother's milk is the natural and proper food for the infant, and that nature does not provide teeth until they are required, and therefore the child requiring no solid food, and should receive none until teeth are required to masticate and prepare it for digestion. It is a serious and often fatal mistake therefore to cram the delicate stomach with food unfit for assimulation, and this is one cause of many cases of Cholera Infantum. This disease appears most commonly about the period of dentition, and in the months of July and August, often running into the autumn months. A period of intense heat has much to do with it, and cold weather usually checks its course. The child's stomach often may receive too much, even of its natural milk food, which the intense heat will sour and curdle.

Cholera Infantum is usually preceded by diarrhœa which, as the appetite may not be impaired, gives little trouble; sleep is good; merely a little emaciation, the child growing perceptibly thinner and weaker. Suddenly prostration, frequent discharges from the bowels, nausea and vomiting appear. Thirst is great, but water is rejected by the stomach. The skin is harsh, tight and dry. As the disease advances thirst, feverish symptoms and diarrhœa increase with great prostration. The discharges are a yellowish, stringy mucus, showing a disease of the mucus follicles, or folds of the bowels. At times the passages are greenish, and sometimes clay-colored, owing to the condition of the biliary organs. The child is very restless and nervous, always worse at night. The brain sympathises, and congestion and effusion of water on the brain is common, indicated by the constant rolling of the head, rolling the eyeballs upwards, etc. The prognosis of the disease is usually favorable, if there are no brain symptoms; if the latter exist the mortality is great.

TREATMENT.

In Cholera Infantum the treatment must be prompt, as much can be done by way of prevention in the outset of the disease. If the nausea and vomiting is great, a spoonful of lime water with milk may be serviceable, charcoal water, burned crust water, or a quarter of a teaspoonful of baking soda and ten drops of peppermint essence given in a little water will serve to sweeten the stomach. Gum Arabic water or slippery elm tea is excellent, both as drink and nourishment. A tea of the wild strawberry plant is invaluable in this disease, from its cooling, cleansing and healing nature.

The warm bath should never be neglected and cloths wrung out of warm hop tea, or smartweed tea and applied over the stomach and bowels, covered with oiled silk or dry flannel to protect the clothing. A paste of ginger and meal may be applied as a counter-irritant, but never blister.

Beware of opiates and cordials containing opium in any form; they produce more mischief and cause more fatal results among Infants than all else. As an old and tried remedy, nothing has stood the test of time like the preparation now so popularly known as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It supercedes Soothing Syrup for children teething. It contains no injurious substance whatever. It is safe for the most delicate Infant, and all the testimony we can gather from every source is unqualifiedly in its favor as a reliable remedy in Cholera Infantum, Diarrhœa, Dysentery and all the various Summer Complaints of children or adults. Twenty-five years surely ought to test the merits of any medicine, and we find the sales of this remedy and the praises of its efficacy greater than ever. We have for the benefit of our readers gathered some testimonials regarding it which we publish herewith.

TWO LIVES SAVED.

T. Milburn & Co.

Gentlemen,—I notice that you have become proprietors of that old and well-tried medicine—Fowler's extract of Wild Strawberry. I have sold it for the last twenty years, and in no case have I known it to fail to give relief when used for Summer Complaints in any of its forms. People often tell me what it has done for them. Not long since I was at Colborne station awaiting a train, when a gentleman approached, calling me by name and holding out his hand. "You don't remember me," said he, "but I have reason to remember you, for I shall always believe you were the means, under God, of saving the lives of my two children." I took his hand and asked him his name and the particulars as to how I could have done him such a service. He said his name was "Downey," and that "some years before he had known me while clerking in a store in Ashburnham." One day after burying two of his children who had died of Summer Complaint, he had been telling me of his trouble. Also, "that two other of his children were at that moment very low with it, and the doctors unable to do them any good." I then remembered the circumstances myself and that I had told him to go back to Messrs. Ormond's drug store in Peterboro' and get a bottle of Fowler's extract of Wild Strawberry. He said that he did "so," and that "there was an improvement from the first dose," and "that it saved the lives of his two children."

I may add that it is equally good for adults, often checking and curing this dreadful disease when nothing else can. Hoping that this may be of service in extending a knowledge of its virtues,

I am, yours truly,
JOHN A. BUTTERFIELD,
Clerk 2rd Div. Court.

Peterboro' Co., Ont.

"We are informed that more than 25 years ago, the preparation so frequently advertised in our columns known as "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry," was started in the market, and we learn that its sales have assumed enormous proportions, ranking it among the standard medicines for the cure of Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and Summer Complaints; and we have no hesitation in assuring our readers that it is a reliable remedy.—London Herald."

"I have sold your medicines for over 20 years, and no medicine could give better satisfaction than your Burdock Bitters and Extract of Wild Strawberry. You can use my name in recommending them in any way you see fit." The above from J. R. Bond, Druggest, Tottenham and Schomberg, and applies to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, that grand Specific for all Summer Complaints.

Davy and Clark, Druggists, Renfrew, write us June 3rd.—"We have sold Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for a number of years, and find nothing equal to it, for the purpose for which it is designed." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures all forms of Bowel Complaints incident to Summer and Fall.

The well known drug firm of N. C. Polson & Co., of Kingston writes—that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has long been considered the best remedy for Summer Complaints in the market, and added that their customers speak in the highest terms of its merits.
