Some People are Always Looking in the Wrong Direction—

Looking up when they should be looking down—or looking out when they should be looking in . . .

Now, if you'll look out for our ad and look in at our store you'll be the gainer. To-day, for example :-

The finest assortment of Men's Fancy Vests in the latest London and New York patterns, $2.00 to $3.50.

Light and dark colored Fall Overcoats, just the right length, $8.50 and $10.00.

Double-breasted Tweed Suits in neat checks, plaids and plain effects, all sizes, $8.00, $10.00 and $12.00.

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE WON.

London Public Library is Not to Be Opened on Sundays.

London, Ont., Oct. 6.—A deputation from the Ministerial and Clerical (Anglican) Associations and the London branch of the Lord's Day Alliance attended the regular meeting of the Free Library Board last evening and laid their objection to the Sunday opening of the library before the members. The Board, after a short discussion, decided that the library should be opened on Sundays. Rev. Dr. Smith represented the Clerical Association, and Mr. Hugh Wallace appeared as a citizen.

Ladies' Stylishly and Simply Trimmed Hats.

J. W. T. Fairweather & Co., 84 Yonge-street (successors to J. & J. Lugsdin), claim no patent on good taste, nor are they conceited enough to say, as one can so often read in store announcements, that theirs is the "only" hat store in town. Speaking particularly of ladies' styles in ready-to-wear hats, they do claim, and can prove it, that in the three essential points of an up-to-date, ready-to-wear hat for a lady, they do show the most novelty, the most good taste, at the most moderate prices. The makers say so, and the people admit it, that this firm positively carries the finest lines of anybody in the trade. They show the best ideas from Paris, London and New York, and control the makes of some of the most noted fashioners. They create some very dressy styles right in their own workrooms by their own artists—in shapes, colors, combinations, pretty effects—something becoming to everybody, and at prices to suit any purse.

Visit the ladies' hat department and fur showrooms on the first floor up—take the elevator.

Torontos and Second Argos.

At Rosedale the preliminary struggle will be a championship intermediate Rugby contest between the Second Argonaut team and the Young Torontos, the players being as follows:

Argos II.—Back, Sweatman; half-backs, Ardagh, Buchall (capt.), Pentland; quarter, Ansley; scrimmage, Kingsford, MacDougal Blair; Wings, Fisher, Alicott, Law, Logan, Younge, Stephens, Law, Ridout, Sampson.

Torontos—Harmer, Taylor, Grey, Jackes, Allan, Wenborne, Adams, Lumsden, Brown, Jackson, Flaws, Sylvester, Lumbers, McGregor.

The game is called at 2 o'clock at Rosedale, and every man is requested to be on time, as the match must be finished at 3.30.

The Secret of Good Clothes.

The secret of satisfactory clothes is having them well tailored and made from the finest cloth. The newest importations for good suits, fashionable overcoats and strictly up-to-date trouserings are neat woollens from the best looms in England and Scotland, made up by the most expert tailors. These qualities can always be had at the high-class tailoring establishment of Messrs. Frank Broderick & Co., 109 King-street west.

Cucumbers and melons are "forbidden fruit" to many persons so constituted that the least indulgence is followed by attacks of cholera, dysentery, griping, etc. Those persons are not aware that they can indulge to their heart's content if they have on hand a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, a medicine that will give immediate relief and is a sure cure for the worst cases. ed

Our Advantages.

Such a system as ours reduces the wasted time of the dentist to the minimum. Our practice keeps our operators constantly employed. We do not have to make up in exorbitant prices to a few patients what we can divide into fair charges among many.

The same system increases the ability of our operators to produce perfect work by the exceptional experience that each acquires in the one class of work he has in charge.

That's why we expect to serve you. Better, more intelligent service at lower prices.

HAMILTON NEWS

THEY'RE AFTER CITY MONEY

Claims for Damages Presented by a Number of People to the Board of Works.

BOARD OF HEALTH ON COW BYRES.

Constable Libke, Who Was "Called Down" by the Magistrate, Tenders His Resignation.

Hamilton, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—The Board of Works, at its meeting this evening, received a lengthy report of the Claims Committee, which met this afternoon, on the various claims that had been made on the city since the beginning of the year. It was agreed to without discussion. Some of the committee's findings are: N. J. McGregor, fall, no settlement; George Hunt, fall, no settlement; Mrs. W. J. Catton, fall, no settlement; David Snoddy, flooding of cellar, information lacking; Dr. Baugh, injury to horse, $30; Mrs. E. Laird, fall, under consideration; James Carson, fall, $15; H. T. Cowlin, fall, no settlement; George Barker, fall, $25; James Foster, injury to horse on high level bridge, settlement advised; Valentine Flood, injury to garden by dust, no settlement; Arthur Lambert, injury on King-street, no settlement, Mrs. Gammie, fall, $75; Mrs. Brown, fall, $50; George Clarkson, fall, G.T.R. held to be responsible.

The question of the switch to the stock yards was considered at some length. A vigorous protest was entered by residents of Niagara-street, who said the switch would injure their properties. The Board decided to recommend that the switch be put down. A sub-committee and the Engineer will consider what to do in regard to Baillie-street.

Board of Health.

The Board of Health met to-night and received a report on Strand's cow byres. The inspecting sub-committee found them clean, but recommended that Mr. Strand introduce a new system of filtration, and alter the grades and levels of the stalls, after the Toronto plan.

The Board ordered Mrs. Addington, Stuart-street, to move a hen coop, objected to by her neighbor, Miss O'Brien, to another part of her lot.

Constable Libke Is Indignant.

Constable Libke tendered his resignation as a member of the police force this afternoon to Chief Smith, but it is said the chief asked him to hold it till to-morrow and think the matter over. Libke is sore at a "calling down" given him by Magistrate Jeffs, who told him the police must take back talk. The better class of citizens uphold Libke, who is a courteous, and sensible officer.

Victoria Yacht Club Smoker.

This evening the Victoria Yacht Club held a smoking concert, when the cups and money won by members of its fleet were presented by Commodore Frank E. Walker. Rear Commodore Cox was chairman. Sandy Ballantine of Stratford delivered a speech in Gaelic.

Trolley-street Trustees.

The trustees of the Trolley-street school, East Hamilton, will hold an open meeting on Monday evening next. The diplomas won by students at the recent high school examination will be presented. Addresses will be given by Mrs. John Hoodless, Inspector Smith and Principal Thompson.

No Quorum.

A meeting of the Parks Committee was called for this afternoon, but there was no quorum, and no business was done.

Police Notes.

Daniel Collins, an East Side tough, was arrested this evening, on a charge of stealing a silver watch from Lydia Street.

Martin Foley is in the cells, charged by James Simpson with wilful damage.

Grimsby Man Killed.

Capt. Ruben Stevenson of Grimsby was killed in a runaway accident in his own village last night. The horse which ran away with him belonged to Charles Weaver of the Mansion Hotel. Deceased was well up in years and was very wealthy.

Railway Company Obeyed Orders.

Government Inspector McCallum has sent a certificate to Mr. Nellis, superintendent of the H., G. & B. R., stating that he had inspected the railway and found that the company had "reasonably complied with all the requirements of the judgment of Judge Street, in the action entered against the road by Saltfleet Township," and also with his own directions. This ends the long-standing row between the township and the H., G. & B. Railway Company, for the present, at least.

Furnishing the town with furnishings is evidently what E. D. Ross, the James and Rebecca furnishing man, expects to do. What with the $7000 Maclennan stock and the $3000 bankrupt stock of Lyne, in addition to his own present stock, gives him a vast amount of goods that only heavy cutting in prices will enable him to dispose of. But everything must go; look out for bargains. Two stores, corner James and Rebecca-streets and 36 King-street west.

Minor Matters.

The Hamilton Builders and Contractors Association will be wound up.

It has been learned that Nathaniel Self of Galt, who was arrested by Chief Twiss on a charge of forgery, and for stealing from the Sheffield Cheese Factory, sold a number of cheese to W. H. Ryckman and W. J. O'Brien, grocers, of this city.

The condition of Dr. Millward of Grimsby, who is in the General Hospital suffering from cancer of the stomach, is unchanged, but he is doing as well as can be expected.

James Allan, news agent, of this city, and Miss Katie Kirk, Waterdown, were married yesterday.

Only two bids were received for the 30-foot yacht Hamilton, built by Johnston & Fearnside to compete in the Canada's Cup trials. The highest was $600, and the yacht was withdrawn.

The Star Theatre, which has been rebuilt and enlarged, will be opened on Monday night by Watson Sisters Burlesque Co.

Mrs. J. C. Bale has been elected president of the Hamilton W.C.T.U.

Miss E. Tait, 107 King-street, fell from a stepladder while cleaning a window and was painfully injured.

The grain tester case, in which James Dunlop is the defendant, has been continued till next Monday.

BADLY CUT BY GLASS.

While Cleaning a Show Window Miss Tait Fell Through the Glass —May Lose Her Hand.

Hamilton, Oct. 6.—(G. N. W. Report.)—Miss Catherine Tait, employed by by Miss Pargeter, hairdresser, 107 West King-street, while cleaning the show window to-day, fell from a ladder, and her arm went through the window. The glass almost severed her hand from the arm. The doctors in attendance fear that they will have to amputate the hand.

Writ for $5000 Against T. H. & B.

A writ has been issued by Staunton & O'Heir on behalf of the children of David Baird, late watchman on the T.,H. & B. Railway, who was killed at the Catherine-street crossing some weeks ago, claiming $5000 from the railway company for the death of their father.

Surveying for Double Track.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company has a surveying party at work, making all arrangements for improving the grades and doubling-tracking the line from Hamilton to Niagara Falls. Contracts for this work will be let during the winter, and the line will be double-tracked from Toronto to the Falls before next summer.

STRANGE ENGLISH LAW.

Some Illustrations of How Justice Was Administered Generations Ago.

Here are some instances in English criminal law showing that justice was wont to miscarry generations ago just as it does occasionally to-day, and that lawyers then had all the natural cunning of the moderns.

Nearly 200 years ago a certain Englishman found himself in financial difficulties, and, seeing no outlet for his embarrassment, grew weary of life, and finally resolved to end it by the aid of rat poison. His wife, being averse to being left a widow, and a legacy of debts, agreed to share his fate. The husband dosed himself liberally and died. The better half repented, or lacked the courage at the critical moment, and survived. Should she be indicted for murder? was the startling sequel which immediately harassed the Crown lawyers. They ultimately decided in the affirmative; but the capital sentence never was carried into effect.

Another singular case, a few years later, concerned a man, his two servants and a peripatetic charwoman. One of the servants surreptitiously got the charwoman into the house and shared a bedroom with her for the night. A strange cat at approaching midnight chose to make the house its home too, and as it prowled about in search of a late supper the servants grew frightened and alarmed their master with the cry of thieves. He bravely descended, sword in hand. The charwoman was hastily secreted under a table, where she received a fatal wound from the robber hunter, who was aimlessly stabbing every shadow and nook on the off chance. The legal question that seemed to result was whether the tragedy came under the head of murder or manslaughter only; but it was finally held by the court to be simple misadventure, inasmuch as the charwoman had no more right to be in the house than a burglar had.

A hundred years ago a certain man fell deeply in love and determined to marry the object of his affection, but the awkward thing was he was already in the hands of wedlock. Undeterred, he bribed another man to arrange a skilful way of uncoupling him, and this amiable individual in due course supplied him with an apple in which a deadly drug to match its flavor was secreted. The tampered fruit was handed to the wife, but she, in her husband's presence, handed it, in turn, to their only child. The father mildly objected, but, being unable to think of a way to regain the apple without endangering suspicion, allowed it to be consumed. The unfortunate child quickly succumbed to the effects. Did the crime constitute murder? and, if so, who was the murderer? were the questions which exercised the minds of many of the legal lights of that day. This was decided by the ultimate execution of the husband.

The points raised were rare, but, strangely enough, a few years later a tragedy on similar lines occurred. An apothecary dispensed a prescription for a customer. The latter's wife, imbued with sinister design, dosed the drug with a potent poison; but the husband, fearing all was not right with the medicine, returned to the chemist with it, and suggested that he had made some mistake in its preparation. Perturbed at such an idea, the latter demonstrated his confidence in himself by putting the bottle to his lips and taking a draught. His temerity cost him his life.

An exceedingly interesting case was determined late in the reign of King George III. Two inveterate enemies met toegther in the highway, and of one accord each drew sword and attacked the other fiercely, the only witness being an army officer, who chanced to come on the scene. Suddenly the blade of one antagonist snapped, but before the other could follow up the advantage the solitary spectator had whipped out his sword and handed it to the defenceless man. The latter continued the struggle and eventually ran his enemy through the heart. The non-combatant was, after much judicial confab, adjudged guilty of manslaughter.

A sheriff was arrested and imprisoned as a felon for having caused a convicted murderer to be hanged instead of beheaded; while a turnkey narrowly escaped the capital sentence for having killed with his heavy keys a prisoner who was to be executed a few days later. In another case a man went unlawfully to shoot deer, but his aim or eyesight being defective, he killed a boy instead. The bullet practically took two lives, for the would-be sportsman was buried at the expense of the country a week or two later.

A bailiff, in trying to arrest a debtor, was shot dead by the latter. In the indictment the prisoner was wrongly designated "Knight," and the error getting as far as the court undiscovered, his counsel had no difficulty in securing his acquittal.

A certain master, feeling aggrieved at the careless way in which the kitchen lad polished his boots, hobbled down stairs in a fury, one boot on his foot, the other in his hand, and with the free boot he caught his erring servant with all his force on the head, thereby killing him. The occurrence, however, was not viewed seriously, and a mild charge of manslaughter was made to meet the ends of justice.

Where a master took an unwitting servant with him to aid in exterminating an enemy, the "help," who had no hand in the murder which followed, was nevertheless held guilty of manslaughter.

A youth tried to avenge a punishment by murdering his master; but the effort failed. Still a shocked court unhesitatingly signed his death warrant.

Rugby Gossip.

The Toronto Club will practise at Rosedale on Monday at 6 a.m., and on Monday night at 8 p.m. A business meeting of the club will be held at 8 p.m. at Rosedale, when several prominent Rugby men will take part in the third talk on the game and how it is played.

The Rugby Club of Jarvis-street Collegiate Institute has ben reorganized with the following officers: Hon. President, Mr. A. MacMurchy, M.A.; President, W. Michell, B.A.; Vice-President, H. A. Bros; Secretary-Treasurer, F. E. Watts; Captain, H. Torrington.

The following players will represent the Toronto II. at Hamilton to-day, leaving by the Grand Trunk at 2.10 p.m.: Lamont, Tandy, Warden, Constantnides, Gray, Perrin, Love, Sparling, Bourlier, Sale, Hicks, Murray, Adamson, Rogers, Wiley, Menzie, Ardagh, Balfour.

A meeting of the Intercollegiate Rugby Union Executive will be held to-night (Saturday) at 7 o'clock at the Rossin House to decide upon the Osgoode matter. The schedules and rule books will be issued as soon as possible after.

The Excelsiors Rugby Club will play the Arlingtons at 3 p.m. to-day at the corner of John and Wellington-streets. The Excelsiors are requested to be at the Grand Central Hotel at 2.30 p.m.

The employs of John Macdonald & Co. held a meeting Thursday night and decided to form a Rugby football team. The following officers were elected: Hon. President, John Macdonald; President, J. F. Macdonald; Vice-Presidents, D. M. Macdonald and J. Peace; Secretary-Treasurer, W. E. Pepall; Committee, J E Dundas, A Gyron, L. Floyd, J. Wilson, W. Sleeth and W. Graham; the captain to be appointed later.

Now that there is no Osgoode team Parmenter, one of the crack wings in the city, will play in the intercollegiate intermediate series with his own school, Trinity College.

Durie, who played with Queen's last season and formerly with Ottawa, is in town, and will likely turn out with the Argonauts.

Sparrow, late of the Ottawa College team, when they were champions, is in town and the Argonauts hope to have him out shortly.

Joe Wright is out of the game, being laid up with a bad knee.

THE B. C. CONSERVATIVES

Unanimously Adopt a Platform Which Includes the State Ownership of Railways.

SIR CHARLES WAS ENDORSED.

The Convention at New Westminster Also Favored a Canadian Transvaal Contingent.

New Westminster, B.C., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—The Conservatives' convention of British Columbia unanimously adopted the following British Columbia platform to-night, in effect:

Approval of the principle of the eight-hour law.

State ownership of railways.

Revision of voters' lists.

Aid in the construction of trails.

Official inspection of hoisting gear.

To improve the administration of justice.

To provide an effective system for settlement of disputes between capital and labor.

To actively aid in agricultural development.

To have the fisheries controlled by the province.

To make the London agency of British Columbia effective.

That indigent laborers be discouraged from seeking work in British Columbia.

That servant girls be encouraged to immigrate to British Columbia.

That mining be actively aided.

That medical men and hospitals be aided in the interior.

That the system of education be improved.

Want a Transvaal Contingent.

A resolution was passed regretting that the Government had not seen it to raise a Canadian regiment for the Transvaal. Sir Hibbert Tupper and Col. Prior spoke strongly to the motion.

Congratulations to Sir Charles.

The convention also wired to Sir Charles Tupper, congratulating him on his attitude last session, and expressed continued loyalty to him as leader. The resolution was passed with deafening applause, the entire convention standing.

The convention will have decided on a leader in British Columbia to-night, besides appointing officers.

George Wright Condemns League Baseball.

New Haven, Oct. 6.—George Wright, the veteran Boston shortstop, who is here with the intercollegiate tennis players, to-day denounced roundly the present system of conducting the National League baseball. He said:

"I haven't seen a game in nearly two years. Old-timers like myself have become so supremely disgusted with the way things have been conducted in the National League that we don't care to go any more. The language used on the Boston grounds has been so shocking that I don't know of any respectable women who go. Few men care to stand such language as they hear on National League grounds.

"The younger generation of lovers of baseball seem to stand this sort of thing and to attend the game, but the old-time lovers of the game have all quit. Some day the people who are running the game will wake up and find that the entire public have flopped; they do not care to see games any longer where such language is used. Syndicate baseball is a terrible blow at the national game, but the game has such a hold on the American people that they seem to endure it to a remarkable extent."

Toronto Jockey Suspended.

There was a steeplechase contest at Hawthorne yesterday, and the result caused a great deal of unfavorable comment on this sort of racing. Form is not considered to any extent by the bettors in races over the jumps in this section of the country, and money is usually wagered on information of some sort or on the same proposition that a man takes a chance in a lottery, but at that it is hardly expected that a horse will run last one day and first the next time out. Marble has been a consistently bad horse in all his races this summer, whether a favorite or a long shot, until yesterday. With odds of 10 to 1 against his chances, he ran away from a lot of fair timber-toppers and won pulled up. Our Climate, Bellamy and Judge Keenan all fell at the last jump, and whatever connection their falling was intended to have on the outcome of the race, the result was not affected, as Marbel was pounds the best horse. Judges Kuhl and Letcher suspended the jockey, N. Ray of Toronto, who has ridden Marble in all his recent races, pending an investigation.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The Tigers Coming.

Hamilton, Oct. 6.—The Tigers had their final practice yesterday. There was a fair turnout, although Ryckman was the only scrimmage man on hand. Some useful work was done.

The committee held a meeting last night and picked the team for to-morrow's match against the Argonauts. The team will go to Toronto via the C.P.R. at 1.30, and the players are requested to be on hand at 1.15. The Tigers will be accompanied by a large delegation of supporters.

The Tigers' team is about as good as could be selected with the material available. The only weak spots are in the scrimmage and at quarter. There is no doubt that the Argonauts are stronger than they were last year, but the Tigers will give them a hard fight. The Argonauts will be strengthened by the withdrawal of Osgoode Hall from the Intercollegiate Union, as they will get a number of good players.

"Pride Goeth Before a Fall."

Some proud people think they have strong constitutions, and ridicule the idea of disease. Such people neglect their health, let the blood run down, and their stomach, kidneys and liver become deranged.

Don't be foolish about your health. Use Hood's Sarsaparilla and you will prevent the fall and save your pride.

Running Sore—"My mother was troubled with rheumatism in her knee for a number of years, and it broke out into a running sore. She took three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is now well. Hood's Olive Ointment helped to heal the eruption." MRS. JOHN FARR, Cloverlawns, Ancaster, Ont.

Bowel Trouble—"My mother, Mrs. John Ried, suffered with bowel trouble for four years and tried different doctors, but obtained no relief until she began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Three bottles of this medicine entirely cured her." LIZZIE REID, Tracy Station, N. B.

Scrofula—"An abscess on my hip was lanced and never healed. Another broke out on the other hip and the next year three more appeared. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it helped me. Since taking six bottles of the medicine I have not been troubled, and previous to this treatment one of the eruptions had discharged for seven years." MRS. FRANKLIN H. TEED, Freeport, N. S.

MR. MAXWELL UNDER THE KNIFE.

A Surgical Operation as the Last Resort in the Efforts to Save His Life.

Vancouver, Oct. 6.—The long-deferred operation was this afternoon performed upon Mr. George R. Maxwell, M.P., who has been an inmate of St. Paul's Hospital for the last ten days, suffering from intestinal trouble. His medical advisers do not conceal the fact that Mr. Maxwell is a very sick man; that, indeed, he is in a precarious condition, and that the operation had to be performed as a last resource in the effort to save his life.

Jockeys' Notable Performance.

At Ingleside, Cal., during the week ending March 26, 1898, James Tod Sloan rode in 30 races out of 37 decided. He won 18, was second three times, third three times, and five times unplaced.

At Oakland, Cal., during the week ending May 20, 1896, Clem Jenkins rode the entire 37 races decided. He won 18, was second eight times, third one, and ten times unplaced.

Overton held the record for riding the most races in one day, from July, 1891, when he rode six winners at Washington Park, until Jan. 28, 1899, when at Alpin, in New Zealand, a jockey named Thompson won the whole seven races on the card, and then won a match race, making eight consecutive wins.

Fred Archer, in England, had 8084 mounts during his career, and rode 2748 winners. He commenced in 1870 by riding two winners out of 15 mounts. The next year he rode three winners out of 40 mounts. Gradually increasing up to the year 1885, he rode 246 winners out of 667 mounts. In 1886, when he died, he had ridden 170 winners out of 512 mounts, or an average of one win in three mounts. He headed the list of winning jockeys for 12 years consecutively, being beaten only by two for first place in the fourth year of his riding career. His victories included the following celebrated races: St. Leger six times, Derby and Suburban five times each, Oaks and Two Thousand each four times, Prince of Wales' Stakes twice, One Thousand, Cesarewitch and Royal Hunt Cup each twice.

Over the jumps Finnegan, from Sept. 4 up to Sept 21, at Coney Island and Brooklyn, had eight mounts, of which he won seven. Unfortunately his mount, Anagram, fell at the first jump, Sept. 14 at Brooklyn, after being well played, spoiling his straight flush.

Great Reception Given Imp.

Chillicothe, O., Oct. 6.—That great mare, Imp, was tendered an enthusiastic reception to-day on her return to her old home. The feature of the day was this afternoon's big parade, of which Imp, ridden by her jockey, Clay, was the central figure. The streets were crowded with enthusiasts all along the line of march, and Imp was given an ovation. Her colors, black and orange, were in evidence everywhere. A reception is being held to-night at the home of her owner, "Uncle Dan" Harness, at which all the prominent horsemen of the city are present. A loving cup is to be presented to "Uncle Dan" by the mare's admirers here.

Kid Lavigne Knocked Out.

New York, Oct. 6.—At the Broadway Athletic Club to-night, George McFadden knocked Kid Lavigne out in the 19th round.

Final Warning

We again warn the public against using infringing lights. Our patents and sole right to sell rare earth lights have been established in every court.
