ARMY AND NAVY VETERANS.

Their Dinner on Saturday Night Was an Unqualified Success—Many Letters of Regret.

The 94th anniversary of the Battle of Trafalgar was celebrated on Saturday night by the Army and Navy Veterans' dinner at Coleman's Cafe. A large number of veterans and their friends were present. It was a genuine success.

After an excellent repast a long toast list was honored. President Simmons made an admirable toast-master. "The Queen and Royal Family" and "The Governor-General and Lieutenant-Governor" were heartily cheered. Capt. Stone, G.A.R., replied to "The President of the U.S." He hoped to see the day when the Stars and Stripes and Union Jack would be united.

Lieut. Wickham replied to "The Navy." He declared England's supremacy on the sea made it possible for her to pour troops into the Transvaal.

Lieut.-Col. Milligan, speaking for "The Army," declared the Transvaal war was in the interest of humanity.

Col. C. A. Denison responded to "Auxiliary Forces," and Ald. Hallam to "The Mayor and Corporation."

"Sister Societies" brought Capt. Musson and Alex Muir to their feet. "Dominion and Ontario Parliament," and "The Canadian Contingent" were honored by cheers.

Speeches were made by the president and the secretary of the Hamilton Army and Navy Veterans.

Songs were sung by President Simmons, Edward Lee and W. J. Hewish. Musical selections were given by Ed. Parry and the Veterans' orchestra.

Letters of regret were read from Lord Minto, Sir Oliver Mowat, Lord Beresford, Sir Charles Tupper, Lord Seymour, Premier Ross, Hon. A. S. Hardy, Col. Otter, Chief Grasett, Commander Law, E. B. Osler, M.P., and others.

Bracebridge Got a Scorching.

Bracebridge, Ont., Oct. 22.—This morning at 6.30 the store of J. P. Humphries, general merchant, was discovered on fire. The fire had evidently been smouldering for some time, for when the fire burst through the building the whole of the ground floor was in flames, and notwithstanding that four streams of water were kept constantly playing on it, it was almost gutted, and the stock completely ruined before the fire was got under control. The adjoining premises to the north, occupied by Fenn, Anderson & Co., and J. W. B. Topp, dentist, were also slightly damaged. The stock of the former was very seriously damaged by water. Mr. Humphries' loss on the building and contents is about $9000; insured in the Caledonian, Alliance and Commercial Union for $5000. The loss to Fenn, Anderson & Co. cannot be estimated at present, but is fully covered by insurance in the Western and Northern, as is also the building. The origin of the fire is unknown.

"Carmen" at the Grand.

The presentation of "Carmen" at the Grand on Saturday night was a brilliant success, judged both from the size and quality of the audience and from the grandeur of the performance and scenic effects. In the title role, Calve was, of course, the feature. Her dramatic excellence is hardly less marked than her rich vocal perfection. "Carmen" is as much an actress as she is a singer, and in both capacities she is admirable. As the Toreador, Signor Campanari found great favor with the audience, as did also M. Bonnard as Don Jose, and Mme. Clementine de Vere as Micaela. The leading members of the cast were repeatedly called before the curtain and encores were hearty and frequent.

The Tissot Pictures.

The Tissot pictures which have been on exhibition at the Massey Hall during the past month have been secured by the publishing firm of George N. Morang & Co., who will exhibit them at Montreal in the Windsor Hall, where they will, no doubt, attract large assemblages.

Cucumbers and melons are "forbidden fruit" to many persons so constituted that the least indulgence is followed by attacks of cholera, dysentery, griping, etc. Those persons are not aware that they can indulge to their heart's content if they have on hand a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellog's Dysentery Cordial, a medicine that will give immediate relief and is a sure cure for the worst cases. ed

Royal Artillery From Bermuda.

Halifax, Oct. 22.—One hundred men of the Royal Artillery arrived here to-day from Bermuda to fill the place of the men sent to Esquimalt, B. C., a few weeks ago.

COL. OTTER A BUSY MAN.

Telegrams Reach Him From All Parts of Canada From Men Who Want to Go to War.

LONDON IS JUST 25 MEN SHORT

And There May Be a Chance for More Toronto Boys—The Contingent Chaplain.

"Some one in Windsor wants to talk with you over the telephone, sir," said an orderly as he walked into Colonel Otter's office last night.

"Ask him what he wants," was the reply. "I've just been to the telephone three times and can't go again for awhile."

"Work?" said the colonel to The World, "I got 12 telegrams for jobs, etc., in 12 minutes."

The table, in fact, was covered with them.

London 25 Men Short.

Asked what chances there were of further enlistment in Toronto in view of the shortcomings of the rural regiments, Col. Otter replied: "I got word to-day that the London contingent is 25 men short. If they don't turn up to-morrow the Toronto regiments will be drawn from, and there is the shortage in district No. 2, besides."

A Canadian in the States.

The home districts, however, are not the only ones that are being drawn upon, for the colonel said that a Canadian ex-officer living in Salt Lake City had applied for a job with the contingent and had been accepted.

They Will Smell Powder.

"The idea is gaining ground, colonel, that the Canadian contingent is only going on a picnic trip and won't get a smell of powder at all?"

"I don't think anything of the sort. The Boers, when they threw down the gauntlet to Great Britain, had made big plans and they won't be scattered by a single crack."

The Newspaper Correspondents.

The colonel said that the Ottawa Government was in a quandry about sending newspaper men to the front. He himself was in favor of it, as long as the correspondent did not send in too highfaluting reports, for a Canadian reporter would look at things from a Canadian standpoint, something an English or American correspondent could not do.

Chaplain Lloyd.

It is as good as settled that the man who will act as chaplain to the troops is Rev. G. E. Lloyd, editor of The Churchman. "I have strongly recommended him," said Colonel Otter. "He was with me in the Northwest and was wounded with me at Cut Knife. A ball hit him in the chest and he was laid up for weeks." Mr. Lloyd, according to Col. Otter, was not the man to bob his head when the bullets began to sing and he was a first-rate hand at telling camp stories.

Leave Wednesday Afternoon.

Wednesday morning was the date settled on for the departure from Toronto, but as the Mayor wants to proclaim a holiday, the troops won't leave until the afternoon.

OVER 60 OFFERED—17 CHOSEN.

Patriotism is Tangible in Vancouver and That City's Share of the Contingent is Ready.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 21.—Never has Vancouver felt more proud of her soldiers than last evening, when the final call for volunteers for active service in the Transvaal was made. Altogether considerably over sixty of Vancouver's boys responded to the call, every one of whom had seen service in either regular or militia regiments.

Upon coming to this province, he united with the 1st Battalion and served in its ranks, taking a commission about seven years later. He has been a member of this battalion for about 13 years. He resigned the command of No. 2 company some time ago to take the post of adjutant, which he now occupies.

CITIZEN'S COMMITTEE MET

On Saturday and Made Arrangements for the Send-Off of the Contingent.

A meeting of the permanent committee of citizens appointed to consider and make arrangements for the farewell to the Toronto portion of the Canadian contingent met at the City Hall on Saturday afternoon. Nelson R. Butcher was appointed secretary.

The chair was occupied by Mayor Shaw, and among those present were: Lieut.-Col. Denison, E. F. Clarke, M.P., Thomas Crawford, M.L.A., Lieut. Col. Cosby, Lieut.-Col. Davidson, Capt. Gunther, S. W. Burns, Rev. J. P. Lewis, Lieut.-Col. Mead, Lieut.-Col. Delamere, Nelson R. Butcher, J. J. Foy, M.L.A., Lieut.-Col. Grasett, I. H. Janes, A. R. Boswell, Q.C.C., A. E. Kemp, Hugh Blain, A. McMurchy, Dr. Ryerson, J. W. Flavelle.

To Insure the Men's Lives.

Lieut.-Col. Delamere said that he had an offer of $1000 towards insuring the lives of the men. This offer immediately brought up the question of rates, and, at the Mayor's suggestion, a sub-committee, consisting of A. E. Kemp, A. McMurchy, Hugh Blain and Lieut.-Col. Delamere, was appointed to interview the leading insurance companies and get their figures.

Rev. J. P. Lewis thought it would be a good idea if a subscription list was opened.

A. R. Boswell disapproved of the scheme, and suggested that the City Council vote a sum of money, and the taxpayers would then each contribute their share to the general fund.

Lieut.-Col. Grasett moved that the commanding officers of the different regiments be instructed to appoint an officer in their own corps to look into the financial condition of the volunteers who are accepted for service. The motion carried.

Lieut.-Col. Davidson thought the best way out of the difficulty was to first insure the men, and then appeal to the public for subscriptions.

Ordinary Rates Will Prevail.

An agent of the Metropolitan Insurance Company was present, and announced that his company would not charge a war-time premium, but would insure the men at the regular price.

The question of deciding upon the sum to be placed upon the life of each was next taken up.

Rev. J. P. Lewis said the officers should receive $2000 and the men $1000.

E. F. Clarke thought that would be an invidious distinction.

The committee generally thought so, too, and the amount on the lives of the officers and men will be the same, and the sub-committee will decide upon the sum.

Offer is Declined.

Dr. Ryerson informed the meeting that the Government had first agreed to accept the offer of the Red Cross Society to supply 2000 suits of summer clothing, but yesterday he received a telegram from the Department of Militia, saying that it was the Government's intention to supply everything, and, consequently, their kind offer could not be accepted.

THEY WILL READ KIPLING.

George N. Morang & Co.'s Splendid Gift of Fifty Sets of the Author's Works to the Contingent.

The publishing firm of George N. Morang & Co. have set an example that may well be followed by other publishing houses, for they have determined to present to the Canadian contingent no fewer than 50 sets of the Canadian copyright edition of Rudyard Kipling's works, which they manage in Canada for the famous author. It goes without saying that this will be an addition to their stock of books on the voyage—and, perhaps, alas! in the hospital—that our boys will value above many others. Nothing more likely to inspire them for the conflict in which they are to take part could possibly be given them than some of Kipling's stirring lays, while for entertainment, it is certain that every volume will be well thumbed. Messrs. Morang's handsome gift will foot up altogether between 300 and 400 books.

SPOKE OF THE CONTINGENT.

Rev. A. H. Baldwin Preached an Eloquent Sermon in All Saints' Church.

In a number of the city churches yesterday sermons were preached on and mention made of the Canadian contingent and the duty of Canada to the Crown.

In All Saints' Church, Rev. A. H. Baldwin preached from the text: "A man that has friends must show himself friendly."

He pictured the state of a man having no friends, and went on from that to show how much Canada owed to England. As an example, the strained relations of the United States and Canada a few years ago was cited, showing how awkward would be Canada's position without Britain's aid. England's very name was a power and defence to Canada.

After reviewing Canada's progress in drawing closer to Imperial Federation, he showed how Canada, with India, New Zealand, Australia and all the colonies, was rising up, and calling the mother land blessed.

CASH FOR THE VOLUNTEERS.

Col. Otter to Get £150, the Officers £25 and the Men £5.

The Board of Control are generally of the same opinion. The reason is not far to seek. Previous to their meetings they hold a little private conference behind closed doors, learn each other's opinions, and then, when they meet in public, their meeting is characterized by harmony and unanimity.

Saturday the board met and went through this little proceeding, and then adjourned to the committee room, where the public was admitted.

Will Give Them Money.

Mayor Shaw, after explaining that the meeting was called for the purpose of doing something for the Toronto volunteers going to South Africa, suggested that Col. Otter be given a draft for £150 and a field glass and revolver. The other officers, he thought, should be given £25 each, also a field glass and revolver, and the men five sovereigns and a silver match box as a souvenir.

Money Always Acceptable.

Lieut.-Col. Grasett said, as the men's baggage would necessarily be limited to a certain weight, the money would be the best assistance the city could give them.

This opinion was shared by the other members of the board, and, accordingly, Council, which will probably meet on Monday, will be asked to endorse the recommendation.

THE PACIFIC CONTINGENT

Will Leave Vancouver To-Day — Each Man Will Be Presented With a Purse.

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—The British Columbia contingent for the Transvaal has received orders to leave to-morrow instead of Tuesday. Capt. Blanchard arrives from Victoria with 25 men of the 5th Regiment in the morning, and will at once take over the command. The New Westminster contingent reached here this afternoon and quartered with Vancouver's 17 in the drill hall. They leave by the C. P. R. at noon to-morrow, picking up Kamloops, Rossland and Nelson men en route.

Victoria and Vancouver will present a purse to each volunteer before they leave. The Royal City men were banqueted last night. They are: Corp. R. B. Corbould, Ptes. Wallace, J. Porter Smith, Albert Lohman, Ottway Wylkie, A. Battison, W. H. Brooking, C. Lenny. Kamloops is sending Sergt. Hicks, formerly of the 8th Royal Rifles, Quebec, and Pte. Ronald Bruce Campbell, who has two brothers with the Imperial troops at the Cape.

Islanders Are Enthusiastic.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 22.—The required 30 volunteers have enlisted. This city could have sent nearly three times as many. The whole militia attended St. James' Church this morning, where Rev. T. F. Fullerton delivered an eloquent oration. The company cheered as they marched past. The City Council last night voted $300, to be equally divided at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning among the contingent. The Provincial Government has given a liberal donation, and it is rumored that many private citizens are also giving donations. Lady nurses have volunteered to go to the front.

Bluenoses Ready First.

Halifax, Oct. 22.—Of the men who up to the present have volunteered in Nova Scotia for service in South Africa 58 have successfully passed the medical examination and been sworn in, while the list has not been nearly gone through. Plenty of men have already volunteered to complete the Nova Scotia complement, while more will come forward to-morrow. It is said here that the Nova Scotia company will be the first in Canada to be ready to move.

Passed the Doctor.

Sergt. Herbert J. Bolster, Gunners Thomas J. Turpin and Gordon Cockburn of the Cobourg Garrison Battery passed the medical examination at Kingston.

Lieut. Oland of the 63rd Rifles, Halifax, has been appointed and passed the medical test. So far only five of the applicants at Halifax have been rejected.
