What is Scrofula

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors." It is a more formidable enemy than consumption or cancer alone, for scrofula combines the worst possible features of both. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How can it be cured? By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. For all affections of the blood Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled, and some of the cures it has effected are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula in any of its various forms, be sure to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

HEROES OF THE HOUR.

Success of Scullers O'Connor and Hanlan.

An Exciting Race on Frazer River—General Sporting News.

AQUATIC.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 25.—Twenty thousand people witnessed the races on the Frazer River. The weather was perfect. O'Connor was the favorite in the betting, but hundreds were placed between Hanlan and Stephenson. Just before the race O'Connor bet $100 even with Dutch that he would beat him. Dutch backed himself heavily. Dutch drew the inside position, Stephenson next to him, Hanlan third and O'Connor outside. Dutch had decidedly the best position. At the word "go" Dutch struck out at 40 to the minute and forged ahead. O'Connor started at 36 strokes and Hanlan at the same. O'Connor was backing into position as the word was given and had the worst of the start, but his long, steady, sweep brought him on even terms with Dutch before the quarter was reached. Hanlan pulled in magnificent form. O'Connor led all the way down the course and rounded the buoy three lengths ahead of Halnan, and then struck off towards the shore so as to avoid the tide. Hanlan followed him. Dutch rounded the buoy eight lengths behind O'Connor, followed closely by Stephenson. Dutch got his head between his knees and labored like a giant, but couldn't close the gap that the Toronto boys had opened. O'Connor and Hanlan both slowed down to 30 strokes, but still the gap lengthened. Ned stopped and took a drink while the crowd cheered themselves hoarse. O'Connor also eased up to wait for Hanlan and then the pair straightened themselves out for a brush up the home stretch. Then the excitement was intense, and some fairly howled. O'Connor had no difficulty in maintaining his lead, and crossed the line a length ahead of Hanlan. Time, 20:47. Dutch was ten lengths behind Hanlan. Stephenson was almost out of sight. O'Connor backed his shell up to Hanlan's, and as the Canadians shook hands a mighty cheer went up. Lieutenant-Governor Sir Hugh Nelson and Lady Nelson, with a distinguished party, viewed the race from the roof of the boat house. Fully $10,000 changed hands here. O'Connor and Hanlan are the heroes of the hour.

Explanations That Don't Explain.

Further Testimony Regarding Bureau Boodling.

Sir John Was Warned Over a Year Ago.

Concluding Clauses of the McCarthy Amendment.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—In the Public Accounts Committee this morning, on motion of Hon. Mr. Foster, it was decided to refer the shorthand notes taken in the case of the New England Paper Company vs. Berthiaume to a sub-committee composed of Messrs. Foster, Bowell, Costigan, Cartwright and Lister to inquire whether any of the evidence had any relation to the present inquiry, and to report to the committee.

Mr. Barber, paper manufacturer of Georgetown, was then called. To Mr. Muloch the witness said early in the summer Mr. Bowell invited him to his room and in the course of conversation asked him if Mr. Senecal was demanding money from persons selling to the bureau. Witness told him what had been done in his case. Mr. Bowell informed him this was the first pointed and positive information he had received. This was in April last.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau—Had these commissions any effect upon the prices charged the Government?

Mr. Barber—No, for this reason, when we first tendered Senecal told us other firms were tendering also. It was after that the 10 per cent. was demanded.

Mr. Chapleau asked witness why he had not brought the matter to his (Chapleau's) attention.

Mr. Barber—Because we did not know how serious it might prove. If Senecal had been only reproved, not dismissed, our account with the department would have been closed. We did not want to run the risk.

Colonel Chamberlain, Queen's printer, said he heard rumors about Senecal's exactions. He then made inquiries, among others of Mr. Barber.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau—Did you not make inquiries by my instructions to find out the whole truth?

Witness—Yes. I asked Mr. Barber, and he said "It is a ——— lie. He never had a copper from us."

Mr. Somerville—Did you ever have any conversation with Senecal on the subject?

Witness—Yes, I asked Senecal about it. I told him how it affected his position in the civil service. Senecal said in reply, "Oh, bosh."

MR. CHAPLEAU EXPLAINS.

Mr. Chapleau then made an explanation as to the failure of Mr. Young to put in an appearance. Young is the Canadian agent of the New England Paper Company. The Secretary of State said he had received a dispatch from Mr. Brown, his law partner in Montreal, to the effect that Young had been absent a week presumably, in Boston.

Mr. Mulock regretted the absence of Young and asked that the examination of witness George Holland be proceeded with.

Mr. Chapleau then made a lengthy statement. At the outset he said he did not know of the suit of the New England Paper Company against Berthiaume, of La Presse, until the present inquiry was begun. He had taken the trouble to read the evidence, which even at the trial the judge had decided was irrelevant. The Secretary of State then proceeded to read a translation of the shorthand notes taken in the Montreal courts. It was an extract from Young's evidence. Young had stated that Berthiaume had told him if the New England Company could get contracts with the Government Mr. Chapleau would have nothing to pay for the $8,000 notes which he (Chapleau) had indorsed. Berthiaume was the proprietor of the paper, and he (Chapleau) had only indorsed the notes in question. He had no profit and no interest in the firm then owning the paper. Mr. Chapleau went on to say that he had written his law-partner, Mr. Brown, for a copy of the evidence. He had at the outset opposed the production of the evidence on principle, but now he had no objection to produce it. Continuing he denied most emphatically that he had ever signed or been a party to any agreement between Berthiaume and the paper company. He desired to reiterate his previous assertion that Mr. Lister should have brought the charges against him in Parliament—not before the committee. Lister was bound in honor, he said, to prove the charges or lose his seat. In conclusion Chapleau drew attention to the fact that both Young and Berthiaume before the committee had exculpated him from any shadow of suspicion. After a lengthy discussion the committee decided to accept Chapleau's suggestion that Messrs. Mulock and Lister be allowed access to the evidence in the Montreal case already referred to. Mr. Chapleau then put in a declaration from McElroy, the agent of Potter & Co., New York, to the effect that the Government bought the printing presses at a bargain.

Mr. Somerville—I object to printing the flaming advertisement of a Yankee firm. (Laughter.) Mr. Somerville, in Mr. Lister's absence, insisted that Mr. Chapleau must have had full knowledge of Senecal's doings.

Mr. Chamberlain put in a statement to show that the Canada Gazette now cost the country less than in 1878-79.

Mr. Chapleau got the witness to read some letters to show that the department had been only properly supplied with sorts, and that Mr. Scott was mistaken in supposing that the Dominion Type Company's type was held back until they had given $1,500 to Benoit.

Ald. Cox, of Ottawa, told of calling on Sir John Macdonald about this time last year and incidentally mentioning to him that Senecal and Brunskill were boodling in the printing bureau. Sir John said he would inquire into it. He protested that he did not remember just what he said to Sir John, he did not like the phrase that he had "warned Sir John." He only told him what he heard on the street. Sir John said "Is it possible?" or something like that.

Mr. Bowell, who had been absent, had Mr. Barber's evidence read to him by the stenographer. Mr. Bowell said that it was substantially correct, and that he would make a statement to the committee as to his future action on that information tomorrow.

A letter was read by A. Crosby, positively stating that no letter was ever received from Chapleau repudiating the order of Senecal for type, and that the $1,500 paid to Benoit by the late Alex. Murray he believed to have been done voluntarily.

Mr. Somerville thought it was hardly fair to put this letter against Mr. Scott's sworn evidence.

Mr. Chapleau only wanted the letter to be accepted as a document, not as sworn evidence.

CONCLUSION OF M'CARTHY'S RESOLUTION.

The following is the conclusion of the resolution proposed by Mr. McCarthy on the Langevin-McGreevy scandal:

4. That as no specific charge of this nature was made against the late Minister, this House, while compelled to call attention to this view of the matter, does not think it is required to render any more definite conclusion in the matter.

In addition to the foregoing reasons the House has no hesitation in recording its opinion that, judged by the well-known constitutional rule which makes the Minister responsible to Parliament for the administration of the Department over which he presides, the late Minister of Public Works, irrespective of the considerations dealt with in the last preceding paragraph, cannot be absolved from his Ministerial responsibility, and in that regard merits the censure of this honorable House.

And the House recommends that in addition to such action as may seem to be called for under the findings hereinbefore expressed such legal proceedings as may be available be taken against those who were concerned in the conspiracy, and for that purpose the books and papers which were before the committee be retained, or so many of them as may be necessary for such prosecution.

Finally, the House desires to record its conviction that the inquiry directed by the House has been rendered unsatisfactory, incomplete and in some respects abortive by what the House cannot help characterizing as willful perjury of some of the witnesses examined before it, and the committee recommends that Nicholas K. Connolly and Michael Connolly and such other witnesses as the law officers may advise that there is evidence on which indictments for perjury should be preferred, be prosecuted therefor.

Shoots a Girl Compositor and Then Kills Himself.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 25.—About 3 o'clock this morning, as Miss Halloran, a compositor on the Capital, was on her way home, she was shot by Elijah Watt, a printer who was lying in wait for her. Watt immediately fled, running about a square and then blew out his brains, dying instantly. Several weeks ago Watt asked Miss Halloran to marry him and she refused. He tried to shoot her then, but a friend interfered. Miss Halloran is probably fatally injured.

A Skim Milk Case.

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—Mrs. G. Westgate, of the township of Warwick, county of Lambton, was convicted of supplying to the Kerwood cheese factory on Sept. 1 last past, milk after the cream had been removed therefrom. Chief Justice Galt has made an order for the issue of a writ of certiorari to bring up the conviction. The conviction was made by a Middlesex magistrate, while it is contended it should have been a magistrate of the county of Lambton.

The Presidential Canvass—A Neat Trick.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 25.—At the Republican State convention yesterday, Chairman Watson, of the State Committee, calling the convention to order said: "If the signs are true," he said, "the Republican National Convention at Omaha in 1892 will nominate the next President of the United States, and that man will be the glorious captain of the gallant ship of State—the skillful navigator, the fearless leader, the brilliant, matchless Blaine." At the mention of the name of Blaine a secret cord from the rear was touched and the portrait of the great exponent of reciprocity dropped in sight. The effect was magical. Five hundred delegates instantly sprang to their feet and cheer after cheer resounded through the hall for the distinguished Secretary of State.

The Fair Being Over

Powell's

The Headquarters for Cheap Drygoods and Bankrupt Stocks, turn their attention to something of vast importance to the buyers of drygoods. We have had our share of the crowds that have been in London this week. Hundreds and hundreds of them have gone home happy because they found their way to Powell's cheap store. We have such piles of goods to sell we want to let everybody know just what we are doing and what we want to do. We want to sell the cheapest drygoods in London. We have done this for the past months, and we are doing it today. We should sell cheap because we buy cheap. Everybody who knows the value of drygoods, says some line of our goods are sold at just quarter price; other lines at half price, and our regular prices are away down. We can only do this because we buy big clearing lines of goods and buy bankrupt stocks. These are some of the reasons we sell cheap. We will for this advertisement call your attention to only four lines of goods.

1st—We wish to call your attention to our Millinery. We know something about Millinery, and start out by saying we have the most attractive Millinery shown on Dundas street. The reason of it is we considered an entire change should be made in the class of Millinery sold in London. Thinking about this we got an American trimmer, a young lady of vast experience. She has produced some unique hats and bonnets. The highest taste and best Millinery at the lowest prices is what we shall aim at. Come in and see our new Millinery, or take a look at our window as you pass by our store, where you will see Millinery that you will like.

2nd—We have turned our mantle showroom into a continuous daylight. We have it lit with electric light. We have done this so ladies can see to buy their Mantles at night as well as in the day-time. It is known to all the ladies of London that we have the biggest assortment and the cheapest Mantles in London. We invite every lady in London and those within 50 miles of London to see our Mantles. Nothing like our Mantles for the price.

3rd—Who has not heard about our Black and Colored Henriettas? We have thousands of yards in Black and Colored. Please don't forget that all the 90c Black and Colored Henriettas are sold by us for 75c, and all the 75c Black and Colored Henriettas are sold by us for 49c. We have them in almost every possible color known. Come and see these Henriettas. You will save money if you buy from us.

4th—Another big lot of Blankets just to hand every pair bought at "job" prices. When we bought the other big lot of Blankets, we thought we bought them cheap, but this time we are much lower. Please remember every pair is pure wool, and we will sell you a single pair as cheap as you can buy them by the dozen pairs. You have 90 odd pairs to choose from. Now will be the time to buy your Blankets as you will simply save dollars on what Blankets you may want.

N. B.—Please remember you have a big lot of different lines of goods on one of our front counters that are needed by every lady and householder, that you can buy from quarter to half the regular prices. Come and see us. You will save money by doing your buying at
