FRIDAY, MAY 7.

BREAKFAST—Bananas. Molded farina, cream, sugar. Poached eggs, Spanish style. Breakfast fruit cake. Coffee.

LUNCHEON—Scalloped shad roes. Watercress. Cottage cheese. Spanish shortcake. Peach souffle. Tea.

DINNER—Leek soup. Lettuce. Stuffed baked shad. Mashed potatoes. Rhubarb fritters. Frosted rice. Coffee.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrapbook.

Poached Eggs, Spanish Style—Heat an earthen dish slowly and melt in it a tablespoonful of butter, add a full half-teaspoonful of salt, a quarter teaspoonful of pepper, and a small onion, minced very fine; or, instead of onion, use parsley and sweet herbs, or a combination of all together. Drop in six eggs, one at a time; do not stir, but let them brown a little; turn carefully and brown on the other side. Serve in the same dish as hot as possible.

Scalloped Shad Roes—Remove roes from shad and boil in water with a little vinegar; lay in cold water five minutes and wipe dry; crumble but not crush; pound yolks of three hard-boiled eggs to powder and beat into a cup dawn butter; add half-teaspoonful of salt and quarter teaspoon pepper and then the roes; pound into a layer of seasoned crumbs in a bake-dish and cover with crumbs (about a cup of crumbs in all); stick dots of butter over the top and bake covered until it begins to bubble; then brown on upper grating of oven.

Spanish Shortcake—Take three eggs, half a cupful of butter, one cup of sugar, two-thirds of a cup of sweet milk, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, two cups of flour and one teaspoonful of baking powder. Stir the flour in, do not knead it; the eggs, butter and sugar should be beaten together till very light. Bake in a shallow tin; when it is done spread a thin frosting over the top; make this of the white of one egg, a little pulverized sugar and a teaspoonful of cinnamon; set it in the oven to brown.

Leek Soup—Cut half-dozen leaks in shreds of about three-fourths of an inch; put into a saucepan with four tablespoonfuls of butter, and fry for five minutes; add two quarts of boiling milk, three raw potatoes cut in small, thin squares; boil one-half hour; add one tablespoonful flour rubbed in one of butter, two small teaspoonfuls of salt, one teasponful of parsley, chopped fine; boil two minutes and serve.

Stuffed Baked Shad—After fish is thoroughly cleaned, stuff with the following: Two cups of breadcrumbs, one onion, chopped fine, butter size of egg, half teaspoonful of pepper and one teaspoonful of salt, half cupful of tomatoes, if you have any, or may be omitted. Sew up fish; sprinkle with butter, pepper and salt; dredge with flour, and bake one hour, basting often, and serving with parsley or egg sauce.

Rhubarb Fritters—Peel your rhubarb and cut the stalks into lengths of about two or two and a half inches. Make a batter by mixing six large tablespoonfuls of flour with a pint of milk, as smoothly as possible; add a teaspoonful of salt and two well-beaten eggs; dip each piece into the batter and fry in boiling lard until a nice golden brown. Serve very hot, piled high on a napkin, and well powdered over with sugar. Half this quantity will be enough for a small dish.

Peach Souffle—Press the peaches from a can through a sieve, adding half pound of powdered sugar and the whites of three eggs; beat well with an egg-beater five or six minutes. Then take the whites or six or seven eggs and beat them to a stiff froth; mix well together. Put this on a dish in a well-heated oven five or six minutes before serving. Sprinkle powdered sugar on top.

—Miss Richardson, daughter of the Rev. Canon Richardson, who left this city recently to become a nurse in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, has just passed her first examination successfully, coming out ahead of a class of fourteen nurses. It is all the more credit to London that her girls easily and almost invariably take first-class honors, be the field hospital work or the universities.

—Some time since, the Presbytery of London nominated Rev. Dr. Wm. Moore, Ottawa, for the position of moderator of the General Assembly, which will be held in Winnipeg. The choice seems to be generally indorsed, as the following Presbyteries have since followed the example of that of London: Guelph, Paris, Stratford, Winnipeg, Halifax, Ottawa, Montreal, Brandon, Huron, Rock Lake, Lunenberg, Selburne, Montreal.

—Mr. George Grange, of Waterloo street, tea merchant, was almost suffocated by gas Tuesday evening. He lighted the gas, which heats the water in the bath-room, and remained there so long that his relatives became alarmed, rapped at the door, and there was no response. The door was then forced open, and Mr. Grange was found unconscious. Dr. Wilson was summoned, and after some time succeeded in restoring him to consciousness. The apparatus in the bath-room was out of order.

—A very interesting meeting of the Auxiliary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of Centennial Methodist Church was held at the residence of their recording secretary, Mrs. Allan King, on Tuesday. Some excellent papers were read, and one of the most pleasing and encouraging features of the programme was the enrolling of several new members. The society is in a flourishing condition, and hopes are entertained for most favorable results in the near future. Mrs. King, who has been on furlough through a long and serious illness, will resume her official duties in the society.

—Mr. Walter Smith, a popular member of the London police force, and Miss Jennie Hobbs, of this city, were married yesterday afternoon at the Askin Street Methodist Church. Rev. R. Hobbs performed the ceremony, and only immediate friends, among whom was Mr. John Smith, of Chicago, brother of the groom, were present. The bride was tastefully attired in checked silk, and the maids of honor, Misses Eva Smith and Hattie Dickenson, wore white silk. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for eastern cities on their honeymoon trip, accompanied by the best wishes of a large number of friends.

—The Toronto Star says: There is a decided manifestation of feeling among members of the Church of the Epiphany, in Parkdale, on the question of Sunday cars. Last Sunday evening the minister, Rev. Bernard Bryan (formerly of London), preached a sermon against Sunday cars, and at its close announced that next Sunday an envelope collection would be taken up towards the fund to fight against the modern convenience. It now transpires that a number of the members of the church take strong exception to the course pursued by the rector, and it is said a round robin is being extensively signed, intimating to the minister that he will be well advised not to proceed further in the matter, and to call off the collection.

—At the regular meeting of Court Forest City, No. 5,744, A. O. F., held Tuesday night, in the Foresters' Block, East London, after the usual routine of business, the court was thrown open and an "At Home" was held in honor of Pride of the East Circle, C. O. F. A fine programme was presented, consisting of musical selections by Messrs. Moule, and Effner; song, Miss Lightheart; song, Miss McLeod; musical selections by Bro. T. C. Crystler and Famous String Band; speeches, by the chairman, Bro. T. Clifts, Bro. Carstairs and Companion Mrs. Gibling. A feature of the evening was the dancing of the Highland fling by little Miss Edna Appleton, which she had to repeat, amidst great applause. Refreshments were served at the close, and altogether the evening was very pleasantly spent.

Resolution Passed by the Council of Women.

Will Co-operate With the Tobacconists to Impose a License on Hotels and Saloons Selling These Things.

A public meeting of the Local Council of Women was held in the "Y" rooms yesterday afternoon, a large number of ladies being present. Mrs. Boomer, the president, gave an interesting address, in the course of which she outlined the work of the society.

The question of the approaching national convention to be held at Halifax on June 14 next, was then discussed. It was decided that generally the delegates of the local council would be left to vote as the occasion required. They will, of course, be bound to support the position of their council in advocating the representation of women on school boards, and the adoption of covered patrol wagons, also in opposing the immigration of pauper children and the selling of liquor in grocery stores.

Among the papers which will be read at the convention will be one by Mrs. Boomer, as representing the London Council of Women, and one by Mrs. A. Murphy, of Ingersoll, as representing the King's Daughters.

The council further decided to support the choice of Madame Laurier, Lady Tupper and Mrs. George Drummond, as delegates from the Canadian Council of Women to the international meeting to be held in old London in 1898. The Canadian society has not as yet associated itself with the international organization, but the union may result from the convention.

A communication from the local tobacconists was read asking the council to co-operate with them in opposing the sale of cigarettes without license in hotels and saloons.

On motion of Mrs. Tilley, seconded by Mrs. McKinnon, the following resolution was passed dealing with the matter in question:

"The Local Council of Women in London, realizing the justice of the complaint of the tobacconists against saloons and hotels being allowed to sell cigarettes without obtaining a license, thereby causing injustice to the tobacconists, who cannot sell them without one; be it resolved, that the London Local Council of Women bring this matter before the Ontario local councils, and ask them to unite with us in petitioning the Ontario Government to place a high license upon the sale of cigarettes in saloons and hotels, or exclude their manufacture altogether.

"Resolved, that we bring this motion before the closing executive meeting held in Halifax for the information of the provinces; also that while the matter is pending public action, we earnestly urge the London police inspectors to do their duty and prevent youths under the prescribed age of 21 years from entering saloons and hotels. The London Local Council of Women believe that the smoking of cigarettes is most injurious to all who use them, young or old, and would desire to draw attention to that part of the letter from the tobacconists of London where they state their willingness to co-operate with the Local Council of Women in driving cigarettes out of the country altogether."

Among the communications read was one from Inspector Carson, dealing with the subscription scheme for the new hospital.

MUST ATTEND SCHOOL.

The Truancy Act to be Enforced in London West—Headmaster Liddicoatt's Report.

The London West school trustees met last night and transacted school business, so as to give any who desired an opportunity to attend the East Middlesex Teacher's Association, which opens today at the county buildings. There were present Chairman Glover, Secretary McPherson, Trustees Cooper and Robinson, and Headmaster Liddicoatt and Truant Officer Ward.

Some discussion arose over two or three cases where parents neglected sending their children to school, and it was finally decided to instruct the officer to see that the Truancy Act was enforced.

Inspector Dearness waited on the board and recommended a few minor changes in blackboard work. He said as he had not got through with the inspection of the school, he would defer his report till later on.

Headmaster Liddicoatt reported that although measles prevailed among the children, the average attendance for April was very good, as the following report will show:

Constables Sent for Trial.

Further Ventilation of the Newbury Fracas.

Two Stories of a Very Different Nature —Bail Refused From Squire Regis' Wife.

The Newbury fracas was ventilated in the interim sessions room here yesterday afternoon, before Squires J. B. Smyth and R. F. Lacey. The result was the committal of County Constable Silas Connelly and Acting Constable Edward Leitch, who were charged with assaulting Squire Regis and Duncan Degraw on Thursday night last at Newbury.

The stories of the two factions differ very materially. Squire Regis is his evidence stated that he, in company with Degraw and his son Charles, had gone to Lord's hotel to transact some business, and that while there Connelly came in and raised a disturbance with Degraw and his son over some rig, and called Charles Regis some pretty tough names. Young Regis was arrested and taken to the town hall, and, some little time after, Degraw and Squire Regis went to the town hall to learn why Charles had been arrested. They shook the door, but were no sooner admitted than Connelly struck Degraw over the head with his baton, and knocked him down. Leitch then tackled the old squire, and knocked him senseless. When he recovered consciousness Leitch had him by the throat, holding him on the floor. Meanwhile, Degraw had recovered and went to the old man's assistance. "Let him up," demanded Degraw. "Not by a ——sight," said Leitch. Degraw then used the chair and freed the old man.

Degraw corroborated this statement, and added that he thought Connelly was going "to do for him."

Charles Regis, over whom the trouble started, said when Connelly came to the hotel he accused him of stealing a buggy, and of being a "cheerful liar." He said he was not drunk, but was arrested by Connelly when he went outside.

Silas Connelly, the constable, in his evidence, told a straight story. He said that on Thursday morning Degraw met him on the street, and abused him, using many oaths, and inquiring why Connelly always came around his place when anything was reported to have been stolen. In regard to Regis and Degraw, their conduct was such that he had to call for assistance. In the afternoon Charles Regis was arrested while drunk on the street. He wanted to fight with everybody who came along. Young Regis was taken to the hall, where the old man and Degraw came, and nearly shook the door down. When they got in Degraw struck him with a chair, and then he (witness) struck Degraw with a baton.

Edward Leitch corroborated this story. He said Regis appeared to be under the influence of liquor.

The magistrate committed the two men for trial, and accepted $400 bail for their appearance when called upon.

Charles Regis, after the completion of the case, was taken back to serve the remainder of the twenty days' sentence imposed on him by Squire Fennell, for being drunk and disorderly. Degraw and Squire Regis were remanded to await their trial on a charge of attempting to liberate a prisoner. Mrs. Regis offered the county judge to go bail for the squire, but the crown refused to accept bonds from her.

NOTABLE LONGEVITY.

Ten Londoners Recently Deceased Whose Ages Averaged Over 80 Years.

The entries on a leading undertaker's books show that within the past six days there have died in this city ten persons whose aggregate age was 801 years, or an average age of 80 1-10 years. This most remarkable record has never been approached in an experience of many years. All were over 72 years old, five were over 80, and the oldest was 97. They include all but one person aged 53 years who appear on the undertaker's books in the time mentioned. Taking the average age of the eleven, the longevity is still very remarkable—77 7-11 years.

During the month the same undertaker has buried 24 persons, whose aggregate age was 1,745 years, or an average of nearly 72¾. Seven of them were 80 and over; nine were 70 and over; five were 60 and over, and three were 50 and over. This speaks volumes for the healthfulness of the city

BUTCHERED OR BURNED?

We read with horror of the cruelty and butcheries of Gen. Weyler in the fair Isle of Cuba, but little reek we of the ravages of that more direful King of Grave Fillers, Kidney Disease, here in our midst.

People of high and low degree drop into graves on all sides of us daily from Kidney Trouble. We incur it ourselves. We encourage it. We do everything but cure it.

Yet there is a cure, pleasant as a May morning. Sure as fate. Infallible as heredity. Before this wonderful remedy, the agonizing tortures of Kidney Ills vanish like a snowflake in a fiery furnace.

This cure, of which we sound the praises, is DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. Yet not alone we, but everyone who has tried them. One hundred per cent of cures we record. Here are examples:

W. F. Smith, 16 Carrol street, Toronto, says: "I have taken eight boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which have cured me of Heart Trouble, Pain in the Back and Dizziness, after other treatments had failed."

D. J. Kenney, Queen's Hotel, Mount Forest, says: "Have suffered greatly from Nervousness, but information as to the effects of Dodd's Kidney Pills in such cases led me to use them, with the result that I am cured."

Louis H. Bounsall, 573 King street east, Toronto, says: "Had been troubled for several months with pain in my Back and Kidneys, which prevented my entering in bicycle events, but am in the ring once more after using three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. James Stokes, Deseronto, Ont., says: "From the first box taken of Dodd's Kidney Pills I found relief, and hundreds here, knowing me for the past fifteen years, can vouch for my cure of long standing Kidney Trouble."

An instructor in physical culture in Louisville, Ky., resigned a short time ago rather than lecture to colored teachers.
