J. J. Dixon & Co. received the following from Counselman & Day of Chicago: Wheat opened buoyant, with bullish news from all directions. Damage complaints from Roumania and Hungary and the Northwest, strong closing Paris cables at 25 centimes advance fair export business and Minnesota and Dakota country stocks reduced nearly six and a half millions since Jan. 1, were the reports which were responsible for the upturn of two cents in July wheat. A break of ⅝ in Consols and 20 centimes in rentes started the selling of long wheat by scalpers, and the bears soon commenced pounding market. Second cables quoted 1½d lower wheat, 3½d lower corn. Liverpool helped to demoralize corn market from $1.01 to $1 July, and report of a million gold taken for export finished the day, with a grand victory for the bears. Close was weak at bottom prices, and it looks as if we should consider a dollar a good bulge to sell on now. Corn was lower at close somewhat, in sympathy with wheat, and partly on large receipts, but until stocks increase we look for steady market. Provisions received bearish attentions and were hammered until stop orders were reached, market closing heavy.
