YOUNG OF QUEEN CITY CLUB WINS DUNLOP ROAD RACE

Time Was 49 Minutes and 2 Seconds for the 15 Miles—McCarthy, Stratford, Second.

That there is still a warm spot in the heart of the general public for the bicycle was abundantly shown on Saturday afternoon, when more than 2000 enthusiasts journeyed out to the head of Broadview-avenue, on the occasion of the annual meet of the Dunlop Tire and Canada Cycle Company's road race. While there was just a suggestion of autumn in the air, the weather conditions were practically all that could be desired. And there was a feeling of good-fellowship about the gathering that added much to the success of what is now regarded as one of the events of the year. In tally-hos, on bicycles, and on street cars, they thronged to the starting point, a feature of this year's event being the great number of ladies who graced the meet with their presence. As far as the eye could reach the Danforth-road on either side presented a solid phalanx. And now they cheered the winner of the event, H. L. Young, of the Queen City Bicycle Club, when he rode in! The veteran starter, who for eight years has successfully carried out the duties of starter, again occupied the position yesterday. The course was a 15-mile handicap over the Danforth-road, and the roadway for the first mile was almost enough to discourage the contestants, but farther on conditions improved, and the time—49 minutes 2 seconds—considering the head wind, was regarded as fair. W. E. McCarthy of the Stratford Bicycle Club was second, with a handicap of one minute.

The finish was a hot one, Young, McCarthy, Elgerman and Worsdell running side by side, and McCarthy winning by a second. The results are:

At the conclusion of the races the tally-hos were called into requisition to convey the officials of the course and the directors of the Dunlop Rubber Tire Company and the Canada Cycle Company to the Arlington Hotel, where the management had caused luncheon to be prepared. It was a jolly party which gathered around the festive board. In the gathering were many who had on former occasions won fame on the track and had long since retired on well-earned laurels. Following the luncheon, short, breezy addresses were given by Wm. McClelland, representing the Toronto Bicycle Club; G. L. McKay; J. E. Willows, who for eight years has so successfully officiated as starter; W. B. Norton; M. Campbell, Wanderers' Bicycle Club; Joseph Doane, Atheneum; George C. Capps and Alex. Kay, R.C.B.C.; T. B. McCarthy, Stratford Bicycle Club; G. S. Pearcy, Canadian Wheelmen's Association; Messrs. Northam, Doupe, Gibson and Grant, representing the allied trades, Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company, and others. After luncheon the members adjourned to the offices of the Canada Cycle Company, where the prizes were presented.

The officials of the course were: Referee—H. P. Howson. Judges—G. S. Pearcy, W. G. McClelland, G. L. Mackay, J. W. Gibson, W. B. Northam, Wm. Greenwood. Scorers—J. Poole, W. Shaw, G. Capps, M. Egan, J. Phillips, F. Loudon, T. E. Payne, A. Byslop, R. O. Mackay, A. J. Bottrell, R. Falconer.

Printers' Bowling League.

The Printers' Bowling League held a meeting on Saturday night and plans were discussed for the coming season. The retiring president, Mr. Ed. Meehan, ably presented the position of affairs at the present time and predicted another successful year. Thanks were expressed for the good work of the president and the secretary, Mr. Marvin James, during last year, and also regret that they could not continue in the offices for the coming winter. New officers were elected as follows: President, N. W. Williams of the News; vice-president, A. G. Gibbins of Flemings; secretary, W. H. Williams of The World. The new executive will be composed of these three officers and the past president and secretary, while the general committee will be made up of the captains of the various teams. A committee was appointed to secure alleys during the coming week and it was resolved that the American game be adopted, playing three strings and the players bowling all together. It is expected that the league will be as strong in numbers as last year and it is desired that all teams intending to enter should elect their captains and make their entries this week in order that at the meeting next Saturday night the arrangements may be completed and the schedule drawn up.

SOX WORLD'S BALL CHAMPIONS WIN ON SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Dr. White Held Cubs Safe in Closing Game, While Brown Was Knocked Out in Two Innings—Resume of the Series.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—The Chicago Club of the American Baseball League became the champions of the world by winning to-day's game, 8 to 3, against the local club of the National League. The game was the sixth of the series and the fourth victory for the Americans. When the last National batsman had gone out, and thousands surged around the box wherein sat Charles W. Murphy, president of the losing club, he smiled gamely at requests for a speech, and said:

"The best team won. They won because they played the better ball. Too much praise cannot be given to President Comiskey and Captain Jones and the team which, by unprecedented pluck, climbed in mid-season from seventh place to the top of their own league, and then topped off the great accomplishment by winning the world's championship from the team that made a runaway race of the National League contest. I call for three cheers for Comiskey and his great team."

Cheer after cheer followed this speech, but they were lost to the hearing of most of the crowd, which was busily cheering individual players, and the players collectively, and thumping said players on the back. Nor were the cheers for the losers lacking.

To the Victors.

Comiskey's face was wreathed in smiles long before the game was over, for the Americans had the victory in hand in the first two innings. When Schulte went out at first after a rally, and the great series was over, Comiskey shook hands with such of his players as he could reach. The others were trying to save themselves from their friends. The crowd seemed loth to leave the grounds when the game was over.

Thousands rushed from the bleachers and circus seats to the grounds, while those in the stands stood up and watched a great spectacle. The racket from noise-making devices which had been rending the air all during the game was redoubled. It was pandemonium let loose. The players tried to cling together for mutual protection, but it was useless. A few moments sufficed to make each one the centre of a densely packed, half-crazed throng, out of which he had to fight his way.

Review of Series.

That the victory was fairly earned is shown not only by the fact that the Americans won four out of the six games, but by the hits and runs. The Americans, all told, made 22 runs, compared with 18 by the Nationals. They made 39 base hits, as against 37 by the Nationals. The Nationals made but five errors, compared with 14 by the Americans. The latter also made the greater number of extra-base hits, but the ground rules made nearly all of them good for only two bases.

Among the expert critics of baseball it is generally admitted that to the Americans' pitchers most of the credit is due, this despite the fact that they have but 26 strikeouts to their credit, against 35 by the Nationals' pitchers. They gave 19 bases on balls, as against 18 by the Nationals. Notwithstanding this, the American pitchers were effective when hits meant runs. On the other hand, the Americans batted more strongly than their opponents, who during the season had done the heaviest batting in the National League. In stealing bases the Nationals had a shade over the Americans, Kling and Sullivan, who caught during the entire series, were both formidable, but of the total of 13 bases stolen, the Nationals got eight.

Gates Closed.

Over 19,000 paid admissions had been registered at the gate at noon to-day, the balmy weather and the holiday bringing them out early. The grounds being full to bursting, the gates were closed and play was begun at 2.15 o'clock. Completely encircling the grounds was a closely-packed crowd of enthusiasts, armed with flags and noise-making instruments. A brass band occupied one of the boxes, but could scarcely make itself heard above the continuous din.

A total of 14 hits, two of them doubles, tell the story of how to-day's game was won. Captain Chance elected to place Mordecai Brown in the box, although Brown had pitched a hard game on Friday. The Americans connected with his weakened delivery for eight safe hits in one and two-thirds innings, and he retired. Overall was then called upon, and he held the Americans to six hits and one run the remainder of the game. His support was excellent. Time and again Tinker and Evers, by blocking hits, prevented runs, as did Hoffman in centre by spectacular running catches. Sheckard also made a great backward running catch, which kept the score down.

When the Americans assumed a lead of six runs the National players were a grimly determined lot, but, try as they would, they could not solve the puzzling delivery of Dr. White.

Play in Detail.

First inning—Nationals—Hoffman singled to left and went to second on Dougherty's fumble of the hit. Sheckard sacrificed perfectly, and, with Hoffman on third, the crowd cried for a score. They were promptly gratified, for Schulte, whose two-bagger yesterday brought in two runs, hit the first ball pitched into the right field crowd for two bases, Hoffman scoring. Schulte was out at third a moment later, when White stopped Chance's grounder and threw it to Rohe. Chance was safe at first, Steinfeldt waited for four bad ones. Tinker flew out to Jones. One run.

Americans—Hahn hit an awkward bounder, which Evers stopped with his bare hand, but, being off his balance, could not throw. Jones forced to Hahn, and went to second on Isbell's sharp single to right. Davis doubled to right and Jones scored. Schulte claimed that he was under the hit when someone in the crowd pushed him. Captain Chance protested against the hit being allowed, but Umpire O'Loughlin ruled that it should stand. With men at second and third, and the infield playing close in, Rohe hit to Tinker, who threw Isbell out at the plate, Rohe stole second. Donohue, with an opportunity similar to Rohe's, doubled to left, scoring Davis and Rohe. Dougherty went out on a grounder to Chance. Three runs.

Rolling Up the Runs.

Second inning—Nationals—Donohue fumbled Evers' grounder and the runner was safe. Kling hit into a double-play, and both retired. Brown struck out. No runs.

American: Sullivan out, Tinker to Chance. White grounded out, Brown to Chance. Hahn singled between third and short. Jones walked, Isbell singled to Evers. The bases were full when Davis came to bat. Tinker jumped and tried to get his liner, but merely blocked it and Hahn and Jones scored. Rohe singled, but Isbell was held at third, Tinker having blocked the ball. Overall, at this crisis, with the bases full, replaced Brown. Donohue hit one over second base, Evers getting the ball by fast work, but not in time to effect a put out. Isbell scored on the hit, Dougherty walked, forcing Davis across the plate. Sullivan struck out. Four runs.

Third inning—Nationals—Hoffman went out, Donohue making a great stop and White covering first. Sheckard grounded out, Isbell to Donohue. Schulte flew out to Donohue. No runs.

Americans—White went out easily, Overall to Chance. Hahn flew out to Sheckard, Jones flew out to Tinker. No runs.

Fourth inning—Nationals—White gave four bad ones and Chance walked. Steinfeldt knocked an easy fly to Jones, Tinker forced Chance, Evers out, Isbell to Donohue. No runs.

Americans—Isbell went out on Tinker making a great running stop and throw to Chance. Davis fouled out to Kling. Rohe singled to right-centre. Hoffman sprinted back to the crowd and caught Donohue's fly, jumping. No runs.

One for Nationals.

Fifth inning—Nationals—Kling hit in front of the plate and was safe. Overall doubled to right, Hofman struck out. Kling scored on Sheckard's out, Isbell to Donohue, who made a wonderful stop of a bad throw. Schulte went out, Davis to Donohue. One run.

Americans—Dougherty lined out to Evers. Sullivan again struck out. White walked. Hahn singled to left. Jones forced Hahn. No runs.

Sixth inning—Nationals—Chance was hit by a pitched ball. Steinfeldt popped out to Rohe. Tinker singled to centre. Evers fouled out to Sullivan. Chance was put out stealing. No runs.

Americans—Isbell fouled out to Chance. Davis fouled out to Kling. Rohe out, Tinker to Chance. No runs.

Seventh inning—Nationals—Kling went out, White to Donohue. Overall followed suit, Rohe to Donohue. Hoffman out, Isbell to first. No runs.

Americans—Donohue struck out. Dougherty bunted to Chance and was safe, Chance dropping the ball in trying to touch him. Sullivan flew out to Hoffman. White's fly was captured by Sheckard after a hard backward run. No runs.

Eighth inning—Nationals—Sheckard was given a pass. Schulte out to Donohue, unassisted. Chance out, Davis to Donohue. Steinfeldt's heavy hit was captured by Jones in far left centre. No runs.

Americans—Hahn singled to left. Jones sacrificed. Isbell scored Hahn with a drive to centre and reached second on the throw home. Davis out, Tinker to Chance. Hoffman captured Rohe's liner. One run.

Ninth inning—Nationals—Tinker out, Rohe to Donohue. Evers got a scratch double to right. Kling out, Rohe to Donohue. Gessler betted for Overall and was allowed to walk. Hoffman singled to left, scoring Evers. Sheckard was safe on Rohe's fumble. Schulte grounded out to Donohue. One run.

THE SATURDAY GAME.

Americans Make Hits and Errors, Defeating Nationals 8 to 6.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Out of a bedlam of errors, long hits, vanquished pitchers and the vociferations of half-frenzied spectators, the Chicago American Leaguers emerged victorious over the Nationals to-day, 8 to 6. The Americans won in spite of five errors, which were accountable for nearly all the runs made by their opponents. The Nationals lost because they could not hit Walsh's spit ball delivery. The Americans fielded like amateurs, and the Nationals, fielding perfectly, batted poorly. Time after time when a hit meant runs, batters failed to live up to their reputations. The day was warm. Twenty-five thousand persons saw the game.

The Americans began vigorously. Hahn touched Reulbach's delivery for a single over second. Jones sacrificed and Hahn scored on Isbell's double to right. Davis hit weakly, but was safe, while Isbell was caught between second and third. Rohe doubled to left, Reulbach allowed Donohue to walk, filling the bases. Dougherty, however, went out and two runs were killed. The Nationals piled up three runs. Hoffman singled and went to second on Sheckard's sacrifice. Schulte hit safely, but Hoffman was held at second. Chance was hit by the ball, filling the bases. Steinfeld forced Chance at second and Hoffman scored, but Isbell, attempting to make a double play, threw the ball into the crowd and Schulte also scored. Steinfeld reaching second. Tinker knocked an easy one to Walsh, who threw low to Donohue and Steinfeldt scored. Tinker went out stealing. The Americans evened up matters in the third. Isbell hit for two bases and Davis followed with another hit, scoring Isbell. Capt Chance removed Reulbach and substituted Pfeister. He began by striking out Rohe. Donohue walked on a dead ball. Dougherty forced Donohue and Davis reached third, scoring on a double steal. Sullivan struck out.

In the fourth the Americans clinched the game with four runs. Pfeister allowed Walsh to walk and Hahn forced Walsh at second. Jones hit safely over third. Isbell sent a long double to right centre and Hahn scored. Isbell and Jones scored a moment later when Davis hit the ball to left for two bases. At this point Pfeister was retired, Overall, who succeeded him, allowed Rohe to walk and Donohue doubled to left, Davis scoring. Schulte captured Dougherty's low fly and caught Rohe at the plate. In their half the Nationals tallied one run on misplays. Tinker was safe when Rohe threw into the crowd and reached second on the error. Evers walked and Kling struck out. Tinker stole third and scored on a wild pitch.

In the sixth Isbell scored on his own double and Rohe's single. In their half the Nationals made two runs. After Evers and Kling had retired Overall and Hoffman were passed and when Sheckard reached first on Rohe's fumble, the bases were full. Schulte doubled and Overall and Hoffman scored. Had it not been for ground rules Schulte's hit would have been a home run, and the score would have been even. With men on second and third Chance went out at first. Thereafter neither side was able to score. Walsh was taken out in the seventh, White finishing. The Americans have now three out of five games. Score:

Baseball Attendance Figures.

Careful compiling of the daily attendance figures for the season of 1906 show that 5,719,289 persons witnessed the combined games of the American and National Baseball Leagues during the season just closed, Chicago alone drawing one-fifth of the grand total.

The figures show a decrease of more than 85,000 from last year, the American League falling behind by 132,676, while the National League showed an increase of 46,908.

Despite the close race of the American League and the one-sidedness of the National League, this was the best season the Nationals have had since the American came east, and the best season the older organization has had.

The grand total of the American League was 2,938,075, while the total of the National League was 2,781,213, it being the third successive year that the Americans outdrew the Nationals. The difference in the two leagues' figures this season was 156,863, while last year's difference showed 326,442, the Nationals making a gain of 169,579 on the Americans.

The Chicago Nationals lead all the teams in both leagues with a total of 654,300, outdrawing the White Sox by nearly 70,000. While the latter won the American League championship, their figures show a decrease of more than 100,000, while the Cubs' figures increased 145,000.

The New York Americans outdrew in New York, the world's champion New York Nationals by more than 20,000, the first time the "Yankees" have made such a showing.

The season in Philadelphia was not as successful as last year, as both the Athletics and Phillies fell off. The Athletics' figures were decreased by 65,447, while the Phillies dropped 23,252 from 1905.

Centrals Beat Wellingtons.

Kingston's Poor Hockey Outlook.

Kingston, Oct. 13.—The outlook in hockey circles for the coming winter are not of the brightest when looked at from the present time. Of last year's team, Richardson and Sutherland will certainly both be missed. Dobson, who was looked upon as one of the coming players in the game, will also be an absentee, as he has decided not to return to college this session. Walsh is still an uncertainty, as he is still at his season's work, and will not be back at college for some little time. However, there is considerable new material in sight, and by winter the champions can be counted upon to fight hard for the retention of the cup. The proximity and completion of the gymnasium will also, no doubt, add an impetus to the sport, not to mention the improvements made during the past summer, and present fall, to the rink.

Murphy Athletic Champion.

St. Mary's annual athletic games were decided on Saturday. Cornie Murphy won the all-round championship, taking the 100 yards race, 220 yards, the standing broad and running long jump. S. P. Grant was referee and starter.

DISHABILLE'S NEW RECORD IN MUNICIPAL HANDICAP

Alfar Wins Cup Steeplechase—Hylas, Favorite, Ray Up, Bolted.

New York, Oct. 13.—Dishabille, with Knapp up, won the Municipal Handicap, 1⅜ miles, at Belmont Park to-day, defeating Ironsides by eight lengths, with Miss Crawford third. The time—2.37 3-5—is a new track record. Ironsides was always favorite at 3 to 1, while Dishabille was backed down from 5 to 1 to 4 to 1. Red Friar was strongly played, his price dropping from 8 to 1 to 5 to 1, but was never dangerous and finished far back.

Sailor Boy went out to make the pace, followed by Ironsides and Red Friar. This was the order as they passed the stand the first time. Sailor Boy still held his advantage as the field raced into the back stretch, but at the far turn Ironsides moved up to the leader and led into the stretch. Meantime Knapp, on Dishabille, was gradually working his way up on the outside, and when straightened for the run to the wire Dishabille drew away and won easily by eight lengths, Ironsides was two lengths in front of Miss Crawford.

Alfar, second choice, won the Brook Cup steeplechase, at about three miles, in a hard drive, by one and a half lengths. Alfar set the pace for about 2½ miles, when Ray sent the favorite, Hylas, into the lead. Coming to the last jump, Hylas bolted, and Alfar won in a drive from Coligny, Jimmy Lane third.

W. H. Daniel, favorite, won the Nursery Handicap, 6 furlongs, straightaway, by a length from the 20-to-1 shot, Tourenne, with Altude third. Fountainbleu performed badly in this race. Sewell, in winning the first race, equaled the track record for seven furlongs, main course, by stepping it in 1.25 flat. Two favorites won. Summary:

First race, for all ages, seven furlongs, main course—Sewell, 100 (Notter), 8 to 5, 1; Grapple, 117 (Shaw), 8 to 1, 2; Pearkhyn, 102 (L. Smith), 12 to 1, 3. Time 1.25. Cairngorm, Dolly Spanker, Suffice, Fortunate, New Mown Hay, Gold Lady, Knight of Ivanhoe, Bright Boy and Arlington also ran.
