THE CIRCUIT COURT.

His Honor Mr. Justice Wetmore Presiding.

The August circuit of the September court for the city and county of Saint John was opened by His Honor Judge Wetmore this morning.

The grand jury is as follows:

Edwin J. Wetmore, foreman,
Joseph Hanan, W. R. Russell,
George W. Gerow, John Foster,
W. T. Gard, Thos. A. Godsoe,
W. L. Whittaker, G. R. Titus,
H. P. Kerr, William Robb,
John Drury, J. H. McAvity,
D. McArthur, Wm. Bruckhoff,
Alfred Morrisey, Geo. Morrison,
M. Blackhall, S. McDiarmid,
T. R. Hanington, John F. Lynch,
William Peters, jr., John K. Schofield,
James Kennedy.

The petit jury comprises the following:

John Hammond, Nathaniel C. Scott,
John Mullin, Thomas Kickham,
T. Partelow Mott, Daniel G. Davis,
Thomas Kedey, Charles Colwell,
Thomas Lunney, Morton L. Harrison,
Thos. L. Reed, Henry Littlehale,
James Donahue, John T. Lord,
Joseph L. Noble, John S. Armstrong,
Frank Ruddock, Jackson Rowan,
James Coleman, Melbourne McLeod,
Charles A. Clerke.

His Honor made a brief charge to the grand jury, which he began by expressing the pleasure he felt in being able to congratulate them on the absence of all criminal business, significant of which was the fact that he was this morning presented by the sheriff with a very nice pair of white kid gloves. He then dealt with the absentee grand jurors, showing how necessary it was that each man summoned should attend and instanced a case wherein a party who to his mind deserved punishment escaped trial even because of a small attendance of grand jurors when the matter was before them. The law, said he, does not require that a majority of the grand jury shall find a true bill but that twelve of them shall agree. His Honor also read the law relating to the imposition of fines on absentees and said, unless good cause were shown or unless excused he would impose a penalty on every man so absent. The fact that there was no criminal business was no excuse for non-attendance.

In closing his remarks His Honor took occasion to refer to his former residence here and the consideration so frequently bestowed upon him by the citizens generally and to express his personal delight and satisfaction at the general appearance of neatness, thrift and prosperity the city wore and its cheerful encouraging character, incidentally remarking that while not so very long ago there was but one railroad entering St. John there are now several lines in operation with trains running at all hours day and night, and lines of steamboats to New York and other places, all tending to that cheerfulness and enterprise he was so glad to see.

A. B. SPENCE of St. Stephen has a fine farm at Rusigornish, which is now in the best of order, and has been rapidly improved. The orchard on this property has been set out with 2,200 apple, and 200 plum trees, all doing well, and calculated to yield good returns. There are fifty head of cattle to be seen grazing on the rich pasture lands. Two commodious barns have been erected, one of which cost $1000.

THEY OFFER A REWARD.

The Alms House Commissioners are Round to put Down Child Murder.

The dead walls around the streets are at present decorated with posters, put up by order of the commissioners of the Alms house. The posters read as follows:

$20 REWARD.

Whereas the offence of unlawfully abandoning and exposing new-born children (generally illegitimate) by their mothers, or by other persons responsible for their protection, is of frequent occurrence within the city and county of St. John, whereby either the lives of the children are endangered, or such children become a charge upon the county.

The commissioners of the Alms house and Work house, of the said city and county, hereby offer a reward of twenty dollars for such evidence as will lead to the apprehension and conviction of any person guilty of committing any such offence, or of aiding therein.

As it is not an uncommon practice with the mothers to obtain for themselves, and their illegitimate offspring, temporary shelter on various pleas, from kindly-disposed persons, and then to desert and abandon such offspring all persons are warned against receiving or harboring mothers under such circumstances.

EDWIN J. WETMORE, Secretary.

These notices are expected to have a salutary effect upon anyone so heartless as to think of abandoning her child, and recently this has been practised very considerably.

The Alms house commissioners have at last decided that some measures be taken for the discovery and conviction of such offenders. The finding of a child on New Dominion road, North end, a short time ago, which was heartlessly left there to perish or to be taken care of by whoever might find it, and which is now a care on the county, has led to this determination. No one knew who abandoned the child and, although the secretary of the commission made diligent enquiries, no one ever was able to tell. At least the guilty person was never discovered, and the child is now a foundling of the poor house. And sometimes the parents do not stop short of murder, as the number of infants found in the vicinity of Courtenay bay during the last year would testify. Anything to rid themselves of the offending offspring. There is a class of women, too, in St. John as in almost every other city, who make a business of bringing up the children whose parents wish to remain undiscovered, and the Alms house commissioners are aiming a blow at these when they offer this reward. Lately, several of their dens, technically known as "baby farms," have been ferretted out and the proprietresses compelled to move out of town. One notorious woman in whose establishment a child had died under peculiar circumstances was examined before the coroner. The investigation was satisfactory inasmuch as the woman shortly afterwards left for the States, and has not since troubled the law-abiding portion of our citizens.

The commissioners of the Alms house have many experiences with women anxious to get the burden of a child off their shoulders. It may be that it is the mother herself who asks that her infant be placed in this institution, or the woman in whose charge the infant has been placed will visit one of the commissioners and pour into his ear some piteous tale. But as a general rule the stories are manufactured for the occasion. Experience has taught the commissioners that women who want to get rid of their children, or somebody else's children, cannot be relied upon.

Only a short time ago secretary Wetmore, by pushing an investigation through a variety of forms was successful in frustrating the designs of an apparently respectable woman who wished to put a child, she had been keeping, in the Alms house. The woman told secretary Wetmore a long and lamentable tale of how she had been imposed upon by a stranger, the stranger in question having left the infant in her house. The woman kept the child as long as she conveniently could, but the mother never returned; therefore she made application for its admission into the Hlms house. Strict investigation, however, proved that the woman was not telling the truth; that she made a practice of taking charge of children; of receiving money for this business as long as possible, and when the money ceased to come, of handing the children over to the care of the county. Another woman threatened to bring the matter before the court, when her application for the admission of a child into the house was refused. The commissioners were prepared to test the case, but the woman failed to appear at the prosecution.

The efforts of the commission to put down child-abandonment, and child murder, will doubtless have a very beneficial result. A decided stand has been taken by them with reference to granting permits into the institution.

No child will be taken in without its mother, and a thorough investigation will be made before admitting infants under other circumstances. The intention of the commission, is, if possible, to discover the parents, and compel them to support their offspring.

In this city the number of baby farms is decreasing, and it is believed that if a strict watch be kept, and a careful investigation be made into every case which comes before the notice of the commissioners, the pest will soon be removed. The community will be so much the better when it is and will be well rid of the evil.

THE BEATRICE MCLEAN.—The portwardens held a survey yesterday on the schooner Beatrice McLean on Ring's blocks, Carleton. As all damage that is done cannot be accurately determined where the vessel now lies, the portwardens ordered that she be placed on cap blocks and that all damaged plank be removed for further survey.

THE ORANGE VISITORS.—At the meeting in Orange Hall last evening it was found that nearly all the arrangements had been completed in regard to the reception to the Grand Lodge L. O. A. of British North America. The delegates will arrive next Tuesday afternoon and the session will open at 3 o'clock on that day. Next morning there will be an excursion to Fredericton on the steamer David Weston.

THROWN FROM A CARRIAGE.—A serious accident occurred at Sussex on Monday afternoon. Miss Morrison daughter of Mr. William Morrison, took Miss Reynolds and Miss Blaine, two young ladies who are her guests, out driving. While they were passing along the post road and near Trinity church some part of the wagon broke throwing the three young ladies out on the plank sidewalk. Miss Morrison and Miss Blaine escaped with slight injuries but Miss Reynolds was so badly hurt that Dr. Burnett had to be called in. This morning Miss Reynolds was resting quite easy but the extent of her injuries has not yet been learned.

THE PRESENTATION OF COLORS

Historic Flags to be Placed in Trinity Church.

The old regimental flag, and the King's color, borne by the St. John Militia as long ago as 1826, will be presented to Trinity church on Friday afternoon by the 62nd Fusiliers and the St. Johns Rifles. After trooping the late king's color, of the 2d battalion St. John city militia, the corps will march up Carmarthen, down Broad, up Charlotte, along St. James, up Germain streets as far as Trinity church. The old colors will then be posted in front of Trinity church, the regiment will walk past and salute them; the regiment will then be formed into line and give a general salute, after which the escort detailed for the colors, under command of Capt. Edwards, with Lt. Churchill and Lt. Lordly as subalterns, will march into Trinity church and line the main aisle facing inwards. The choristers will meet the two majors at the church door, when a processional hymn will be sung, the escort presenting arms. The officers of the 62nd Fusiliers, and the commanding officers and their regimental staffs, as well as all the officers of the old St. John City Rifles now living, will march in procession in rear of the colors. After the colors have passed through the escort, the latter will be formed in the upper cross aisle facing the chancel with shouldered arms during the presentation address by the lieutenant colonel commanding the Fusiliers. An appropriate service will then be held, and the band will play the national anthem at the close.

This Evening.

Rev. Godfrey Shore will be inducted as pastor of Carleton Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock.

The bi-monthly meeting of the C. of E. Sunday school association will be held at St. Mary's school house. Rev. L. G. Stevens will read a paper on Sunday School Teachers, Their Qualifications and Duties.

AN OUTDOOR NOVEL.—Novels dealing with outdoor life are welcome at this season, and a special interest will be felt in the graphic sketches of yachting and of a Canadian athletic contest which appear in the new novel, Geoffrey Hampstead, published in the Town and Country Library by D. Appleton and Company. The author, Thomas Stinson Jarvis, a barrister of Toronto, evidently knows from actual experience the excitement and the perils which he describes so vividly that he should have a sympathetic audience even among those whose interest in outdoor life is indirect.
