DEBATERS WENT FAR AFIELD ON CORONATION RESOLUTION

taken by an infidel.

Mr. Haggart: Yes, or by a Mahometan, a Hindoo or a Buddhist, but to the extent of the oath the sovereign declares he is a Protestant, because it is an abjuration of the Catholic religion.

Mr. Haggart suggested a modification of the resolution. If that were done, the resolution would receive nearly unanimous support. [Conservative applause.]

With the Opposition.

Mr. Bourassa emphasized Mr. Haggart's point. The objection, he said, was not to any declaration that the sovereign was a Protestant, but to a useless anti-Catholic declaration. He agreed with the argument made by the leader of the Opposition.

Put Heads Together.

Hon. William Ross proposed that the leaders on both sides of the House should put their heads together and make a few gentle changes in the resolution.

Mr. Monk supported this suggestion. He had doubted the propriety of bringing such a matter into an essentially political gathering; but the leader of the Government had treated the question not as a Catholic but as a man who fully understood the liberalities of the subject. He (Mr. Monk) had been doubly gratified with the speech which the House had heard from the leader of the Opposition. He reminded the House that the right of petition was inalienable and unrestricted in any way. All British subjects enjoyed it. They could petition upon any subject whatever. He also pointed out that the oath of allegiance on the part of the subject and the oath of the sovereign formed a mutual contrast. Therefore, this was essentially a matter in which every subject had the right to petition the King.

Don't Go Too Far.

"What I desire," said Mr. Monk, "as one professing the Catholic faith, is to see eliminated from the declaration the portions which, in the language of the Prime Minister of England, are so deplorable. But we must not go too far. We should simply limit this petition to the desire which it was designed to attain. We cannot at the present time desire that the declaration should be suppressed altogether." [Hear, hear.]

Mr. Blain and Mr. Pringle continued the debate.

Leaders Should Confer.

Mr. Maclean appealed to the Prime Minister to adjourn the debate. His sympathy was entirely with the object of the member for Victoria, but he felt that the conference suggested was good, and would enable the House to place the petition in the proper form.

No One Hurt Now.

Mr. Blain objected to the bringing of this motion in a way that it could not be amended. He thought it was no business of the Canadian Parliament to meddle with the matter. If there could be pointed out to him one Canadian who suffered from the taking of this declaration he would support the resolution, but not till then.

Mr. Pringle supported the resolution as a matter of justice to Roman Catholics.

Mr. W. F. Maclean suggested an adjournment of the debate in order to have a conference with the object of removing any source of ill-feeling from the resolution.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier declined, stating that there were a number of gentlemen waiting to speak before adjournment.

Would Get a Rebuff.

Continuing, Mr. Maclean said he was in sympathy with the resolution, and he thought nothing should be said that would wound the feelings of Roman Catholics. But he thought that if we would go to the Parliament and to the King of England and ask them to change something that they regarded as an essential bulwark of the Constitution it would be a mistake, and we would, to use a vulgar expression, be promptly "turned down." What was wanted was to have the sovereign abjure the Roman Catholic religion in some way that would not be offensive to Catholics, and the best way to attain that object in a resolution would be to have the leaders on both sides and the mover confer as to its terms.

Nothing to Do With It.

Mr. Northrup took the position that this was a matter with which the Canadian Parliament had nothing to do. It reflected upon the sincerity of Mr. Costigan, that he should have brought in the resolution in a way that did not admit of amendment. The suggestion of the leader of the Opposition, to word the resolution so as to ask that all words be eliminated from the declaration that may be offensive to the religious convictions of any of His Majesty's subjects, was not heeded by Mr. Costigan, whose object seemed to be to get rid of the declaration altogether.

Dr. Sproule avenged the mover of being actuated by political motives.

Resolution Amended.

After Mr. Lemieux had spoken, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that after conference with Mr. Costigan and other members on both sides of the House he would suggest that perhaps the House would accept the resolution if it were amended by striking out the last paragraph and substitute it by the following: "That in the opinion of this House, the declaration referred to in the above-mentioned Act of Settlement should be amended by eliminating therefrom all those expressions which are especially offensive to the religious belief of any subject of the British Crown."

The debate was continued by Mr. Lemieux, Sir Charles Hubbert Tupper, Messrs. Fowler, Osler, Oliver, Robinson, Douglas and Clarke.

Mr. Oliver opposed the resolution, and Mr. Clarke suggested that as the House was asking the amendment of the declaration, the words should be added: "So long as the distinctive Protestant character of the declaration is maintained." Unless that were done he would vote against the resolution.

Amended Resolution Carried.

The question was then put on Mr. Costigan's amended resolution, and a division being demanded, the vote was taen at half-past 1 o'clock, the resolution being carried by 125 yeas to 19 nays.

Those who voted nay were: Messrs. Oliver, Wallace, Sproule, Taylor, Wilmot, Corsaillen, Reid (Grenville), Clarke, Wilson, Roche, Alcorn, Robinson (Elgin), Sheriff, Johnston (Cardwell), Tolton, Lavell, Kidd, Blain and Lennox.

Mr. Mulock laid on the table a copy of the agreement between New South Wales and the Eastern Extension Telegraph Company.

The House adjourned at 2 a.m.

Original Motion.

Mr. Costigan's original motion was as follows:

That a humble address be presented to His Most Gracious Majesty the King, as follows:

Most Gracious Majesty, Your Majesty's most faithful and loyal subjects, the Commons of Canada, in Parliament assembled, beg leave most humbly to represent: That as a token of the civil and religious liberties and of the equality of rights guaranteed to all British subjects in the Canadian Confederation, as well as under the British constitution, the British sovereign should not be called to make any declaration offensive to the religious belief of any subject of the British Crown.

That by virtue of the Act of Settlement of 1689, the British sovereign, on the first day of the meeting of the first Parliament, or at the coronation, is called upon to make the following declaration:

"I, A. B., by the grace of God, King (or Queen) of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, do solemnly and sincerely, in the presence of God, profess, testify and declare that I do believe that in the sacrament of the Lord's Supper there is not any transubstantiation of the elements of bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ, at or after the consecration thereof by any person whatsoever; and that the invocation or adoration of the Virgin Mary or any other saint, and the sacrifice of the mass, as they are now used in the Church of Rome, are superstitious and idolatrous. And I do solemnly, in the presence of God, profess, testify and declare that I do make this declaration, and each and every part thereof, in the plain and ordinary sense of the words read unto me, as they are commonly understood by English Protestants, without any evasion, equivocation, or mental reservation whatsoever, and without any dispensation already granted me for this purpose by the Pope or any other authority or person whatsoever, or without any hope of any such such dispensation from any person or authority whatsoever or without thinking that I am or can be acquitted before God or man or absolved of this declaration or any part thereof, altho the Pope or any other person or persons or power whatsoever should dispense with or annul the same or declare that it was null and void from the beginning."

That such a declaration is most offensive to the dearest convictions of all Roman Catholics. That the staunch loyalty of His Majesty's Roman Catholic subjects in Canada, comprising about 43 per cent. of the entire population of the Dominion, and thruout British possessions, should not be rewarded by their being chosen alone amongst believers of all creeds and branded as idolaters by their sovereign.

That in the opinion of this House the above-mentioned Act of settlement should be amended by abolishing the said declaration, and the British sovereign freed forever from the obligation of offending the religious principles of any class of his faithful subjects thruout the British Empire.

You Shall Appreciate It.

How many of us know our own constitution? Not until we have ills do we appreciate good health, and while in good health the proper care is seldom taken to remain there. Our greatest enemy often lies on our own table. Too great care cannot be taken of our food. Pure ingredients constitute pure food. Then arises the question, Can we obtain pure ingredients to form our food with? If so, where can we obtain them? No better start can be made than with your milk supply; so get it pure, rich and wholesome, and you are making a good start. S. Price & Sons have adopted the method of pasteurization for their milk, a process that rids it of all germs and disagreeable flavors, making it uniform all the year round. If you have not tried pasteurized milk on your table, do so at once. Have it delivered in time for breakfast, drink a glass of it, use it at all your meals, and watch the results. It is particularly adapted to infants, invalids and delicate people. It aids digestion, and is recommend by physicians as a factor in good health. This milk is getting the appreciation it so richly deserves. Our most careful citizens are using it with good results. S. Price & Sons are the only firm in the city cleansing their milk by this process, which is retailed by them at six cents a quart, or seventeen tickets for a dollar. Place your order, and have their delivery call on you with a sample bottle. Address S. Price & Sons, dairymen, 212 and 220 East King-street, or phone 1139.

Duggan Arrested Again.

William Duggan, who says he hails from London, is under arrest at the St. Andrew's Market Station on a charge of stealing a fancy vest and a pair of tailor's shears from the store of John McRobb at 565 West Queen-street, on Thursday afternoon. Duggan was suspected of the theft, and when McRobb reported the matter to the police yesterday morning it suddenly dawned on the officers that the man had spent the previous night in No. 3 Station, charged with being drunk. When Duggan was arrested on Thursday night he had the stolen vest in his possession, and after being released disposed of the garment at a Queen-street pawn shop, where it was discovered last night by Detective Porter. Constable Newton made the arrest.

Who Has the Cat?

Magistrate Denison and Crown Attorney Curry had a consultation yesterday over an application by a citizen for a search warrant to discover his lost cat. No precedent could be found for a search warrant for a feline, and therefore none was issued.

Lakeview Lodge, No. 272, I.O.O.F., was to-night visited by a number of brethren from city lodges. Features of the evening were two addresses by W. J. Conron of Chesley Lodge and Mr. Jesse Wright.

The vital statistics for the month of February, recorded with the Town Clerk, were: Deaths 11, births 11, marriages 1.

A boy named Middleton, who resides on Pacific-avenue, whilst coasting yesterday, accidentally fractured the large bone in his leg.

Mr. J. Wilson, ledger keeper in the Molsons Bank, leaves for California shortly. He is succeeded in the bank here by Mr. Forbrook.

Trooper Scott of the Strathcona Horse is amongst those returning home. He is a son of Engineer Scott of Archibald Campbell's mill, and joined the regiment in the Northwest.

John Marshall, an old gentleman residing on Ossington-avenue, whilst holding the reins for Mr. Wills, who was in a store near the corner of Keele and Dundas-street this afternoon, thought he could keep the colt in good humor by driving it about. A load of manure was standing near the corner, and, as he turned around, a street car on the "Y" backed up. He tried to drive between the wagon and the car; but the colt refused to go forward thru the narrow opening. Eventually it turned the buggy upside down, with John Marshall underneath. It then ran away, and the crowd which was standing around the corner turned their attention to recovering the horse. The horse was stopped near the Occidental Hotel, after which the old man, who was lying in a daze on the roadway, was picked up. Presently he was able to walk, and, having satisfied himself that no bones were broken, he was taken home, badly shaken up.

In the sudden death of Mr. A. T. Moore, Mount Joy has lost a most estimable citizen. Mr. Moore was in the act of passing from the factory a few days ago, when he was suddenly stricken down, and on being found a short time after by his son and carried into the house almost immediately expired. Mr. Moore is survived by his wife, one son and three daughters.

Frank Gould and Larry C. Piper of Toronto have been matched for a three-heat skating contest on the Markham Rink on Friday evening, March 8. Councillor Brown presided over a meeting of the Finance Committee of the Council, held last night. The recommend of the Works Committee as to the construction of a well was discussed, and Councillor Stibbard objected to the depth designated in the contract and specifications, and the report was forwarded to Council without recommend. The Clerk submitted an amendment, which the committee endorsed, to the present statute allowing plank sidewalks to be laid on the initiative, making a proviso for laying cinder, gravel or tar and sand walks on a similar principle. The employment of a solicitor to prepare certain debenture bylaws was talked over, and the name of Mr. T. A. Gibson will be placed before the Council. The employment of another solicitor for conducting the purchase of the land required for waterworks purposes was objected to by the chairman, on the ground that the matter was transacted without consulting the Finance Committee. Mr. Frank Moses asked for the use of the hall for a concert, under the auspices of the C.O.F., and a rebate on the general charge was promised. The Mayor suggested that the Treasurer should be reimbursed for expenses incurred in paying civic employes. Councillor Brown objected to any extras, but a recommend for a small sum will be made.

SYMPTOMS OF KIDNEY TROUBLE.

Backache, Sideache, Swelling of Feet and Ankles, Puffing under the Eyes, Frequent Thirst, Scanty, Cloudy, Thick and Highly Colored Urine. Frequent Urination, Burning Sensation when Urinating.

These symptoms indicate a deranged condition of the kidneys, and some of them are caused by uric acid in the blood, and unless attended to immediately may eventually cause Diabetes, Bright's Disease, Dropsy, etc., which very often result in life-long misery. Doan's Pills not only relieve but cure all the above complaints.

Here is what Mr. Young, of Harcourt, N.B., writes:

THE DOAN KIDNEY PILL CO., Toronto, Ont.

DEAR SIRS,—Some time ago I was greatly troubled with pains in my back, hips and legs. My water was very scanty and was the color of strong tea and very thick, containing a sediment very much like fine sand and had a very offensive odor. I am very glad to say that after I had taken one box of Doan's Pills all of the above troubles have disappeared and I am perfectly cured and feel like a different person. I might also say my brother was troubled with his kidneys and used Doan's Pills and was completely cured.

NELSON N. YOUNG

Where Doctors do agree!—Physicians no longer consider it catering to "quackery" in recommending in practice so meritorious a remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Nervousness as South American Nervine. They realize that it is a step in advance in medical science and a sure and permanent cure for diseases of the stomach. It will cure you.—60.
