He Smuggled Whiskey.

A fine of $100 was paid the other day at Bangor, Me., by a man who kicked a barrel of whiskey so that it rolled from one side of a room to the other, says the Utica Press. The man was not a prohibitionist fighting the demon rum, but a friend of said demon. The barroom is in Aroostook county, Me., and is exactly astride the international boundary line between the state of Maine and the province of New Brunswick. The barrel of whiskey was on the Canadian side of the room, and when a friend of the owner of the whiskey heard Canadian officers were about to raid the place he aimed a kick at the barrel which sent it to the Maine side of the room. For that kick he was arrested for smuggling whiskey across the border and fined $100.

Ousted by Dynamite.

Game Warden Devine recently visited Toohey's Lake in Griffith Township, Ont., and dynamited a beaver dam by request of the Mayor of Renfrew, the original engineers having threatened destruction of the public road.

"Yes, sir; I want to fly over Jimmie Mack's yard and drop bricks on him."
