MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, July 27.—Market dull for beef cattle; good demand for lambs and calves. There were 450 cattle on the market, about the same number of sheep and lambs, 280 calves and 50 lean sheep. The best cattle sold at 4½c, while the lower grades varied from 3c to 3½c. The latter price was for young cattle, what the dealers call "stockers." Lean cows sold at whatever the owners could get for them, and that was extremely low, being less than 2c per lb, in some instances. Sheep sold at from $3 50 to $7 each, and lambs at $2 75 to $4 25; calves, $3 to $10 each, and fat hogs in demand at from 5½c to 5¾c per lb, very few remaining.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., July 27.—Cattle—There were 320 loads of fresh arrivals and about 35 loads of held-over stock. Part of the latter came in Thursday. The market opened very dull and dragging for all kinds, with the common grades much lower. Exporters took a few of the best tops, and some of the best heavy shippers sold at prices 10c to 15c lower than last week. Old cows, thin heifers, and fair, light butchers' steers of 900 to 1,050 lbs were very slow, and 50c per cwt lower than last week, while there was a quantity of coarse green cattle that buyers would not bid on at all. Best thick fat steers, of 1,350 to 1,450 lbs, brought $5 60 to $5 90; good to choice, same quality, of 1,250 to 1,325 lbs, $5 15 to $5 50; medium weight corn fed, of 1,150 to 1,225 lbs, $4 35 to $4 90, with good, fat, tidy butchers' steers, smooth and fat, of 1,000 to 1,125 lbs, $3 75 to $4 25, some coarse 1,125 lb steers, but fat, bringing $3 75 to $3 90. Mixed butchers' stock of good quality, and fat, $3 to $3 50; good to choice heifers sold poorly, some good ones bringing only $3 20 to $3 50, and some fair lots of butchers' down to $2 50 to $2 80 that would have brought $3 to $3 25 easy last week. Old to good lots of cows were lowest of any, and sold $2 to $2 25 for common to fair and $2 to $3 for good to prime; bulls in fair supply and lower; 50 good lots of butchers' $2 25 to $2 60; light and sausage, $2 to $2 25; good to choice fat, $2 75 to $3; extra smooth, $3 25. The bulk of the better grades were sold, but a good many common held over. Offerings of milch cows and springers about fifteen cars; market fully $2 per head lower for the best lots, and more for common to fair. The best demand was for springers of two to three weeks off; good to choice at $35 to $38; extra, $40 to $42; common to good, $20 to $33; dairy cows, $15 to $18 per head; all the best cows were sold. Stockers and feeders in liberal supply, and ranged in quality from common, thin, light yearlings to fairly good, half-fat feeders. There was a fair demand. Prices for good desirable lots were without decided change, but poor went a-begging and some held over. Good to choice stockers, 700 to 800 lbs, $2 65 to $2 80; extra fine and smooth, $3; yearlings and light stockers, $2 25 to $2 50; good feeders, $3 to $3 25. Veals and calves—The supply of calves was about 600 head. The market weakened from early sales, and all but the very best lots were lower. Good to prime veals brought $5 25 to $5 50; common to fair, $4 25 to $5; heavy-fed calves, $2 75 to $3 25.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts about twenty cars. Market fairly active for good lots. Prices on both sheep and lambs advanced owing to the light supply and fair demand. Choice lambs, $5 25 to $5 40; fair to good, $5 50 to $6; best sheep, $5 to $5 25; fair to good $4 25 to $5 85; about all sold.

Hogs—Receipts 45 cars. Market a trifle firmer for strictly corn-fed grades, but very dull and slow for common and grassy stock. There was no York demand to speak of. No demand for common. Good to choice corn-fed Yorkers, $5 75 to $5 95; a few choice heavy York weights, $6; fair Yorkers partly corn-fed, $5 60 to $5 70; grassers, $5 25 to $5 50; good mediums, corn-fed, $5 90 to $6; common, grassy and dairy-fed, $5 50 to $5 75. Pigs—Slow: good corn-fed, $5 25 to $5 40; common to fair, $4 50 to $5; roughs, stags, etc., as quoted in our range of prices. About all the best hogs sold, but some common held over.

Following are the transactions: 70 lots, 7⅞c; 42 lots at 8c; 10 lots on commission; total, 7,112 boxes. Farm dairies—The sales amount to 888 boxes, and the prices ranged at from 7½c to 8½c, with the bulk at 8c.

Butter—35 packages of creamery sold at 17½c to 18c, and 16 packages of farm dairy at 17c to 18c.

BRANTFORD, July 27.—At the cheese market held last week ten factories boarded 1,450 boxes. Five hundred boxes of the Attercliffe factory sold at 8 11-16c, and 130 boxes of the Boston factory sold at 9c. Offerings for the balance were from 8 9-16c, but no sales were made. Six buyers were present. The next market will be held on Aug. 6.

A BAD MISTAKE.

It is a bad mistake for any young man, income voter, owner's son, or citizen who has moved within the last few months to suppose that his name will be on the voters' list if he does not personally look after the matter.

But three or four days remain in which to make assurance doubly sure, and avoid having to go personally before the revising barrister.

Every such person, especially young men qualifying on income or as owner's sons, should visit the Liberal rooms, Oddfellows' block, and register in legal form. The officer is in attendance from 2 to 5 and from 8 to 10 p.m., every lawful evening.

Save your vote now and you will not be disappointed on election day.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Discussion on Claims of the Veterans of 1837-38.

OTTAWA, July 27.—In the House to-day Mr. Sutherland obtained permission to introduce a bill respecting the Ontario Express and Transportation Company. He explained that the company was incorporated by a Dominion act in 1878 and had been engaged in business. There had been a reorganization this year, and the present bill was to remove all doubt of the validity of that reorganization.

Mr. Lister elicited information about the receipts of the Sault Ste. Marie wharf and the salary of the wharfinger. The wharf was kept in repair by the Government.

PAYMENT OF CIVIL SERVANTS' SALARIES.

To Mr. McMullen's interesting question seeking information of the time when the present system of paying civil servants came into operation, the system under which have been perpetrated the departmental frauds, Mr. Foster replied that the Government does not intend to make any change, that it is quite satisfactory. It was the rule until the Auditor-General's office was established that pay sheets had had to be executed by each civil service officer, whether temporary or permanent, in payment of salary. Under the present system the salaries are paid by checks and the indorsation on the back is the receipt.

EAST BRUCE'S REPRESENTATIVE.

Mr. Truax had four questions on the order paper. Two of them, relating to the customs office at Walkerton, were allowed to stand because of the absence from the House of the Minister of Customs. The other two obtained from the Government the services rendered for the bills paid last year from the Dominion Treasury to Shaw & Shaw, of Walkerton, for $183, and A. B. Klein, also of Walkerton, for $319. These lawyers find profitable employment in the Indian cases in Bruce county courts, and, as will be seen, have a reason for their activity in politics.

FINAL REVISION OF VOTERS' LISTS.

Mr. Frechette asked: Is it the intention of the Government to extend the limit of time for the completion of preliminary lists in view of final revision of the voters' lists?

Sir John Thompson replied that there was a bill before the House with that object and he hoped it would be reached to-morrow. The bill provides for the extension from the 1st to the 15th of August.

THE QUEBEC BRIDGE.

Mr. Fremont, who is the mayor of the city of Quebec, asked whether it is the intention of the Government to initiate this session any measure calculated to assist in the construction of a bridge over the River St. Lawrence at or in the vicinity of the city of Quebec. Sir Hector Langevin replied in the negative.

THE DUTY ON SIR HECTOR'S PLATE.

Mr. Davidson asked what amount was paid as duty on the plate presented to the Minister of Public Works in March, 1889, who paid such duty, and in whose name was said plate imported.

Mr. Haggart, replying for the Minister of Customs, said the amount was $329 30, and that the importation was made through A. Rosenthal, jeweler, Ottawa.

COMMENTS ON COMMENTS.

Mr. Davin obtained an order of the House for a return of the estimates of the Indian Department, Regina, for 1888-89, the revision of such estimates by inspectors McGibbon and Wadsworth; the comments on such revision by the Hon. Edgar Dewdney; the comments on such comments by Mr. Vankoughnet, Deputy-Minister of Indian Affairs; the comments on all by the late Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior.

A PREVENTIVE OFFICER'S DISMISSAL.

An order of the House was given Mr. German for a return of all correspondence, letters or papers in any way connected with the dismissal in June, 1884 of one Samuel Johnston from his position as a preventive officer in her Majesty's customs for the station from Clifton to Dunnville.

MR. DAVIN'S DISCONTENT.

Mr. Davin will not proceed this session with his proposed resolution which declared that:

"Whereas, notwithstanding the liberal policy of the Government of Sir John Macdonald pursued in regard to the Northwest Territories, and the well established fact of the great fertility of the country, their settlement has not reached the proportions expected, this House is of opinion that a policy can be devised which will more rapidly people those territories."

He remains discontented with the administration of the Northwest, but withholds the motion of which he gave notice because of the lateness of the session.

COL. HERCHMER'S MACHINATIONS.

Mr. Davin returned to his attack on the commissioner of the Northwest Mounted Police with bitterness increased since last session by the efforts the colonel made at the elections to secure his defeat. His this year's resolution asks:

"That an address be presented to his Excellency the Governor-General praying that he will be pleased to cause an inquiry to be made into the conduct of Lawrence W. Herchmer, commissioner of the Northwest Mounted Police, generally from the date he became commissioner to the present time and especially with reference to his conduct during the last election in Western Assiniboia and also into the conduct of the officers and men of the force in the said constituency during that election."

Referring to the charges he had made at the last session of Parliament against Col. Herchmer, Mr. Davin said an inquiry had been held, but as the comptroller, White, who conducted it, had not authority to examine witness under oath, as the witnesses were subordinate officers of the accused, and as in the debate out of which the inquiry had arisen the superintendent-general of the police and the Prime Minister had spoken favorably of the accused, the witness thought it would "be like going to law with the devil in the court of hell." Under these circumstances he could not expect the report would show the true state of affairs. When the elections came on he worked tooth and nail for his defeat. Mr. Davin telegraphed Mr. White and Sir John Macdonald, and an order was sent to the commissioner that he must not interfere. This order had been ignored. He wrote a letter, which was sent to every division, which said, "The police are at liberty to vote as they like, but I am in favor of Tweed." Tweed, too, was a Conservative candidate. At Maple Creek he went so far, Mr. Davin said, as to keep in friends of his (Mr. Davin's). At Maple Creek whisky was given by the other candidate's friends to the halfbreeds and they were then sent to vote. This had been pointed out to him (Mr. Davin, who was at Maple Creek that day), and he refused to stop them voting for Tweed, as he said he could.

Mr. Watson (with a smile)—How?

A member—By another glass of better whisky. (Laughter.)

Mr. Davin (to the member for Marquette)—I don't want to put him up to an electioneering wrinkle, which is probably new to him, and that he might not have virtue to resist as I did. (Laughter.)

Proceeding he told of the persecutions which, after the elections, the commissioner had put upon the officers and men in the force who had voted for him.

Mr. Laurier commented on the action taken by Mr. Davin. If a grievance existed it should be investigated, but Parliament was the place to have the evidence taken on oath, and if the honorable gentleman, instead of asking, as he now asked, for a royal commission, or as he did last year for a simple departmental investigation, had moved for a Parliamentary inquiry there would have been a better chance for arriving at the truth and of having the grievance thoroughly investigated. Last year the honorable gentleman made very serious charges against an officer of the Department of the Interior, and he was promised a departmental inquiry. Now he was promised another investigation, but had he any reason to believe that investigation would be more formal or more effectual than the one made last year, or that more justice would be done? He agreed that there should be careful inquiry in this young nation, but this was the place to investigate the charges. If the honorable gentleman were to ask for a committee to investigate the charges, that would be the best way of arriving at the truth of the matter. The honorable gentleman had complained of the interference of the public officers in elections. Well, he was glad to see that the Liberal party had the sympathy of a prominent member of the Conservative party on that question. As the charge was between two Conservatives and not between a Liberal and Conservative he (Mr. Laurier) looked upon it with the more satisfaction. Perhaps the honorable gentleman would see that the interference of public officers in elections was not to be tolerated in this country. (Cheers.)

Mr. Davin, in view of the promise of Sir John Thompson that a further inquiry would be made into the circumstances, announced that he would withdraw the motion.

Sir John Thompson declared that no officer could remain in the service of the Government who used such language as had been attributed by L'Etendard to the commissioner of the Northwest police.

TO REORGANIZE VETERANS.

Mr. Kirkpatrick introduced a motion which raised the old loyalism, the old heroism and the old spirit in favor of civil liberty and constitutional government, which the family compact endeavored to trample to the dust. The member for Frontenac moved:

"That in the opinion of this House it is expedient that the Government should bestow some mark of recognition upon the veterans of 1837 and 1838 for their services to the country at that time.

The motion was supported by Mr. Allison, Col. Tisdale, Col. Dennison and others.

Mr. Somerville remarked that when this matter was before the House some years ago he opposed the motion on the ground that the House should take no step of the kind unless it was prepared to reward those who were the rebels. He took the same ground now. We should reward the men who were instrumental in securing Upper and Lower Canada justice, the men who were instrumental in gaining civil and religious liberty for this Dominion to-day. Had it not been for the action taken by the rebels in 1839 it was possible that they might have been living now as they were then under the iron heel of oppression. All honor to William Lyon Mackenzie and Papineau were names to be revered in the very homes of the people of the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario. (Cheers.) Mr. Somerville reminded the House that this House had voted for a monument to one of the rebels of 1837—had voted $10,000 to George E. Cartier. If we turned to Lord Durham's report we would find that when he came out to investigate the causes of the rebellion he reported that the rebellion was justifiable. He would oppose this motion and trusted that everybody in the House would see that no injustice was being done.

After recess Mr. Charlton's bill on Sunday observance was defeated by a vote of 63 to 18.
