THE SACKVILLE NEWS LETTER

Several Weddings of Interest Solemnized—Charlottetown Preacher at Methodist Church Rally Day Meeting.

Sackville, Sept. 30.—Mrs. C. N. Beal and children leave this week for Wetaskiwin, Sask., where she will spend the winter.

Mrs. A. B. Copp was the hostess at a pleasant drive to Port Elgin on Tuesday when a large party of young people were entertained at supper at the Strathcona Hotel of that town. Games, music and dancing occupied the evening.

The annual prize given by the Women's Civic Council for the best kept grounds has been awarded to Mrs. Sparkes, Union street.

The two sons of P. G. Mahony M. P. P., left last week for Antigonish to continue their studies at St. Francis Xavier College.

Increase of business at the Sackville I. C. R. station has necessitated the putting in of a larger track scale on one of the sidings and Trackmaster Lockhart has been supervising the work.

The marriage took place in Main street Baptist church on Wednesday morning of Miss Winnifred Mahaffey and A. Floyd Atkinson, foreman of the Post Printing Company. The wedding was a quiet one, the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. Cann. The bride was becomingly gowned in a travelling suit of navy blue serge with hat to match. The happy couple left on the noon express for a trip to Halifax and other Nova Scotia towns, and on their return will reside on Weldon street. They were the recipients of a number of valuable gifts from friends and well wishers.

The marriage of Miss Georgie Graham, daughter of Mrs. R. Graham, Halifax, and Horace M. Humphrey of that city also took place at the bride's home on Wednesday. The bride wore a tailored suit of gray with black beaver hat. The honeymoon is being spent in Massachusetts. They will reside in Halifax. Among the guests present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John Humphrey, Sackville, parents of the groom, and sister, Miss Humphrey.

On Wednesday evening at the home of the bride, Foundry street, Miss Fannie Manship, and Gilbert Crossman were united in marriage, Rev. H. Cann officiating.

Mrs. Percy Gillis, formerly Miss Lida Ford, received for the first time since her marriage on Wednesday afternoon and evening at her home on York street. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Alex. Warren Windsor of Bathurst, of the Mount Allison University graduating class last year, has entered the law offices of Powell, Bennett and Trites.

Miss Snowball of Chatham is the guest of Mrs. F. B. Black.

Mrs. Clement is spending a few weeks in Montreal.

Interesting services were held in the Methodist church on Sunday. Large congregations morning and evening greeted Rev. J. H. Strathard of Charlottetown, who had charge of the services for the day in the absence of the pastor, Rev. S. Howard at P. E. Island. In the afternoon Sunday school Rally Day was observed. The prescribed service, "Building a Nation for God," was excellently carried out, the music being in charge of Professor McIntyre. The address to the school was given by Rev. Dr. Campbell. An interesting feature of the programme was the presentation of grading certificates to the scholars of the different departments of the school. The offering was in aid of S. S. extension in the Dominion.

Rev. E. C. Hennigar of Japan gave an interesting lecture on "The Flag on the Other Side of the World," on Tuesday evening.

One of the most pleasing social events of the Mount Allison year was held on Friday evening in the Ladies' College, the occasion being the reception of welcome given by the Y. W. C. A., and Y. M. C. A. The scene was a festive one, decorations being artistic and the attendance of students and friends of the institution large. Dr. and Mrs. Campbell received with the presidents of the associations, Miss Nellie Donkin, and George W. Beck, who afterwards gave short welcome addresses in Beethoven Hall, where a musical programme was rendered. Several old students from a distance were present. PLAY GOOD FOOTBALL AT CAPITAL

Special to The Standard.

Fredericton, Oct. 3.—The first football game of the season was played at College Field today between Fredericton High Schol team and Freshmen team of U. N. B.

The teams battled for regular two periods, first of 30 minutes and second of 20 minutes, and then with score tied 3 to 3, started to play until one side scored. They played for 20 minutes overtime without a score and Capt. Hal Murray of the U. N. B. varsity team who was acting as referee then called the game on account of darkness. Fredericton High School put up a fine game against their heavier opponents and the yellow and blacks' supporters feel confident that the interscholastic league champions will give a good account of themselves when the league series opens up.

Coy and Barbour and Edgecombe starred for High School today, while Cass Belliveau and Densmore did the best work for the Freshmen. Edgecombe scored Fredericton High's try, while Cass got over the line for the Freshies. The High School team were actual winners scoring the greater number of safeties.

CORBETT'S CHANCES FAVORABLE

Philadelphia, Oct 3.—The condition of James J. Corbett, who is in the Jefferson Hospital here, is reported as "fairly favorable." The physicians in charge declare that he has a fair hope for recovery, following the operation for appendicitis, which was augmented by symptoms of peritonitis.

"Corbett would not have one chance in a million," said a physician, "was it not that he is the possessor of a magnificent physique which pulled him through last night, following the operation after we almost had given up hope."

Mrs. Corbett arrived at the hospital shortly after the operation last midnight, and has been at the bedside of her husband ever since. She asserts that he will overcome this sickness. She is the most cheerful person in attendance.

WILL RECEIVE RESULTS BY INNINGS.

Never before in this city was the interest so keen on the world's series as it is at the present time. It is all the topic with the sports, and all the baseball fans are picking their winners for the world championship. A number of resorts in the city proper, the North and the West Ends, have arranged with the telegraph companies to receive the score by innings on each game of ball, and as each inning is finished the result will be sent to these places and chalked up on a black board.

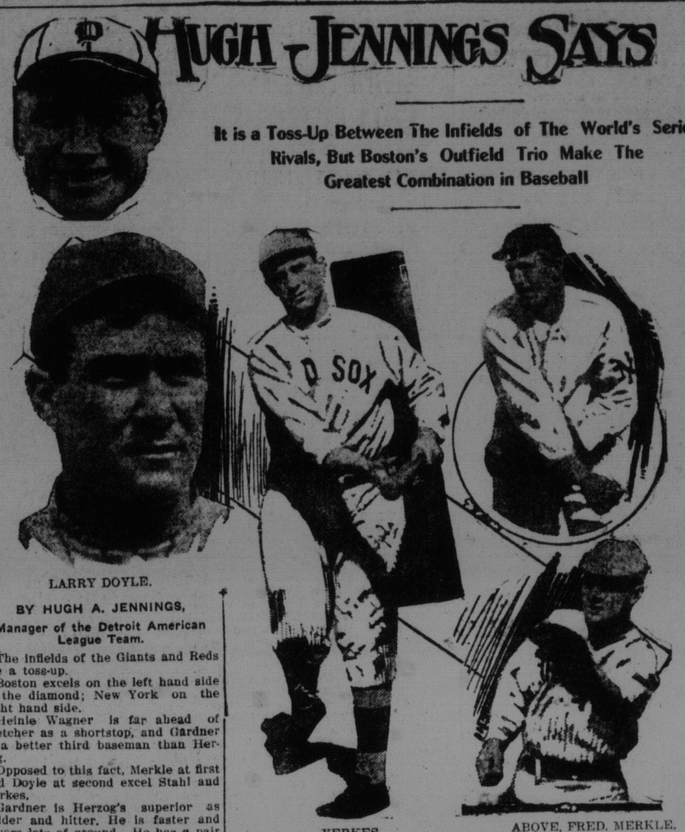
The uptown sports will be able to get these results at William O'Keefe's wine rooms, while the North Enders can get the results at Black's bowling alleys and restaurant, as they have made similar arrangement.

This has been the first time that these arrangements have been made in the city for many years, and the first time for the world's series.

In years gone by the results of the games in the National league were received at the Old National Club rooms on Charlotte street, and hundreds of sports were present to read the latest news.

HUGH JENNINGS SAYS

It is a Toss-Up Between The Infields of The World's Series Rivals, But Boston's Outfield Trio Make The Greatest Combination in Baseball



LARRY DOYLE. YERKES. ABOVE, FRED. MERKLE. BELOW, GARDNER.

BY HUGH A. JENNINGS,
Manager of the Detroit American League Team.

The infields of the Giants and Reds are a toss-up.

Boston excels on the left hand side of the diamond; New York on the right hand side.

Heinie Wagner is far ahead of Fletcher as a shortstop, and Gardner is a better third baseman than Herzog.

Opposed to this fact, Merkle at first and Doyle at second excel Stahl and Yerkes.

Gardner is Herzog's superior as fielder and hitter. He is faster and covers lots of ground. He has a pair of clever hands and his throws to first are great. He fields cleanly. Herzog is no slouch, but he is not Gardner's equal.

The success of Boston this season is in a large measure due to the work of Wagner at short and at bat. He is without a doubt the best shortstop in the American League today, and that is saying a lot with Bush and Jack Barry to consider.

Yerkes suffers when compared to Larry Doyle, who has been a Giant star for a long time. McGraw made Doyle a brilliant player and appointed him captain. Much was expected of Doyle last year in the world's series and he was the one star who made good.

Jake Stahl must manage his team as well as play first base, and in so important a series this may handicap his work. Merkle is a younger man, faster and a better fielder. Stahl is a better hitter, however, than Merkle, although both are clean-up men.

Both infields work like machines at their best. There is probably no infield in baseball save that of the Athletes, that can execute double plays with any greater speed and accuracy than these two combinations.

In handling runners I think the Red Sox, with Wagner in the game, will excel. Wagner has no superior in taking the ball and putting it upon the runner.

Boston's infield is a better hitting combination than that of the Giants, but it is not nearly so fast when once on the bases. Those New York infielders are demons, once they get on. A fleeter four than Merkle, Doyle, Fletcher and Herzog are not playing ball anywhere.

Thus as the hitting of one offsets the base running of the other, and the better left side of the Red Sox equalizes the right side of the Giants, I consider them a toss-up.

There is no use trying to compare the outfields. As McGraw is the game's greatest manager, so Speaker, Hooper and Lewis are the greatest outfield.

Becker, Murray and Snodgrass are not in the same class as the Boston trio either as hitters or fielders. While they might possibly equal them as fielders in a short series they cannot hope to excel them in covering ground.

I have seen these men cover ground so completely that it seemed impossible to drop a bit into the outfield. They forgot that there are such things as hits for the opposing team and caught everything near and far. Texas Leaguers would not have been invented had this bunch been playing at the time.

These men I consider worth $50,000, and Speaker worth half the sum alone. Stahl has said he would neither sell them for money nor give them away for love.

They are hitting away up in the averages. Speaker rivals Cobb and has few equals. But it is not a one-man outfield. Both Hooper and Lewis are also wonderful players.

I don't believe the Giants' pitchers can stop these three. The best in the American League have failed to do so. They are likely to drive even Mathewson out of the box, once they start.

The Boston outfield must beat the brunt of that psychological disturbance that has always had a baneful effect upon stars in world's series. The world is looking for the three to bear the greatest part of the offensive burden, as well as more than the average share of the defensive work.

The Giants, while lacking the ability of Boston, may find that the experience in last year's series offsets Boston's natural advantage. The finishing polish of a gruelling series is hard to penetrate and they may actually play better ball than the wonderful Boston outfield on sheer confidence alone.

STAR PITCHERS RELY CHIEFLY ON SPEED

JEFF TESREAU. JOE WOOD.

In big Jeff Tesreau and Joe Wood lie the respective hopes of the National and American League fans in the world's series. Both are "smoke" pitchers.

Tesreau is the pitching salvation of the Giants. When Marquard stumbled and Mathewson was overworked until he lost his effectiveness McGraw called upon the "Ozark Wonder" and the big fellow responded. He kept the team in first place when the Cubs challenged, giving Marquard and Natty opportunity to rest.

"Smoky Joe" Wood is the best of American League pitchers. He has accumulated a string of successive victories, such as Marquard and Walter Johnson ran up earlier. In the case of the last-named pair, the long run had its effect, both going badly after their streak was broken.

Giant partisans believe Wood will go to pieces from nervous strain as the result of his wonderful string of wins, but Wood insists he is too phlegmatic to be worried by so insignificant a thing as a couple of dozen victories in a row.

"Charles Harvey, secretary New York State Athletic Commission."
