GEORGES CARPENTIER PUT KID LEWIS TO SLEEP IN FIRST ROUND

The Light Heavyweight Championship Was at Stake — The Men Clinched Repeatedly and Were Warned — Coming Out of a Break the Frenchman's Right Went to Jaw for Knockout.

London, May 11—Georges Carpentier tonight knocked out Ted (Kid) Lewis in the first round of what was to have been a twenty round bout for the light heavyweight championship of the world held by Carpentier. The end came when Carpentier drove a sharp right to the point of Lewis' jaw. The Englishman toppled over backward and lay motionless on the floor until the referee counted ten. Then Carpentier picked up his fallen foe and aided in carrying him to his corner. The spectators were slow to realize what had occurred, but when finally they comprehended that the battle was over and Lewis was defeated there arose a storm of boos and cries of "foul" from all parts of the vast audience which drowned out the comparatively little applause Carpentier was receiving from his partisans.

From the sound of the bell to the end of the referee's count two minutes and fifteen seconds intervened. Carpentier weighed 175 pounds the light heavyweight limit, while Lewis tipped the scales at 157 pounds with his clothes on when the fighters weighed in this afternoon. Among others present were the Duke of York and Prince Henry, who were seated at the ringside. Jack Dempsey was applauded as he entered the arena and was shown to a seat near the Royal personages, to whom he later was introduced. He chatted with them for a moment.

When the gong sent the fighters to the centre of the ring Lewis took the aggressive. He sent a right jab to the neck, followed by a left to the body. There was a clinch, and the referee, Joe Palmer, called upon the men to break. He then jumped in between them and pulled them apart. Immediately the fighters went into a clinch jabbing fiercely. Palmer forcibly pried them apart again, and then administered a caution to both.

Lewis continued the aggressor. He got in two lefts on Carpentier and the crowd madly cheered him. Carpentier closed in and held on. Again the referee reproved him. Lewis forced the Frenchman into a corner and there was a rapid exchange of body blows, in which Lewis had the advantage

Carpentier then forced his opponent off the ropes and into the center of the ring. The Frenchman missed with a right and Lewis sent his right to Carpentier's neck. Another clinch followed, and the referee stepped in and separated the men. Carpentier uppercutted and also sent in a hook blow as they were coming out of the clinch. Lewis glanced appealingly at Palmer. Then, following the Frenchman's tactics Lewis jabbed as they separated.

It appeared as if Palmer was going to warn the fighters as they broke away. Lewis had dropped his guard and Carpentier feinted with his left and simultaneously flashed the right from his shoulder to Lewis' jaw. To those sitting at the ringside it seemed the merest tap, but it had sufficient force behind it to send Lewis backward upon the canvas for the full count of ten and to secure the fifth knockout victory for Carpentier in less than a round.

Supporters of Lewis crowded about the ringside, declaring the decision was unfair.

Jack Dempsey was introduced from the centre of the ring. As the American fighter left the ring he wished "good luck" to both Lewis and Carpentier calling Carpentier "old pal"

As the ring was cleared and the gong was about to sound for the commencement of the fight Descamps handed a watch to a French newspaperman at the ringside.

"You time the fight—it won't take long," said Descamps. "It was merely a matter of a game little man against a good big man," said Jack Dempsey after the fight tonight

Dempsey was not looking at the ring when the knockout was scored. He was busy autographing a programme. Therefore he declined to comment on the fairness of the blow which laid Lewis low.

Kearns said that Carpentier's sensational win enhanced the chances of a second Carpentier-Dempsey match being arranged shortly.

The Exchange Telegraph fight expert considers the fight had a most unsatisfactory ending. He declared that there was no doubt that Lewis had the better of what little boxing there was and no question that when the referee called the men to break away, Lewis automatically dropped his hands and the Frenchman took advantage of this and put Lewis down for the count.

The management of the fight declined to make public the amount of the gate receipts, or the percentage of them which would go to the fighters. When it was suggested that the receipts amounted to £30,000, it was said that this amount was not far wrong. From other sources, considered authoritative, it was learned that Carpentier will receive 33 1-3 per cent. of the gate and Lewis 25 per cent.

Moosepath Park will open with horse races on the 24th of May.

The Spirit of Amateurism

On the back page of the scoring pamphlet of the Y. M. C. A.'s Athletic Hexathlon is printed the following declaration and spirit of "amateurism." The present time is a very propitious one for the publication of this:

Declaration of Amateurism.

An amateur athlete is one who participates in competitive games or athletics for pleasure only, and for the physical, mental, moral and social benefit directly derived therefrom.

The Spirit of Amateurism.

The spirit of amateurism carries with it all that is included in the definition of an amateur and much more. The spirit of amateurism stands for a high sense of honor, honesty, fair play and courtesy and temperate living on the part of the participants, hosts or guests, officials and spectators. It stoops to no petty technicalities to twist or evade the rules or to take an unfair advantage of opponents.

It implies a recognition of the marked influence of athletics in developing organic vigor, physical fitness, intellectual efficiency, moral qualities and social habits. It seeks to increase their value by exalting the standards of all sports.

It is opposed to all practices which are harmful to individuals or to amateur athletics in general, such as playing for money or gain of any kind, betting, selling prizes, proselyting, over-specializing of "star performers" to the exclusion of the "rank and file," etc.

Y. M. C. A. HAS FINE RUNNING TRACK

Cinder Path Around the Building, Eight Laps to Mile, Completed Thursday.

The finest running track in the city was completed last evening. The track, which is around the Y. M. C. A., has 8 laps to the mile and is made of cinders. It was largely due to the good work and untiring efforts of Jack Barberry, an old time runner of this city, that the track was built. It was started two weeks ago and is now in shape for the track team to work out on and should be a great help to the runners of the city. Mr. Barberry is the official coach for the runners and some keen competition should be witnessed before long.

BRITISH EMBASSY INTERESTED IN CASE

Hears Complaint of War "Vet" Seeking Hand of Senator's Daughter.

Washington, May 10—British Embassy officials after a final conference here today with Alexander E. Robertson, British war veteran and suitor of Miss Mary Culberson, daughter of Senator Culberson, of Texas, declared that action of the Embassy on Robertson's charges of kidnapping by private detectives would amount merely to watching court proceedings which Robertson has instituted.

Robertson has claimed that as a result of his attentions to Miss Culberson attempts had been made to get him out of the country.

ALL INTERESTED IN HILTON BELYEA

A sum of money will be voted by the Fredericton Rowing Club towards defraying the expenses of Hilton Belyea to Philadelphia, according to the advice given Commissioner Thornton by W. Crookshank, of the Fredericton Club.

Moncton has already voted assistance. It is evident the larger centres throughout the province are keenly interested in the effort of the local sculler to win the world's championships.

Wall Street Given Real Thriller By New Steel Merger

Purchase of Lackawanna Steel Co. by Bethlehem Boosted That Stock Issue.

New York, May 11—Purchase of the Lackawanna Steel Company of Lackawanna, New York, by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation involving the use of Bethlehem seven per cent preferred and class B. common stocks in payment for the properties was announced late today by Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem organization.

News of the merger, which became known just before the stock market closed gave Wall Street a real thrill. Lackawanna Steel made a net gain of seven points, closing at 65¾. There were 73 sales, totalling 17,100 shares in the last hour, the largest sale of 1,400 shares being disposed at 58, the top price and a new high record for the year. The previous high was 61. The day's sales were 23,600 shares. There was less activity in Bethlehem Steel, which closed at 79, the top price and a net gain of 1¾ points. Of the day's trading of 11,000 shares, 4,100 were disposed of in the final hour. Shares of the Republic Iron and Steel Company and the Midvale Steel Company, the only stocks in addition to the Lackawanna which were included in the proposed merger of seven independent steel companies and traded in only by the big board, showed substantial gains, Republic showing a net gain of three points and Midvale of 1¾.

Thomas L. Chadbourne, who has been handling the legal affairs in connection with the proposed merger of seven independent companies, declared that the withdrawal of the Lackawanna company would not cause an abandonment of the plans, which would be concluded on a six company basis. In addition to Republic and Midvale, these companies are the Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Brier Hill Steel Company, Inland Steel Company and the Steel and Tube Company of America.
