VOTE FOR THE

Sewerage Bylaw

ON

Wednesday, Sept. 2nd.

The city needs better sewerage to improve its sanitary condition and make it the cleanest and healthiest city in the Dominion.

The city is compelled to improve its sewerage by the civil courts, which have pronounced judgment, and forbid us emptying sewage into the river.

The plan proposed is the work of three of the best sanitary engineers in Canada and the United States, and has the approval of the Provincial Board of Health.

Should the future requirements of the city demand other means of sewage disposal, the proposed system will simply have to be extended further, and the proposed works utilized as far as they go. Not a dollar of the present expenditure will be wasted.

Under the act, which provides the most just and equitable methods of meeting the cost, the annual rate of taxation will only be increased half a mill on the dollar. The man who pays $10 taxes will only have to pay 25 cents more.

Let every ratepayer who desires to improve the city, and who wishes to save it from serious annoyance, as well as law costs and fines that will eventually amount to more than the expense of sewer construction, vote for the bylaw of Wednesday, the 2nd September, and then take a neighbor to the polls and see that he votes.

POLLING PLACES.

A number of firms in the United States keep on hand ready-made iron bridges of many sizes.

Mr. McKinley's Letter of Acceptance.

Mr. McKinley, the Republican candidate for the Presidency of the United States, has issued his letter of acceptance. He directly antagonizes the position of his opponent, Mr. Bryan, on the silver question, taking the grounds now pretty familiar to those who have followed the discussion. He points out strongly the impossibility of the United States going into the silver coinage on its own hook, in the way advocated by the silverites. Whatever is done should be done under international agreement with other nations.

On the question of Protection, Mr. McKinley, as name-giver to the McKinley Bill, naturally takes a stiff affirmative attitude, though by no means tying himself up to all the details of his former celebrated tariff. Mr. McKinley sends into circulation some pithy sentences from his point of view:

"You don't get consumers through the mints, you get them through the factories."

"Free silver will not increase the demand for wheat, or make a single new customer."

"Not an increase of coin, but an increase of confidence."

"Not more coinage, but a more active use of money coined."

"Not open mints for the unlimited coinage of the silver of the world, but open mills for the full and unrestricted labor of American workingmen."

Mr. McKinley favors Reciprocity of trade with other countries. Reciprocity is a word, however, of variable interpretation, and everything depends on the terms.

He also favors greater watchfulness in respect of foreign immigration. He says:

"The declaration of the platform, touching foreign immigration, is one of peculiar importance at this time, when our own laboring people are in such distress. I am in hearty sympathy with the present legislation, restricting foreign immigration, and favor such extension of the laws as will secure the United States from invasion by the debased and criminal classes of the old world. We want no immigrants who do not seek our shores to become citizens. We should permit none to participate in the advantages of our civilization who do not sympathize with our aims and form of government. We should receive none who come to make war upon our institutions and profit by public disquiet and turmoil. Against all such our gates must be tightly closed."

Mortgage Sale of Farm!

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN the payment of a certain mortgage, dated the 13th day of January, 1886, made by one Robert Edward Allen to the vendors, there will, under power of sale contained in said mortgage, be sold by public auction by John W. Zanzibar Bombarded!

The British Fleet Open Fire on the Palace.

And Reduce the Structure to a Mass of Ruins.

Said Khalid Takes Refuge in the German Consulate.

His Forces Make a Gallant but Hopeless Defense.

Hoisting of the British Flag Over Zanzibar Means Freedom to 250,000 Slaves.

(Copyrighted by the Associated Press.)

Zanzibar, Aug. 27.—The palace of the Sultan of Zanzibar was bombarded this morning, and at noon was a mass of blazing ruins. The usurping chieftain, Said Khalid and the commander of his forces, Said Sales, succeeded in escaping to the German consulate, where they have sought refuge, and remain under the protection of the German flag. As cabled exclusively to the Associated Press yesterday afternoon, Rear Admiral Henry Rawson, C.B., in command of the British Cape of Good Hope and west coast of Africa station, and the British consul-general, Mr. A. H. Hardinge, C.B., after holding a conference yesterday, communicated by cable to the Government of Great Britain an outline of the situation of the affairs here, setting forth that Said Khalid, who seized the palace and proclaimed himself Sultan on the death, apparently by poison, of Sultin Hamed Bin Thwain Bin Said, had been strongly reinforced, and positively refused to surrender.

KHALID'S FORCES.

He had with him at that time about 2,500 well-armed and well-disciplined men, including 900 Askaris, who have been trained under British officers, plenty of ammunition and a number of field guns and other pieces of artillery, which were trained on the British warships. The latter, with the reinforcements which arrived yesterday were: The flagship St. George, Admiral Rawson, small quick-firing guns; 559 men; the third-class cruiser Philomel; the third-class cruiser Raccoon; the first-class gunboat Sparrow; the first-class gunboat Thrush.

Later in the day cabled instructions were received from London and another conference was held between the Admiral and Consul General, and eventually was sent to Said Khalid ordering him to haul down his flag and surrender with his forces no later than 9 o'clock this morning. At the same time the British residents of Zanzibar were notified to be on board Admiral Rawson's ships by 8 o'clock. During the past night there were a number of disturbances among the natives in the outskirts of the town; but they were promptly suppressed by the 350 British marines and sailors who had been landed to protect property and guard the consulate of Great Britain.

It is understood, however, that Said Khalid received further reinforcements from the slave dealers who flocked to his support as the formal hoisting of the British flag over Zanzibar would mean the liberation of about 250,000 slaves and a death-blow to slavery in this part of East Africa.

SUMMONED TO SURRENDER.

Shortly before 9 o'clock a naval officer was sent to the palace square with another message for Said Khalid, asking him if he was prepared to surrender in accordance with the terms of the ultimatum, and again notifying him that the palace in which he had barricaded himself would be shelled at 9 o'clock promptly if he failed to haul down his flag before that time.

THE SAID'S REPLY.

As before, the Said replied that he would die sooner than surrender. His answer was conveyed to Admiral Rawson and the British Consul General and the crews of the ships, which had been prepared for action the day before when the guns ashore were trained on them, were sent to quarters.

THE FLEET OPEN FIRE.

At 9 o'clock the flagship signaled the Raccoon, Thrush and Sparrow to commence firing, and the cruisers mentioned opened fire with their heavier guns, and ten minutes later they had sent a storm of shell and shot into the palace, tearing big gaps in it, scattering death and confusion among its defenders, while dismounting some of the guns ashore, and putting to flight the gunners handling the pieces.

The fire of the warships was admirably directed and smoke was soon seen to be issuing from several parts of the palace. During this time the St. George and the Philomel were held in reserve, although they occasionally plumped a shell into the enemy's camp, adding to the dismay of its defenders. The Raccoon, Thrush and Sparrow kept up the bombardment until 9:50, when the palace was tumbling in ruins and large rents had been made in the barricades of the Said followers.

STUBBORN RESISTANCE OF THE ENEMY.

The latter, however, answered the fire of the warships with great persistency and gallantry, and did not stop firing until in response to the flagship's signal of "Cease firing" the guns of the warships stopped.

The losses of the enemy are not known, but must have been heavy, especially among the defenders of the palace proper.

THE SULTAN'S STEAMER SUNK.

During the bombardment, the Sultan's armed steamer Glasgow opened fire on the British warships, but a few well directed shells from the heavy guns of the Raccoon silenced her fire in very short order and sank her at her moorings.

TO HEAD OFF THE FUGITIVES.

Admiral Rawson, in order to prevent the escape of Said Khalid and his followers to the mainland of Africa, where their presence would undoubtedly have caused trouble with the slave-leaders and their adherents, sent detachments of marines and local Zanzibaris to occupy all roads and avenues of escape, thus hemming in the enemy pretty effectually, although many escaped to the mainland and neighboring islands in dhows.

As this dispatch is sent, firing is still proceeding in the outskirts of this place, but all real resistance has ceased. Shortly after 10 o'clock reinforcements of marines and sailors were sent ashore from the British ships, and the work of coralling the insurgents and attending to the wounded was commenced. During this time desultory firing could be heard on the outskirts of the town, from where Capt. Raikes notified Admiral Rawson that he was holding all the main roads. When the insurgents had been compelled to lay down their arms and were securely coralled by the marines and blue-jackets, the latter were ordered to try and extinguish the flames in the palace and in the other custom house which had been shelled and set on fire, as the insurgents had fortified it. But at noon, in spite of the efforts of the sailors the palace was the old custom house was laid in ashes, and a number of other buildings demolished or set on fire by exploding shells, were also in ashes. No casualties are reported among the British ashore, and though all business is at a standstill, order will be completely restored before nightfall; and the foreign residents will be able to return to their residences ashore.

COLLECTING THE DEAD

Temporary hospitals for the care of the native wounded have been established ashore, and they are receiving care from the surgeons of the warships. The dead will be buried this afternoon and for the present the government of the island will be administered by Admiral Rawson pending the receipt of further instructions from the British Government.

LORD RUSSELL

Entertained in Toronto — Mr. Goldwin Smith, the Benchers and the Board of Trade in Succession His Hosts.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—Lord Russell and his party left Toronto by a special G. T. R. train for Kingston late last night, after a stay, which, if brief, was as pleasant as the efforts of his hosts could compass. The entertaining began early in the morning, for he was the guest of Mr. Goldwin Smith at the Grange for breakfast. From Mr. Goldwin Smith's hands he passed into those of the Osgoode Hall Benchers, who drove the party around the city. A desire to rest and to transact some necessary business caused him to remain in his apartments at the Queen's, but the other members of the party were afforded an excellent view of Toronto, and expressed themselves as much pleased with its appearance. A number of callers, including Sir. Charles Hibbert Tupper and his law partner, Mr. R. F. Borden, of Halifax, were received.

At 1:30 p.m. Lord Russell was entertained at luncheon at Osgoode Hall by the Benchers of the Law Society. The luncheon was informal, and the number of those present was not very large. Mr. Aemilius Irving, Q.C., occupied the chair, Lord Russell sitting to his right, and Chief Justice Haggarty sitting next to Lord Russell. Others present, in addition to the members of Lord Russell's party, were Hon. A. S. Hardy, Justice Burton, Chief Justice Bain (Manitoba), Sir Thomas Galt, Justice Osler, Sir Chas. H. Tupper, Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., Mr. Charles Moss, Q.C., Dr. Larratt Smith, Mr. G. F. Shepley, Q.C., Mr. C. H. Ritchie, Q.C., Mr. Wm. Douglass (Chatham), Mr. D. B. Maclennan (Cornwall, Mr. Wm. Bell, Q. C., (Belleville), Mr. R. M. Walkem, Q.C., (Kingston), Mr. Frank Mackelcan, Q.C., (Hamilton), Mr. Thomas Hodgins, Q.C., Master-in-Ordinary; Mr. W. E. Eakins, librarian at Osgoode Hall; Mr. G. C. Gibbons, Q.C., of London; Mr. Wm. Kerr, Q.C., of Cobourg, and Mr. H. W. Murray, Q.C. A number of informal toasts were proposed, Lord Russell, in his reply, expressed himself as delighted with the reception which had been accorded to him in Toronto.

The luncheon and the informal reception which followed occupied the time until 4 p.m., after which Lord Russell went for a short drive with Hon. A. S. Hardy, returning to the Queen's shortly before six o'clock. At 6:30 o'clock the party were entertained at dinner at the Toronto Club by the council of the Board of Trade, Hon. A. S. Hardy being the only other guest present. At 10 o'clock the party embarked on Mr. Wainwright's special train and started for Kingston.

WE ARE PROUD

Of our Spices. That's the reason our patrons find so much satisfaction in using them. Some people pass a half dozen stores where spices are sold to buy from us. They know that they can be sure of quality here. Finer spices cannot be had anywhere.

Cinnamon,	Mace,
Cloves,	Nutmegs,
Ginger,	Pepper,
Allspice,	Turmeric, (Very bright).

Just now we have a lot of specially fine pepper, white and black. You know you cannot always get that as nice as you would like. It will surprise you to notice how much better cakes and puddings taste when first quality spices are used.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhea, cholera, and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.
