Velvet Skin, Soft and Clear

What one or two applications of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT will do for rough, inflamed and irritated skin is almost as wonderful as is the complete cure of eczema by its persistent use. By its healing, soothing and antiseptic influence DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT quickly cures chafing and skin diseases and eruptions, and leaves the skin clear, soft and velvety.

When I was coming home last night, said Miss Skeery, I saw a man skulking along in the shadow. Oh, how I ran! An' couldn't you catch him? inquired her little brother innocently.

The only objection I have to the young man, my dear child, is that he has no noble ambition—no high or worthy object in life.

Oh! papa, how can you say so? He wants me.

MOISE DEROSCE.
Hotel Keeper, St. Phillippe, Que.

Many brief and telling replies are laid to the account of Douglas Jerroid. It will suffice to recall one. 'What is going on?' said a bore, stopping Jerroid on the street. 'I am,' and the speaker suited the action to the word.

Akin to this was the answer of John Wesley to the blustering swaggerer who pushed against him on the path, with the insulting remark, 'I never make way for a fool.'

'I always do,' said Wesley, quietly stepping aside, and then placidly pursuing his way.

A similar anecdote is told of Lord Kitchener, of Kartoum, who, while walking to St. James' Park, was accosted by an effusive stranger, who grasped his hand and said:

'Hello, Lord Kitchener, I bet you don't know me!'

The general gazed at him unmoved.

'You win,' he remarked, inconically, and walked on.

Flies and Cattle in Hot Weather.

There is a useful suggestion in a report received from the Kansas State Agricultural College, in which, amongst other matters, the irritation to which dairy cattle and calves are subject in hot weather is dwelt upon. On some occasions it must be perfect torture to these animals, and yet it is extraordinary how little is done to give the cattle any comfort or relief. The college in question has been experimenting and compounding various substances in order to produce the most effective and economical mixture to keep off flies. As a result of these experiments it has produced the following formula, which, it claims, answers the purpose reasonably well, namely: Resin, one to one and a half pounds; laundry soap, two cakes; fish oil, half a pound, and enough water added to the foregoing to make three gallons of mixture. The resin is dissolved in a solution of soap and water by heating, and then the fish oil and the rest of the water are added. Application is with a brush, if, however, it is desired to use the mixture as a spray, then half a pint of kerosene is added. The mixture, it is said, costs from three and a half pence to four pence per gallon, and may be used on either cows or calves. Half a pint is considered enough for one application for a cow, and of course considerably less for a calf. At first two or three applications a week are given until the outer ends of the hair become coated with resin; after which period those parts are retouched where the resin has rubbed off. It is quite certain that dairy cattle give less milk than they otherwise would do owing to the amount of torture by flies, etc., which they sometimes undergo.

Easy to Retain Health.

Most important of all is proper attention to the bowels. Avoid constipation, it's the health-killer of today. Harsh, griping medicine is ruinous—beware of it. Best results follow a truly vegetable remedy like Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut which not only relieve costiveness in one night but cures the cause of the trouble and prevents its return. No distress or inconvenience attends the use of Dr Hamilton's Pills which are world famous for their mildness and efficiency. Sold everywhere, 25c. per box.

Equal to The Occasion.

There lived some years ago in western Pennsylvania an old circuit preacher whose genial humor and kindliness of heart endeared him to all the people of his district. His opportunities to 'tie the knot' were numerous. On one occasion he found upon his arrival at a certain town several couples waiting. The old man was tired and wished to make short work of the job.

Stand up, he began, and join hands.

He then hurried through the marriage service.

There, he said, ye can go; ye're man and wife, ev'ry one of ye.

Two of the couples hesitated and made it apparent that in the hurried 'jining' they had become confused and had taken the hands of the wrong persons. The old preacher took in the situation, but with a wave of his hand dispersed them, saying in a deep voice:

I married ye all; sort yourselves.

Is Your Trouble Indigestion?

Then probably you know the evils of distention, fermentation and irritation that accompany digestive troubles. Next important is to know how promptly Nerviline cures. Quick as wink it relieves bloating and feeling of fullness, puts the entire digestive apparatus in perfect order, makes you feel fit and fine all over. For internal pain Polson's Nerviline surpasses every known remedy. Keep it in the house always, it's a source of comfort in the hour of emergency. Large bottles for 25c. at all dealers.

Strawberry Forcing.

Young strawberry plants may be started in pots for next winter's crop as soon as runners begin to start. Fill three inch pots with nice rich loam and sink them up to the rim in the ground around the parent plants. This should be done as soon as the runners begin to start. Direct the runners so that they shall strike root in the pots and keep them well watered in dry weather. In about three weeks the plants will root and may be taken up in their pots. Place them close together in a somewhat shaded location and when the pots are full of roots shift the plants into six inch pots filled with rich fibrous loam, potting firmly. Stand them in an open airy place and give all the water needed.

Had an Awful Time.

BUT CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY CURED HIM.

It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—Sam. H. Gwin, Concord, Ga. For sale at Rand's Drug Store.

Watery Blood.

Nerves are Weak
Face is Pallid
You Lack Strength
You Look Sickly.

UNTIL YOU IRONIZE AND FORTIFY THE BLOOD THERE'S NO HOPE OF CURE.

Thousands of tired workers need the invigoration, the strength, the nerve-force which Ferrozone can supply.

Ferrozone imparts strength because it nourishes.

Ferrozone is able to nourish because it supplies to the blood the element it lacks.

Once the blood is vitalized, its tonic influence is circulated to every nook and corner of the body, carrying new life with it

Cases on record prove that Ferrozone builds up when all else fails. Mr. Alonzo W. Douglas of Woodbridge, Ont., says: "I desire to state the results I derived from the use of Ferrozone. Two years ago I was stricken with Pneumonia. So severe was the attack and so reduced was my strength that my life was despaired of. I had the very best medical attention, but made no progress towards recovery. When reduced to practically a skeleton, a kind friend told me of the remarkable powers of Ferrozone. An improvement began almost at once. I gained steadily in weight and strength until Ferrozone made me a new man. I will gladly answer inquiries from other sufferers if they care to have further particulars about my recovery. 'Ferrozone deserves its great measure of success.''

When a man in Mr. Douglas' low condition can be quickly cured, aren't the chances good for you? Don't fail to try Ferrozone. Price 50c. per box at all dealers.

Napoleon's Haughty Horse—Napoleon when at St. Helena once said of his horse: 'He has memory, knowledge and judgment. He distinguishes his master from his servants, altho' these are more constantly about him. I had a horse which distinguished me from the rest of the world and which manifested by his bounding and haughty gait when I was upon his back that he carried a man superior to those around him. He would not suffer any one to mount him except myself and the groom that took care of him. When I had lost my way, I threw the bridle upon his neck and let him pick his way, with the inevitable result of finding the right road.'

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The 'Night Cure', as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore congested or inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, ease nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Make Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or liquid—your general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

A Phase.

Sotted with drink and dirt; swearing, stumbling,
Staggering on the way; she took him home.
She heeded not the thoughtless urchin's taunts
Nor the derisive glance of stronger men.
Debauched, shameless, sunk lower than the brutes;
Foul mouth, foul breath, blear eyes, filth, rags, and all—
He was her own, the inmate of her heart,
Exhausted with his weight, she dragged him in
Where pale-faced, hungry children shrank away;
Bound up his wounds, received in bar-room brawls,
And gave him of her cupboard's meagre store.
Dog-like she bore his brutal kicks and blows,
She strove and pleaded, suffered like a saint;
And when his ravings stopped in stupid sleep,
She, with her children huddled to her skirts,
Crouched silent in a corner and kept watch.

James Ravenscroft, in the 'New Voice.'

Prohibition Helps People.

Lady Henry Somerset states the fact that in one district in Liverpool, in which there are no saloons, there is but one pauper in every thousand inhabitants.

It is likely that investigation would disclose similar conditions in the wards and precincts of all cities.

The Kansas 'City Journal' says that prohibition has materially decreased the number of saloons in that state; that a large proportion of offenders against the law have been convicted, and that the principle of prohibition is growing stronger.'

'There is not a pauper in Finney county, Kansas. Logan county spent only ten dollars in a month for the poor.'

'Ohio has three dollars per head in banks; Maine has sixty-two dollars per head.'

'Kansas, with prohibition and 100,000 more population than Texas has but one penitentiary and 996 prisoners. Texas, with saloons and 100,000 less people than Kansas, has two penitentiaries and 3,000 convicts.'

'Judge Benson, of Kansas, has but two liquor cases before him in a month.'

'Ottawa, Kansas, with 8,000 people, has but one marshall, and one night watchman. Pullman, Illinois, a prohibition town of 11,000 people, has but two constables.'

'In the interior of the state of Kansas, in all the rural parts, and a few of the larger cities and towns, the prohibitory law is effective in absolutely suppressing the open sale of liquor, and in reducing surreptitious sales to a minimum. In interior cities, such as Ottawa, Marion, Hutchinson, Topeka, etc., the prohibitory law is, according to the testimony of its friends, and the admission of its enemies, as thoroughly enforced and as well observed as any other law of the state.'

'The city of Topeka has a population or 40,000, and is the state capital as well as an important railway point. But Topeka has no saloons. It has no bar-room. It has no public nor private recognized facilities for carrying on the liquor traffic.'—Michigan 'Christian Advocate.'

Why He Signed the Pledge.

'My reasons for taking the temperance pledge were partly general and partly special,' says Dean Farrar.

1. 'I became convinced that the use of alcohol in any form was not a necessity. I saw that whole nations have lived and flourished without it. I believe that the whole race of man existed for centuries previous to its discovery.

2. 'I was struck by the indisputable fact that in England 50,000 inhabitants of our prisons, accustomed to strong drink all their lives, and the majority of them brought into prison directly or indirectly by it, could be, and were, from the moment of their imprisonment, absolutely deprived of it, not only without loss but with entire gain to their personal health.

3. 'I derived from the recorded testimony of our most eminent physicians that the use of alcohol is a subtle and manifold source of disease even to thousands who use it in quantities conveniently deemed moderate, also that all the young men, and the healthy and all who eat well and sleep well do not require it, and are better without it.

4. 'Then the carefully drawn statistics of many insurance companies convinced me that total abstinence, so far from shortening life, distinctly and indisputably conduced to longevity.

5. Then I accumulated proof that drink is so far from being requisite to physical strength and intellectual force that many of our greatest athletes, from the days of Sayers onward, whose drink was only the crystal brook, have achieved without alcohol mightier feats than have been achieved with it.

6. 'And besides all this, I know that the life of man always gains by abolishing needless expenses and voiding artificial wants. Benjamin Franklin said a hundred years ago, 'Temperance puts wood on the fire, meat in the barrel, flour in the tub, money in the purse, credit in the country, clothes on the bairns, intelligence in the brain and spirit in the constitution.' '—'Happy Home.'

To Maintain Good Health

Mr. John L. Hickey, now caretaker of the public and high schools, Trenton, Ont., states:—"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and have found them the greatest medicine I ever tried. I used them when in the lumber camps and believe by keeping the kidneys and bowels regular and the general health good that they protect a person from catching contagious diseases, which are so common in the camp. I have seen hundreds of men using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the lumber camps. They buy them by the dozen when going in, and to show how much faith they have in them they buy them when they could get their medicine for nothing by going to the hospital camp. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills keep my liver, kidneys and bowels regular and my health good. I would not think of being without them." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills positively cure biliousness, constipation and diseases of the kidneys. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
