Grand Champion Steer

of the Toronto Fat Stock Show has arrived, and is on exhibition, alive, in our store. Come and see him. Look him over. Just imagine a steer in our midst which by auction sold for and which took the premier honors of Canada among 6,000 prize cattle. Judged by the most expert men in the business as being the most perfect bullock ever shown, and judged by Mr. Ingwerson of Chicago, head buyer for Swift & Co., as being the finest animal he ever awarded the grand championship to. He is only 14 months old, weighs 1,120 pounds, and put on over 100 pounds a month. A triple opportunity for you. Come and see him alive. Come next week and see him dressed. Put your order in and have a roast for Christmas or New Year's dinner. A list of purchasers will be published in this paper.

Our Christmas Show Is All Up and in readiness for Saturday. The finest array of the choicest prize beef, pork, lamb, veal and poultry ever assembled from the best farms in Ontario. Each year we try to outdo the other in shows, and this year we have surpassed all previous attempts. Our decorations carry a real Christmas spirit and message, being a combination of evergreens and colored effects, carried out in the finest of display form. Come and have a look. Our giant refrigerator will be thrown open for your inspection, as will also our whole store. We will also be cutting our Christmas meats this Saturday, and is a fine opportunity for you to get a fine roast of beef, especially when poultry is so high.

Pork Guessing Contest

Come and have a guess on the weight of our large hog. Guess his weight and win a 15-pound turkey absolutely free of charge. No strings attached to this contest. Merely make a purchase and go ahead and guess. As this contest is an annual event with us, there is bound to be a large crowd around, and we advise you to get around early to get a real good view. The contest will close Christmas Eve, 10 p.m. Butchers and meat cutters barred from contest.

We might say right here that we have spared no expense to make this Christmas the banner year, and think you will appreciate our task if you will come and give us the once-over.

JESS WILLARD IS ANXIOUS TO REGAIN CHAMPION'S TITLE

Making Preparations for Bout With Dempsey.

Kansas City, Dec. 17.—Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, expects to train intensively three months in preparation for his bout to regain the title from Jack Dempsey in New York on March 27, according to a statement made here by Ray Archer, his manager.

Archer came to Kansas City from Lawrence, Kas., the home of the former champion, to confer with Hugh Walker, a heavyweight, concerning the employment of Walker as one of Willard's sparring partners. Walker will meet Capt. Bob Roper, heavyweight, in a bout here December 30. According to Archer, Willard has already begun to train, although his work is somewhat handicapped because his home is quarantined on account of illness in his family. Archer said Willard expects to have several sparring partners, and that he would make every effort to obtain well-known fighters. Discussing the coming bout with Dempsey, Archer said: "Willard is not thinking about money. He wants to prove to the public that he was not himself at Toledo."

FAVORS MACHINERY OVERSEAS TO SIFT IMMIGRATION WAVE

U. S. Secretary of Labor Wilson Would Set Up Legal Machinery.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Establishment of machinery overseas in co-operation with foreign governments through which aliens, before breaking up their homes, may determine whether they will be admitted to the United States, and legislative consideration of the proposals of the second industrial conference are outstanding recommendations in the annual report of Secretary Wilson made public today.

The labor secretary devotes much of his report to discussion of immigration and the expulsion of alien revolutionaries. We assert that he alone has authority to order the arrest and expulsion of aliens although the bureau of immigration has assumed to itself power not only to make recommendations, but also to make findings.

The report shows that 633,371 aliens arrived in this country during the last fiscal year as compared with 237,021 the year before. Of the total arrivals, 11,795 were excluded at the ports where they sought to enter. Of those arriving 430,001 are classed as immigrant aliens. Departures of aliens totalled 428,062, including 288,315 emigrant aliens and 139,747 non-emigrant aliens, making the net increase in the immigrant population for the year 193,514.

Japanese admitted numbered 16,174, as compared with 14,904 the year before. The total number of Japanese departing is placed at 15,653, making, the report says, the indicated increase in Japanese population 521. Of those admitted 9,193 were males and 6,981 females.

Ordered Deported.

Besides the immigrants turned back at the ports of arrival, 2,762 were ordered deported during the year on departmental warrants as compared with 3,068 the year before. Of those deported on warrants, 469 were classed as anarchists and criminals.

Warrants for 6,000 immigrants alleged to be revolutionaries were issued during the year Mr. Wilson says, but a very large proportion of them were cancelled, "because the charges upon which they had been issued were not sustained by lawful proof at the hearing." In addition to the 314 anarchists deported, 591 others are awaiting deportation, according to the report.

Mr. Wilson says that during the year 519,003 aliens took the initial or final steps toward citizenship. While this is less than the record total of the year before, Mr. Wilson says the decrease is confined to aliens in military service and results from the demobilization of the army. First papers were filed by 300,106 aliens, while petitions for final naturalization were filed by 166,925 aliens in civil life and 51,972 soldiers.

Turning to the industrial situation, Mr. Wilson urges legislative action to carry out the recommendations of the second industrial conference proposing joint organizations of management and employees for prevention of industrial disputes and a comprehensive plan for adjusting such disputes when they occur. Attention is called that during the year the labor department's division of conciliation was called upon to utilize its good offices in more than 4,100 industrial disputes" directly involving more than 3,125 000 workers and indirectly involving more than 3,500,000."

Collective Bargaining.

"The department," says Mr. Wilson, "stands for collective bargaining. It recognizes collective bargains as in the nature of 'gentlemen's agreements' in contradistinction to legal and forcible contracts. Collective bargains cannot be regarded in the same category as ordinary contracts, because there is no mutuality. The employer does not agree and cannot agree to give steady employment to all the wage earners concerned nor to any specified number. Consequently the workers included in such a bargain could have no legal claim except that they were actually employed by the other party to the bargain and at his discretion. There would be no fairness in making such contracts enforcible at law. To permit collective bargainings to be legally enforcible would be to discourage the making of them. To leave their fulfillment to the good sense and good faith of each side would encourage their making and thereby promote industrial peace."

Mr. Wilson says that as a result of the failure of Congress to enact legislation defining the status of the United States Employment Service the service exists more as a function than as a bureau of the department and he urges legislation permanently establishing this service and enabling it to co-operate with state employment bureaus.

The labor secretary renews his recommendation for legislation to improve the work of labor distribution by making public lands and community credits more accessible. He also again urges Congress to provide governmental means for the adequate training of workers in industry and to provide for federal control of the interstate transportation of private police, troops and guards for industrial purposes.

Other recommendations include:

National Protection.

Maximum national protection for children of underpaid wage earners whose necessities drive them to put their offsprings prematurely into industry.

Further promotion of appropriate American education of applicants for citizenship, and of citizens also, and prohibition as to national elections of voting by aliens.

That the secretary be given authority in immigration cases to exercise discretion as to individual hardships.

Statutory provisions for references to the court for judicial hearings and judgments in all cases at law of domiciled aliens whose rights of continued residence are at issue, either on questions of fact or questions of law.

Immediate legislation providing higher pay for employees of the department.

Statutory perpetuation in the department of labor of the division of negro economics.

Provision for permanently utilizing the records and plans accumulated by the United States housing corporation in the conduct of its work.
