Thanksgiving in Massachusetts.—The Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council, has appointed Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November next, to be observed as a day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise throughout this Commonwealth.

DROWNED.—A young man, named George Kirkpatrick, son of Mr. B. Kirkpatrick, of the Parish of Simonds, was drowned on the 28th ult., at Ten Mile Creek, by falling from a raft. He was in the 20th year of his age.

ACCIDENT.—Last week Mr. David Logan, painter, Parish of Portland, was unfortunately killed by being jammed between two vessels at York Point slip.

The "Monster Bell" for the French Cathedral, recast by the Messrs. Meare, of London, and brought out to this country by the Ottawa a few days ago, was taken up from the wharf to a shed prepared for it near the Cathedral yesterday afternoon at about half-past four o'clock. This enormous bell, which, we understand, weighs fourteen tons, was dragged to its destination by, we should think, about five hundred men, who manned four hawsers, and a large crowd who cheered lustily accompanied it on its way.—Montreal Courier.

The Quebec Mercury of the 28th gives a long and very flattering account of the prospects of the Quebec and Lake Superior Mining Company, in the form of a "Report of the Directors," read at a General Meeting of the Shareholders on the 27th instant, at Quebec. The company owns fourteen locations, of ten square miles each, containing, together, 89,600 English acres. The company has engaged a Mr. Matthews, a gentleman of considerable mining experience, who has been formerly employed in superintending mines in Cuba, Venezuela and Spain. To Mr. Matthews the whole superintendence of the works is entrusted, and he expresses the most flattering opinion of the richness and value of the ores already raised at Points-aux-Mines, which are a grey sulphuret, yielding from 50 to 60 per cent. of copper. The price of copper of this quality at Swansea, is about £90 per ton. It is not intended to send to England any ore that yields less than from 30 to 35 per cent. The rest of the ore will be formed into blocks of "black metal," similar to the ore from Chili, exported to Boston and New York. The principal difficulty under which these enterprising Companies appear to labour, is the difficulty of transporting the ores after they are raised, inasmuch as they have to be carried for some distance by land, always a tedious and costly operation.

TERRIBLE MORTALITY.—The number of immigrants to Canada who have died in three months on ship board, or after they were landed, is seven thousand one hundred and forty.

IMPORTANT FROM MEXICO.

The steamer James L. Day has arrived at New Orleans with later advices from the seat of war. An extra New Orleans Picayune of the 26th ult. received by the express and telegraph at the New York Sun office, gives the following details.

The Mexican commissioners having declared that the propositions of Mr. Trist were inadmissible, hostilities recommenced, and the city of Mexico was taken on the 10th of Sept. after severe and desperate fighting on both sides.

The Mexican Gen. Bravo was killed. Santa Anna was wounded, and he had retired with the remnant of his army to Guadalupe.

General Scott's loss is stated at 1700 and that of the Mexicans at 2500. An attempt had been made to assassinate the General, which failed.

In consequence of Mr. Trist's propositions being declared inadmissible, General Santa Anna immediately convoked a council of his Generals, who decided that notice should be given to Gen. Scott that the armistice was at an end, and appointed the 9th ult. for the recommencement of hostilities.

On the 6th Sept. Gen. Scott addressed a letter to Santa Anna from Tacubaya, accusing him of having violated several articles of the armistice.

One of these violations was in not permitting the American army to obtain supplies from the city of Mexico.

Gen. Scott demanded an explanation, and full reparation, and concluded as follows:

'If these are not given, I hereby formally notify you, that if I do not receive the most complete satisfaction, on all these points, before 12 o'clock tomorrow, I shall consider the armistice as terminated from that hour.'

To this letter Santa Anna replied at a considerable length, and with great severity.

He accused Gen. Scott with having himself violated the terms of the armistice in refusing to allow flour from the mills in the vicinity to be brought into the city.—He says that the American wagons were driven out of the city on account of the objectionable conduct of the officers accompanying them.

Santa Anna also charges General Scott with having sacked the Mexican towns in the vicinity of the capital, and robbed and desecrated the churches—stealing and destroying articles held sacred by every Mexican.

Santa Anna concluded the letter as follows:

'I flatter myself that your Excellency will be convinced on reflection, of the weight of my reasons but, if by misfortune, you should seek only a pretext to deprive the first city of the American Continent of an opportunity to free the unarmed population of the horrors of war there will be left to me no other means of salvation but to repel force by force, with a decision and energy, which my high obligations impose upon me.'

On the 7th ult. Gen. Herrera, as commandant of the city of Mexico, addressed the Clergy, exhorting them to exert all their influence to incite the people to arm themselves, and prepare to resist the American Army.—On the 8th ult. Gen. Scott attacked the Mill del Rey or King's Mill, in the immediate vicinity of Chapultepec, and according to the Diario del Gobierno and the Boletin, published at Atlisco, our (American) army was repulsed, after a short conflict, in which we (Americans) lost about 400 killed and from 600 to 700 wounded.

Our (American) forces then fell back upon Tacubaya.

The accounts of this affair given by the 'Boletin' represents this battle to have been a most bloody one, and most severely contested:—This, however, is a Mexican account of the affair, and it concludes as follows:—At eleven o'clock the enemy commenced a retrograde movement, and by two o'clock P. M., he withdrew all his forces to Tacubaya, and abandoned the two points he had occupied, blowing up the house of Matalubo.' (Telegraphic spelling.)

Some say it was set on fire by a bomb from Chapultepec. It is believed that General Twiggs and Pierce directed the attack, and that they put in motion about eight thousand men.'

'It is certain that the fire was more intense and brisk than at Cherubusco. It is impossible to ascertain the loss of either side correctly.

'Our (Mexican) loss does not amount to 1000 killed, and 250 wounded. There are but few missing—nearly all not killed or wounded retired to Chapultepec.'

'The enemy (according to the confession of an Irishman who came over to us in the evening) carried off 400 dead, and 600 or 700 wounded.' (!)

'We lament the loss of Gen. Leon, wounded (since dead), Colonel Ballesta, of the valiant Col. Huerta, Galvate, and of the determined Captain Matters of Puebla.'

A Mexican letter announces that the American deserter, Riley, and his Legion of St. Patrick, severely in number, were escorted by the American Court Martial to be hung, that the sentence was approved by General Scott, and that, on the 8th of Sept. the whole Legion were hung in the presence of the American Army—its also in the presence of the Enemy!

The Diario Del Gobierno says that at half past 6 o'clock this morning, the Americans attacked the position of Molino del Rey, close to the Fortress of Chapultepec.

'The numerous and brave column was however repulsed by our valiant soldiers, who, this day, gave brilliant proofs of their patriotism and bravery.'

More than a thousand of the enemy remained on the field of battle; and on our (Mexican) side, the loss has been less than that number.'

The traitor Santa Anna, commanded in person the column which forced the Americans to retreat, taking with them, without doubt, the conviction from this battle with its rivers of blood, that they cannot penetrate the city, and that at all events they will there find their sepulcre!

A letter addressed to Mr. Dimond, Collector at Vera Cruz, from Orizaba is as follows:

ORIZABA, Sept. 19.

Dear Sir:—I have the honor to inform you that an Express arrived here from Mexico, this evening, which brings intelligence that General Scott was to the city of Mexico, and that on 13th of Sept. the American troops took possession of Chepultipec, and the citadel, and went into the city that night.

General Bravo was killed; General Santa Anna was wounded in the arm, and has retired with the remainder of the troops, (which have suffered much) to Guadaloupe.

Your friend, &c.

The Sun of Anahuac has it that on the 16th of September, the Heights and Fortress of Chapultipec were carried on the 14th and 15th ult.

The city was bombarded, and part of our (American) army entered it on the morning of the 16th, the balance remaining at Chapultipec.

There are a great many contradictory reports relative to General Scott's position, but the opinion is that he and his army are safe.

The Mexican loss in killed and wounded. was 2500.

Up to the 16th ult., it is also stated that our troops held one half of the city of Mexico and the Mexicans the other half.—The battle was still going on.

☞ The Mail for England, to meet the sailing of the steamer Hibernia from Halifax, will be closed at the General Post Office, on Wenesday, the 13th inst., at 3 o'clock, P. M.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, in all the diseases for which it is recommended, curing many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large and increasing demand for it. This fact has caused many unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures, of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam. Some are called "Syrup of Wild Cherry," "Balsam of Spikenard," "Wild Cherry Cordrey," &c. Another, "Wester's Balsam of Wild Cherry," mispelling the name, and certificates to resemble those of true Balsam. "Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry," is the only genuine. The rest merely imitate the name of the original, while they possess none of its virtues.

LOOK WELL TO THE MARKS OF THE GENUINE.

The genuine Balsam is put up in bottles, with the words "Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, Philad" blown in the glass; each bottle bearing a label on the front, with the signature of

I. BUTTS, M. D.

This will be enveloped in a letter with a new wrapper: copyright secured, 1844; on which will always appear the written signature of I. BUTTS.
