THE DEATH OF LEWIS CARVELL took place at Dalhousie on Tuesday of last week. He was formerly years manager of the government railway between St. John and Point du Chene, before the "Eastern Extension" was opened, giving Halifax railway communication with St. John. When that was accomplished in 1872 he was made general superintendent of the Intercolonial system. Owing to ill health he retired more than twenty years since.

A PILOT'S DEATH :—Mr. John McEachran, pilot, son of Angus McEachran, who is the oldest pilot of the port of Miramichi, died on Sunday last, of consumption. He leaves a widow and four sons. The funeral, which took place on Tuesday afternoon from his late residence, Water Street, Chatham, was largely attended. The pall bearers were Pilot Master Robert Walls and Messrs. Oliver Foster, Angus McLean, James McCallum, Maxime Martin, Reuben Nowlin—all pilots. Deceased was one of the best pilots of the port. He was in his 48th year.

A LOBSTER DESTROYER:—We are informed that the Wheeler trap is coming into use quite extensively in the lobster fisheries of this province. We do not think that the government should permit it to be used at all, as it is most destructive on the fish. No fish, no matter how small, can escape from it, while they enter it with the utmost facility. Hence it can easily be seen what a disastrous effect it is likely to have on the fishery, if extensively used. The Minister of Marine and Fisheries should make inquiries into the matter, with a view to prohibiting the use of the Wheeler traps.—Summerside Journal.

AN ATTRACTION to buyers of family groceries, provisions, dry goods and general household supplies is offered by Mr. Roger Flanagan at his well known store on St. John Street, Chatham, in the form of silver knives and forks, silver spoons, silver cruet stands and boxes of tea. Mr. Frank W. Harrison, the new organist of St. Luke's Methodist Church, arrived yesterday. He is a graduate of Mount Allison Conservatory of Music, and will take a limited number of piano and organ pupils.

OBITUARY:—Mr. John Haviland, one of Chatham's best known citizens, died at his residence at an early hour on Friday morning 16th instant. On the Friday before, he was about in fairly good health, but was stricken with paralysis of the right half of the body on that day, which deprived him of the power of taking food, and also of speech. He lay in this condition, gradually growing weaker, until the time of his death, as above stated.

Deceased leaves a widow and seven children.—Miss Mattie, the eldest, now en route for England; Mrs. Loggie, widow of the late A. J. Loggie; Mrs. P. H. C. Benson; Miss Ida, teacher, of Chatham; Frank, who lives in New York; and Archibald and Douglas of Chatham.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, and was very largely attended. The service at the house was conducted by Rev. Geo. Steele, pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. Geo. Harrison. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Wm. Wilson, Jas. Pigroe, Patk. Connors, Wm Kerr, John Fotheringham and James Anderson.

Streets Damaged.

There were great local freshets on Monday owing to the warm temperature and sunshine. Water street, just below Coulson's Slip, was impassible for pedestrains owing to a torrent which flowed across it, and there were running brooks in scores of places all over the town, especially in the east and west ends. A great deal of damage was done to road-beds and much of it might have been avoided had the care of the streets been in competent hands and a few men put on to turn the water aside in many places where it could have been easily done.

Sargeant-Troy.

Mr. Charles Sargeant of Chatham Head, and Miss Troy, eldest daughter of Mr. James Troy of Newcastle, were married at the residence of the bride's parents on Tuesday evening by Rev. John A. Clark, pastor of Newcastle Methodist Church, in the presence of quite a large number of wedding guests, relatives of the contracting parties. The bride and groom are each decided social favorites, and the bridal presents were, therefore, both numerous and valuable, including also costly gifts from the Methodist Church, in which the bride had been organist for some years, and Newcastle Field Battery, in which the groom is a lieutenant.

After the ceremony, which took place at 8 p.m. a supper was served, after which the time, until the train left, was spent in inspecting the bridal gifts and making ready for the bridal trip. While the festivities were in progress indoors the friends of the young couple were testifying their good will in various ways outside. Newcastle Field Battery fired a salute at the close of the ceremony, and another when the bride and groom left the house to take the express train for the upper provinces, of which they will make a tour. Meantime, a large bonfire, composed of several scores of oil casks and other inflammable material blazed on the hill near the railway and cheers for lieutenant Sargeant and his bride were frequent. Mr. and Mrs. Sargeant begin their married life under the most favorable auspices, and a host of friends all over the country wish them every happiness.

A Fatal Fall.

A very sad accident occurred in St. John early on Sunday morning which cast a gloom over the Easter services at the Cathedral. About 6.30 the dead body of Rev. D. Corbett was found on the ground beneath the window of his room in the Bishop's palace. He had fallen from the window, a distance of thirty feet, some time during the night and apparently struck on his head, as his neck was broken. Deceased was troubled with heart disease and it is thought that feeling unwell he had raised the window, which is only a foot or so from the floor, to get some fresh air and that taking a bad spell, he fell out. The reverend gentlemen was about thirty years of age and beloved by all who knew him. He was for a time connected with the Lower Cove church and later with St. Dunstan's church, Fredericton. He was a graduate of St. Joseph's College, Memramcook.

A Hardwicke President's Yarn.

Mr. A. G. Williston, who signs his name and full title as "President of the Hardwicke Parish Liberal Association," writes as follows to the World:—

"About this season's oyster fishing I think, in fact I know, that those who were interested did not move in the matter in time. I told a buyer that he ought to, and he said he had sent to the editor of the Advance for a petition, but I do not think it was circulated until April; in fact, I do not know anything about it, as I never saw it, but heard it went."

We beg to assure Mr. Williston, "President," etc. that somebody has been "pulling his leg," a pastime his neighbors usually indulge in when they are not busy. The editor of the ADVANCE received no request for an oyster petition this season. He did last season, and he responded to it. He did more than that. While the petition was being circulated he had the matter so represented to the Minister, through Mr. Robinson M. P., that the privilege of oyster fishing through the ice was granted before the pet tion reached Ottawa. If there had been fewer "presidents" and more workers advising in such matters, this spring, it would be better for the fishermen.

Death of a Former Bay du Vin Clergyman.

One of the saddest fatilities that has taken place in Westmorland County for a long time is the death of Theophilus L. Williams, Methodist minister at Point du Bute who lost his life while on a shooting expedition with a companion named Carter, of Sackville who it is believed has shared the same fate. Beyond the fact that they had left Westmorland Point on Wednesday of last week to shoot wild fowl in the bay and had not returned, and that Mr. Williams' dead body was found in a boat that had drifted ashore at Wood Point, some miles distant, Thursday forenoon, very little is known, and unless Mr. Carter turns up, the affair will probably always be shrouded in mystery. The most probable theory from the facts that have come to light is that they remained off shore until after dark and became lost, or were unable to land owing to rough water, and perished during the night. Another theory is that an accident happened by which Mr. Carter was thrown into the water and that Mr. Williams, who may have lacked experience with a boat, was unable to make the shore. Mr. Carter had accepted a position to which he was appointed on the Moncton police force and was to have reported for duty on May 1st. At the inquest a verdict of death from exhaustion was returned.

Mr. Williams was trained for the Methodist ministry in London and did service in that city as a local and street preacher until 1875. He left London in the fall of that year in company with Rev. W. J. Kirby, Rev. Wm. Wass and Rev. J. Goldsmith, Mr. Goldsmith going to P. E. I., and Messrs. Kirby and Wass to Fredericton, while Mr. Williams came to Chatham and after staying here, as the guest of Mr. Snowball for a few days, proceeded to Bay du Vin, where he labored as the resident Methodist minister of Hardwick for some time. His many friends on the Miramichi will hear of his untimely and mysterious death with great regret.

The Moncton Times of Monday last says:

After some indecision Rev. Mr. Williams' funeral service was appointed for Sunday afternoon. It was conducted by Rev. Dr. Stewart, but all the Methodist clergymen from Sackville were in attendance. The body will be taken to-day to Annapolis for interment, where near relatives of the deceased reside. A nephew, F. W. W. Pickup, of Annapolis, arrived at Point du Bute on Saturday.

Parties are still searching constantly for Mr. Carter's body, but it has not yet been found. Some persons familiar with the opposite shore believe that Carter went down in quicksands, but the general supposition is that he was drowned. Great sympathy is felt for Mrs. Carter, who was formerly Miss Goodwin, of Bay Verte.

A Great Kitchen Range.

There is a hustle in the County on the part of housekeepers to secure the Home Comfort Cooking Range, which is being introduced by Manager W. M. Brashear and his staff of salesmen and helpers. If we are to judge by the appearance of the range and the statements of those who have used it for years, it is what is needed in the kitchen of every household where they properly value the important work of preparing food for the table. Read the announcement and testimonials on the first page of the ADVANCE, and if you want to have good cooking and live long to enjoy it, buy a Home Comfort range.

This range is in its entirety made of the most durable materials. Unlike other ranges it sits close to the wall. The top is malleable iron No. 36 and is so constructed that when the range gets hot it can expand instead of warp and consequently this feature is a preventive against breakage. A test of the strength and durability of this range is manifested by the fact that a two hundred pound man can jump on it with all his force and not damage it in the least. No matter how hot, water thrown on it has no effect whatever. The top is fastened by stirrups and the oven is surprisingly strong.

The oven, vessels, pots and kettles are of solid steel. The oven is jointless, it has laps and at the back where there are no ashes, these laps prevent the leaking of ashes, and the oven is made of Bessamer steel. The range is lined on the side and ends with asbestos, a non-conductor of heat and reflects the heat against the oven. It has adjustable grates, one for wood, the other for coal, a grey iron fire back with a cold air passage behind to keep from burning out. In order to heat the house all that is necessary is to open the warm air compartment which radiates the heat over the room, while closing hot air compartment confines the heat in the range instead of the house. The door forms a shelf made of malleable and wrought iron and is very strong. The reservoir is of copper lined with block tin heated by a hollow back which captured first prize at the World's fair. This range which is essential to pleasant, profitable and convenient house keeping, has been exhibited at all the principal exhibitions not only in Canada but throughout the United States and has always received most commendatory criticism and invariably captured first prize. The range is easily cleaned and needs no polishing. The reservoir boils 15 gallons of water with the same fuel that cooks your meals.

Don't Worry About the Editor—He'll get on.

It takes money to run a newspaper.—Saint John (Kan.) News.

What an exaggeration; what a whopper. It has been disproved a thousand times; it is a clear case of airy fancy. It doesn't take money to run a newspaper. It can run without money. It is not a business venture. It is a charitable institution, a begging concern, a highway robber. A newspaper is the child of the air, a creature of a dream. It can go on and on, and any other concern would be in the hands of a receiver and wound up with cobwebs in the windows.

It takes wind to run a newspaper; it takes gall to run a newspaper. It takes a scintillating, acrobatic imagination and a half dozen white shirts and a railroad pass to run a newspaper. But money—heavens to Betsy and six hands round, who ever needed money in conducting a newspaper! Kind words are the medium of exchange that do the business for the editor—kind words and church social tickets. When you see an editor with money, watch him. He'll be paying his bills and disgracing his profession. Never give money to an editor. Make him trade it out. He likes to swap.

Then when you die, after having stood around for years and sneered at the editor and his little jim-crow paper, be sure and have your wife send in for three extra copies by one of your weeping children, and when she reads the generous and touching notice about you, forewarn her to neglect to send 15 cents to the editor. It would overwhelm him. Money is a corrupting thing. The editor knows it, and what he wants is your heartfelt thanks. Then he can thank the printers and they can thank their grocers.

Take your job work to the job office, and then come and ask for half rates for the church notices. Get your lodge letter heads and stationery printed out of town, and then flood the editor with beautiful thoughts in resolutions of respect and cards of thanks. They make such spicy reading, and when you pick it up filled with these glowing and vivid mortuary articles, you are so proud of your little local paper.

But money—scorn the filthy thing. Don't let the pure, innocent editor know anything about it. Keep that for sordid tradespeople who charge for their wares. The editor gives his bounty away. The Lord loves a cheerful giver. He'll take care of the editor. Don't worry about the editor. He has a charter from the state to act as doormat for the company. He will get the paper out somehow; and stand up for the town and whoop it up for you when you run for office, and lie about your pigeontoed daughter's tacky wedding, and blow about your big-footed sons when they get a four-dollar-a-week job, and weep over your shriveled soul when it is released from your grasping body, and smile at your giddy wife's second marriage. Don't worry about the editor—he'll get on. The Lord knows how—but somehow.—[Emporia Gazette.

Was Slowly Dying.

THE RESULT OF AN ATTACK OF LA GRIPPE AND PNEUMONIA.

THE STRANGE CASE OF MR. JAMES OWEN, OF JOHNVILLE—DOCTORS TOLD HIM HIS LUNGS WERE AFFECTED AND HE COULD NOT RECOVER—NOW IN GOOD HEALTH.

From the Sherbrooke Gazette.

When a man faces what medical authorities tell him is certain death, and regains health and strength, he is naturally grateful to the medicine that has restored him. Such a man is Mr. James Owen, one of the best known farmers in the vicinity of Johnville, Que. Mr. Owen tells his story of shattered health and renewed strength as follows:—"On the 17th of December, 1894, I was attacked with la grippe. A week later the trouble developed into pneumonia in its worse form, and I did not leave my bed until the first of March, 1895, and then I was so weak that I was unable to walk alone. All winter my life hung in the balance. Summer came, and I was still weak and feeble, though with the warm weather I gained a little strength. I had however, but very little power in my legs, and I could not ride a mile in a buggy owing to the pain they caused me. My lungs also troubled me and I raised a great deal of matter. I then consulted the best doctor we have in this section of province. He told me candidly that I was past medical help. He said that my left lung was in a state of collapse, and that my right lung was also affected. This was in July 1895. For the next three months, every day seemed to draw me nearer and nearer the end. I was so pressed for breath at times that I could not walk any distance without stopping to regain it. In the month of November I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It was certainly a forlorn hope and I admit I did not expect much benefit from them, but took them rather to please a friend who urged me to do so. I believe I was surprised when I found they were helping me, for I thought I was beyond the aid of medicine, but help me they did, and I gladly continued their use. The result is they have made a well man of me. I have not a pain about me, my breath comes as freely as it ever did, and I am strong and vigorous. My case can be briefly summed up in a few words. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have given me a new lease of life and I am glad to let everybody know it.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines have failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

The Problems of the Apples.

(Troy Press.)

Some of the newspaper mathematicians of the country are trying to solve the ancient problem: "How many apples did Adam and Eve eat?" Here is the solution, or a synopsis of several solutions, offered by some of the figures:

How many apples did Adam and Eve eat?

Some say Eve 8 and Adam 2—total of 10 only.

Now we figure the thing out far differently. Eve 8 and Adam 8 also—total, 16.

We think the above figures are entirely wrong. If Eve 8 and Adam 82, certainly the total will be 90.

Scientific men, however, on the strength of the theory that the antediluvians were a race of giants, reason something like this—Eve 81 and Adam 82—total, 163.

Wrong again. What could be clearer than if Eve 81 and Adam 812, the total was 893?

I believe the following to be the true solution: Eve 814 Adam and Eve 8124 Eve—8938.

Still another calculation is as follows; if Eve 814 Adam, Adam 81242 oblige Eve—total 82,056.

All these calculations are away off. Eve certainly 814240fy herself against hunger. If, as reasonably may be supposed, Adam 812410-der regard for his own physical welfare, they both must have eaten a total of 1,626,650. Next!

THE KIND THAT CURES.

The Great Spring Health Renewer.

Paine's Celery Compound for Men, Women and Children.

Read the following testimony that comes from Miss Blake, of 303 Hughson Street, Hamilton:

"For years I suffered greatly, and was under the care of doctors who finally told me I was going into consumption. I was becoming worse through the use of medicines, and I gave up my doctors. While in a very critical condition, not able to sleep or rest, always faint and weak, appetite and digestion bad, and my system run-down and little life left in me, I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound. After taking one bottle I felt much relieved. I have used in all seven or eight bottles, and am now a new woman, can enjoy life, and am as well as I wish to be. Many thanks for your great medicine."

An Easter Lyl.

O, Thou, dear Lord, my sins forgive
(Humph, there come dowdy Ditts)
And make me humble while I live—
(How ill her clothing fits!)
O, take from me all wordly pride—
(A dark brown trimmed with blue!)
And keep me ever by Thy side—
(Her last year's bonnet, too!)

Make me to put my trust in Thee—
(The Ban Dervelts! Such taste!)
Protect me from all vanity—
(Nice pattern for a waist!)
O, bless me with Thy biding love—
(Spring hat and winter sprig!)
And when I die take me above—
(I know her hair's a wig!)

O, teach me not to envious be—
(I wished I owned that silk!)
But keep me meek's my lowly plea—
(She looks like sour skim milk!)
Teach me forgiveness day by day—
(O, how I hate that thing!)
And send me in the hallowed way—
(My knees begin to sting!)

Please cleanse my heart of wrong desire—
(I wonder if he'll flirt!)
With love for Thee my soul inspire—
(I'll keep one eye alert!)
And hold me in the narrow path—
(I think I caught his eye!)
That I may 'scape from chastening wrath—
(Could he have heard me sigh?)

And when temptation nearest me—
(I thought he looked again!)
Blind Thou my eyes that I mayn't see—
(O, dear. Those horrid men!)
O'erlook my faults and make me shine—
(He's smiling surely then!)
A power on earth, the credit Thine—
(So brazen, too!) Amen.

Comfortable! Stylish!
Dry! Latest
Ah! Out!

Yes, I Feel Comfortable.

My feet are dry—and how neatly they are fitted! I have therefore, a right to express my satisfaction over a discovery, which is that

Messrs. M. & J. HICKEY

know more about the Boot & Shoe business than any other dealers in Chatham. That accounts for the fact that they have a stock from which they can with just what you want.

Fit You Out

THE RANGE OF THEIR STOCK IS

Well Illustrated

BY AN Actual Occurrence.

JUST AFTER

A Prospective Bride

had made her purchase last Saturday, which included different styles of fine laced and self-closing boots and slippers, as well as a pair of fairy shoes for her little sister,

An Angler

of repute came in and asked for strong wading-boots.

A Barnaby-River

Lumberman

who had just bought a few pairs of driving boots, thought he could help the sportsman out by suggesting a purchase similar to that he had made, but one of the firm threw a new kind of

River Foot-Gear

down in front of the new customer, who, after purchasing a pair of strong laced, heavy-soled wading

Ankle-Protecting Boots, said he liked to leave his money with dealers who Knew what a Customer Wanted.

While the Lumberman and Angler were discussing the advantages of coming for their purchases to a store where no fuss was made, and they could procure just what they wanted for their respective work and sport on the rivers,

A Young Man

came into the store and after telling the proprietors

in Confidence that he was Going to be Married and wanted an outfit, they

Gave Him

their particular attention and when he left the store he had purchased for

A Few Dollars

A trunk-full of the latest styles

in Gentlemen's Clothing and Furnishing Goods, such as Shirts, Collars, Neckties, Scarfs, Gloves, fine and heavy Textured Underwear in Linders and Drawers, Hosiery etc., Coats, Pants, Vests etc.

As Messrs. Hickey have turned their attention exclusively to the

Boot and Shoe, Clothing and gentlemen's furnishings business, they are determined

To Push it

as strongly against all competitors, as advantageous purchases of stock in large quantities from Manufacturers and a practical acquaintance with their lines of business, will admit.

For Ready Cash

They are at the old stand, West end of Lower Water Street, just at the head of the Muirhead (now Loggie) wharf, Chatham.
