—There's a fierce determined glitter shining from her azure eye.
She's a-ripping all the carpets up and pulling things awry.
She has wrapped a towel round her head and donned her oldest gown,

And her husband gazes sadly at her soot-besprinkled face,
At her weird and awful costume, as she flies about the place,
And he wonders and he ponders, as she rushes to and fro,
"Can this really be the angel that I wed a year ago?"

At the regular meeting of the Women's Christian Association the following ladies were present: Mesdames Carfrae, Roger, Perrin, Kent, Hopkins, Cox, Fysh, Burns and Pattullo. The treasurer's report showed receipts $1,065 66, disbursements $431 51, balance $734 15. The following donations are thankfully acknowledged: A friend, fish; Mrs. Hyttenrauch, vegetables; Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Ellis, clothing; Housekeepers' Mission, fruit and pickles; Mrs. Beaumont, buns, ginger snaps and prunes; Mrs. Haskett, fruit; Mrs. Hunt, buns; Mesdames H. "The Event of the Season."

Tuesday, May 17, is the date set for the amateur event of the season—the Young Liberals' performance. Arrangements have just been made at an expense of $400 for costuming the first part, so that the chorus will be elaborately attired. Prof. Pococke will lead the orchestra, and the music will be of a high order. Among the best features of the show will be the drill of the "Hyman Guard," handsomely uniformed, and of the "Terriers," something new and funny. The programme will be as varied as it is meritorious. No effort has been spared to make the production a brilliant success. The plan of seats opens on Saturday, May 14, and tickets range from $1 to 25 cents.

"Sweet As the Odor of Fresh Hay."

"The County Fair," which appears at the Grand Tuesday and Wednesday nights with a Wednesday matinee, is carried in two special cars, and the play will be embellished in the same complete manner as in New York. Two great sentimental and sensational features are announced, viz.: An old-fashioned husking bee, in which a score or more people are used, and a running horse race, in which three thoroughbreds are seen running full tilt in all the enthusiasm of a close finish. In this scene 10,000 pounds of machinery are used. Of the play itself it is generally described as superior to "The Old Homestead" in its portrayal of New England character. She conservative critic of the New York Herald says: "The play is sweet as the odor of fresh hay and the laughter of village maids in midsummer."

The Theatrical Benefit.

The complimentary benefit to the Grand Opera House management last evening was fairly well attended. The new farcical comedy, "A Modern Husband," by Prof. Alfred Hennequin, was the attraction. It is an exceedingly well-written piece. The lines are sparkling, and the central idea of the play is novel. It is interpreted by a well-balanced company, the principal, Mr. C. F. Montaine, being a superior actor. "A Modern Husband," in its present state, is hardly perfect for the stage, but there is simple material for splendid dramatization. The defects incident to and inseparable from initial productions will, in all probability, be remedied speedily and the comedy made thoroughly presentable.

Doings at the Hospital.

A meeting of the Hospital Trust was held at the hospital at 3 p.m. yesterday. Present: R. Lewis (chairman), Jas. Gilmour, Mayor Spencer and Medical Superintendent J. D. Balfour. A communication from the city engineer recommending a new roof for the hospital was received, and it was agreed that tenders should be called for at once. C. A. Kingston wrote the board asking for estimates as soon as possible for the current year. Referred to the superintendent for preparation. The superintendent's report showed that 22 patients had been admitted and 27 discharged since last meeting, leaving 47 patients in the hospital at present. The matron, Mrs. Stanly, sent in a list of furnishings required for the hospital. Passed. The medical superintendent and chairman were directed to examine the building and ascertain how much repairs and housecleaning was necessary, and report on the same at the next meeting of the board with the probable cost of the same. Easter offerings were received from the following: Flower mission, plants and Easter cards for each patient; King's Daughter, Sunshine Circle, plants and cut flowers; Miss Dillon, bouquet of flowers; S. S. Wortman, two dozen beautiful roses. Miss Wyckoff, having satisfactorily ended her term of probation, was placed on the staff of nurses. Accounts to the amount of $783 99 were passed and ordered to be paid. The collections for the month of April were $351 16.

HONORED BY HIS FRIENDS.

Mr. A. E. Roote, of the Grand Opera House, Receives a Purse of Gold and a Watch Charm—The Presentation.

Mr. A. E. Roote, the popular treasurer of the Grand Opera House, was ushered into the reading-room of the Tecumseh House last evening after the benefit performance and found himself confronted with about 50 of his friends.

"No local manager of the opera house since its establishment has made more friends than you," said Mr. Geo. C. Davis, advancing to the table. "You have been a quiet hustler in your way, and you are a gentleman every inch of you. In your unostentatious manner you have discharged your duties with credit to yourself and with satisfaction to your patrons. Allow me to present you, on behalf of your many admirers with this purse of gold, which will serve as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by Londoners."

Mr. Davis handed over the purse, containing about $150, to the surprised recipient, and the company applauded heartily. Then Mr. R. Ironside stepped forward and presented to Mr. Roote, in addition, a handsome gold watch charm, suitably inscribed, the gift of the London Knights of Pythias. In doing so, Mr. Ironside paid a high compliment to Mr. Roote, and spoke of the regard he had inspired in his brother Pythians.

Mr. Roote was almost overcome. He thanked his friends for their generosity, which he feared he had hardly merited. He had come to London a stranger but a short time ago, and felt the honor more on that account. He had tried to fulfill his duties as treasurer of the Grand Opera House to the best of his ability and was deeply grateful for their tokens of appreciation. Once again he thanked his friends for their extreme kindness.

Three cheers were given for Mr. Roote, and he was pronounced "A Jolly Good Fellow," in chorus. A pleasant hour was spent before the company parted. Among the latter were Mr. Fred. C. Whitney and Prof. Hennequin, of Detroit. The Knights of Pythias were represented by Messrs. R. Ironside, Alex. Gardner, A. D. F. McIntosh, Fred. Hancock, A. D. Hodgins, Will Clark, Charles Patton and E. Wolfe.

Although Mr. Roote has only been a resident of the city since the fall he has made a host of friends here, who will indorse the sentiments expressed by the presentations. With fine business abilities and sociability of disposition he unites the qualities of a thorough gentleman. Patrons of the Grand hope to see him in the same place next season.

After the Grip Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore your strength and health, and expel every trace of poison from the blood.

Crescent Hydrant.

has two pipes, one covering the valve rod (dry pipe) and the one conveying the water to the spout (wet pipe). The rod in this hydrant is actuated by a brass screw and handle above, and raising plunger the smallest fraction of an inch, closes waste before any water can enter discharge pipe. With the valve open we have the full and unobstructed flow of water through the hydrant which can well be compared to a straight way valve or round-way cock. Closing the valve empties all water from wet pipe through dry hole. To repair hydrant or washer remove top cap or plate and withdraw plunger valve. It can be readily repaired without digging up.
