Baseball Toronto 1 Newark 0 ✦ Lacrosse News Gossip ✦ Races Running Trotting

Note and Comment

The Leafs started right back to establish another record for the season and, without manager, captain or third baseman and Willie Keeler on the bench they scored a 1 to 0 victory over Newark, where they wind up to-day, and then over to Jersey for more easy picking.

There was one change in the Eastern League yesterday, Buffalo moving up to the first division ahead of Montreal by virtue of the double defeat of the Peasoups and the Bisons' strong finish and win over Jersey City.

Whenever a no-hit game in baseball crops out the names of old Cy Young and the late Addie Joss are recalled. In modern times Young and Joss have been the only major league pitchers who have pitched a no-hit, no player reaching first base game. In the major and so-called minor leagues the list shows close to sixty no-hit games, but in these contests batters have reached first base. Richmond, pitching for Worcester in 1889; John M. Ward, pitching for Providence the same year; Fisher, twirling for Shreveport in 1906, and Evans, doing slab work for Hartford in 1908, are reported to have kept batters off first base.

Montreal Herald: Wouldn't it be awful if the Leafs won the Eastern League pennant and Tecumseh the N.L.U. championship on top of the feats of the Argonauts and the Toronto oarsmen? And suppose, too, that one of the two proposed Toronto hockey teams copped the N.H.A. championship and the Stanley Cup. Life wouldn't be worth living within a hundred miles of a Toronto man.

Richard Arnst, the professional sculling champion of the world, must be the real thing, somewhat like the late Ned Hanlan, as he has successfully defended his title against all those who have had the nerve to challenge and engage in a contest. The fact that the New Zealander has been willing to travel miles away from home shows that he is not afraid to risk his title.

The fashionable folk of Saratoga have an idea. They say that local option is the only thing that will save racing. There are communities that want the sport; there are sections that do not care for it. Why should places like Saratoga, New York, Long Branch, Sheepshead Bay and Belmont Park, that thrive on racing, be deprived of it, because other villages, towns and cities do not want it? To eliminate this unjust discrimination and to obtain what is necessary for the well-being of the Spa, the citizens of Saratoga will start a crusade to have the racing question settled by a local option law. That is the sentiment that prevails in Saratoga, as expressed by a taxpayer of the village, on racing, and citizens of Saratoga are actively at work pushing this propaganda.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

Ty Cobb, the fleet centrefielder of the Detroit team, played only five innings at Philadelphia yesterday, but during that time he made a single, a triple and a home run and scored three runs. He also stole two bases before he retired.

The Phillies have about as strong a pitching staff this year as any team in the league with Alexander, Moore and Chalmers going at their best.

Knotty Lee returned from a scouting trip thru the New England League and brought back a shortstop with him in Tankesley, who hails from the New Bedford Club of the New England League.

St. Paul won its third straight game from Columbus, because O'Toole, the $22,500 beauty, sold to Pittsburg, was in fine form. He struck out fifteen of the Columbus batters and allowed only four hits, three of which were made in the ninth inning. The last time out O'Toole struck out fourteen Indianapolis players and was beaten. Once before this year he fanned eighteen in a game. In his last twelve games he has struck out 124 men.

Street Railway Men's Games.

The program for the street railway men's games at the island to-night is: Presentation of souvenirs by the city; to the Festiva lof Empire champions, to Bombac Tait, Goulding, Kerr and Lukeman as special attractions in the following card:

100 yards run, 880 yards run, 3 mile run handicap, 1 mile boys' race, 17 and under; 1 mile bicycle race, 100 yards three-legged race, 300 yards run, 2 mile run, 2 mile walk handicap, 1 mile novice run, 2 mile bicycle handicap, 1 mile church relay, 1 mile open relay.

The game at the Junction on Saturday should prove one of the best of the year. It is a senior C.L.A. struggle between Maitlands and the Shamrocks, and will have a strong bearing on the senior championship.

New Race Crcut.

A syndicate of Buffalo racing men made an effort to purchase a controlling interest in the Ottawa Racing Association, which has bought property on the Quebec side of the Ottawa River and which has secured a Dominion charter. They went to Ottawa last week, looked into the proposition and offered the association, at a special meeting, $150,000 for its plant and charter, the intention being to include Ottawa on a new racing circuit, embracing Montreal, Toronto, Fort Erie and Windsor. They also offered $10,000 for all of the spare stock.

Hon. Clifford Sifton, who presided, said that the charter, which was secured three years ago, might now have to be renewed. In any event, he did not consider the association justified in selling out just now. Eventually a committee was appointed to confer with the representative of the syndicate, but a prominent member of the association said that until after the Dominion elections there would be nothing done. It is understood that the majority are opposed to accepting the Buffalo proposition. It will, however, receive due attention. Work on the track itself will be commenced in a short time.

The stock and realty being subscribed, it is the intention of the association to have its plant in readiness for its inaugural meeting June next.

BACK IN WINNING STRIDE LUSH PITCHES SHUT-OUT

Baltimore Beats Rochester—Montreal Loses Double-Header and Drops Into Second Division.

NEWARK, Aug. 1.—A single, an error and an out scored the only run in the game here to-day, and that won for Toronto. Iron Man McGinnity started right back again and earned a shut out. Against him Johnny Lush was just as good, and the gilt-edge support made it a row of goose eggs, tho Newark led in hits by 4 to 3. McGinnity passed three men to one by Lush, but none was a factor in the scoring.

It was in the fifth innings that Toronto scored the only run of the game. Vaughn singled to left and reached third when the ball rolled thru Kelly's legs to the fence. Vaughn scored on Kocher's sacrifice fly to deep right, on which Meyer made a great catch. Tony Smith fanned. Fitzpatrick out, short to first.

Alex. Smith worked out the pitchers, and will stay with the club till Phelps is himself again. Bradley may be in the game at Jersey City. Score:

Bradley's Absence Cost Kelleyites the Lead.

Toronto and Rochester are having a hot fight for first place in the permant race. It is only hard luck that Kelley's men are not now the leaders, for had Bill Bradley been in the game on Monday the fans would not have been disappointed, and the Torontos would now be at the top of the heap. But W. W. Kelly is always leading and no person who orders from his unequaled stock of wines, spirits and beers is ever disappointed. It comes quick and straight by order from 749 West Queen-street, or by phoning Adelaide 465.

Royals Drop Two.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—Providence took both games of a double-header from Montreal this afternoon. The visiting batsmen hammered out twenty-eight hits for a total of twenty-four runs. Montreal pitchers were wild, passing seventeen men. The first game was easy for Providence, 12 to 3, Dubuc having a bad offday. In the second, two-errors by Bailey allowed the visitors five unearned runs, and they won out, 12 to 10. Gandil and Peterson were both forced to retire as the result of a collision at the plate. Pests Couldn't Hold Lead.

BUFFALO, Aug. 1.—Jersey City was away with seven runs to the good in the first two innings to-day, and it looked as if they would win from Buffalos, but the latter kept plugging away at Walter Justus until they were dangerous. Bumpus Jones could not check the Herd, and Kissinger was called. The big Rube would have held the game safe had not Wells made a bad play in trying to catch McAllister between home and third and tossed the ball into left field, letting in the scores that won the game for Buffalo 9 to 7. It was a most exciting contest. Score:

Montreal Gymnasts Win in France.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—That the Canadian boy gymnasts had won first prize in competition with the world was the effect of a cable received here this afternoon from Prof. Henri Scott, who is in command of the team.

The competition was held at Nancy, France, at which there were present teams from continental Europe and some from Great Britain.

The team is formed of boys from Montreal schools, who were chosen after an exhaustive competition.

JACK JOHNSON HAS TWO VERY SOFT MATCHES

Officer Curran and Bombardier Wells Should Be Marks—First Bout Saturday.

On Saturday, Aug. 5, at Celtic Park, Belfast, Jack Johnson is to meet Petty Officer Curran, who is the successor of Jim Roche as the champion of Ireland, for the championship of the world. As Curran has never beataen anybody outside of Ian Hague when the latter was asleep the match is even a greater joke than that which Burns had with Roche.

All England laughs at the match, but over in Ireland they are taking the matter in a more serious way, and Tom Flanagan, for whose benefit Johnson entered into the thing, is hard at work making arrangements for the "greatest battle ever placed before the sp rting public of Ireland."

Johnson is working on a percentage of the gatae for that so, but doesn't seem to be worrying much about it, as he is continuing his music hall engagements in London, playing three halls, in one of which he gives two shows a night. Nor does he intend to give up those engagements, as he says that all he will have to do for Mr. Curran is to dry out a little for a few days before the event is to come off.

On form Johnson is not far out. Eddie McGoorty gave Curran, who was tom bigger than the Oshkosh pride, a licking that is still referred to in Dublin, while even Jewey Smith, who was walloped by Porky Flynn in New York recently, got a verdict over the Irishman. But Curran is a most lucky man in the foul business. He if was who made Bill Lang hit him while on the floor, resulting in the disqualification of the Australian, and on numerous occasions he has pulled out the winner's end of a squabble by the same tactics.

The English Champ.

The greatest surprise of all, however, and one which may end a promising career, is the match just made between Johnson and Bombardier Wells, the English champion and the holder of Lord Lonsdale's heavy-weight championship belt. In all quarters accepted those directly interested in the financial possibilities this match has met with resentment. Wells is by far the best boxer and the most promising fighter that the country has produced for many years, and those who have watched his achievements have fondly believed that in him they have found a future world's champion, one possessed of qualities to bring back to England the long-lost honor.

It is regarded as tantamount to professional suicide for him to meet Johnson at this stage of his development, and the uninterested section of the press has no hesitancy in slamming the compact. Wells has only been out of the British army for a matter of 18 months or so, and all his fighting has been done during the last year. He has come on a lot, is a clever boxer for a big man, has a good punch on either hand and is as game as they make them. But he is full of nerves and suffers from stage fright every time he enters the ring.

There is no doubt that Johnson will be able to hypnotize him when they face each other, and Wells is expected to make a sorry showing. The match was offered to Hugh McIntosh more than five weeks ago, but that astute gentleman, foreseeing the coming antagonism of the public, passed it up.

This match has been the greatest shock English pride has received in many years. They are proud of Wells and all their hopes have been centred in him; that he would have listened to the guile of the golden guineas and fallen into the arms of the waiting Johnson is, in the eyes of his countrymen, the greatest blunder he could have possibly made. But artful Arthur smiles sweetly and thinks of the $30,000 he is going to get for his share.

Johnson and Wells.

The fight between Johnson and Wells will take place in the last week of September at the Stadium where the last Olympic games were held. It is certain that Imre Kiralfy, who owns the Stadium, will have a finger in the pie. One of the features of the match is that both Wells and Johnson will each give a public training exhibition, as introduced here by McIntosh, and from this a respectable revenue is anticipated, although neither of the fighters will have any share in it.

Johnson took no chances with the promoters. He kidded them into the belief that in meeting Wells he was going against a more formidable antagonist than either Burns or Jeffries and unless the money was safely lodged he would not fight. Wells and Johnson met to sign the articles and the separate agreements each has with the syndicate. Wells signed almost at once, but not Lil' Artha. He wanted to see the color of the money first and the syndicate's representative had to do some hustling to post $10,000 that day. He eventually got it and lodged it with the purse holder, The Sportsman, and Johnson signed that evening.

Johnson will break his theatrical engagements during the last week of August and take up training quarters at the Norfolk Arms, where Sam Langford trained for his battles. Wells, who is showing in a very interesting sketch in the halls, will go into training about the same time at the hostelry presided over by Tom Sullivan. Both places are handy to the Stadium, so that it will be easy for each of them to go there for the public exhibitions. In the meantime so great is the furore created against the match that no one will be surprised to see it called off.

TENNIS IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—The appearance of Schwenger and McRae, the pair from Victoria, B.C., in the first round of the open doubles was the feature of the day's play at the Province of Quebec Tennis championships on the Mount Royal courts to-day. The westerners had little difficulty in defeating Hockley and Rose of Graand Mere, 6—1, 7—5. McCartney and Dawson, Graand Mere's second pair, overcame Miller and Drew, local players, in a close match, 4—6, 6—4, 6—2. In the open singles the only visitor to participate,
