—One evening last week, when we went to supper, we were very much astonished to see cold carved turkey on each of our plates. It was very kind of the matron to supply it for us and we were very thankful.

—One night last week, one of our girls, Ethel Thompson had a funny dream. She thought that a cow was looking at her through one of the windows in the dormitory and she took one of her boots and [illegible] going to throw it, but she suddenly awoke.

The 9th inst. was Mr Mathison's birthday. Some of us wrote a petition to him asking him kindly to let us go skating on the bay on the anniversary of his birth. He was sorry that he could not let us go on account of the ice being wet. We hope he will have a happy and long life.

Poor Chim is dead! He was our teacher, Mr Coleman's beautiful pet spaniel. He sprained his back jumping from the verandah, and became paralyzed. After a week's kind and careful nursing, it was found necessary to put him to death. We sympathize with our teacher in the loss of his pet.

On the 2nd inst. Mr. Justus Gould, a former pupil who left school 20 years ago, came here and made us a visit. When he left for home, he came into our class-room and addressed us for a few minutes. He said that we should try to climb up to the top of the ladder like Lord Roberts climbed, but he began low to climb the ladder. He said that the Boers defeated the British because the British troops were not watching, and so we were defeated by the devil because we are not watching, but now the British troops are successful and defeated the Boers because they are humble, but at first they were defeated because they were proud. So we should try to trust in God and defeat the devil.
