LOCAL SUMMARY.

ATHENS AND NEIGHBORING LOCALITIES BRIEFLY WRITTEN UP.

Events as Seen by Our Knight of the Pencil.—Local Announcements Rolled Right Down.

Remember the annual meeting of the Brockville Electoral District Agricultural society at Unionville on Wednesday 21st, at 1 o'clock p.m.

N. W. Holbrook whose departure for his birthplace in England on the 10th Dec. last, was chronicled in these columns, left on the return voyage on the 31st of the same month and reached Athens on Saturday evening last. He reports having a very pleasant passage to and from the old country.

D. Dowsley will sell for Ross Landers on Saturday next, 17th inst., a lot of house furnishings, furniture &c. The house and lot advertised on posters, issued from this office, is withdrawn, having been disposed of. Everything else will be sold without reserve, for what it will fetch. The sale will take place at 1 p.m at the dwelling on Central St. opposite the town hall.

The following officers of Athens Lodge, A. O. U. W. for the present year were installed by P. M. W., D. Fisher on Monday evening;—P. M. W., D. Fisher; M. W., J. C. Alguire; Foreman, A. W. Blanchard; Overseer, C. L. McCrady; Recorder, Irwin Wiltse; Financier, Irwin Wiltse; Receiver, W. G. Parish; Guide, Wm. G. M. Laughlin; I. W. Geo. Lawson; O. W., Geo. Lee; Trustee, F. L. Moore; Representative, J. P. Lamb; Alternate Rep. D. Fisher.

The annual business meeting of the Presbyterian church of Athens was held last Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The financial reports were most satisfactory and at which the members may feel gratified. In addition to the $300 which this small congregation contribute to ministerial support, and the $130 on church purchase fund, proceeds of the anniversary, they have contributed about $75 for Home and Foreign Missions for the past year, exclusive of the ladies' Foreign missionary contribution which usually amounts to $25.

Death, that grim monster has been making sad havoc in this village during the past week. The first to obey the call was Mrs. Catharine Karley, widow of the late Geo. Karley, who died on Thursday last, Jan. 8th, in the 75th year of her age. Mrs Karley was born in Ireland, coming to this country when young she settled in the County of Leeds, and eventually married Geo. Karley, and resided for many years near the Bedan school house in Elizabethtown. About 22 years ago the family removed to Athens, then Farmersville and she has resided here ever since. She was the mother of six children, Wm. Karley, who resides in this village, John Karley, residing at St. Anpe's P. Q., Mrs. Wm. Johnston, Mrs. F. Pierce of this village, Mrs. Wm. Black Brockville and Mrs. Albert Kendrick, Essex, Ont.

Elizabeth Hamlin, wife of William Olds of Greenbush, died very suddenly on Tuesday last. Only a few days before she assisted in doing the family washing and received a slight scratch on the hand which terminated in blood poisoning. Deceased was one of the oldest inhabitants of the section being in the 78th year of her age at the time of her death. The whole of her over 60 years of wedded life was spent on the farm on which she died

On Saturday night the sad news was carried rapidly over the village that the wife of George A. Bulford, merchant tailor, had died after only a few days illness. The news came with a shock as but very few knew that Mrs. Bulford was ill. She had only been confined to her room for a few days and nothing serious was anticipated until a few hours before her death. Mr. and Mrs. Bulford were natives of the island of Guernsey, on the southern coast of England. Coming to this country they settled in this village about 20 years ago and have resided here continuously ever since. Mrs. Bulford leaves a large family of small children who with the bereaved husband have the heartfelt sympathy of the citizens of the village and surrounding country. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wright, at Christ church, Athens, on Monday.

While the town and city papers are filled with special announcements of "Great cost price sales" "Retiring from business" etc., etc., our business men jog along in the old rut, seemingly satisfied with the motto "slow sales and large profits." The little advertising that the majority of them do is simply to keep their name before the public. This week however a change has come o'er the spirit of the dreams of one of our shrewd business men and he makes an announcement in another column that he is going to have a real, genuine, clearing sale. Not a sale at which goods will be sold regardless of cost, but of goods marked down to the lowest possible living profit not in order to wind up business, but to make way and room for fresh spring goods to arrive at an early day. Call on H. H. Arnold, in the central block and see if his sale is genuine or not.

Mr. E. A. McLean, of this village has just completed a couple of monuments, to be placed in the Athens cemetery. The first one is of red New Brunswick granite costing something over $200 and will be erected over the remains of the late Mrs. Dr. Judson of Lyn. The second one is of grey New Brunswick granite, costing $250 of beautiful design and finish, to mark the resting place of the late Arza Parish. Mr. McLean has attained more than a local reputation in his line, as monuments from his shop are to be found in a great many cemetery's, some of them outside the bounds of this county. He is now engaged on a very fine Vermont marble monument, to be erected in the Ballycanoe cemetery, over the remains of a daughter of Mr. Keys, of the Ballycanoe neighborhood.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at Mrs. Stone's on Wednesday afternoon. Jan. 14.

Minard's Liniment cures Burns, etc.

Some person or persons entered the stables of D. C. McClary, near McIntosh Mills between 12 and 1 o'clock a.m, on the morning of the 9th inst. Mr, McClary was aroused by his watch dog and on going out to ascertain the cause of the dogs uneasiness found the door of the stable containing his trotting stallion. J. C. Rysdyk open as well as several other doors in different parts of the building. The object of the parties no doubt was to get the stallion from the stable, for a drive or some other purpose. The identity of the parties is suspected and a repetition of the offence may involve serious difficulties to them if the offence is repeated.

Minard's Liniment cures Dandruff.

We are in receipt of a lengthy letter from our Yonge Front correspondent, in reply to the communication of Mr, Hough in our last. Last evening the parties who were innocently drawn into the controversy as the third party called at the office and requested that all communications relating to or continuing the controversy be withheld as they had no desire to be made the scape goat in the matter. We have thought for some time that the matter was of such a nature as to need the editorial heel to be placed upon it, and we therfore declare the matter off, as far as we are concerned.

ELISVILLE

SATURDAY, Jan. 10.—I presume the readers of the REPORTER are beginning to think that your correspondent is either dead or gone to sleep, not having sent you any news for so long time, but he has got woke up again and will try to be more punctual in the future. We have been having a school meeting and an election &c., and "Oh say" we had the greatest time at the school meeting that we ever had. Why some of the (old boys) had a notion of fighting. As for the election we are all satisfied but "Old Bill."

Three of our young people left for the High school in Athens on Tuesday last, viz: Miss Ida Pierce, Masters George Ellis and Willie Sly.

The saw mill has been shut down for the last week undergoing repairs on the engine but we were pleased to hear it running again last evening.

We have had two teachers hired for our school and the trustees have got left every time. The school is vacant yet, and the kids are learning fast. Some one says, what are they learning? Well, I have not got a name for it yet.

DELTA.

MONDAY, Jan. 12.—C. A. LaFleche and wife have returned after a weeks visit with relatives in Montreal. Charley says he rather enjoys city life.

Misses Maud and Jennie Bush have gone to take a full course in the Brockville Business College.

E. C. Horton returned from the same institution not with "Gold Medals" or "Diplomas" but with a severe attack of the mumps. No doubt some of his Athenian friends will be glad to hear that he is on the gain.

Our new watchmaker, E. Horace of Morristown N. Y., is giving general satisfaction.

The genial hostler at Hotel De Brown alias Bob or to be more familiar Mr, Thomson has returned after a few weeks visit in the Limestone city.

Some of our towns people are talking of lighting our village by electricity but we think there is more "gas" about it than electricity.

Several of our sportsmen started out the other morning with their canine but failed to capture Reynard. He is still af large, if you think not ask our G. O. M.

Two large loads of our young people attended the concert and supper at Toledo on New Year's night. They expressed themselves as having a very enjoyable time. By the way while there two of the fair sex met about the same number of Athenians. "What a sumptuous meeting it must have been."

X

DEAR SIR.—I call your attention to the fallacious, malacious and ignorant squib published in your last issue anent a concert held in Mr. Edgely's cheese factory. Arrangements had been made for a sort of social entertainment in the above place, but the inclement weather and unpleasant roads of that evening prevented the people from attending and necessitated the postpenement of said social to some future time. Hence neither concert nor ball were held as stated by the ill-tutored hedge correspondent of the Ballycanoe district. The concert was not under the auspices of the Rev. J. J. Kelly, nor was disorder the feature of that evening. No such gentleman as Messrs. J. Jackson and E. Cox were appointed to tranquilize the guests as imagined in the deceased mind of the embryo scribe of this rural district. A few ladies and gentlemen came to the expected social, conversed a l'amiable for some time, after which they returned in peace and respectability to their homes. The new-born would-be scribe, in concert with some others of his colleagues, whom the respectable youths avoid as much as one would a skunk, are boycotted and would do well to remove themselves from the district at their earliest convenience. His ungentlemanly remarks, detracting tongue and infatuated craze for gossip are the causes of his being boycotted and scrupulously shunned by all youths who respect themselves, hence the cause of his outburst of ire and falsehood in his bucolical note on the concert and ball in pontentia.

Yours truly,
LOCUS STANDI.

Buried for Ages.

Discovery of a City Underground on the Duke of Wellington's Estate.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—A British Pompeii has just been discovered near Reading, in Berkshire, on the great Strathfieldsays estate of the Duke of Wellington. It is a true city and not a mere camp, and, when fully excavated, will throw light upon the domestic life of our remote ancestors of more than one thousand years ago. The whole area has been free from all building operations ever since the Roman occupation of Britain; in fact, the soil is virgin, having been pasture land for centuries. An exhibition will be opened at Burlington House, Piccadilly, within a few days, which will present features of extraordinary interest. On the walls will be hung a huge plan of the buried city, marking the whereabouts of the streets, walls, gates, houses, baths, temples, forms and bacillica. The excavations have brought to view the remains of a house ornamented with mosaic floors and containing rooms heated by hypocaturio. Among the articles to be exhibited are potsherds, bones, combs, bronze utensils, fragments of good glass vessels, pieces of iron work, chiefly tools, including carpenters' planes, chisels, axes, hammers, gouges, anvils and some edged tools, sharp enough, after having lain buried for 10 centuries, to work with now. The city was laid out with great regularity in squares like Salisbury and Winchester in mediæval times. There is a piece of tile upon which a baby must have trodden while the clay of which it is formed lay drying in the brickmaker's yard. The prints of the little toes are distinct, and the entire foot is perfectly marked. There are very fair specimens of pottery, from coarse beltic ware to delicately moulded vessels embellished with artistic designs of human and animal figures and symbolic devices. There are two sets of human bones, skeletons of immature infants or dwarfs, as also needles and other articles of household use. Among these it is curious to note a key ring and a safety pin, with other toilet and table requisities much resembling those in present use. There is one bangle almost a fac-fimile of those worn in India and seen in our jeweller's shop to day.

Our stock of magistrates and division court clerks blanks comprises nearly all the blanks in use. Those not in stock will be printed at short notice and supplied at city prices.

AUCTION SALES.

We have arrangements made with D. Dowsley, auctioneer, whereby we can fix the date for auction sales, without putting parties to the trouble of going personally to see him. Persons ordering sale bills from this office will be given a free notice under this heading. Please make a note of this when wanting bills.
