The Talk of Old London

Now Comes the First Hot Weather of the Year.

Several Sunstrokes, and Many Horses Died From Heat.

The Queen to Leave Windsor for the Isle of Wight.

One of the Gayest Weeks of the Season — Dancing Men in Demand — The Naval Maneuvers Prove a Fiasco—Dunraven's Daughter.

London, July 17.—This week England has been having the first really hot weather of the year. In London there have been several sunstrokes, and a good many horses have died from the heat. Straw hats have appeared again on all sides, and everywhere one hears the complaint that the weather is worse than that of the tropics, although the mercury has not yet gone above 75. Visiting Americans are luxuriating in this temperature, and are praising London as a summer resort, greatly to the astonishment of the resident Londoner.

In spite of the beautiful weather and the very exciting contests, Henley has been almost a failure this season as compared with other years. The chief reason probably is the rebellion which has come at last against the extortionate practices at Henley by the hotel-keepers, cabmen and boatmen. This class of gentry has suffered very much in the same way as the jubilee speculators did.

THE QUEEN TO LEAVE WINDSOR.

The Queen will start for Osborne House, Isle of Wight, on Tuesday next. Her decision to leave Windsor Castle is a great relief to the royal family, who fear that she is doing too much for her strength. Every day of the week she has been receiving deputations of visitors and entertaining guests at luncheon and dinner. When she received the bishops the other day, it was her own suggestion that a number should be personally presented to her. To Bishop Whipple and Bishop Potter she said: "I am very glad indeed to see you here."

On Thursday the Queen received a deputation of Nonconformists, headed by Dr. Joseph Parker, minister of the City Temple, and Dr. Monroe Gibson, formerly of Toronto, Ont., and Chautauqua, N.Y. The deputation was received and cleared for action. The flagship Majestic opened fire, but Admiral Fellows did not respond. On the contrary he signaled that he had already captured Ireland, that church service was being held in the various ships of his division, and that he must decline to fight. The admiralty was furious, and it will be a long time before the last is heard of this fiasco in naval circles.

THE LIBRARIANS.

London has been full of librarians this week, some 500 of them from all parts of the world being assembled here to hold the second international library conference. Sir John Lubbock presided. During the week the members of the conference were entertained at luncheon by the lord mayor; the Marchioness of Bute gave a garden party in their honor; Sir John and Lady Lubbock and the Duke of Westminster held receptions for them; and Sir Henry Irving gave a special performance in their honor at the Lyceum Theater.

SHE KISSED THE BUTCHER.

The famous Gainsborough masterpiece, a portrait of Georgiana, the beautiful Duchess of Devonshire, which was stolen some years ago, is now believed to be forthcoming from a recently released Belgian convict. Georgiana is world famous for having once kissed a butcher named Steele in his open shop, in order to gain a vote for the celebrated statesman, Charles Fox.

DUNRAVEN'S DAUGHTER.

A marriage has been arranged between Lady Rachael Charlotte Quinn, eldest daughter of the Earl of Dunraven, and Mr. Fitzgerald, of Glin Castle, Limerick, who bears the historical though unauthorized title of the Knight of Glin. The marriage will take place in October.

STARTLED THE RUSSIANS.

William K. Vanderbilt and party arrived at St. Petersburg on Mr. Vanderbilt's steam yacht Valiant, and went to Moscow, on a special train. Their arrival created somewhat of a sensation, as special trains are usually associated with royalty. They were received with great eclat by railroad officials. The party spent the time here in driving about the neighborhood in sumptuous troikas.

NOTES.

The season, so far as the theaters are concerned, may be regarded as definitely over. What novelties, if any managers still have up their sleeves, have been got ready not for the metropolitan public, but for provincial tours.

The Prince of Wales will be president of the royal commission having charge of the British section of the Paris exhibition.

Six hunters, the property of Mr. Foxhall Keene, were sold at auction at Tatersalls on Monday. They brought $6,655, the topper being $2,250 for Balleyfermatt.

A WEEK OF GAYETY.

While the end of the season is almost at an end, this week has been one of the gayest of the year in London. Every night there have been balls and receptions, at which royalty and others of the most exclusive set have been present.

One feature of the season, and possibly the chief feature, has been the revival of dancing among the men. Heretofore one of the chief difficulties which London hostesses had to contend with has been the theory that it was the correct thing for the young men to refuse to dance, and only to turn up at supper-time. This year a few prominent hostesses formed a sort of social trust, and declined to invite any notorious offenders—men who thought their position rendered them secure. The result of this system of discipline is that dancing men are again numerous.

LUDICROUS FIASCO.

The whole programme of naval maneuvers came to a ludicrous fiasco, owing to a misunderstanding of the orders of the admiralty. The fleet was divided into two parts, one commanded by Admiral Fellows. He had instructions to steam out of Blacksod Bay, Ireland, to await a declaration, and then to endeavor to return into the bay without being intercepted by the other division. When still 60 miles from the rendezvous a cruiser overtook Admiral Fellows, and told him that war had been declared, whereupon he turned about, and meeting no enemy, entered the bay and telegraphed to the admiralty: "The war is over."

After several hours' silence, the admiralty sent him a court order to go to a rendezvous 200 miles west. This he did, and then turned about again. As he appro
